BRYAN'S HOME-COMING.

Mr. Bryan's marvelous hold on the people has again been demonstrated, the reception he received at New York exceeding anything of the kind ever tendered to a home-coming American other than a returned victorious warrior.

The Democratic Senatorial conference of this district organized at Tyrone on Tuesday, but no nomination was made.

N. B. SPANGLER CHAIRMAN.

On account of receiving the Democratic nomination for congress, in this district, Col. H. S. Taylor has resigned as Chairman of the Democratic Committee of Centre county.

On account of the death of the father-in-law of H. C. Quigly, the Centre county candidate, the Senatorial conference, which was to have been held in Philipsburg on Tuesday, adjourned to meet there on September 11th 2:30 p.m.

The State Roads.

Bids were opened this week for the making of three State roads in Centre county, and it was found that the lowest bidder for all of them was J. K. Palmer & Co., of Clearfield.

Exceptional Weather.

The weather of August was exceptional in many respects. While the official thermometer never registered any degree of heat over ninety, the month was the hottest since 1901.

Allbright-Tressler.

On September fourth Mr. Alfred L. Allbright and Miss Bertha Tressler, both of State College, were united in marriage by Rev. Ralph H. Bergstreser, pastor of Lutheran church, Pine Grove Mills.

CONCLUSION OF AUGUST COURT

mits being at the barn of the prosecutor on the evening of August 13th, but denies the threats as well as the burning of the barn. This case was also certified to the Court of Oyer and Terminer, and at the close of the testimony the Court indicated that the case would be submitted to the jury on the first court, namely, felonious arson. Verdict on Friday evening of guilty on the first court.

Commonwealth vs. John Duck and Andrew Bassallas, charge, cruelty to animals. Prosecutrix, Lizzie Ruskak, the commonwealth suffered a voluntary nol. pro.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Gatts, defendant waived the finding of the grand jury and pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay the costs and the balance of the sentence suspended.

Commonwealth vs. Frank Sparkling, charged with assault, and assault and battery, prosecutor, Samuel Patterson, bill ignored and prosecutor Samue Patterson to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Edwin Whitehead prosecutrix Annie E. Whitehead; charge desertion, case settled.

Commonwealth vs. George B. Thompson; prosecutor A. W. Garver, charged with assault and battery, bill ignored and prosecutor Garver to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Charles M. McMullen, charged with assault and battery, prosecutor, George H. Richards; settled.

All traverse jurors were discharged on Thursday afternoon after the rendition of the verdict in the case of commonwealth vs. Frank Weston.

The grand jury were also discharged Thursday afternoon after returning the final presentment and report, which report is in the usual manner, finding public buildings in good condition and recommending repapering and recarpeting of the Sheriff's office, as well as repairs in one of the cells in the jail.

Court convened on Saturday morning at ten o'clock, and after disposing of other criminal cases by continuing and the granting of bench warrants and hearing petitions proceeded to sentence the several persons convicted during the week that had not heretofore been sentenced.

Harry Stine, convicted of cruelty to animals, was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution and a fine of $30.00, as well as pay his half of the costs in the prosecution that he had brought against John Peace.

Herbert Goss, who pleaded guilty to the larceny of a watch, was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, $1.00 fine, and undergo imprisonment in the Huntingdon Reformatory.

James Yardly, who pleaded guilty to the taking of $75.00 from a person, was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, fine of $1.00, and undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a period of one year and a half.

Nestor Sirgely, who pleaded guilty to the charge of horse stealing, was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, a fine of $1.00, and undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a period of three years.

Gottlieb Kerstein, who was convicted for statutory rape, adultery and bastardy, was sentenced to pay costs of prosecution, a fine of $1.00, and undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a period of three years.

Bert Weston, who was convicted for felonious arson, was sentenced to pay costs of prosecution, fine of $1.00 and undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for a period of three years.

After which the Court called the attention of the members of the bar that a committee appointed at January court 1905, to submit a plan of changing the terms of court, had reported through its chairman, giving a schedule of the several terms of court which the Court would approve, but the new rules were not to go into effect until the beginning of the year 1907.

The Committee appointed by the Court at January Argument Court in 1905 to suggest a plan for adoption of the change of the Terms of Court, made the following recommendations: That the terms of Court of Common Pleas, Oyer and Terminer, General Jail Delivery, Court of Quarter Sessions, and Orphans' Court be changed so as to begin on the 4th Monday of February, 3rd Monday of May; 4th Monday of September, and the 1st Monday of December, each Term to continue for two weeks; and the Argument Courts to be held on the 1st Tuesday of January, 2nd Tuesday of April, the 3rd Tuesday of June, and the 3rd Tuesday in November. This schedule will probably be adopted by the Court and the Terms of Court changed in accordance therewith, to begin with the first day of January, 1907.

While we are not a prophet or the son of a prophet but it is becoming a popular fad to give weather forecasts, so here is our prediction for next month: During the first half there will be some brisk winds from the north, but every day the sun will rise, and often there'll be gloomy skies; some days, however, may be fair with southern winds and mellow air. Those things will happen sure we know, because they always happen so. This good month's moon will full, and office seekers work their "pull." Some lucky ones will land the prize, while other men esteemed men as wise will fail in all they undertake, for Charlatans to fortune ride while modest worth is thrust aside. These things will happen so. In this good month of 1906, the boys and girls will have their fun. They'll go to parties, dance and spark; they'll kiss each other in the dark; they'll marry and begin their life, a happy hopeful man and wife, and sometime they will own a kid, just like their dad and mamma's did. These things will happen, sure we know, because they always happened so.

Something awful happened to a Tyrone young lady yesterday. She was stung on the tongue by a bee. It was a gallant young man who offered to remove the poison by the heroic method.

UNIONVILLE.

Miss Mary Buck left on Monday for Pittsburg, where she will take charge of a kindergarten school.

Jas. Alexander has returned to Philadelphia, where he was admitted, some months ago, into a free school of mechanical arts.

Blair Holtzworth is home from Ambridge, where he has been employed during his vacation and will return to State College to finish his course in mechanical engineering.

Herbert Finch, of Mt. Union, is shaking hands with his many friends hereabouts.

Pat Lougherey, of Philadelphia, came up on Saturday to renew his acquaintances with his wife and little son Joseph, as well as to see his host of friends in this place and vicinity.

A little daughter of Dorsey Calhoun was kicked in the stomach by a colt the other day and for several days was in a critical condition, but is now improving and it is thought all danger is over.

The elite of our town attended the Williams reunion on Saturday and all pronounced it a "scrumptious affair."

Our schools opened on Monday with 37 pupils in the grammar school and 29 in the primary school.

Mrs. Gates, of Indiana, a sister of Jas. Holt is visiting friends in the old Keystone State.

Mrs. Elizabeth Brugger, stenographer in the State Treasurer's office at Harrisburg, and her friend, Miss Margaret Bortor, are painting things red at the Brugger home, and to help the thing along John P., the pickle man, dropped in on Friday and made things lively for the time being. Even Betsy Hall couldn't help but laugh at those three funny people.

Agent Billy Parsons and family, who had gone for a two weeks' camp on the Alleghenies, returned after one week's stay. Now, I didn't say that Mrs. Parsons cried to come home, so I didn't; but Jennie did. Poor Jennie got homesick, and the rest of them were just a little bit glad to come home, too.

Col. A. J. Griest, we are glad to say, is recovering rapidly from the terrible fall he received last week, but his face looks as if he had gone into the prize ring and came out without the prize.

A telephone company was organized here on Tuesday evening with P. J. McDonnell as president. We have not learned the particulars, but we were confidentially informed that Pat has sent for a catalogue and price list of automobiles.

One day last week a very pleasant party, consisting of Mrs. Lena Brown and daughter Mary, Mrs. Dan O'Leary and several children, of Bellefonte; Miss Kohlbecker, of Milesburg; Mrs. Lemore and her bright, little twins, of New York; and Miss Clara Cadwallader, and Doll and Joe Barton, of Unionville, spent a delightful day at the Cambridge home at this place and let me give you a pointer—what Margaret Cambridge don't know about entertaining and catering to her guests is hardly worth knowing. Notwithstanding, this joyous occasion came very near being overcast with gloom and sorrow, for, had it not been for the unexampled bravery of 9 year-old Claire Smith, son of miller Frank Smith, 4-year-old Tommy O'Leary would have been drowned in the mill race.

The boys were playing along the mill race and Tommy attempted to cross the forebay on a four-inch scantling and fell in the water, being about four feet deep. He sank and rose and then sank the second time when brave, noble, little Claire and caught little Tommy around the neck and got him out safely at the risk of his own life. Dan O'Leary was so happy and overjoyed when he learned the particulars that he sent to Master Claire Smith a long letter in which he expressed his appreciation of his noble deed and, though a poor man, enclosed a two dollar green-back as a reward for his bravery. Carnegie ought to know this.

ADJOINING COUNTIES.

On account of an epidemic of diphtheria the Tyrone public schools will not open for several weeks yet.

Sam'l Weaver, one of Clearfield county's oldest and most highly esteemed residents, died at his home in Burnside, on Sunday night, after an illness of several months, aged 92 years.

The 15th annual reunion of the Association of honorably discharged union soldiers and sailors of Clearfield county, which consists of more than 300 members, will be held at Fernwood Park, Friday August 31st.

Preston David, of Lock Haven, while on the trolley at that place, in handling a revolver accidentally discharged the weapon and severely wounded himself in the side. It happened on Monday; the unfortunate is a cripple.

Frank Eads, of Osceola was found dead on Sunday morning, having during the previous night committed suicide by drinking laudanum. He left a note stating that the cause for doing the rash act was the result of family trouble. He was aged about 35 years, and leaves a wife and two children.

Three Italians—a man and two women—were arrested at Monument Friday on suspicion of having murdered a Jewish peddler, whose dead body was found last June at the bottom of an old well, with a number of beer kegs thrown on top. The accused were taken to the Clearfield jail pending a hearing.

J. B. Marshall, a young man employed at the Standard Steel works at Burnham, was the victim of an accident at Millers-town on Saturday evening which cost him his life. He started for his home at Academia, Juniata county, during the early evening and instead of waiting for a passenger train he boarded extra east bound freight No. 2840 and in getting off he was thrown and mangled under the wheels.

The survivors of the First Rifle regiment, Penna. volunteers, known as the original Bucktails, propose to make their twentieth annual reunion a memorable event. It will be held at Driftwood, Cameron county, on Friday and Saturday, September 14 and 15. Of the 236 surviving Bucktails who are scattered throughout the length and breadth of the United States it is expected that 130 will attend.

Karthauss they say is to have a new industry in the very near future and one that will help that section of the county greatly. Geo. M. Demeling having purchased all the timber on 6000 acres of the Karthauss estate in Karthauss township will erect a large saw mill at Karthauss town to cut it out. It is thought that it will take from three to five years to complete the work and during most or all of that time two hundred or more men and scores of teams will be given employment. Mr. Demeling has begun to let contracts but has many contracts to let yet in the various departments of the operation.

Oysters are in season, likewise black-birds of all kinds, jacksnipes and wild ducks. As the weather is still warm none of these delicacies will be relished until there is cool weather several days. Reports from the oyster beds say the crop this year will be plentiful and the oysters larger than ever, owing to improved method of cultivation.

THE New Autumn Clothes FOR MEN AND YOUNG MEN The Styles, you'll notice, are quite different from those of the last season. While the changes are not radical, yet they are pronounced to the eye. The different models we show you'll find to be distinct-remarkably different from what you'd be led to expect in ready-to-wear garments. But its not come-by-chance. The best, largest and most leading wholesale clothiers have tailored these garments in a superior manner, according to the best designed styles that arbiters of fashion give endorsement. Reproduced to the button, the reigning styles New York's most exclusive tailors will turn out. Smart appearing, distinctively stylish, of individual characteristics, is what these clothes possess. Fine clothes in every sense of the word, they stand apart from what is usually shown in ready-to-wear garments. Sim, the Clothier, CORRECT DRESS FOR MEN AND BOYS
