There is unusual interest in the ma'rimonial event that will take place in Washington next Saturday, the wedding of Miss Rooseveit and Mr. Longworth. The North American, of Philadelphia, on Sunday next will publish as a part of its regular edition a handsome photogravure reproduction of the best likeness of the president's oldest daughter. It is a picture that is worthy of preservation, as a reminder of the most brilliant of White House weddings. In the same issue of the paper there will be a full detailed account of the wedding ceremony of the previous day, and illustrations showing the magnificence of the ceremony and the incidental festivities.
