

Bellefonte and Vicinity

The Local Happenings in Short Paragraphs

Sheriff Hugh Taylor and wife were Sabbath visitors to Philipsburg.

Dr. Geo. W. Atherton, of State College, has been seriously ill the past week.

Burgess Walker is able to be about again after a ten days' housing from tonsillitis.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gallagher, of Boston, Mass., are visiting friends in Bellefonte.

Rev. J. Victor Royer, of Altoona, spent several days of the past week among friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip D. Foster gave a surprise party Saturday evening in honor of their son Harold.

A little daughter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Beezer last Friday accounts for all those smiles.

Mrs. Ross Taylor, of New York City, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Susan Powers, on East Lamb street.

A young lady living in Bellefonte can secure a position at this office to learn typesetting. Apply at once.

Sourbeck's candy factory is working along manufacturing clear toys in wholesale quantities for the holiday trade.

A Thanksgiving donation is being made to the Bellefonte hospital to day through the efforts of ladies of our town.

James Kelley is quite ill at his home on West Logan street. His condition is regarded by his family and friends as very serious.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Lounsbury, of Syracuse, N. Y., are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lounsbury on West Logan street.

Thursday morning Jno. A. Fulkrod, of Williamsport, and Miss Mary E. Thompson, daughter of Robert Thompson, of this place, were married at the Methodist parsonage.

Co. Treasurer Phil Foster expects to move to his home at State College, January 1st, where he hopes to become the next postmaster. Dr. Laurie and family will move into the house he vacates, on Linn street.

The manager of the Waddell, Hunting & Walters players, who appear here at the opera house Nov. 30, gives a guarantee that this attraction is first class in every detail or your money refunded. Don't miss it.

The Bellefonte Academy defeated the Philipsburg foot ball team on Saturday by a score of 6 to 0, and Prof. Hughes is proud of his colts. It is hinted around that the High school are not so very anxious, just now.

Persons traveling over the Penna. Railroad from Bellefonte should note the fact that a change of schedules went into effect on Sunday 26th. The corrected schedule will be found on another page of this issue.

Tuesday was the first really disagreeable day this fall. It opened up cloudy, soon to a light rain then to snow and sleet, making slush generally. All took the change good naturedly in consideration of the very fine fall we had.

Mrs. Christine L. Swayne, wife of Noah H. Swayne, superintendent of the Nittany Furnace is the author of a volume of poems recently issued under the title "The Visionary and other Poems" and is published by the Gortam Press, Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Louisa Bush has arrived home from an extended trip along the Pacific coast. She was accompanied to Bellefonte by her sisters, Mrs. Laura Moulton and Miss Amanda Tome, who will be guests for the next month at the Bush home on Spring street.

Waddell, Hunting & Walters Comedy Co. which appears at the opera house this Thursday evening Nov. 30 is one of the strongest companies on the road. Rube Waddell, who holds the world's record for strike outs, will positively appear. He performs some feats which seem almost impossible—one of splitting a plank with an ordinary 5oz. base ball, also demonstrating and throwing his famous "Smoke" or "jump" ball, "Spit" ball and others. Don't fail to see "The Great Rube."

Recent callers: David Kinkead and Geo. Sanford, both of Philipsburg, chaperoned by G. G. Fink, of Martha; W. F. Sprowl, of Mingoville; Irvin Wirts, State College; W. F. Peters, of Milesburg; Ammon Vonada and A. C. Dunlap, both of Spring Mills, and jurors; Wm. Pealer, Spring Mills' retired merchant, a juror this week, Aaron W. Ulrick and O. J. Auman both jurors of Penn; Dr. Irvin and little son of Unionville; Samuel Hazel, of College.

Charley Lukenbach, who has been associated with the Huntingdon and Clearfield Telephone Co., of Philipsburg, during the past four years as local manager, has tendered his resignation to take effect the last of the week with a view of accepting a position as clerk in the First National Bank at Bellefonte. Mr. L. has labored faithfully in building up the interests of the H. & C. Telephone Co. in this neighborhood, and has met with marvelous success. He is a good fellow, also, and there will be very general regret over his removal from our city. We bespeak for him, however, the very highest measure of success in his new work.—Philipsburg Journal.

Mrs. W. L. Daggett is ill with nervous prostration.

Miss Bessie Meek departed on Monday for a visit to friends in Chicago, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. George T. Brew, of Oakland, Md., are visiting friends in town.

W. R. Shope, the lumberman, is ill with typhoid fever at his home on South Thomas street.

The Misses Kyle, of Reedsville, Pa., spent several days of the past week at the home of Dr. and Mrs. VanTries.

S. D. Gettig, Esq., has been at home the past few days nursing a severe cold that threatened to develop pneumonia.

Alf. Baum has been discharged from the sanitarium, having practically recovered from the operation for appendicitis.

H. S. Ray, of the Brockerhoff House, offers a reward of $10 for the arrest of persons in the habit of stealing framed pictures from the hotel.

Lincoln J. Carter's latest melodramatic treat, "The 11th Hour" will be seen at the opera house, Thursday, Dec. 7th. The cast is said to be the very best that could be gotten together.

Harris Heylman left Bellefonte Friday for Indiana, Pa. to take up his position as cashier in the Citizen's National bank. He formerly held a position with the First National Bank of Bellefonte.

Miss Lois Calderwood, who until recently was night superintendent at the Altoona hospital, is now installed as superintendent of the Bellefonte hospital, in place of Miss Besherer, who left on the 16th.

Be sure and see the Waddell, Hunting & Walters players, due here this Thanksgiving, Nov. 30. They give a continuous performance and have many specialties, singing, dancing and all of a high-class order.

Thos. J. Sexton, Esq., has rented rooms in Eagle Block formerly occupied by Foster's insurance agency and will open a law office. He had removed to St. Mary's, Pa., but concluded to return to Centre county.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Hayes have leased one of the most delightful cottages in Atlantic City, where they expect to spend the forepart of the winter, hoping should it continue beneficial to remain the entire season.

Joseph Apt and family moved from the John P. Harris house on east High street to the A. C. Mingle house on Bishop street, recently vacated by J. A. B. Miller, Esq. Wallace Markle and wife moved from Logan street into the house vacated by Joseph Apt.

Wallace Reeder left last week for Winslow, Arizona, for the benefit of his health. He will spend a month or two if that place resting up and then intends going south into New Mexico and possibly later into old Mexico. Mrs. W. F. Reeder, his mother, has closed her residence for the winter and taken rooms at the Bush House.

A Bazaar and oyster supper will be held by the Lutheran congregation of this place, on Wednesday and Thursday, December 6 and 7, both nights. The Bazaar will have on sale all kinds of fancy goods, fruits, candies, etc. Tickets for suppers 25 cts. Proceeds for the benefit of the church. Will be held in the rooms lately occupied by Dolls bakery on Bishop street.

Over a week ago Emil Joseph was afflicted with a sore foot, which started from clipping a banion too close. When he thought he was well he put his shoe on and came up street. Result was that a healing developed which threatened blood poisoning. For the past week he has been at the sanitarium, receiving the best of care. His condition is not considered alarming.

Saturday evening Hard P. Harris was taken ill with an attack of appendicitis and since then has been confined to his bed, although his condition is not considered alarming. This is his second attack in a few weeks and upon his recovery it is his intention to go to a hospital in Philadelphia and have an operation performed to avoid a further and possible more serious attack from this ailment which appears to be on the increase in this community.

Groceryman R. S. Brouse, of this place, was taken ill while out near Eddy Lick, with the Panther Hunting Club last week. Fearing that it was threatening appendicitis he returned home last Thursday and the ailment soon developed. Since then he has been confined to his bed at his home but no operation was performed, and since then he has been slowly improving. This is his second attack of this ailment and naturally his friends were alarmed as to his condition and the outcome.

One day last week four little boys the oldest about fourteen years of age, were having sport with a target gun, in a thicket near Boalsburg, when by accident, Kari, the six-year old son of Edw. Williams, was shot. The ball entered the flesh above the knee, grazing the bone, and passed through the limb. The eldest of the boys picked up the injured lad and carried him to a house near by.

The funeral of J. L. DeHaas, which occurred from the Catholic church a Howard, Saturday forenoon at 10:30, was very largely attended, not more than half the friends were able to get in the church. The services were conducted by Rev. Fathers Codori and Maucher, of Lock Haven, and Brady, of Renovo. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery. The pall bearers were: A. Weber, H. A. Moore, William Henderson, Walter Cook, A. Irvin, William Mayes, E. Watt, H. Jenkins, William Weber, Jess McCallom, G. L. Longee, Dr. W. Kurtz.

Architect Robt. Cole has just completed the drawing for a new business block at State College to be known as the Meek Block. It will have two rooms on the first floor and flats on the second and third. He also has completed the plans for the new Phi Delta fraternity club house for the students.

F. S. Tomlinson, of Clearfield, who about a year ago bought one of the Wolfe farms, east of Aaronsburg, will have the timber on the farm converted into lumber during the winter. G. Wister has been engaged to furnish the mill and do the sawing, while Thomas and Dwight Stover will make the logs.—Journal.

A farmer from over the mountain came to town Thursday with a flock of seventeen big white turkeys, says the Philipsburg Ledger. The guests of a local hotel will be served with a Thanksgiving dinner from the flock, and, although the turkeys were white, there will be dark meat for all who prefer it.

Messrs. J. N. Schenover and C. W. Atherton have bought out the interest of their partners, J. W. Stein and George Stott, in the High Standard Garment Co.'s business at Philipsburg. Work on the new factory building is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible, and then the industry will be operated on a much larger scale.

Grant Warner, of North Wales, Pa., who was born at Nittany, Centre county, and is a nephew of John Woomer, of Bellefonte, is lying at the point of death at his home. Mr. Warner was in his stable early Tuesday morning getting ready to go away, when Policeman John Stephens mistook him for a robber and shot him through the head.

One day last week four little boys the oldest about fourteen years of age, were having sport with a target gun, in a thicket near Boalsburg, when by accident, Kari, the six-year old son of Edw. Williams, was shot. The ball entered the flesh above the knee, grazing the bone, and passed through the limb. The eldest of the boys picked up the injured lad and carried him to a house near by.

The funeral of J. L. DeHaas, which occurred from the Catholic church a Howard, Saturday forenoon at 10:30, was very largely attended, not more than half the friends were able to get in the church. The services were conducted by Rev. Fathers Codori and Maucher, of Lock Haven, and Brady, of Renovo. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery. The pall bearers were: A. Weber, H. A. Moore, William Henderson, Walter Cook, A. Irvin, William Mayes, E. Watt, H. Jenkins, William Weber, Jess McCallom, G. L. Longee, Dr. W. Kurtz.

Grant Warner, of North Wales, Pa., who was born at Nittany, Centre county, and is a nephew of John Woomer, of Bellefonte, is lying at the point of death at his home. Mr. Warner was in his stable early Tuesday morning getting ready to go away, when Policeman John Stephens mistook him for a robber and shot him through the head.

One day last week four little boys the oldest about fourteen years of age, were having sport with a target gun, in a thicket near Boalsburg, when by accident, Kari, the six-year old son of Edw. Williams, was shot. The ball entered the flesh above the knee, grazing the bone, and passed through the limb. The eldest of the boys picked up the injured lad and carried him to a house near by.

The funeral of J. L. DeHaas, which occurred from the Catholic church a Howard, Saturday forenoon at 10:30, was very largely attended, not more than half the friends were able to get in the church. The services were conducted by Rev. Fathers Codori and Maucher, of Lock Haven, and Brady, of Renovo. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery. The pall bearers were: A. Weber, H. A. Moore, William Henderson, Walter Cook, A. Irvin, William Mayes, E. Watt, H. Jenkins, William Weber, Jess McCallom, G. L. Longee, Dr. W. Kurtz.

Grant Warner, of North Wales, Pa., who was born at Nittany, Centre county, and is a nephew of John Woomer, of Bellefonte, is lying at the point of death at his home. Mr. Warner was in his stable early Tuesday morning getting ready to go away, when Policeman John Stephens mistook him for a robber and shot him through the head.

One day last week four little boys the oldest about fourteen years of age, were having sport with a target gun, in a thicket near Boalsburg, when by accident, Kari, the six-year old son of Edw. Williams, was shot. The ball entered the flesh above the knee, grazing the bone, and passed through the limb. The eldest of the boys picked up the injured lad and carried him to a house near by.

The funeral of J. L. DeHaas, which occurred from the Catholic church a Howard, Saturday forenoon at 10:30, was very largely attended, not more than half the friends were able to get in the church. The services were conducted by Rev. Fathers Codori and Maucher, of Lock Haven, and Brady, of Renovo. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery. The pall bearers were: A. Weber, H. A. Moore, William Henderson, Walter Cook, A. Irvin, William Mayes, E. Watt, H. Jenkins, William Weber, Jess McCallom, G. L. Longee, Dr. W. Kurtz.

Grant Warner, of North Wales, Pa., who was born at Nittany, Centre county, and is a nephew of John Woomer, of Bellefonte, is lying at the point of death at his home. Mr. Warner was in his stable early Tuesday morning getting ready to go away, when Policeman John Stephens mistook him for a robber and shot him through the head.

One day last week four little boys the oldest about fourteen years of age, were having sport with a target gun, in a thicket near Boalsburg, when by accident, Kari, the six-year old son of Edw. Williams, was shot. The ball entered the flesh above the knee, grazing the bone, and passed through the limb. The eldest of the boys picked up the injured lad and carried him to a house near by.

The funeral of J. L. DeHaas, which occurred from the Catholic church a Howard, Saturday forenoon at 10:30, was very largely attended, not more than half the friends were able to get in the church. The services were conducted by Rev. Fathers Codori and Maucher, of Lock Haven, and Brady, of Renovo. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery. The pall bearers were: A. Weber, H. A. Moore, William Henderson, Walter Cook, A. Irvin, William Mayes, E. Watt, H. Jenkins, William Weber, Jess McCallom, G. L. Longee, Dr. W. Kurtz.

Grant Warner, of North Wales, Pa., who was born at Nittany, Centre county, and is a nephew of John Woomer, of Bellefonte, is lying at the point of death at his home. Mr. Warner was in his stable early Tuesday morning getting ready to go away, when Policeman John Stephens mistook him for a robber and shot him through the head.

One day last week four little boys the oldest about fourteen years of age, were having sport with a target gun, in a thicket near Boalsburg, when by accident, Kari, the six-year old son of Edw. Williams, was shot. The ball entered the flesh above the knee, grazing the bone, and passed through the limb. The eldest of the boys picked up the injured lad and carried him to a house near by.

The funeral of J. L. DeHaas, which occurred from the Catholic church a Howard, Saturday forenoon at 10:30, was very largely attended, not more than half the friends were able to get in the church. The services were conducted by Rev. Fathers Codori and Maucher, of Lock Haven, and Brady, of Renovo. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery. The pall bearers were: A. Weber, H. A. Moore, William Henderson, Walter Cook, A. Irvin, William Mayes, E. Watt, H. Jenkins, William Weber, Jess McCallom, G. L. Longee, Dr. W. Kurtz.

Grant Warner, of North Wales, Pa., who was born at Nittany, Centre county, and is a nephew of John Woomer, of Bellefonte, is lying at the point of death at his home. Mr. Warner was in his stable early Tuesday morning getting ready to go away, when Policeman John Stephens mistook him for a robber and shot him through the head.

One day last week four little boys the oldest about fourteen years of age, were having sport with a target gun, in a thicket near Boalsburg, when by accident, Kari, the six-year old son of Edw. Williams, was shot. The ball entered the flesh above the knee, grazing the bone, and passed through the limb. The eldest of the boys picked up the injured lad and carried him to a house near by.

The funeral of J. L. DeHaas, which occurred from the Catholic church a Howard, Saturday forenoon at 10:30, was very largely attended, not more than half the friends were able to get in the church. The services were conducted by Rev. Fathers Codori and Maucher, of Lock Haven, and Brady, of Renovo. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery. The pall bearers were: A. Weber, H. A. Moore, William Henderson, Walter Cook, A. Irvin, William Mayes, E. Watt, H. Jenkins, William Weber, Jess McCallom, G. L. Longee, Dr. W. Kurtz.

Grant Warner, of North Wales, Pa., who was born at Nittany, Centre county, and is a nephew of John Woomer, of Bellefonte, is lying at the point of death at his home. Mr. Warner was in his stable early Tuesday morning getting ready to go away, when Policeman John Stephens mistook him for a robber and shot him through the head.

OVER THE COUNTY.

Lewis Walker, of Rebersburg, was taken to the Lock Haven hospital, for an operation.

Supt. W. C. Snyder, at the Lehigh operations at Snow Shoe, has an attack of typhoid fever.

William Watson was appointed postmaster at Pine Clenn in place of George R. Boak, deceased.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Dale, of near Lemont, attended several sessions of the National Grange at Atlantic City last week.

Last week some of the mill dams in this county were frozen over. The dam at Oak Hall had ice not less than half an inch thick.

J. M. Grove, of College township, killed four porkers last week that averaged 45 1/2 pounds. That made a fine bunch of grunners.

Dr. Atherton, President of Penna State College, has been seriously ill with pneumonia, and his condition the past few days was so critical that recovery is much doubted.

Jas. Resides and family, of Union twp., moved to Tyrone where they expect to make their future home. Three of Mr. Reside's sons have good positions in the shops at that place.

The new St. Paul's United Evangelical church of Upper Marion was dedicated last Sunday afternoon. The indebtedness was $331.00 and they raised $575.00, Rev. J. F. Shultz is its pastor.

Calvin Horner, son of Mrs. Wm. Horner, Potter twp., fell down an elevator shaft at Altoona and was badly injured. He was engaged in one of the Altoona restaurants for the past year or more.

Adam Schreckengast, of North Millheim, on Saturday sold his timberland, situate west of his home, to C. H. Meyer & Co., of Coburn. Mr. Schreckengast will cut the timber, have it converted into lumber.

Wesley Nevil purchased the Peter Kerlin home south of Colyer, from William Colyer, deceased, for $500. Recently one hundred and fifty acres were sold to Witmer & Co. for $750, leaving Mr. Nevil about two hundred acres cleared land, a good house and stable.

Recently J. Green Gray, of Stormstown, met with an accident. He was hauling a load of wood from the "Barrens," and in driving over a log that was in his way he either was jolted off the wagon or fell in such a manner as to break one of his arms above the wrist.

Baby number eighteen came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Horner, near Linden Hall, a short time ago, and the parents are just as proud of the last child as any parents ever were over their first born. They should notify Teddy Roosevelt, who admires strenuous people.

Architect Robt. Cole has just completed the drawing for a new business block at State College to be known as the Meek Block. It will have two rooms on the first floor and flats on the second and third. He also has completed the plans for the new Phi Delta fraternity club house for the students.

F. S. Tomlinson, of Clearfield, who about a year ago bought one of the Wolfe farms, east of Aaronsburg, will have the timber on the farm converted into lumber during the winter. G. Wister has been engaged to furnish the mill and do the sawing, while Thomas and Dwight Stover will make the logs.—Journal.

A farmer from over the mountain came to town Thursday with a flock of seventeen big white turkeys, says the Philipsburg Ledger. The guests of a local hotel will be served with a Thanksgiving dinner from the flock, and, although the turkeys were white, there will be dark meat for all who prefer it.

Messrs. J. N. Schenover and C. W. Atherton have bought out the interest of their partners, J. W. Stein and George Stott, in the High Standard Garment Co.'s business at Philipsburg. Work on the new factory building is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible, and then the industry will be operated on a much larger scale.

Grant Warner, of North Wales, Pa., who was born at Nittany, Centre county, and is a nephew of John Woomer, of Bellefonte, is lying at the point of death at his home. Mr. Warner was in his stable early Tuesday morning getting ready to go away, when Policeman John Stephens mistook him for a robber and shot him through the head.

One day last week four little boys the oldest about fourteen years of age, were having sport with a target gun, in a thicket near Boalsburg, when by accident, Kari, the six-year old son of Edw. Williams, was shot. The ball entered the flesh above the knee, grazing the bone, and passed through the limb. The eldest of the boys picked up the injured lad and carried him to a house near by.

The funeral of J. L. DeHaas, which occurred from the Catholic church a Howard, Saturday forenoon at 10:30, was very largely attended, not more than half the friends were able to get in the church. The services were conducted by Rev. Fathers Codori and Maucher, of Lock Haven, and Brady, of Renovo. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery. The pall bearers were: A. Weber, H. A. Moore, William Henderson, Walter Cook, A. Irvin, William Mayes, E. Watt, H. Jenkins, William Weber, Jess McCallom, G. L. Longee, Dr. W. Kurtz.

Grant Warner, of North Wales, Pa., who was born at Nittany, Centre county, and is a nephew of John Woomer, of Bellefonte, is lying at the point of death at his home. Mr. Warner was in his stable early Tuesday morning getting ready to go away, when Policeman John Stephens mistook him for a robber and shot him through the head.

One day last week four little boys the oldest about fourteen years of age, were having sport with a target gun, in a thicket near Boalsburg, when by accident, Kari, the six-year old son of Edw. Williams, was shot. The ball entered the flesh above the knee, grazing the bone, and passed through the limb. The eldest of the boys picked up the injured lad and carried him to a house near by.

The funeral of J. L. DeHaas, which occurred from the Catholic church a Howard, Saturday forenoon at 10:30, was very largely attended, not more than half the friends were able to get in the church. The services were conducted by Rev. Fathers Codori and Maucher, of Lock Haven, and Brady, of Renovo. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery. The pall bearers were: A. Weber, H. A. Moore, William Henderson, Walter Cook, A. Irvin, William Mayes, E. Watt, H. Jenkins, William Weber, Jess McCallom, G. L. Longee, Dr. W. Kurtz.

Grant Warner, of North Wales, Pa., who was born at Nittany, Centre county, and is a nephew of John Woomer, of Bellefonte, is lying at the point of death at his home. Mr. Warner was in his stable early Tuesday morning getting ready to go away, when Policeman John Stephens mistook him for a robber and shot him through the head.

One day last week four little boys the oldest about fourteen years of age, were having sport with a target gun, in a thicket near Boalsburg, when by accident, Kari, the six-year old son of Edw. Williams, was shot. The ball entered the flesh above the knee, grazing the bone, and passed through the limb. The eldest of the boys picked up the injured lad and carried him to a house near by.

The funeral of J. L. DeHaas, which occurred from the Catholic church a Howard, Saturday forenoon at 10:30, was very largely attended, not more than half the friends were able to get in the church. The services were conducted by Rev. Fathers Codori and Maucher, of Lock Haven, and Brady, of Renovo. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery. The pall bearers were: A. Weber, H. A. Moore, William Henderson, Walter Cook, A. Irvin, William Mayes, E. Watt, H. Jenkins, William Weber, Jess McCallom, G. L. Longee, Dr. W. Kurtz.

Grant Warner, of North Wales, Pa., who was born at Nittany, Centre county, and is a nephew of John Woomer, of Bellefonte, is lying at the point of death at his home. Mr. Warner was in his stable early Tuesday morning getting ready to go away, when Policeman John Stephens mistook him for a robber and shot him through the head.

One day last week four little boys the oldest about fourteen years of age, were having sport with a target gun, in a thicket near Boalsburg, when by accident, Kari, the six-year old son of Edw. Williams, was shot. The ball entered the flesh above the knee, grazing the bone, and passed through the limb. The eldest of the boys picked up the injured lad and carried him to a house near by.

The funeral of J. L. DeHaas, which occurred from the Catholic church a Howard, Saturday forenoon at 10:30, was very largely attended, not more than half the friends were able to get in the church. The services were conducted by Rev. Fathers Codori and Maucher, of Lock Haven, and Brady, of Renovo. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery. The pall bearers were: A. Weber, H. A. Moore, William Henderson, Walter Cook, A. Irvin, William Mayes, E. Watt, H. Jenkins, William Weber, Jess McCallom, G. L. Longee, Dr. W. Kurtz.

Grant Warner, of North Wales, Pa., who was born at Nittany, Centre county, and is a nephew of John Woomer, of Bellefonte, is lying at the point of death at his home. Mr. Warner was in his stable early Tuesday morning getting ready to go away, when Policeman John Stephens mistook him for a robber and shot him through the head.

One day last week four little boys the oldest about fourteen years of age, were having sport with a target gun, in a thicket near Boalsburg, when by accident, Kari, the six-year old son of Edw. Williams, was shot. The ball entered the flesh above the knee, grazing the bone, and passed through the limb. The eldest of the boys picked up the injured lad and carried him to a house near by.

The funeral of J. L. DeHaas, which occurred from the Catholic church a Howard, Saturday forenoon at 10:30, was very largely attended, not more than half the friends were able to get in the church. The services were conducted by Rev. Fathers Codori and Maucher, of Lock Haven, and Brady, of Renovo. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery. The pall bearers were: A. Weber, H. A. Moore, William Henderson, Walter Cook, A. Irvin, William Mayes, E. Watt, H. Jenkins, William Weber, Jess McCallom, G. L. Longee, Dr. W. Kurtz.

Grant Warner, of North Wales, Pa., who was born at Nittany, Centre county, and is a nephew of John Woomer, of Bellefonte, is lying at the point of death at his home. Mr. Warner was in his stable early Tuesday morning getting ready to go away, when Policeman John Stephens mistook him for a robber and shot him through the head.

One day last week four little boys the oldest about fourteen years of age, were having sport with a target gun, in a thicket near Boalsburg, when by accident, Kari, the six-year old son of Edw. Williams, was shot. The ball entered the flesh above the knee, grazing the bone, and passed through the limb. The eldest of the boys picked up the injured lad and carried him to a house near by.

The funeral of J. L. DeHaas, which occurred from the Catholic church a Howard, Saturday forenoon at 10:30, was very largely attended, not more than half the friends were able to get in the church. The services were conducted by Rev. Fathers Codori and Maucher, of Lock Haven, and Brady, of Renovo. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery. The pall bearers were: A. Weber, H. A. Moore, William Henderson, Walter Cook, A. Irvin, William Mayes, E. Watt, H. Jenkins, William Weber, Jess McCallom, G. L. Longee, Dr. W. Kurtz.

Grant Warner, of North Wales, Pa., who was born at Nittany, Centre county, and is a nephew of John Woomer, of Bellefonte, is lying at the point of death at his home. Mr. Warner was in his stable early Tuesday morning getting ready to go away, when Policeman John Stephens mistook him for a robber and shot him through the head.

One day last week four little boys the oldest about fourteen years of age, were having sport with a target gun, in a thicket near Boalsburg, when by accident, Kari, the six-year old son of Edw. Williams, was shot. The ball entered the flesh above the knee, grazing the bone, and passed through the limb. The eldest of the boys picked up the injured lad and carried him to a house near by.

The funeral of J. L. DeHaas, which occurred from the Catholic church a Howard, Saturday forenoon at 10:30, was very largely attended, not more than half the friends were able to get in the church. The services were conducted by Rev. Fathers Codori and Maucher, of Lock Haven, and Brady, of Renovo. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery. The pall bearers were: A. Weber, H. A. Moore, William Henderson, Walter Cook, A. Irvin, William Mayes, E. Watt, H. Jenkins, William Weber, Jess McCallom, G. L. Longee, Dr. W. Kurtz.

Grant Warner, of North Wales, Pa., who was born at Nittany, Centre county, and is a nephew of John Woomer, of Bellefonte, is lying at the point of death at his home. Mr. Warner was in his stable early Tuesday morning getting ready to go away, when Policeman John Stephens mistook him for a robber and shot him through the head.

One day last week four little boys the oldest about fourteen years of age, were having sport with a target gun, in a thicket near Boalsburg, when by accident, Kari, the six-year old son of Edw. Williams, was shot. The ball entered the flesh above the knee, grazing the bone, and passed through the limb. The eldest of the boys picked up the injured lad and carried him to a house near by.

The funeral of J. L. DeHaas, which occurred from the Catholic church a Howard, Saturday forenoon at 10:30, was very largely attended, not more than half the friends were able to get in the church. The services were conducted by Rev. Fathers Codori and Maucher, of Lock Haven, and Brady, of Renovo. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery. The pall bearers were: A. Weber, H. A. Moore, William Henderson, Walter Cook, A. Irvin, William Mayes, E. Watt, H. Jenkins, William Weber, Jess McCallom, G. L. Longee, Dr. W. Kurtz.

Grant Warner, of North Wales, Pa., who was born at Nittany, Centre county, and is a nephew of John Woomer, of Bellefonte, is lying at the point of death at his home. Mr. Warner was in his stable early Tuesday morning getting ready to go away, when Policeman John Stephens mistook him for a robber and shot him through the head.

One day last week four little boys the oldest about fourteen years of age, were having sport with a target gun, in a thicket near Boalsburg, when by accident, Kari, the six-year old son of Edw. Williams, was shot. The ball entered the flesh above the knee, grazing the bone, and passed through the limb. The eldest of the boys picked up the injured lad and carried him to a house near by.

The funeral of J. L. DeHaas, which occurred from the Catholic church a Howard, Saturday forenoon at 10:30, was very largely attended, not more than half the friends were able to get in the church. The services were conducted by Rev. Fathers Codori and Maucher, of Lock Haven, and Brady, of Renovo. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery. The pall bearers were: A. Weber, H. A. Moore, William Henderson, Walter Cook, A. Irvin, William Mayes, E. Watt, H. Jenkins, William Weber, Jess McCallom, G. L. Longee, Dr. W. Kurtz.

Grant Warner, of North Wales, Pa., who was born at Nittany, Centre county, and is a nephew of John Woomer, of Bellefonte, is lying at the point of death at his home. Mr. Warner was in his stable early Tuesday morning getting ready to go away, when Policeman John Stephens mistook him for a robber and shot him through the head.

The young people of Snow Shoe will have a dance in the Park pavilion, on Thanksgiving evening.

R. R. Rickert, employed the past two years on the Harter lumber operation in West Virginia