EDITORIAL.
REFORM RALLY.
We wish to again remind our readers of the meeting that will be held in the court house on next Wednesday evening, by the nominees on the Fusion State Ticket in this State.

At a meeting of the Prohibition Senatorial Conference held in Philipsburg the latter part of last week, Geo. Marshall Piper, of Milesburg, was nominated for State Senator.

It is amusing to hear the Gang papers denounce Berry for "lifting the lid," for several months these wind-pipers were complaining that Berry was a failure and did not live up to his promises made last fall.

While Adam Schreckengast and family, of Millheim, were attending the Grange picnic, at Centre Hall, on Thursday, some rascal entered his premises and cut holes in fifteen large pumpkins growing in his lot.

The supervisors of Haines township, Centre county, have taken advantage of the act of April, 1905, relating to the maintenance of abandoned turnpikes, as published in this paper, and have brought an action against the Commissioners of Centre county to show cause why they should not keep in repair the Bellefonte, Aaronsburg and Youngstown turnpike.

The residence of Rev. L. Mittle, the Jewish Rabbi, on Locust street, Philipsburg was entered Sunday night by robbers, who carried off a solid gold watch of his own, a filled watch belonging to his brother-in-law, and about $2 in money.

Wednesday of last week J. L. Dunlap, C. A. Weaver and John Bailey, the Centre county commissioners, went to Lock Haven to confer with the Clinton county commissioners about the proposed bridge across Beech creek at Hubbard's crossing.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Twigg at Sandy Ridge, was the scene of a very pretty wedding Wednesday evening Sept. 26th, at 6 o'clock, when Rev. Geo. E. Taylor, of Philipsburg, united in marriage Chester Twigg and Miss Veda Kling, both of Sandy Ridge.

Mrs. Blanche Patterson has filed a petition for divorce, in which she avers that her husband loves her so much he won't go out to work, but hangs around home all the time, watching her do wash for a living and telling her how much he loves her.

OVER THE COUNTY.

Harry Hoy, of the Rock View farm, lost one of his mated grays last week. Mrs. W. H. Goss, of Pine Grove Mills, has been ill with a bilious attack but is some better.

William J. Throssel, who has been employed at Harter, W. Va., arrived at his home last week in Millheim. Corman's cider presses at Tusseyville and Spring Mills will be in operation every Tuesday and Thursday.

Miss Margaret Buckhout, of State College, left home to attend Vassar College where she is a junior this year. Peter Corl is breaking ground for a new home at Strubles, which would indicate the quitting of the old farm.

Miss Margaret Stuart, of State College, left last week for Philadelphia where she will be enrolled as a musical student for a term at least. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Musser with their interesting little family came over from Clearfield for a weeks visit among their Pennsylvanian friends.

A nice little girl came to the Saucer-man home on Water street, Pine Grove Mills. It is the first born and the young parents are exceptionally happy.

Next Saturday, October 6th, Washington Grange P. O. H., will hold their last picnic of the season in Johnson's Grove, State Master Hill, Prof. Surface and Prof. Van Norman will address the gathering. Refreshments of all kinds will be served.

The many acquaintances of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Krape, of Loraine, Ohio, will regret to learn of the death of their ten weeks old daughter. Death was due to cholera infantum. Mr. and Mrs. Krape are formerly from Gregg township, and up to within the past year lived in Altoona.

A novel and very useful appliance has been invented by G. H. Miller, of Linden Hall. It is a feed governor to be used in flour and chop mills, and is so constructed that the feeding of rolls and buhrs will be uniform, and consequently do better work. Mr. Miller intends having the invention patented.

On Wednesday of last week the management of the McAllister Hall changed hands. From now on, W. T. Dunn, of the class of 1905 and F. W. Scott, formerly caterer at the Track House, will have charge and Mr. Housel will devote his entire time to the management of the Nittany Inn at State College.

If reports count for anything there will be more mares and colts at the fair next week than have been seen together at one time. Some of them are fine ones and the horsemen are beginning to bestir themselves. Col. John A. Woodward, of Howard, has one he is going to exhibit and the Colonel says if there is another in the county can beat it he would like to see it.

Tuesday J. Ebert, of Gregg township, brought to our office a peculiar cluster of chestnut burrs. He got them off a tree four miles east of Sunbury. About a hundred small burrs are clustered about a stem a foot in length packed so closely together that it forms a continuous roll shaped like a very large banana. Mr. Ebert says the tree yearly bears in this manner and this year is heavily loaded with such clusters. Each burr contains from two to three small chestnuts which differs only from the ordinary fruit in size. It is his intention to graft sprouts from this tree with the "Paragon" chestnut and the common kind, in the hope of producing a new variety.

Our patrons throughout the county should not fail to make liberal use of our Free Want column. This is an unusual offer to the readers of the paper. It is an opportunity by which they can obtain a ready sale for almost any kind of an article. Farmers who have an occasional head of live stock can sell in this way to better advantage than by waiting for some buyer to come along and make them an offer. Anything in the line of implements, positions wanted, etc., will be advertised free one time, if the same is sent to this office by some patron of the paper. Farmers will find this of exceptional value, if they only give it a trial.

The home of John Decker, three miles east of Potters Mills, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday, Sept. 19. The contracting parties were B. Franklin Boal, of Altoona, and Miss Ellen C. Decker, of Potters Mills. At 11 o'clock a. m., to the strains of a wedding march, were played by Mr. Decker, of Pine Grove Mills. The couple were attended by the bride's sister and brother, Miss Martha and Logan Decker. The bride and groom were solemnly pronounced man and wife by the brides pastor, Rev. Daniel Gress, in the presence of the immediate relatives and friends. A sumptuous dinner was then served. They left for New York City, and after a short honeymoon will settle down in Altoona.
