DON'T BURY LOVE.

Center Your Affection on Your Family, Not on Your House. Few of us mean to hide our love from the children or husband. It is only because we are so busy—so busy. We must do everything in the very quickest way, and at the same time keep planning and thinking of how all those other things are to be done—and so love is crowded out. I sometimes wonder, dear mothers, if we are not nearly all making a mistake, if it would not be better to let the children's clothes be not quite so fine, the dinner plain—yes, if need be, even the sitting room table go some day undusted, but so make time for the loving word and smile, the gentle, thoughtful deed, the lingering touch and caress, the something that will show the love in our hearts. Never a day passes but each one of us is near some one who is starving—not for food or wealth or fame, but for love. Even the little children in our homes are hungering for the loving word and smile. If we can but take time to give these they will be remembered long after our elaborate dinners, our stylish dresses, our spotless houses, are forgotten. Let us think the matter over carefully and look at it squarely. Do we, because of overmuch sweeping and dusting in our homes, because of magnifying the importance of having each thing always in its proper place and, above all, of keeping the house nice for strangers to see—do we in any way lessen the joy for any of the dear ones in the home? Do we bake and dust and work to "keep house" for strangers and let our own go homeless? For where love is not uppermost there can be no home, only a house.—Mothers' Magazine.
