

Bellefonte and Vicinity

The Local Happenings
in Short Paragraphs

—Gen. Secretary C. M. Meserve of the Y. M. C. A. is ill at his home on Bishop street.

—George S. Smith, of Beech Creek, is among the students at the Bellefonte Academy.

—Mrs. James Clark, of Bellefonte, visited friends in Beech Creek several days last week.

—Mrs. Ralph Mallory left on Monday for a month's visit to her parents' home in Philadelphia.

—This week C. M. Meserve, Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., has been very ill at his home on Bishop street.

—Francis Speer's "BREEZY THAT COLUMN" now appears on page 3 of the Centre Democrat, and in no other publication.

—Mrs. Louis Freidman has returned home after a six-weeks visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Holz, of Bellefonte.

—Prof. Angel, the eye specialist, will be at the Brockhoff House on Wednesday and Thursday of next week to meet his patrons.

—Mrs. Mary Ardell, of Bellefonte, widow of John Ardell, left Saturday for New York City where she has secured a position and will make her future home.

—Harry and Thomas Bartly, sons of Alvin Bartley, of Lock Haven, spent Sabbath in Bellefonte with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Bartley.

—Friday afternoon 7th, Benjamin F. Hamel, of Duncansville, and Miss Besie M. Kramer, of Bellefonte, were married by alderman David Kinch, at his office in Altoona.

—Miss Elizabeth Brugger, who is in the executive department at Harrisburg and her nephew, John Becker, of Philadelphia, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rumberger of East Linn street, Bellefonte.

—Charley Newcomer, now with the York, Pa., Bridge Co., has been spending the past two weeks in Bellefonte with his parents. He holds a good position with that firm and has secured several promotions in recognition for his services.

—Emanuel Noll, the baggage master at the Bellefonte passenger station, as a diversion takes to caring for bees, and as a result secures a fine product from the hives. Several samples left with the editor as proof of the fact, for which he has our thanks.

—Samuel White, of Bush Addition, a suburb of Bellefonte, while plowing in his lot Wednesday of last week met with a serious accident. He had the lines around his waist when the horses took fright and ran away dragging him considerable distance and cutting him up badly. Fortunately his injuries are not of a serious character and he is able to be about today although considerably battered up.

—The Misses Marie White and Eva Crissman, of Bellefonte, have started up their dancing school on the third floor of the Bush Arcade, and indications point to a most successful term. They are both very pleasing young ladies and those who attend the dances are highly delighted. While this is all very true this item is important. We are booming business for Register Earl C. Tuten, as we get half the fees, in such affairs.

—Harry Barnes, brother of Homer Barnes, of Bellefonte, was married Wednesday last week to Miss Theresa Widing, of Pittsburg. The groom is an energetic young man and for several years has been in the employ of the Westinghouse Electrical plant in the Smoky City, and is making things go very satisfactorily. The young bride is a most excellent young lady, and to Harry she is the only one in the world. His friends here offer congratulations.

—Although the hunting season is still several weeks away local sportsmen are getting ready for the early part of it. From several sections of the country comes the report that game is plentier than for several years, especially rabbit and quail. Until Oct. 1 it is unlawful to hunt any game in Pennsylvania whatever. Following are the dates between which game found in this state may be killed: Grouse, Oct. 15 to Dec. 1; rabbit and quail, Nov. 1 to Dec. 1; woodcock and squirrel, Oct. 1 to 30.

—During the past week Miss Nellie Caldwell, District Missionary of the Children's Home Society, of Pennsylvania, was in Bellefonte in the interest of homeless children. She is very active in the cause, and is doing a good and grand work for the uplifting of children who are homeless and neglected. Those in Centre county who know of any such children are cordially invited to write to Rev. Henry Thompson, Founder and State Superintendent, at 719 Ferguson Block, 4th Avenue, Pittsburg, and in return he will send some valuable information. The institution is supported by voluntary subscriptions, and its methods are modern, scientific and christian.

—At the regular meeting of Nahassne Tribe No. 71, I. O. R. M. Monday night the following nominations for their fall election Oct. 1st, were added to the already large list of nominees: Junior Sagamore, Wm. Brouse, and Charles Robb; Senior Sagamore, George Love; Trustees, Daniel Gordon. The retiring Sachem, Mr. Frank Sasserman, has had a very successful term, and made an efficient chief. Under his administration the tribe moved from the Eagle rooms to quarters of their own over the Centre County Bank, furnishing them throughout, and now have one of the finest Red Men Halls in this part of the state. The tribe has grown and is in a good financial condition.

—Friday afternoon, about 1 o'clock quite a serious accident took place on North Spring street Bellefonte, in which Grant Halderman came near having his life crushed out. The Reformed congregation is erecting a chapel at the rear of their church, and Grant Halderman with Thomas Weaver's team was hauling stone for the foundation. Mr. Halderman was hitching up the team after the noon hour when the horses frightened at something and ran away. The unfortunate man's feet became entangled in the lines and he was dragged some distance and finally the heavy wagon ran over his back. He was picked up in an unconscious condition and carried into James H. Potter's residence where medical attendance was summoned who found his condition quite serious. He was taken to his home on reservoir hill where the best of care has been taken of him, and he now is getting along nicely.

Dr. G. M. Brumbaugh, of Washington, is preparing a history of the Brumbaugh family which has been closely connected with Huntingdon county history since 1788.

—We are in receipt of a very pleasant letter from F. B. Stover, of Altoona, formerly of Bellefonte. He is getting along very nicely in the railroad town, and feeling tip-top.

—Ex-Sheriff W. H. Cronister, of Martha, one of the progressive citizens of Centre county, and one of the best county officials we ever had, was shaking hands with his Bellefonte friends on Saturday.

—Paxton Cowdrick, of Bellefonte, left last week for Johnstown where he has taken the contract for the erection of a five-story building for the Penn Traffic Co. Their former building was destroyed by fire.

—Mrs. Wilson Bilger of Bush Addition fell down a cellar way at her home on Friday night last and broke her arm. She was attended by Dr. M. J. Locke who set the injured limb and Mrs. Bilger is getting along as nicely as could be expected.

—Hugh Crider, of Bellefonte, has the automobile fever all right, and to keep up to the band he has purchased a Buick run-about. He and John Lyon brought it from Williamsport without putting on the low gear once. Its certainly a "beaut."

—Banker William P. Humes, of Bellefonte, lost another valuable farm horse on Monday morning, from what is believed to be lock jaw. It was the mate to the horse that died several months ago, and was considered one of the finest teams found on the road.

—Prof. F. H. Taylor, principal of the High School at Meshoppen, Pa., spent Wednesday at the home of Jonas Wagner. Mr. Taylor has been taking advanced work at State College during the summer and was on his way home to take charge of his school work.

—Rev. James A. Foss occupied the Evangelical pulpit Sunday morning, while it was filled in the evening by Rev. A. E. Nickolson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Pennsylvania. Rev. Cox the pastor of the church officiated at the day's services at Snow Shoe Intersection where communion services were held.

—Burglars made an unsuccessful attempt Tuesday night of last week to break into Col. E. R. Chambers' residence on Linn street, but were frightened away before their object was attained. If Col. Chambers uses that gun that he has in readiness to kill the foxes and polecats that are said to be prowling around out there, he will either furnish another patient for the hospital or give the Bellefonte undertakers some extra business.

—Jack McClellan, of Philadelphia, who years ago did business in Bellefonte under the firm name of McClellan & Speer, has received a patent for a reversible trolley rail, which is said to win him a rich man. Already negotiations through a large Pittsburg firm to make them and place them on the market, have been made. Jack is of an inventive turn of mind, as the records of the patent office show that he has invented a large number of useful articles that some day may also bring him in a handsome income.

—Sometime ago Dr. M. A. Kirk, of Bellefonte, purchased a young horse, a little over three years of age. Friday he was driving out near the Bellefonte furnace, on his way to see a patient, when all at once the animal commenced kicking, and finally got its foot over the dash of his new rubber tire buggy, the lines in some manner caught in the wheel and wrapped them up so tight that the horse only ran a short distance and was compelled to stop without breaking the conveyance to pieces. As it was the shafts were broken and the dash badly twisted and broken. The doctor escaped without being hurt; but one thing that puzzles him is how his medicine case got out of the conveyance ahead of him. The horse is young yet, and when the doctor gets it thoroughly broken there will not be a better one in the town. Now, doctor, be honest about it, which do you think is the easier, managing that colt on the road or trying to manage Harry Fenlon in the Bellefonte council?

—Last week we went to press too early to give the full particulars of the peculiar death of George Fasic, which occurred in Williamsport, so we give it now. He was a passenger on a trolley car when his hat blew off and despite the warnings of the conductor and motorman he jumped off backward with the result that he was hurled to the cinder, striking squarely on his temple. The force of the fall rendered him unconscious, but later he recovered and asked to be taken to his home. This was done while lying on a couch he died, several members of the Logan Fire Co., which the deceased was a member, went to Williamsport and brought the body to Bellefonte, Friday morning and was buried from the United Brethren Church. His remains were followed to their last resting place in the Union Cemetery by his friends, relatives and both the Logan and Undine Fire Companies, with A. Roberts tapping the drum.

—The following are the officers who will serve during the ensuing year for the new Tent of the Knights of the Maccabees, organized in Bellefonte last week with over one hundred members: Past commander, Geo. T. Bush; commander, Hardman P. Harris; lieutenant commander, Fred Reese, physician, Dr. M. J. Locke; record keeper, J. Bert Robb; chaplain, Jno. C. Rumberger; sergeant, Jas. Noonan; master of arms, Samuel Miller; 1st master of guard, Frank Halderman; 2nd master of guard, Harry Rearick; sentinel, Chas. Rapp; picket, Frank Wooster; trustees for 3 years, A. C. Heverly; for 2 years, Harry Gehret; 1 year, R. R. Oesterreich. During the process of the large and enthusiastic meeting, William H. Miller, the obliging agent of the American Express Co., in Bellefonte, was completely surprised when Deputy Commander H. W. Phillips presented him with a handsome gold watch. This was for faithful services rendered during the organization of the Tent. Now "Billy" has two watches—the one in his pocket and his good wife at home. It is stated that the Bellefonte Tent will be the largest and most successful in the State. A large number of new members were again received this week.

—The big Centre County Fair commences on October 8th.

—This week Deputy Internal Revenue Collector, George W. Reese, transacted business pertaining to his office at Renova.

—H. S. Anderson and wife, with Miss Sarah Loy, all of Harrisburg, were guests at the home of J. A. B. Miller last week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Tucker, of Akron, Ohio, after a very pleasant visit with Thomas Donachy's, left for their home, Saturday.

—Emery McAfee, of Stormstown, one of the progressive farmers, of Half Moon, was a visitor in Bellefonte the latter part of last week.

—"Domino," the Unionville scribe, this week starts (in his mind) on his trip over the county. He has Baron Munchausen skinned a mile on his first trip.

—Mrs. Lebekcher and daughter Nellie have decided to leave Bellefonte and go to Johnstown where they will spend the winter and probably make their future home.

—James Shook, of Bellefonte, who for some time occupied a place of responsibility in Joseph's store, departed this week for Huntingdon, where he will enter Juniata College.

—W. C. Kreamer, of Berwick, was a caller at this office Tuesday morning. He is a carpenter by trade, and holds an excellent position with the American Car Co. of that place.

—Al Garman, one of the progressive citizens of Tyrone, is circulating among his many friends in Bellefonte this week. He has still a warm side for his old home and takes every opportunity to get here.

—Maurice Runkle, the efficient clerk in Parrish's drug store, left Bellefonte Monday afternoon in company with his wife, for Shamokin, where they will spend several days with friends and relatives.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Curtin returned Monday evening to Bellefonte after their honeymoon. They visited Atlantic City and eastern cities. While in Philadelphia they were registered at the Bellevue-Stratford.

—Robert Homan and Miss May Lesh, of Zion, were pleasant callers at this office on Friday, and while here investigated the art of printing. Mr. Homan is a farmer and says that just now the farmers are very busy.

—Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Eber Rothrock and little son, of DuBois, arrived in Bellefonte and became guests of Mrs. James Ott and daughter Sarah on East High street. Mrs. Rothrock is a daughter of Mrs. Ott.

—Mrs. Anna M. Caswell, who has been spending the summer in Bellefonte, has returned to Coatsville, where she will spend the winter. She has sold her home on Penn street to Harry Taylor, manager of the Adams Express office.

—Thursday Fred Gids, of Tyrone, policeman for the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., arrested James Baney and James McCloskey, two young men of Bellefonte, for riding on a freight train. They were taken before a justice and sent to jail.

—Miss Anna Keichline, youngest daughter of Squire John Keichline, of Bellefonte, is now a student of State College; although a young lady she can go into the wood-working department of mechanical engineering building and give the students there some genuine pointers.

—Mrs. James L. Somerville, of Winburn, Clearfield county, arrived in Bellefonte Tuesday night over the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, and is now a guest of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Potter on Linn street; she was accompanied by her daughter Rosie.

—Samuel Sauers, of North Bend, accompanied by his bride, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Kern on Tuesday. Mr. Sauers formerly was an operator at the Central R. R. this place, and is holding a similar position now at North Bend. He will visit friends in Pennsylvania, his former home having been in Gregg twp.

—E. C. Belmont, of Philadelphia, John Wannamaker's decorator and designer, is in Bellefonte this week looking over the handsome residence of Col. J. L. Spangler, which during the summer, he has been extending repairs. Belmont is an artist in his line, and by the time he gets through, Col. Spangler will have a palatial home.

—I. J. Dreese, of Baltimore, while in town the other day, informed us that he was preparing to move his family from Baltimore to Lemont, and will occupy his home, as Mr. Mitchell having purchased the Dale home will enable him to return. Owing to Mrs. Dreese finding the climate about Baltimore not the best for her they were anxious to return.

—Last Sunday Rev. Father P. McArdle, of the Bellefonte Catholic church, surprised his congregation with one of the most forcible and practical sermons ever preached in Bellefonte. It was upon the popular subject of "Marriage," stating very decidedly that the proper time for a couple to take the matrimonial vows was between the ages of 22 and 28. He made a strong and vigorous protest against those who never think of becoming benefactors until they are too old to take care of a family, or die without leaving an offspring. His discourse was clothed in beautiful language, and his sentiments were such as to command the strictest attention of his hearers. Father McArdle is one of the most talented men of the day, and when he addresses his people on subjects like this he leaves no "skeletons in the closet" but speaks out in a manner that cannot be misconstrued.

—Saturday evening George A. Miller, the enterprising merchant of Bellefonte, sprang a surprise on his many friends by becoming a benedict, the bride being Miss Kathryn M. Irwin, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Irwin. The happy event took place at the home of the bride at 7:30 o'clock, and everything had been manipulated so quietly that even the very close friends of the bride and groom knew nothing of the nuptial affair until after they had departed. Home from State College at 6:30 o'clock. The officiating minister was Rev. J. Allison Platt of the Presbyterian church. The groom was trembling in his boots, lest his friends would get onto the racket and give him the razzle-dazzle, and just as soon as possible he and his bride jumped into one of John Lyon's touring cars and they were taken to Milesburg where they took the train for a wedding tour to the eastern cities. Both the bride and groom are so well known for their excellent qualities of both character and ability to conduct a successful home that it is not necessary for us to throw sunflowers at them at this time. They will go to housekeeping in Bellefonte.

—Cummins Wild West show will be in town tomorrow.

—Francis Speer's "That Column" will be found on page 3.

—Miss Margaret Cook left Wednesday on a visit to friends in Philadelphia.

—Grove & Coldren have some good horses listed in their ad. on the last page.

—Miss Ann Curry left on Monday for New York, where she will visit friends.

—During the past week the premium book for the Centre County Fair was issued.

—Miss Elizabeth Brouse is visiting her friend, Georgia Sanderson at Huntingdon.

—Mrs. Henry Lowry, of East Bishop street, is visiting her sister, Mrs. James Sellers, at Pittsburg.

—Miss Margaret Campbell, of Punxsutawney, is visiting her sister, Mrs. James K. Barnhart.

—Mr. and Mrs. Curt Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Gamble are attending the Miller's Association which meets at Baltimore this week.

—The Ladies Aid society of St. John's Reformed church will hold one of their popular "Country Stores," the latter part of the month of October.

—Geo. C. K. Sample, the evangelist will hold a meeting in the Y. M. C. A., Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. He will be in Bellefonte for two weeks.

—Chester H. Eves and Mamie J. Way, both of Stormstown, were married Wednesday morning at the Methodist parsonage by the pastor Rev. Jas. B. Stein.

—Alexander Yarrington, of Pittsburg, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. John S. Walser, of East Linn street, Mrs. Harry Yarrington, of Richmond, will be their guest also.

—On Monday evening Paul Burrows, of Bellefonte, was running along Linn street when he tripped and fell, cutting a deep gash on his right knee. It required eight stitches to close the wound.

—David Rothrock, who for many years has been a prosperous farmer in Benner township, and who resides about three miles from Bellefonte, along the Buffalo Run road, has been on the sick list for some time.

—Chas. M. McCurdy with his sister, Mrs. Scott, and Miss Mary McCurdy, Charles and Jeanette Scott have gone to Massachusetts, for a trip, spending a part of their time at Magnolia Beach, and Boston.

—Conductor Harry Winton, of the Central railroad of Pennsylvania, left Bellefonte Tuesday evening for Allentown, where he will take in one of the largest fairs in the State. His place on the passenger train will be filled by W. H. Hamilton.

—Miss Bertha Musser, of Dixon III., who has been visiting her grandmother at Pine Grove mills, for the last few weeks, circulated among her friends in Bellefonte. She is a very interesting young lady and while here, made many new acquaintances.

—Misses May and Florence R. home are very busy this week at the grangers Picnic at Centre Hall, aiding their father, Hon. Leonard Rhoads, to expedite business. They understand the ins and outs of the affairs in general, and these are very important factors in its success.

—D. C. Duck, who spent the past summer at Reitz's lumber camp, near Snyder, Pa., was in town Wednesday on his way to his home at Spring Mills. He says they killed over 120 rattlesnakes in that camp this season, the most of them being found under piles of bark.

—Bruce Garman, the genial proprietor of the Garman House, has made some excellent improvements in and around the hotel of late, which shows the progressive spirit of the young proprietor. Wednesday he received two new registers and a new register-stand for the counter, the latter being of the most modern design.

—After being confined to his bed for three weeks with a severe attack of bronchitis, Fred Kurtz, the senior editor of this paper, now appears to have passed the serious portion of his illness and is slowly recuperating. The attending physicians pronounce his condition improved and satisfactory.

—Fire Marshal John J. Bower appointed the following as fire police: C. B. Garman, Thomas Howley, H. F. Gerberich, Alexander Morrison, John Anderson, Geo. H. Knisely, Joseph H. Gross, Hard P. Harris, D. P. Fortney, H. B. Kern. The same were approved by council on Monday evening.

—W. Harrison Walker, Esq., treasurer of the Bellefonte hospital, has just received a warrant from the Auditor General for the appropriation due the hospital to Sept. 1st. All parties having bills against the hospital for the last quarter are requested to call on the treasurer and receive their money.

—Wednesday morning about 9 o'clock an accident took place at the Bellefonte furnace in which Thomas Beaver lost a good horse. Two of Beaver's horses were hitched in carts hauling dirt from the top of the stone quarry. One of the animals became frightened and ran against the other, pushing it and horse over a precipice to the bottom of the quarry, which is about one hundred and twenty-five feet high. The horse was dismembered on stones as he went down, and at the bottom his neck was broken. The cart was smashed into kindling wood. There were a number of men working in the quarry at the time but none of them were injured.

—Coming—Big Show. The Walter L. Main circus and Colonel Cumins Great Wild West and Indian Congress, which comes to Bellefonte, Friday, Sept. 21st, is one of the most noted of all educational, historical and ethnological exhibitions in the world. The success of three great World's Fairs, it has been augmented this year with a stupendously impressive Fire and Flame spectacle, reproducing with full sized buildings of steel construction throughout the devastating Baltimore fire of a couple of years ago. Also there will be exhibited one of the largest menageries of trained animals in existence, and which have been trained to appear in one category, something unprecedented in the history of educated wild beasts. In this collection there will be seen the terrible Cola Camba, the offspring of the chimpanzee and gorilla, and which is more eorocious than any of its begetters.

—An Irishman looks forward to his wife as the time of his life.

—The mosquito is no respecter of blue-blooded aristocracy. All blood looks alike to him.

OVER THE COUNTY.

Rev. J. M. Rearick, of Centre Hall, has improved materially and now is able to walk about.

The brick walls for the new Reformed church, at Tylersville, are being built by the Wolfs, of Bellefonte.

Mr. John Peters, of Missouri, is making his annual visit among his many Pennsylvania friends and will remain for some time.

It is thought that Elijah Only, who celebrated his 86th birthday on Monday last, is the oldest resident now living in Phillipsburg.

Hon. J. Will Kepler, of Ferguson Twp., was in Tionesta looking after some coal and timber interests there and in Jefferson county.

Mrs. Wimer E. Lee, of Centre Hall, is ill of typhoid pneumonia at the home of her sister in Munson. Her condition is regarded as serious.

Mrs. Lizzie Harshberger and daughters, Jeanette and Jess, of Millheim, are now in charge of one of the fraternity houses at State College.

Mrs. Jennie Curtin, of Roland, was in Phillipsburg last week keeping house for her sister, Mrs. H. M. Walker, during the latter's visit to the east.

Last week Emanuel Fye, of Ferguson township, was taken to Philadelphia where he had an operation performed for a tumorous growth on his eye.

The potato crop throughout the section of Millheim is light this year and is due, no doubt, to the dry weather had during the early part of the season.

J. Arney, west of Centre Hall, reports a wheat crop averaging thirty-one bushels per acre, thresher's measure, mostly Fultz variety. Anyone who can beat that, talk up.

Prof. James C. Bryson has accepted the superintendency of the Derry public schools. A few years ago he was principal at Boalsburg, and was known as a successful instructor.

C. D. Moore, of Boalsburg, recently purchased the old home farm by agreement of the other heirs, also a tract adjoining it, the property of his brother, S. B. Moore, of State College.

M. and Mrs. Walter M. Kerlin and little son returned to Cincinnati, this week when Mr. Kerlin is employed by the Boob Wheel Co. They visited relatives at Millheim and Centre Hall.

Last week Miss Roxanna Brishin District Deputy President met at State College, I. O. O. F. room and instituted Lady Rebekah Lodge No. 352, conferring the degree on fifty-eight members.

The Benner township High school will hold a festival in the High school building on Friday evening, September 21st. All the choice refreshments of the season, including ice cream and cake will be served.

Rev. W. A. and Mrs. McClellan, of Pleasant Unity, are guests of friends in Penns Valley. Rev. McClellan is serving a Reformed charge at Pleasant Unity. He and Mrs. McClellan are both natives of Potter township.

Miss Grace Stanley has gone to Williamsport to enter the seminary there with a view to perfecting herself in languages and music. Miss Grace is a member of the graduating class of '09 of the Phillipsburg High School.

Peaches are not very plentiful in the section of Millheim this season. The Boob & Wert orchard, north of Aaronsburg, yielded several hundred bushels and is the only one in the neighborhood that contained any quantity.

Mrs. Jacob Walker, of Centre Hall, recently returned from Altoona; while in that city Mrs. Walker became ill, and for two weeks was confined to bed. Shortly after arriving home she received the sad news of the death of her sister in Perry county.

E. P. Thompson, of Altoona, and Samuel H. Rhoads, of Unionville, made a trip through Penns Valley in quest of horses to be used in lumbering, and succeeded in finding one on the south side of Potter township, Messrs. Thompson and Rhoads were the owners of the large barn burned at Unionville recently.

Milton Frontz, of Penn township, Lycoming county, suffered a stroke of apoplexy Monday evening of last week while in his stable. He was found in a dying condition lying within a few feet of his horse's heels. He was carried into the house and died shortly after. He was 65 years of age and is survived by a widow and family of adult children.

Mr. Keiker, who is in charge of the historical division in the library at Harrisburg, requests all family reunion associations in Centre county who have historical sketches of the family to send a copy of the same to the State Library, and thus a more correct record of family history of residents of the State can be obtained than any other way.

A very pretty home wedding took place at 1 o'clock Wednesday evening of last week at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Bathgate, in South Phillipsburg, on which occasion their estimable daughter, Miss Agabel, became the bride of Charles Sherman, of Richmond, Pa. About fifty guests were present to enjoy the festive occasion. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. J. Head, of the United Brethren church, of which the bride was an active member.

On Saturday afternoon, Sept. 8th, as Harry Auman, Harry Hartman and Joe Herzwitz were returning from Aaronsburg where they had been to see the base ball game, they had a lively rig and as they were driving home met Clark Gramley with his automobile on his way to Aaronsburg. The horse began to cut up capers and the boys got out of the buggy to hold him. When the automobile was opposite the horse backed the buggy against it and a wheel of the buggy was smashed. Then the horse tore loose and started on a mad dash toward Millheim dragging the broken buggy with him. He was stopped on Main street. No one was hurt but a dilapidated buggy was the result.

The Millheim Journal says that on Sunday a certain steady and steady deacon of a church in the town of Rebersburg slept too long in the morning to properly prepare for the regular morning church services. In his hurry to dress he put his shirt on in reversed order, the front behind, put on his necktie behind and started off to fulfill his duties as deacon. No one seemed to notice his new style of dress until he passed the basket in taking up the usual collection when his flaming necktie at the back attracted attention and the snickering began. The poor deacon could not understand what was wrong until his better half told him to go home and change his shirt. "Thum donner dönnich," said the deacon, "des hem is groot gannuk for nich."
