CORNELIUS N. BLISS. the former legislative agent of that company, Andrew Hamilton. The disagreement pertains to the question whether Mr. Hamilton did or did not turn over the sum of $75,000 to Mr. Bliss on behalf of the New York Life to be used for the election of the Republican national ticket in 1896. Mr. Bliss has been prominent in Republican politics for years and was treasurer of the national committee of that party in four presidential campaigns. It has been said that his case illustrates the saying that the office should seek the man rather than the man the office, for, though offices have been urged upon him on numerous occasions, he has only once served in a post of a public character. That was when he was for a short time secretary of the interior in the cabinet of President McKinley. Mr. Bliss was born in Fall River, Mass., in 1833. He has been a merchant in New York for twenty-five years.

James Keir Hardie, leader of the powerful Labor party in the British house of commons, is a remarkable character. He worked in Scotch coal mines from the time he was seven years old until he reached the age of twenty-four. He learned to write shorthand as a young man, not by attending a business college or working with pen and paper after hours, but by scratching on the walls of the coal mine the mysterious looking characters of stenography. He did not become a shorthand reporter, but his present position as leader of the Labor party is more influential than he dreamed of possess-as a brilliant lawyer and an eloquent speaker and is also widely known as a writer. One of his books, "Resist Not Evil," champions the ideas of Tolstol. Another, "Farmington," is a novel which describes country life and rural characters in days gone by, when there were but few links between the life of the city and that of the country. Mr. Darrow is forty-nine years old and a native of Ohio. He started out in his profession as a railroad attorney, but his sympathles soon carried him in an opposite direction. One of the feats of his career was his summing up of the miners' case before the strike commission, when he spoke for two days without notes and without manifesting fatigue.

The roof of the house was being repaired, and as the policeman was not quite sure about the floor repairs he allowed Hardie to pass.

Owing to his simple way of dressing. Mr. Hardie was once placed in an awkward position while traveling in Belgium. He was arrested on suspicion of being connected with an anarchist who had just been seized on the charge of attempting the life of King Leopold. Hardie had difficulty in convincing the police that he was a member of the British parliament.

Representative Oscar W. Gillespie of Texas, whose resolution asking for information concerning the community of interests of the Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio and other railroads was recently passed, came to congress the first time on the toss of a coin. He is from the Twelfth district and first served in the Fifty-eighth congress. There were three candidates for the nomination. Several thouand ballots were taken. Finally it was decided to break the deadlock by the toss of a coin. The third man was eliminated on the first toss, and Gillesple won the second toss and the nomination.
