"HECKLEY" PARK.

I that I would rite a letter to your paper wouost to let you all know what we are doin down here at Heckley Park.
If my spellin isn't so good as it might be, you mustn't laff at me because I never had much book larnin, and any way it is as the fellers say up at Charlie Workman's store, viz: it isn't always the feller that has the best eddycation that noes the most. Just now the boys at the store are discussin how many deers the Zimmerman boys, who is out huntin in the Alleghenies, is goin to fetch home.
Kline he didn't go; he takes a mighty site of interest in eddycational matters; he goes away everywost in a while to talk it over with some school teachers.
There is also a good bit of talk about who has the fattest hogs around here, I don't no who has the fattest because every one says theirs is.
Last Toosday when the seven-thirty-train come in, a whole lot of men and boys got off with guns and dorgs; such a ginglin of chains and a rattlin of guns. We thot they would just clean out every thing. After dinner, when I went to the P. O. to see if my Farm Journal had come, because I wanted to see if there was a recete in it for chicken colery, I found them all round the stove, one feller was tryin to open a can of sossage with an old nife, they was all a watchin him, dogs to, their mouths all a waterin. One of the fellers, they called Dock, a sort of round smoothish faced chap who smokes a big pipe and lives up at Bellefonte, said the ony thing he was huntin all day was shelter because it snoed so hard. Dock Fishers son up at Zion was among the crowd.
The Cent. R. R. is goin to build a new ice house here pretty soon. The old one is torn down. They found some ice in the bottom that Mister Peters said was 4 or 5 years old, and it was just as good as new ice, hadn't spoilt nor got moldy.
