ZION.

Some of our farmers are through hauling in wheat.

There was quite a severe electrical storm passed over this part of the country on Monday afternoon, accompanied by a good rain which was beneficial for everything.

One of our hustling farmers, H. T. Struble, has the nicest field of corn in this section.

Charles N. Fisher, who is employed at Williamsport by the Commercial telephone, is paying his parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Fisher a visit.

Hecla was well represented at church on Sunday evening.

James Kane spent Sunday with Harry Rocky.

A few of our young folks were to Hecla park on Friday evening.

It is reported that Mrs. George Yarnell, who was taken to Philadelphia for an operation, is getting along very nicely and will be home in a few days.

Lizzie Shaffer was unfortunate enough to fall from a load of wheat but was not seriously hurt.

Mrs. B. A. Noll, who is at the White Haven sanitarium, is improving.

Our hustling barber, Wm. Hassenger, is getting along quite well; he is very busy on Saturday evening.

Lightning struck in a wheat shock on Benj. Kauffman's farm on Monday during the storm.

Mac Weaver and wife, of Axe Mann, spent Sunday with J. A. Hoy's.

Kyle Corman, of Hecla Park, spent Sunday at home.

Some of our folks have been out for huckleberries and report that they are very plentiful.

Fannie Stein is employed at Ad Rishel's.

Mrs. Crossmyer, from Curtin, spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. J. J. Stein.

There will be Communion services in the Lutheran church on Sunday morning, July 22, by Rev. S. W. Fleck.

MARTHA.

Farming is about a thing of the past for this year, as our farmers are about done.

Sam'l Hollabaugh had misfortune of having his house and all its contents burned to the ground last Friday.

W. R. Heaton, of Valparaiso, Ind., has been visiting friends and relatives at this place for some time.

G. G. Fink took a business trip to Du-Bois last week.

Rev. A. C. Lathrop held a union Sunday school in the Baptist church, at this place, last Sabbath which was largely attended.

There was a surprise party given at the home of Ellis Williams last Saturday evening in honor of his son Harry's birthday.

Mrs. G. O. Benner, of Centre Hall, is visiting her parents.

R. G. Williams and wife spent last Sunday with the latter's parents, T. V. Stevens, of Dix Run.

D. C. Hartsock, of Lakemont, has been at home helping harvest.

Wm. Bullock and wife spent last week at the home of D. J. Gingery.

Bethel and Lydia Eberts have returned home from visiting relatives at Centre Hall.

WOLFE'S STORE.

We had quite a hail storm here on Monday afternoon; the ground was covered with hail.

Kate Moyer and Mabel Gilbert, from Rebersburg, spent Sunday at this place among their friends.

Mary and Emma Yeidie, from Berks county, are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Allen Gilbert.

H. Bartley and family, from Lock Haven, spent a day in our vicinity, taking in some of the pure mountain breezes; they also brought along their bathing outfits and spent some of the time in the water.

Mr. Harter and Mr. Sheats, who had been at home over the Fourth, returned to their places of employment on Tuesday.

Some people are through cutting grain, others just began.

Miss Abbie Gilbert is suffering from a sore foot.

Some of the people of this place are very much interested in the preaching at Smullton; there are seven churches from here to Smullton and three of the finest and best educated men to fill the pulpits every Sunday—take their advice and you will be led aright.

Nothing will mend the widow's broken heart but re-planting.

GREENBURR.

John Bechtol, of Bellwood, circulated among his many friends and took in the festival on Saturday evening. It seemed kind of natural to see John blow a horn in the old band. The festival proved a decided success with good cream and other refreshments, the evening was spent in a jolly good manner and the band realized a snug little sum.

Mrs. J. R. Sager, of Salona, is spending a week pleasantly among friends and relatives.

A. N. Kahl had a delicate operation performed on one of his horses last week, by Dr. Bowersox, of Aaronsburg.

J. A. Sager and family, from Mackeyville, and J. R. Sager, of Salona, were welcome callers in our Burr on Sunday; come again but stay a little longer next time.

Mr. Boger, of Mifflinburg, and his family are taking an outing by tenting on the old camp ground.

Mr. Rowler and wife, of Harrisburg, are guests of Mrs. Sam'l Shaffer and Daniel Kahls.

Mrs. Emery Kupp, who spent a week with her parents here left on Sunday for Loganton.

Daniel Glantz, who was working in Bald Eagle valley, returned to his home last week.

The Reformed and Evangelical Sunday schools of Greenburr, the Lutheran Sunday school of Booneville, and St. Paul's Evangelical Sunday school, west of Greenburr, will picnic together on the camp ground on the fourth of Aug. The Greenburr band is engaged to furnish music and the forenoon will be taken up by a children's service. Brethren let us work to make this the most instructive, as well as the most enjoyable day for our children.

JULIAN.

We had a fine rain on Monday afternoon and evening.

Cherries are very plentiful in this community. Mr. Straw sold over a hundred dollars worth.

Miss Hardy, of Tyrone, is spending a couple of weeks with her grandfather, Calvin Williams.

John Smay, who has been employed on the railroad here, has resigned his position to accept one at Pittsboro.

Some persons complain and say they can not turn out on Sunday morning to services as it is so far to walk to church. But you will see those same people making their daily trip to town every day through the week. Others will sit on their porches in the shadow of the church and let some little excuse keep them away. Be careful, Christian people, the outside world notices this.

Rev. Wolfe, pastor of the United Brethren church, preached a very able sermon on Sabbath morning.

The M. E. pastor, Rev. Durkee, will preach Sunday evening at the usual hour 7:30.

Henry Rice, of Philipsburg, is building a fine chicken house for J. C. Nason. Mr. Griffith, of Philipsburg, spent Monday with Foreman Quick.

Thomas Gill has filled the vacancy on the railroad made by Calvin Hall leaving.

Geo. Sonnes has a smile all over his face. It is a boy baby.

J. H. Turner expects to leave today, (Thursday) for Atlantic City.

Mrs. Matlock Fry, of Northumberland, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Sonnes.

UPPER MARION.

Constans Sharp and lady friend Miss Stover, spent Sunday at Hubbersburg with Mrs. Stover's sister, Mrs. Zong.

Boys get your tin cans there will be a wedding in the near future.

Helen Garbrick and sister Charlotte were at Howard on Sunday.

Catharine Farley is now employed by Calvin Garbrick's.

Some of our farmers are through hauling in wheat and hay.

On Thursday night fire broke out at Harter's sawmill; it started on the slab pile; by timely aid they got it under control, thereby saving considerable property for N. H. Yearick for whom Mr. Harter was sawing; nothing of any value was burned.

Monday the 16th we had the biggest rain we had this summer so far.

Nevin Harter is helping Calvin Garbrick with his harvesting.

Earl Yearick and his mother, Mrs. N. H. Yearick, were seen in Upper Marion on Sunday.

Pretty nice girls in Upper Marion; just ask W. E. and H. C.

HAINES TWP.

IRON BRIDGE.

Most of our farmers finished harvesting, while some of our up-to-date farmers are already hauling in.

Mrs. Albert Hazel and son Roy, of Flemington, are visiting her mother, who is very ill.

Jacob Everett's were Sunday visitors at S. A. Boyer's.

Some people like enemies instead of friends.

Mrs. J. H. Rishel is on the sick list.

Emanuel Vonada purchased a thrashing outfit.

Geo. Stover moved to Frogtown where he will start housekeeping.

Wm. Musser cut E. Stover's grain on Saturday.

Philip Stover is working for Samuel Mowery during haying and harvesting.

An automobile passed through our vicinity on Sunday, which was a great thing to see, for the little ones. The scribe don't own an automobile but he auto.

FERGUSON TWP.

CENTRE MILLS.

Herbert Smull is on the sick list.

Mame Wolf is visiting friends in Erie.

Mrs. Weirly and children, of State College, is visiting her parents, J. A. Kline's at the mill.

Eva Moyer returned last week after visiting relatives in Altoona.

Rev. Williams closed his Evangelistic meeting at Smullton on Sunday; on Sunday afternoon he baptized five persons in Moyer's dam and the crowd who witnessed the services has been estimated to number between five and six hundred; good order prevailed.

Herb Stover is helping to harvest at Zion.

SPRING MILLS.

The haying is about over and farmers are cutting grain.

Mr. Campbell, our station agent, has returned from his vacation trip and has resumed his duties feeling refreshed from his days of pleasure and enjoyment.

C. P. Long shipped several hundred quarts of huckleberries and intends to ship many more.

Robt. Catherman has closed his school of telegraphy and has moved in with Michael Shires. Mr. Campbell will in the near future move into the house he vacated.

Hen house robbing is still going on. The leader may be caught sometime, then we unto him.

Wm. Ruhl, our hustling liveryman, purchased a beautiful match ball driving team at Bellefonte.

There will be a sermon preached on Sunday evening to the Odd Fellows.

Domer Emerick and wife, from here have begun housekeeping in Altoona, where he has employment.

Abraham Loose and wife are visiting their sister, Mrs. John Shook and other friends, after which they will make a trip to some of the western states. He also went to see the pulpits in the new Lutheran church Sunday school room, which he presented to them made by his own hands in honor of John Shook.

Charles Daley, of Romola, is visiting friends in town.

Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Rearick, of Centre Hall, enjoyed a fish supper at the home of John Smith and daughter May, last Thursday eve.

Franklin Rachau has returned home from an extended trip to Williamsport.

Anna Sowers has laid off sewing for a few weeks and is entertaining at her home, her friend, Miss Peters, of Philadelphia.

Misses Laura and Bernice Faxon, of Bellefonte, sisters of Mrs. Wood, our hotel keeper's wife, are at present visiting the latter.

Mother Shielgal, who has been so long on the sick list, is able to be up again.

Soon the people of Spayds Gap will have no use for horses as our boys are getting ready to invent an automobile next summer; they expect to run it by steam, but we think they will change their mind and use a common sized water wheel instead.

Rev. Snyder will have preaching in the St. Paul's church on Sunday forenoon.

BUZZARD'S GLORY.

There will be preaching in the Un. Evn. church next Sunday morning.

John Raymond, from Linden Hall, is helping James I. Lytle haul in grain. Some farmers are done hauling in.

UNIONVILLE.

Maude Hoover, of Monongahala, who has been visiting her grandma, Mrs. Fredericks, since the 4th of July, left for her home on Saturday. Herb Shipe, a very nice young gentleman, as bright as a bank clerk, was in to see that she got home safely. We will have another guess due us, if there won't be a lot of rice wasted on this pair before many moons.

Billy Buck, who lately came home from Lock Haven State Normal school, has joined P. J. McDonald's railroad corps and will spend his vacation earning an honest penny—with his eyes towards the top. That's the kind of pluck we admire in a young man. No loafing around the stores for him. This move will entitle him to a very large credit mark.

Joe Stere has no kick coming. He couldn't kick if he had—cause he has a sore foot.

Joe Bruggar, the other day, ploughed up a nest of blacksnake eggs. When they were about 4 inches long and when released from their shells, they crawled about quite lively.

Jasper Holt and his wife arrived home from somewhere in Ohio to spend a few weeks with the latter's parents, J. B. Stere's.

Pauline Smith applied for a job on a sawmill and when the boss said she might count the saw dust she said "Nit."

Blair Holtzworth left on Monday for Ambridge, Pa., where he has secured a position with the American Bridge Co. This makes the fourth Unionville boy that is climbing upward with that company.

Wesley Ammerman, of McCallisterville, Pa., who has been visiting friends in this section for over a month, left for his home Monday. Wesley is a veteran of the civil war, and lost a leg at the battle of Spotsylvania. He had to have it amputated the third time, and his life hung as by a single thread, but he finally came off conqueror. John W. Biddle, who lives near here, helped carry him off the field and you may be sure those two old Vets were glad to see each other. Mr. Ammerman climbed on the band wagon and subscribed for the Centre Democrat before he left.

The following from Spring Mills items: "Each of our three leading merchants purchased a new driving horse, also our carriage maker." Were the new horses young or old? are they also leading horses? did each one buy "Our carriage maker"? or did they buy him jointly and severally? what are they going to do with him? is he married? We Yankees are very inquisitive and always "want to know."

The following popular young people constitute a jolly party who will leave on Thursday for Atlantic City for a ten days sojourn at the Hotel Pitney: Misses Rose and Estella Palmer, Rose Beegle, Ella Snyder, Emma and Ella Murray, (the last two are daughters of Charley Murray and formerly lived at Julian), Lillian and Cliss Mentzer, of Hollidaysburg and Eva Davis, of Julian. If the ocean isn't in use, they expect to take frequent dips in the briny deep. What a bevy of bright targets for Master Cupid to practice on, with his little bow and arrow.

Billy Hallican has the reputation of being the handsomest conductor on the road. Three or four of our girls have been batting their books for a catch. The other day a Bellefonte lady with her bright little baby, boarded the train here and the conductor to assist her, took the dear little tot while she got on with her grip. Three or four of our jolly girls saw him hold the baby, and when they saw how awkwardly he held it the girls began to laugh and Billy blushed. One young lady said she guessed he wouldn't do. Another suggested that he might learn, but before any more suggestions were heard, Paul Neff, the brakman, being a little jealous, signaled to the engineer to play checkers and he moved—the train.

The following "unanimous" letter was received by the writer through the mail the other day:

TO DOMINO.
"You should sign your name 'Domins' because you write at a rapid 18, and never think to meditate what you write for the Democrats."
Such dreams have haunted me of 18, but I will not meditate to meditate, and really do not contemplate to write for the Centre Democrat.

"The poetry you write is grs. And hope you do not desecrers the sabbath, when you only blushed. The Unionville items in the Democrats." Double-six

COBURN.

This section was blessed with welcome showers of rain Monday and Tuesday, which greatly revived the almost withered vegetation. Corn, oats and potatoes were especially benefited, while it was a drawback to those who were engaged in haying the wheat; but if the weather is favorable the farmers can finish that work this week so that everybody can attend the band festival on Saturday evening, and enjoy themselves in seeing races, hearing music and eating ice cream and other delicious things now in season.

Many children in town are afflicted with whooping cough.

The Highvalley scribe was in town on Monday with his matched team.

Frank Hackenburger, who was chief cook in Harter Bros. lumber camp in West Virginia for three months, came home last week.

Mrs. Annie Braucht, of Dewart, is visiting relatives in Brushvalley.

Mrs. Cora Hosterman and daughters Lulu and Stella are spending this week in Brushvalley.

Mrs. A. J. Campbell, with her son Ray, of Shamokin, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jesse Kaler, and other of her former acquaintances.

T. W. Hosterman and wife visited at N. B. Schaeffer's, near Centre Hall, on Wednesday and the former transacted business in Bellefonte one day.

Two schools in Penn twp. are not supplied with teachers yet. Those elected to teach accepted schools in another twp.

W. L. Hosterman and family attended the Hosterman-Boob reunion near Fiedler on Saturday.

RUNVILLE.

Mrs. H. W. Witherite was the guest of Mrs. Cora Witherite, Friday.

Mrs. Linnie Smoyer, of Butts Station, visited at Charles Smoyer's, Sunday.

Parties are all the "go."

Myra Lucas gave an ice cream supper to her friends Tuesday night.

Malcolm Poorman and Ode Kelly, two enthusiastic young men of Holt's Hollow, were seen on our streets Sunday afternoon.

Irene and Minnie Witherite gave a party to their many friends Saturday evening. The evening was spent in playing games; at a late hour the guests were served with cream and cake. All retired after spending a pleasant evening.

We were shocked on Monday morning to see the many sad faces of some of our young ladies, on account of the departure of our Runville boys. One of these was scribe No. 2, but no wonder, for how she will miss the Sunday afternoon drives and the many pleasant evenings they have spent together.

POORMAN REUNION.
On Saturday evening of last week the officers of the Poorman Reunion met at the home of Fleming Poorman's and appointed the following committees:

Arrangements—John Watson, Claude Carl, Malcolm and Charles Poorman.
Music—Stanley K. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Oren Poorman and the Misses Maude and Edna Poorman.
Speakers—Joseph and Charles Williams and E. K. Hancock.

Historians—D. C. Poorman, Mrs. Edna Poorman and Jacob Yarnell.
The Committee on Invitation is composed of the sons and daughters of the late John and Cathrine Poorman, deceased.

The day set is the 25th of August, 1906, as previously announced. It is hoped that all the relatives will avail themselves of this first annual gathering and all anticipate an enjoyable meeting. Sec. Fleming Poorman; Asst. Jacob Yarnell.

JACKSONVILLE.

Prof. Wood Mark, of Punxsutawney, visited his father-in-law I. S. Frain, last week.

The infant child of Frank Vonada's died last week.

Mrs. Barbara Condo is visiting her friend Mrs. Jennie Hoy, of Montandon.

A heavy rainfall visited this place on Monday, washing away some of the boardwalks and doing damages otherwise. Lightning struck in a wheat shock near the house on the farm of Chas. Yearick, Sr.

Jane Yarnell attended the funeral of a relative at Bellefonte on Monday.

Mr. McClinton is visiting relatives here.
