Mrs. J. H. Rishel and daughter Loda did some shopping in Millheim on Saturday.

GREENS GAP.

Rev. and Mrs. Heim, from Montandon, made a brief call at F. P. Duck's on Sunday evening.

I do wish the West Brush valley scribe would mind his own affairs and not meddle in with other scribes. It isn't suitable for every Tom, Dick and Harry to write for a paper like some scribes do; it is of no interest to the public, but, instead it often causes endless unpleasantness. Won't you be so kind and omit such tomfoolery Mr. West Brush valley scribe?

William Wagner, from Pittsburg, spent Saturday and Sunday with F. P. Duck's.

Some people who are wicked in all their doings are all the time criticising the doings of other churches.

W. E. Keller was sawing wood at this place with his gasoline automobile last week.

Charles Beck and Miss Della Spayd started to the Spring Mills Normal under Prof. W. P. Hosterman on Monday.

The last of the schools in Logan school district closed on Thursday, the 11th.

Lumberman Harry Smith moved into the Geo. Kahl home on the 13th.

After a stay of about four months in Indiana county, F. P. Wirth returned to his home on the 14th. Mr. Wirth is a skilled mechanic, and his services are always in demand. He is at present taking bids to paint his house, which will be an up-to-date job. We hope some more of our citizens will be able to follow his example during the coming season.

Monday morning found our young men up bright and early and moving towards the trout streams.

Wm. Confer and son returned from Yeagertown on Saturday, on foot through mud and rain, a distance of about 48 miles; but after all Mr. Confer seems happy for he says there is lots of building going on down there, and he says he contracted to plaster about four thousand yards already, with good prospects for more.

SNOWSHOE.

Spring has arrived at last.

Claud Irvin is visiting his grandmother at Oak Hall, this week.

The trout catch is very heavy this year. Jas. Coram reports the biggest catch.

Mrs. Lida Walker, who was visiting her daughters and sons in the western cities returned home Monday.

Mal Poorman, of Altoona, was seen on our streets a few days ago.

Arthur Bedient has moved his family from Altoona to the house vacated by John Coakley.

Uriah Housel, wife and daughter Mabel, of Milesburg, spent Sunday at the home of Willis Poorman's.

James Smoyer the efficient division boss of the Snow R. R. transacted business in our town Monday.

As we all know it is courtesy for a young man to take his lady friend driving on Sunday afternoon; but the incident that took place at Wingate Sunday is a very keen affair. You will please note that a young man of Bellefonte came to that place and very courteously chaperoned his lady friend a distance of some twelve miles. They proceeded at 1 p. m., and returned at 8 p. m. Now Wingate get your eyes open and don't procrastinate your time in catching serpents of the wilds of your city.

ZION.

Mrs. L. W. Musser spent a few days in Lock Haven last week with relatives.

There will be services in the Lutheran church on Sunday evening, April 22.

SPRING MILLS.

Charles A. Greer, editor of the Altoona Times is in luck. Treasurer-elect W. H. Herry has named Mr. Greer to be his bond clerk. The position pays $2500 a year, and the appointment is for the entire term of two years.

At Lock Haven the day before Easter, eggs dropped from 18 and 20 cents per dozen down to 12 cents and the market remained overstocked at that. Well may some remember the time when eggs, at Easter time, were down to a "fip" per dozen, as each Easter came on.

After a year's illness with chirois of the liver, Thomas Bell, high sheriff of Blair county, died at his farm south of Altoona. Sheriff Bell was aged 61 years, came of a prominent family and was serving his third term as sheriff. Coroner W. T. Blackburn will become the sheriff.

HARRIS TWP.

IRON BRIDGE.

Some of our farmers are busy plowing. So many people wonder who the iron bridge scribe is, I will tell you. He is about six foot tall, heavy set, dark hair, a heavy mustache and big feet and smokes a pipe strong enough to draw a load up the mountain road.

A. R. Evert is attending summer school at Millheim.

We have noticed in the last week's paper that one of the scribe's had mentioned something about a coat called a duster and was laid away 35 years ago. Those who think so are just that far 35 years out of style. They really don't know the difference from a duster and a spring and fall overcoat.

The scribe never got a dollar yet to give a girl a buggy ride.

UNIONVILLE.

J. E. Hall and Charley Holtzworth each have a telegraph instrument in their respective homes and are connected by wire and, it is said, both are becoming quite expert in sending messages, but it seems the most expert telegrapher can't read them; not even John McDonnell.

W. E. Turner, the Union township model farmer, has been taking a couple weeks' vacation, visiting friends in the western part of the state.

Grandma Bing, after spending the winter at Johnstown at the home of John Brugger, returned home on Saturday as jolly as ever.

The measles, just now, have their inings. No family belongs to the elite or upper crust that does not have one or more victims of this pestiferous disease.

We are glad to report that Miss Elizabeth Brugger was recently appointed by the treasurer elect, Berry, as stenographer in one of the departments in the treasurer's office. Here's our Lib.

John Cadwallar, who for a number of years has been working in the Edgar Thompson steelworks at Braddock, returned home a few days ago to recuperate his wasted energies. John looks as if the sheriff had been after him. He is already improving in health.

Mrs. Giesley, a wealthy lady of New York City and a returned missionary, will give a free lecture in the Presbyterian church on Friday evening, the 20th. She is said to be a very interesting and entertaining speaker. Her lecture will be in the interest of the missionary society.

A very delightful and interesting entertainment was given in the M. E. church on last Sabbath evening by the junior Epworth league. All of the little folks acquitted themselves with much credit to themselves as well as to those who had the matter in charge. The solo by Pauline Smith was very beautiful, the class exercises were grand and all in all were very pleasing and inspiring.

We are sorry to learn that T. E. Griest is again seriously ill; this time, with pneumonia; we hope for his speedy recovery.

The editor of the Centre Democrat ain't smart, a little bit. Listen! In last week's issue he took occasion to remark that he couldn't print the C. D. any longer, without getting more type. I'll tell you: just make it half as wide and then you can make it twice as long, with the same type. See?

Paul Neff, a gay young breakman on conductor Billy Halican's train, is all broke up over our Unionville girls. The other morning he was so rattled when he saw several of our young ladies at the station that he called out "all aboard. This train goes to Julian, Beaver Mills and—Gosh! ain't they pretty—Snowshoe Intersection." He actually forgot to signal the engineer to move on.

POTTER TWP.

FLUM GROVE.

Emery Sweetwood and Gertrude Auman, both of Georgesvalley, were quietly married at the home of the bride's brother, Victor Auman, on Sunday evening by Rev. J. M. Reaick.

One of Center Hall's sports calls at the brick house; how about it Albert?

Man Fye and wife spent Sunday at Wm. Homan's.

Roy Schaffer and family spent Sunday with his parents, N. B. Schaffer's.

N. H. Zeigler wears a broad smile—he says it is a dish washer.

Mrs. John Breen is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Oscar Homan.

EARLYSTOWN.

Mrs. Bartges and Annie Greninger spent Friday afternoon at Tusseyville.

Joe Conaway and C. E. Weaver, spent Friday evening at G. A. Michall's.

Most of our farmers are plowing.

The Millheim base ball team had a show in the Grange hall, Saturday evening.

We are sorry to hear that D. Bauer-sox had his thumb cut off.

James I. Lytle is repairing his horse stable; he is having mangers instead of racks.

HAINES TWP.

WOLF'S CHAPEL.

Death:—On Sunday afternoon the community was shocked by the sudden death of Harvey Stover, one of the most aged citizens of this community. The rest of the family had gone to church at Aaronsburg, leaving him at home in his usual health, and when they returned they found him in his chair cold in death. He is survived by his wife and nine children, viz: Mrs. Dora Snyder, of White Deer; Mrs. Ella Bartley, Mrs. Lydia Kreamer, Mrs. Arie Condo and Mrs. Alice Johnsonbaugh, of Nittany; Mrs. Maggie Keller, of Madisonburg; Miss Daisy, at Bellefonte; Thomas at this place, and Dwight, at home. Funeral services on this (Thursday) morning, interment in the Chapel cemetery.

Rev. Lauffer preached his farewell sermon at St. Paul's on Sunday, and it was fairly well attended.

Miss Katie Stover returned home on Sunday after spending a week with her sister, Mrs. Durbin Musser.

David Breen spent Sunday at Coburn.

J. W. Zerby and family, of Millheim, spent Sunday at R. B. Hosterman's.

MILES TWP.

WEST BRUSH VALLEY.

Farmers are busy plowing, and hauling fertilizer.

Minnie Grenoble spent Sunday at Farmers Mills, at the home of Squire Rishels'.

Mrs. E. H. Reighard and Mrs. B. F. Grenoble and son Charley, spent Sunday at the home of H. M. Wert.

Rev. Snyder preached an able sermon in St. Paul church to a large attendance.

Amon Breen and lady friend from Penna valley, spent Sunday at the home of H. M. Wert.

The wheat and grass fields are beginning to look fine; if nothing happens there will be a heavy wheat and hay crop.

Yearick and Zerby's stave mill is running in full blast.

Prayer meeting was largely attended at Clarence Houtz's.

Mrs. Nevin Fiedler spent Saturday with Minnie Grenoble.

WOMAN A FIGHTING FURY.

Mrs. Carrie Mason, of Whetstone, now known as the "Amazon of Huntingdon county," is languishing in the Lewis-town county prison, charged with assault and battery, aggravated assault with intent to kill, resisting an officer and half a dozen other offences, all on account of a mangy yellow dog. A few days ago two of Mrs. Mason's sons visited Mt. Union and returned home with a yellow cur. Shortly afterward the owner succeeded in locating the animal and went after him, but had to run for his life when the woman and her sons attacked him. Returning to Mt Union, the man procured a writ of replevin and sent Constable Rodgers to serve it. The constable came back covered with bruises and with his clothes in rags, having received a terrific thrashing at the hands of the angry dame. Clamoring for vengeance, he swore out a warrant for the arrest of the woman and placed it in the hands of Policeman William Stratford, who deputized Alton Fields and Arthur Hill to assist in the arrest. When the three men reached the house Stratford stationed his deputies front and rear and entered the house. Mrs. Mason was sitting on the floor peeling potatoes. Stratford placed his hand on her shoulder and began to read the warrant in an impressive voice. The woman
