

Bellefonte Vicinity

Openings in the neighborhood. James Krebs, of Boggs township, is visiting at the home of Mrs. High street. G. W. Reese, of Bellefonte, is acting as business in Lock Haven. Miss Viola Beatty, of Punxsutawney, is visiting at the home of Mrs. High street. O. P. Stevens, one of our Houtzdale, formerly of Port Clinton, is attending the fair this week. G. W. Cathcart, the efficient man at the station, will be in the Centre Democrat in the future. A. R. Price, of Hannah, is attending to business in town of paid us more than a pleasant. Thomas Bartley, of Lockport, is visiting at the home of friends and to take in the fair. Thomas Shaughnessy, of the day for Mannington, W. V. is employed in the glass factory. Miss Ione Donachy, of the Monday afternoon from a visit to friends in Altoona, and New York. Conductor William of Bellefonte, has moved from his house on Thomas street, to a new house on Penn street. H. V. Stitzer has returned to Atlantic City, where he had some legal business in connection with the death of his friend. Rev. Ambrose Schumacher, expect to return from their trip on Friday. Services will be in the Bellefonte Reformed church, Sabbath morning at 11 o'clock the evening as usual. The Misses Sabra and Faxon entertained a party at their home on High street, last night, at an "Old-Fashioned Sewing." During the evening refreshments were served and all reports good time. The State College cadet band and 400 attended the dedication of the O'Harrisburg, Thursday. The said to have caught the eye of Roosevelt who dropped a verbal comment on their general. Mrs. Kirk, wife of J. Kirk, and her son, of Clearfield county, are guests in the residence of Dr. M. in west High street. Her husband, was a student of the High school, and was consil of the best. The State College team made a great record lives at Williamsport on last Saturday evening the Indians by a set. It is said that the Indians of the best teams on the grid-iron and thus State can feel over the outcome of this game. Monday evening Mrs. Kurtz, wife of the late John Kurtz, of Bellefonte, gave an interesting and recent travels through the parlor of Petrikin hall, a literary feast and thoroughly served a large and appreciative audience the evening light refreshments. Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Blanton, left Bellefonte Monday afternoon winter, they were very grateful home here. Dr. Hayes, after a number of years, spent that his general health is better than in the western climate. For six or eight years Julia Curtin, daughter of J. from an abscess in the head. A serious operation but it can be done. Friday afternoon an operation was performed at the hospital, of which has brought relief it is hoped a permanent cure. Rev. W. M. Reardon, pastor of this place, held communion service last Sabbath, morning and evening. His resignation, effect with close of the present year, and with the beginning of next year will move to Millburg, where, previously announced in the Democrat accepted a call from the Lutheran church. His departure, with family, is with general regret. Harry U. Tibbels, graduate of the Bellefonte High school and who is gradually coming into prominence, is now with Stone & Thomas Wheeling, W. Va., as their advertising writer. The firm he represents one of the largest mercantile houses the south, and to hold a position with them, such as Mr. Tibbels holds, means that a young man is possessed of manly ordinary ability. His friends will be glad to hear of his success. Col. James Eoburn, H. C. Quigley, Wm. P. Hum, Robert Cole, John Noll, Chas. T. Chas. McClellan, Geo. T. Bush, E. R. Chambers, Col. W. Fred Reynolds, William C. Rowe, John May and Earl C. Tuten, were among the Bellefonters who attended the dedication of the $1,000,000 capitol at Hagburg on Thursday. Wonder if any of them examined that pole that cost $50. That would have been a curious sight in itself. A. M. Arny, who for several years has been the chief superintendent at the Bellefonte Electric Light plant, has resigned his position and is now with the Buffalo & Niagara Falls Power Co. This of course means an advancement to Mr. Arny, who is considered thoroughly versed in the rudiments pertaining to electricity as a power. He is a valuable man, and nobody knows it better than the local company. His place in Bellefonte is being filled by F. R. Bressler, formerly superintendent of the electrical plant at Muncy. Robt. Hunter, A. C. Mingle and John Olewine, left Bellefonte, Wednesday last week, with John S. Walker in his automobile. Their destination was Williamsport, and they made the run in two hours and thirty minutes, which was about 25 miles fast. While in Williamsport it began to rain and they were compelled to start back in it. The water and mud naturally retarded their progress, and they spent five hours on the road, coming back. Mr. Walker, however, got through without a puncture.

Ollie Campbell, of Clearfield, is in Bellefonte taking in the Fair. James L. Rote, of Wilkensburg, is visiting his son Clayton Rote, at Coleville. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stover, of Altoona, are visiting relatives in Bellefonte. Mrs. Andrew Brockerhoff of Philadelphia is visiting Mrs. Louisa Bush this week. David Chambers, postmaster at Clarence, was a Bellefonte visitor Thursday. Misses Rene and Josie Uzzle, of Snow Shoe, spent Thursday night in Bellefonte. Miss Mary Lebkicher, of Snow Shoe, spent Thursday with friends in Bellefonte. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Cooke left Saturday afternoon on a visit to friends in Philadelphia. Charles Triple, of Philadelphia, has been visiting his sister Mrs. Harry Yeager in Bellefonte. Lee Larimer, of Jersey Shore, is visiting his parents at this place and also taking in the Fair. Leroy Sherry, of Altoona, was an arrival home on Saturday morning for a visit with his parents in Bellefonte. Mrs. H. Witmer Smith and little son Russell left Bellefonte, Friday afternoon for a week's visit to friends in Williamsport. Miss Adaline Harris, of Bellefonte, and Miss Pansy Blanchard, of Philadelphia, were visiting friends at Blanchard last week. Mrs. R. A. Beck and little daughter Mary returned home on Friday evening from Philadelphia where they had been visiting friends. Boyd A. Musser, of Scranton, contracting agent for the York Bridge Co., is circulating around among his Bellefonte friends this week. The Central R. R. of Pa. will run trains between Bellefonte station and the Fair grounds at intervals of 10 minutes, commencing at 11:30 a. m., Thursday and Friday. Fare for the round trip 10 cents. E. S. Bullock, the hustling young agent for the P. R. R. at Julian, paid us a call this week. He is interested in getting out a large quantity of mine props and ties, which are being shipped from that station. R. S. Brouse's delivery team of mules, hardly know themselves now, all because he has had his delivery wagon entirely overhauled and repainted so artistically that a person cannot recognize it as the old one. Bishop Arvelt, one of the most learned and popular preachers in the African Methodist church, died this week at Zena, Sba, after a protracted illness. He was the father of Mrs. J. W. Morrishaw, whose husband is pastor of the Bellefonte A. M. E. church. D. F. Fortney, Esq., has been invited to make six Democratic speeches in Chester county next week and he will accept. We can assure the people down there that they will not be disappointed wherever he will appear, as he is one of the best campaigners in this state. Ambrose Stoteman, of Bellefonte, takes Edward Robb's position in the United Telephone office, as clerk for Superintendent Nelson Robb. Ambrose understands driving the truck and is quick and active especially when he takes Vintena. The situation is a good one. The horse in the Atlantic Tea Co's wagon, in some way got the bridle off him Wednesday noon, and he didn't do a thing but circulate through the streets of Bellefonte. It was demonstrated that a frightened horse without a bridle is about as hard to catch and hold as a greased pig. Before the horse was brought to a stand-still the wagon was considerably broken. John Bricker, son of the late Scott Bricker, of Boalsburg, but who spent the last three years in St. Paul, Minn., spent several days last week at his old home in Centre county. He was in Bellefonte Saturday for a short time and then left for Tyrone, where he has secured a position in the candy factory of that place. He says that St. Paul is all right in the summer, but in the winter is too cold. This week Archibald Allison, the Bellefonte plumber, had hanging in the show window of his store a specimen of huckleberries, raised in the State of Washington. They came from Mr. Lutz, a brother of Richard Lutz, of this place. They look more like black cherries than huckleberries and grow on bushes which are as large as a cedar tree. Now, this is what Archibald and John Olewine says and as their truth and veracity are seldom doubted, the story of the Washington huckleberry is o. k. A very singular accident took place at the Bellefonte army Monday evening. Walter McClellan, son of Charles McClellan, was inside skating on roller skates, when he accidentally ran against one of the front doors, knocking out the large pane of glass. It happened that his sister, Miss Nellie McClellan, was just in the act of opening the door when the broken glass fell on her head, one piece struck her hand, cutting a deep gash and also severing a small artery. The wound bled profusely, and the young lady was taken to the home of John Trafford where after considerable work the flow of blood was stopped. The wound is healing up nicely. Randolph H. Hoy is now figuring on establishing one of the largest henneries in Central Pennsylvania. He is now assisting his brother, J. Harris Hoy, to manage the Rock View farms, and is trying to get a convenient location for the new enterprise, which, of course, will be on one of the Reynolds farms. As now planned he expects to get about one thousand chickens to keep over the winter and next summer he will raise five thousand or more young chickens for the early market and also for the Thanksgiving and Holiday markets in the big cities. He also expects to raise some turkeys, though chickens will be the main object. That there is money in raising chickens is a well-known fact and if Ran gets in the swim they will have to build an additional vault in one of the banks in Bellefonte. We wish him success. Wedded at Blanchard. This evening at 6 o'clock a very pretty wedding will take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Johnston at Blanchard. The bride will be their daughter, Miss Bertha Elizabeth Johnston, and the groom is Shuman S. Williams, of Howard, who is at present principal of the schools at Pleasant Gap, where he has successfully taught the past few years. Miss Johnston is also one of Centre county's school teachers, and recently was located in Benner Twp.

BURGLARS ENTERED TWO STORES. A Daring Robbery Committed on the Diamond. POSTOFFICE ROBBED AGAIN. Morrison & Glenn's Store at Roland Suffers a Loss-Safe Blown Open and Contents Taken--Goods Damaged--No Trace Left. Sunday morning Bellefonte was treated to a real sensation, by the report that the jewelry store of F. P. Blair & Co. had been entered during the night and a large amount of goods taken. As this store is located on the diamond, the corner room of the Brockerhoff House, with a light burning brightly at night on the inside, two large electric arc lights directly outside, with night watchman in the 1st National Bank, and in the Bellefonte Trust Co. which are close by also a night watchman in the hotel in frequently passing on the outside, at all hours of the night, makes the robbery one of unusual daring and skill, if so we may call it. In fact this corner was the most prominent in the town, and for that reason was thought to be safe. Sunday morning as Michael Thal was passing the store, at about seven o'clock, he noticed the front door partly open, also that the middle window on the side was broken and had been partly raised. At once Mr. Blair and his son Russell were notified and soon were on hand. They quickly realized that the store had been ransacked by burglars. A close inspection indicates that the glass in the side window was punctured so as to make a small hole and fracture the pane. Then the broken sections were carefully pulled out so as to enable a person to reach in and release the sashlock and then raise the window. This done it was an easy matter to crawl in and release the inside latch on the front door so as to be able to make a hasty exit in case of alarm. Almost every drawer, shelf and case in the store had been ransacked. Just how much was taken can not be definitely ascertained, may be over $500. Among the articles taken were three dozen gold watch fobs, a lot of gold rings, a bunch of gold chains, a cheap watch and other articles. A number of valuable watches and jewelry were overlooked, or not wanted. In crawling in the window the person picked up a fine piece of red oxide used for polishing which smeared his hand and a piece of sheet music lying close by bears the imprint of the inside of the hand, which some day might identify the man. On Saturday a lot of tough customers were seen about town, and at midnight a man was seen about the front door and at 2 o'clock the same man was seen in company with another stranger, close by. At the time no one thought a robbery was about to be committed, but a complete description of the man seen at the door has been secured and sent to other places. BURGLARS AT ROLAND. The safe in the Store of Morrison & Glenn Blown Into Pieces. The general store of Morrison & Glenn, containing the post office at Roland, was broken into Sunday night and considerable stuff taken. As was the custom Mr. Glenn, the postmaster, on Saturday night, carefully locked up everything in the safe that belonged to the postoffice. It is thought that the entry was made to the store some time between 1 and 2 o'clock, by unlocking the front door with a skeleton key, and after getting in they at once located the safe, showing conclusively that what they were after principally was money. Their first procedure was to knock the handle off the door of the safe and fill the hole up with nitro glycerine. Having done this they took from the shelves all the dry goods and clothing and promiscuously piled it around and on top of the safe, so as to deaden the sound of the explosion. Freight trains on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad were passing the store at intervals of twenty minutes during the night and it was while one of these trains was passing that the explosion took place. The report was so loud that people in the vicinity heard it, but they supposing it to be nothing more than a signal cap on the railroad and they went to sleep again. In the morning, when Mr. Glenn went into the store he found the safe a complete wreck, with pieces scattered about the room. Everything belonging to the postoffice, such as postage stamps, rubber stamps and government seals, in all amounting to $100, were missing. The most serious loss is a book of postal orders, numbering from 1,211 to 1,400. This means that the burglars, having taken the whole outfit of the postoffice, could easily fill out the blanks and by forging the name of the post master at Roland, could get the money on them by presenting them at any postoffice in the United States. If it were possible that all the orders were to be honored the burglars would make a haul of about $20,000. Mr. Morrison, however, at once telegraphed to the postoffice authorities at Washington, D. C., who have notified the post masters throughout the country to watch for postal orders between numbers 1211 and 1400. The personal loss to Morrison & Glenn is as follows: Two revolvers, the same two that were taken some time ago, two guns, a lot of knives, together with a lot of other goods. They also took a good overcoat belonging to Mr. Morrison. The heaviest personal loss was the goods that were damaged by the blowing up of the safe, which will amount to considerable. There is no trace of the burglars. Bitten by a Snake. Mrs. James Shope, of Holt's Hollow, Thursday afternoon of last week, went to the barn to gather wood. In reaching back of a log a copperhead snake bit her on the arm. She immediately began suffering excruciating pain and on going to Dr. Huff, at Milesburg, she had the wound or sting thoroughly cauterized. Even then it gave her much pain and anxiety, but during the last couple of days the indications are that no serious results will follow, although she has not entirely recovered. Hadley's Moving Pictures will be at Garman's opera house for the benefit of Gregg Post, No. 95, G. A. R., Tuesday evening, Oct. 16th.

Avoid alum and alum phosphate baking powders. The label law requires that all the ingredients be named on the labels. Look out for the alum compounds. NOTE.—Safety lies in buying only Royal Baking Powder, which is a pure, cream of tartar baking powder, and the best that can be made.
