Correspondents' Department.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Every week we receive several communications from over the county in which the writer has failed to sign his name. Sometimes it is a regular writer who overlooked this requirement, others no doubt did not realize that this is absolutely necessary, while others, who sent in possibly undesirable matter, purposely left name out.

As a matter of common protection from imposition, we do not publish anything unless signed.

Please remember this, it will prevent your articles being thrown away.
