QUIGLEY is not sure that he wants the nomination now for senate.

THE machine organs are very much displeased with Guffey because he won't kick.

FROSTY weather will prevail this fall—Pennyacker will make speeches for Stuart.

PENROSE nominated Stewart for governor on the gang ticket, and that fact settled Stewart's hash—anything by boss-boodler Penrose dont go.

TO BRING about Reform, all reformers, of whatever party or creed, must join hands. That is the only way to effectually crush craft and corruption in high places.

THE nomination of United States Senators by the people in party primaries is in successful operation in all the Southern States except Missouri. There are no Platts, Deweys or Drydens in the Senate from that section.

A NEW YORK paper wants to know what the 40,000 young men and women who have just been graduated from American universities and colleges are going to do. Well, some of them will do the best they can and some will do their parents.

THE State now owns 800,000 acres of land, set apart for forestry reservation purposes, all of which was acquired at an average cost of $2.10 per acre. The commission has been buying land since 1898. Of this some fifty thousand acres are in Centre county—mountain lands denuded of timber by lumber operations.

THE Republicans of the House of Representatives insisted upon their amendment to the railroad rate bill striking out the pipe line clause and the Senate after a show of resistance agreed to the bill, so that the Standard Oil Trust is free from regulation by virtue of the votes of a Republican Congress.

MOST Republican Congressmen consider their greatest achievements of this session to be the "pure pork bill" which makes some republican constituencies believe they are "doing things." The democrats point with pride that they forced the republican majority to vote for a rate bill, a pure food bill, and other remedial legislation that have for years been the principal planks in Democratic platforms.

ROBERT K. YOUNG, of Tioga county, nominee on the Penrose machine ticket for auditor general, won't stand unless Penrose, Bull Andrews and the rest of the gangsters, are made to keep hands off the party management and let an honest and independent leadership take hold of the conduct of the republican campaign. This is Mr. Young's patriotic declaration—and there are thousands more of that creed.

THE surrender of Congress and the President to the meat trust was the last scene in the tragedy of the recent session. The surrender of Congress and the President to the Standard Oil trust was next to the last. They also surrender to the President and the American Ship Trust next session. "Surrender" is the shibboleth of the present regime. It means "protection" to the rich rogues, and Pinkertons, and poverty for the people.

THE Sharon "Telegraph," published at Sharon, Mercer county, has taken down the name of Edwin S. Stuart from the head of its editorial columns and placed that of Lewis Emery, Jr., in its stead, as its choice for Governor. The "Telegraph" is Republican in politics. It says editorially that "the time has come when the shackles that have bound the State to the corrupt political gang that has so long mismanaged affairs should be rent asunder and that forever."

EVERY improvement by the ingenuity of man, has the inevitable effect to crowd out older methods and ways and manners of doing things in whatever lines improvements and inventions may apply. The latest instance of this we find that in the increase in motor omnibuses and automobiles generally in London has resulted in a striking reduction in the number of veterinary surgeons. Four years ago there 6,000 of them, while now there are only 800. It is predicted that three years hence not more than 300 will be able to find employment.

ADJOINING COUNTIES.

Wm. Walls, serving a fifteen months' sentence in the Huntingdon county jail for riot, scaled the high wall of the jail yard and escaped Monday.

The Warriorsmark Grange No. 974. Patrons of Husbandry, will hold its annual picnic at Funk's grove, Warriorsmark, on Saturday, August 11. The day will be spent largely in a reunion of the old residents.

Two prominent physicians of Tyrone died Tuesday 3rd. Dr. D. J. Appleby expired at 5 o'clock in the morning of uraemic poison. Dr. J. H. Gemmill died in the afternoon of dilatation of the heart. Both doctors were widely known through Blair and Huntingdon counties.

Charles W. Scott, former postmaster of Williamsport, has brought suit against the Pennsylvania Railroad for $10,000 damages. He alleges that he lost a portion of the index for the right of passage because the door fixtures of a passenger coach were not in proper working order.

A number of Altoona merchants have been arrested on the charge of selling and dealing in impure olive oil, the warrants being sworn out by Pure Food Agent Foust. The total number was eleven, eight of whom paid their fines of $50 each and costs, and three have entered bail and will have the cases tried in court.—Herald.

The large barn on the property of Willard Brown at Clintondale was totally destroyed by fire Friday night 29. The large mill building of the White Milling company is very near to the place where the barn was burning and several times the entire roof of the mill was ablaze but was saved, together with the wagon shed, corn crib, pig pen and other out-buildings. A team of farm horses, two pigs, a large quantity of hay and all the fine stock of farming implements were destroyed. There is no clue as to how the building caught fire.

J. T. Rush and John Stephens went fishing for catfish a few evenings ago near the Juniata bridge says the Tyrone Herald. They caught several fish and finally Rush got a bite; he tried to pull out but found that his hook was fastened. After a hard pull, the line came up and on the hook was a two gallon jug. Being curious to know what held the hook in the jug, Rush broke the jug and found a twelve inch catfish. The fish had probably gone into the jug when small and had grown too large to get out of the opening. What the Centre Democrat would like to know is, what was in that jug before the catfish moved in.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN.

In all times and in all countries there have lived men who were not given due credit until after many years after their theories were expounded; in some cases the heart of the expounder, which thrilled him as he laid bare his thoughts, had ceased to pulsate ere a tardy public accepted his philosophy.

Galileo was imprisoned for declaring what is now universally accepted by the fraternity of science; theologians have been barred from sacred edifices for believing and teaching more or less than the dogmas by denominations set forth; in every branch of science men have suffered the jeers of those not disposed to look into the future, and later have been placed on pedestals for hypotheses and theories that were developed into laws unerring.

The historian of the future will record among those who "lived before their time" the name of William Jennings Bryan.

In his two years' tour around the world which is about to end, the people of the world have done Mr. Bryan the greatest honors as one of America's greatest and noblest sons. His fellow citizens in America are prouder today of Mr. Bryan than ever and his greatness and worth have been found inestimable after being weighed. Able, pure in character beyond a single exception, a commoner in every sense of the word,—he will reach his own beloved country with greetings such as were never extended to an American citizen. He is deservedly honored. He will be the next President.

Can Make Their Boxes.

Postmaster General Cortelyou has issued an order, to go into effect August 1, rescinding the regulation under which patrons of rural mail routes are compelled to purchase boxes from one of the 200 listed manufacturers who have put on the market 300 different styles of boxes, approved by the department, costing from 50 cents to $4 each. Patrons of rural routes will be permitted to construct their own boxes, provided they conform to the requirements of the department as to size, durability, safety and protection from the inclemencies of the weather. In order to maintain the government protection of the mail placed in rural boxes, the patron must secure the approval of the postmaster for the office which serves the route, and paint on the boxes the words, "approved by the postmaster general."

A Good Thing.

The fact that a good thing is never wasted on the public is strikingly illustrated by the increasing popularity of "The Philadelphia Record." True merit is always appreciated if backed by enterprise, whether it be in a cake of soap or in a newspaper. The spurious article, or the one that is not up to a competitive standard is soon left behind in the race for popular favor. There are older newspapers than "The Record," and papers that have shot upward like skyrocket with a flash of ephemeral brilliancy only to come down again like charred rations. But "The Record" has advanced steadily and irresistibly year by year since 29 years ago it set the pace as the pioneer one cent paper of America. Since then it has never retrograded. It has never even stood still, and today its circulation exceeds that of any other newspaper published in the State of Pennsylvania, with an influence that is felt all over the country. Continued success is never accidental. It is possible to stumble into luck as one stumbles into a hornet's nest, with just about as much chance of winning out in the end. But luck has never entered into the success of "The Record." That success has been due to a keen insight directed toward the public mind, an ability to see at a glance what the public wanted in the way of a newspaper, and then to supply that want. "The Record" has never attempted to force down the public's throat a style of journalism that was inherently distasteful to it. We congratulate the management of "The Record" on its adherence to the principles that have marked the paper's entire career, as well as upon the excellent business methods that have won the confidence and esteem of its great advertising patronage.

RESIDES RE-UNION.

The first picnic of the year at Hunter's Park, was the grand re-union of the Resides family on Thursday of last week, and in proportion to the whole number, there was a very excellent percentage of attendance, especially when so many had come so great a distance. When the dinner was finally completed a couple of hours were devoted to recalling old times.

M. R. Johnson, of Bellefonte, who was master of ceremonies, called the body to order when short addresses were made by many persons present and an organization completed for an annual meeting with the following named officers: Pres., M. R. Johnson, Bellefonte; sec., Miss Eva Tressler, Fillmore; treas., George Resides, State College. A short story of the local history of this family name may add to the interest of the affair as it generally the way with all our ancestors.

James Resides emigrated from Ballymona county, Antrim, north of Ireland. After remaining in Philadelphia some time he came to Centre county (then Millin) and settled along the foot of Muncy mountain north of Hunter's Park, cleared a large farm now occupied by a grandson, Philip Resides. He married a Miss McCartney, of Huntingdon Co., who when a child used to be hid in swamps to keep the Indians from finding her. They were the parents of four sons and five daughters, viz: Philip Sr., who remained on the old homestead and died some ten years ago; James Jr., Wm. and John who died at different times years ago. The girls finally became Nancy Saffer, Hannah Brower, Nancy Eckley, Ellen Hasty and Sallie Galbraith. Hence it is the progeny of Philip, the eldest son and one son of James, one daughter of Nancy Eckley and one also of Ellen Hasty, now Mrs. Jacob Houser.

Philip's family consists of Charles, of Osceola; Mrs. Belle Barr, of Bellefonte; William, Bellefonte; Elizabeth Tressler, of Fillmore; Frank, who was killed on a barn at Lemont; John, of Sandy Ridge; Nancy Stover, of Waddle; Mary Sauters, of Bellefonte; Ellen Sellars, Pittsburg; Henry, of Fillmore and Philip on homestead. The limb of this family tree and the progeny in general is composed of a body of excellent citizens vieing with each other how to improve their condition in life, never forgetting that their ancestors had the disadvantage of the fire place and the smoking chimney. Much credit is due M. R. Johnson of Bellefonte for the able way in which he conducted the exercises.

Who Are Deadheads.

The term "deadheads" is in various connections very much to the fore at the present time. How did it arise? Its origin is purely transatlantic.

Sixty years ago, all the principal avenues of a city in Delaware led in one direction, to a tollgate close to the cemetery road. This cemetery having been laid out long before the construction of the plank road beyond the tollgate, funeral processions were allowed to pass along it toll free. One day as Dr. Price, a well known physician stopped to pay his toll, he observed to the gatekeeper:

"Considering the benevolent character of the profession to which I have the honor to belong, you ought to let us pass toll free."

"No, no doctor," the man replied, "we can't afford that. You send too many deadheads through as it is."

This story soon traveled far and wide until the term came to be applied to any one who claims the privilege of traveling on a railway system of passing into a place of amusement free of cost.—London Tribune.
