

Bellefonte and Vicinity

The Local Happenings in Short Paragraphs

—Mr. Petteroff, of Bishop street, is on the sick list.

—Geo. E. Rhoads, of Coleville, is one of the new names on our list. He knows a good thing.

—Merchant Frank Fisher and pretty little daughter Sarah, of Penn Hall, were pleasant callers.

—Candidate Geo. Dimeling, of Clearfield, was in town last week looking after his senatorial boom.

—"Buzzards Glory" is the name given to a lively portion of east Bishop street. They have lively times up there.

—Mrs. W. I. Fleming came home Friday from a two weeks visit in Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Williamsport.

—C. N. Meserve, secretary of the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A., is able to be out on the street again after his recent serious illness.

—Amos Cole, who is a draughtsman in the Standard steel works at Burnham, visited friends and relatives in Bellefonte over Sunday.

—Miss Gertrude Garland, who spent a few days of last week with relatives in Bellefonte, returned to her home at Olivia on Saturday.

—Lee Larimer, of Jersey Shore, was in Bellefonte taking in the fair and incidentally visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Larimer.

—Harry Carlisle, a republican candidate for sheriff of Clearfield county, was one of those who had winning horses at the Bellefonte fair. He drives them himself.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Green, of Altoona, were in Bellefonte last week, called here on the sad mission of attending the funeral of Mrs. Greene's father, the late James O'Brian.

—Having an account of the sad accident that befell Mr. Dosty, set up soon after it happened, we are obliged to omit those kindly sent to this office by several other writers.

—John I. Rankin, of Philadelphia, spent several days in Bellefonte last week as the guest of his sister, Mrs. D. H. Hastings. He was also a guest of his sister, Mrs. Frank McFarlane.

—Tuesday William P. Humes, of Bellefonte, left on a business trip to Duluth, Minn. He would like to have made the trip by water, but as it would take too long he went direct by railroad.

—Mrs. Anna C. Woodcock, after spending ten days in Bellefonte, left for Scranton, where she expects to be the greater part of the time until Christmas. She will be the guest of her son, Dr. Lee Woodcock.

—Register and recorder William T. DeHaas and wife, of Clearfield, were among those who attended the county fair in Bellefonte last week. We met him and found him to be a very pleasant gentleman.

—Mrs. Samuel Hare, of Altoona, who is a bride of only a month or so, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Garman at the Garman house. She is a most excellent young lady and while here is having a pleasant time.

—Hon. A. O. Furst, of Bellefonte, who has been confined to his residence on Linn street for several months, took advantage of the beautiful weather Tuesday by taking a short drive. His friends were glad to see him out.

—Rush Larimer, who is Thomas A. Shoemaker's right hand man so far as looking after his horses on his job in Westmoreland county is concerned, joined the big crowd of old Bellefonters who came back for the fair last week.

—The largest business for a single week at the Garman opera house, was scored by "Wild & Rich players" last week. The town was filled with visitors on account of the fair, and that helped business considerably. They put up a good show for the price.

—Our public sale register is unusually large for this season of the year, for two reasons: More people have sale at this season than heretofore; and because nearly everyone comes to the Centre Democrat to have their bills printed; you get a square deal here.

—The regular meeting of the Bellefonte Tent of the Knights of Maccabees will hereafter be held in the Undine Fire Co. hall, on the first and third Wednesday evenings of each month. J. H. Robb resigned as record keeper and Geo. T. Bush was elected in his place. New members are being obligated at each meeting.

—Rev. A. R. Lambert, who at one time was one of the prominent ministers in the Central Pennsylvania M. E. conference, and located at Pleasant Gap, but for the past year has occupied the pulpit of the South Park avenue M. E. church, in Chicago, has accepted a call to the LaGrange church in the same city. He is quite well known to a number of citizens in Bellefonte.

—George W. Rumberger, the efficient deputy treasurer of Centre county, is now cocking his feet up on his desk in the court house, and with a tooth-pick in his mouth is wearing a complaisant smile. The cause of all this "let-'er go easy" pose that he is assuming comes from the fact that he is another time a grandfather. The little heir is over in Patton, the son of Albert Rumberger, who is well-known to the young men of Bellefonte.

—Hon. W. C. Heinle, of Bellefonte, has closed up his residence on Bishop street and is now making his headquarters at the Broomfield house, where he boarded twenty-five years ago, while teaching school in the stone building, on Allegheny street. His daughter, Miss Bettie Heinle, has entered Ludlum's school of elocution at Philadelphia, where she will take a thorough course. She has special ability along that line and some day may come into prominence.

—Last week there was recorded in the recorder's office of Centre county a mortgage that made deputy recorder Will Rowe whistle. A young and unobtrusive looking attorney, from New York walked in and plunked down the mortgage, saying he was having it recorded in seven different counties in Pennsylvania. The mortgage was for $20,000,000, and was against the Pittsburg, Rochester & Eastern railroad, a new road now being projected to tap the coal and lumber fields of Central Pennsylvania. The mortgage was in favor of the Knickerbocker Trust Co., of New York city.

—Harry Landis, of Pittsburg, spent Sunday with his parents.

—John Trafford killed a pheasant and three gray squirrels yesterday.

—James Nolan, Esq., of Phillipsburg, is transacting business in Bellefonte this week.

—Miss Lula Meek and Miss Flora Love, of Bellefonte, are at Atlantic City.

—Harvey McClure, of Pittsburg, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McClure.

—Henry Quigley, Esq., of Bellefonte, was fixing up political fences in Clearfield this week.

—Clarence E. Hoffman visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Harrison Walker Sunday.

—Harold Lingle returned home on Monday afternoon from New York city and other points in the east.

—Mrs. W. H. Crissman left Saturday for Sunbury where she will spend the next two weeks with friends.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Erb are rejoicing over the arrival of a ten-pound boy at their home Sunday afternoon.

The Joseph Floray homestead and household goods will be sold at public sale this Thursday afternoon at Pleasant Gap.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Clemson have returned to their home in Half Moon township, after a pleasant visit in Pittsburg.

—Lawrence Fusser, of Cane, arrived in Bellefonte, Tuesday, called here by the serious illness of his sister, Mrs. Thal, of Roopburg.

—L. C. Rearick, one of our esteemed citizens, is still confined to his home from the effects of the stroke he had some time ago.

—M. I. Gardner of Bellefonte, was summoned to Howard Thursday evening by the serious illness of his mother, Mrs. Jackson Gardner.

—Next Tuesday evening, October 23d, a progressive supper will be given in St. Johns Hall, Catholic church, by the ladies; all are invited.

—Miss Blanche Jacobs, of Moundsville, W. Virginia, came home Saturday night for a short visit with her mother on East Lamb street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eckenroth are rejoicing over the arrival of a bouncing baby boy at their home on Sunday night. "Great Scott!"

—Maude Schuyler, of Lock Haven, spent several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Harrison Walker on East Linn street, during the fair.

—W. Harrison Walker, Esq., left Sunday afternoon for West Virginia and Ohio, on important legal business. He expects to be away most of the week.

—Hadley's moving pictures will again appear in the opera house on Saturday evening. They had a large crowd on Tuesday evening and all were pleased.

—Frank Kirkland, of Binghamton, N. Y., was a Bellefonte visitor this week. Mr. Kirkland was formerly a clerk at the Bush House and left here four years ago.

—Some half dozen Lutheran ministers have made application to preach trial sermons for the vacant Bellefonte charge. There has been no invitation given to any one as yet.

—Edward Eckenroth and Charles Stover, while out hunting Monday, each shot a wild turkey beside some smaller game. Hunters report wild turkeys as being plenty this year.

—John D. Soubreck, of Bellefonte, has opened his candy manufactory and from now until after the holidays will be kept making delicacies for the girls who have a sweet tooth in their head.

—Dominick Judge, of Bellefonte, the careful and efficient train dispatcher for the Central Railroad, left Wednesday noon for Tyrone, his old home. Where he will spend a week's vacation.

—Abram V. Eber of Howard, accompanied William P. Humes, of Bellefonte, to Duluth, Tuesday, where they will transact business pertaining to a large tract of land in that vicinity.

—County commissioner John Dunlap, of Bellefonte, went over to Phillipsburg Monday evening and remained until Tuesday evening. He was looking up matters connected with the triennial assessment.

—Dr. James Thompson, of Port Matilda, was a visitor in Bellefonte Wednesday. He holds his head like a high-reined pacer since he has gotten into that new palatial residence up there. It is one of the finest houses in the county.

—The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal church will hold a Fair and Bazaar, the first week in December at which all kinds of fancy things for Christmas will be for sale. Save some of your Christmas money until you see this fair.

—Last Saturday the Bellefonte Academy foot ball team went down to the Lumber city, where they tackled the Dickinson Seminary boys in the afternoon. The game proved one-sided, the score being 27 to 0, in favor of the Williamsport team, which was an unusually strong one.

—On Saturday morning Mrs. J. Howard Lingle, and daughter Marian, of Bellefonte, drove up to Unionville to purchase some apples from the Thomas Fisher farm. Just this side of Unionville their horse frightened at some calves in a field and ran away. Mrs. Lingle and her daughter were thrown out and the former was quite seriously injured. The little girl escaped with a few slight bruises. Mrs. Lingle is improving.

—Thursday of last week while returning from the Centre county fair, Mrs. Allison and her sister, Miss Laura Runkle, of Centre Hall, were on their way home and when at Pleasant Gap they were run into by an automobile and thrown out of their conveyance and severely injured. They were taken into a nearby house and afterwards taken home. Mrs. Allison is up and around again, while Miss Runkle still spends a good part of her time in bed.

—Among the many visitors in Bellefonte last week was Shem Spigelmyer, one of the leading spirits of the vicinity of Jersey Shore. He is a very busy man, but when it comes to witnessing a real big horse race, he lays everything aside and takes 'er in. Since leaving Bellefonte he is gradually becoming one of the bloated millionaires, being interested in a number of paying enterprises. He is a good all around man, and his many friends in Bellefonte will be glad to hear of his success.

Thursday morning there was a very interesting game of base ball played at the Fair, between Snow Shoe and Hecla park, Snow Shoe winning by the score of 9 to 2.

OVER THE COUNTY.

William Diehl, of Hartleton, is visiting relatives at Howard.

The canning factory and rolling mill at Howard are running to their utmost capacity.

Daniel Hosterman sold his house and lot, in Penn township, to W. V. Gentzel, Consideration $750.

Mrs. Barbara Hoy, of Millheim, has gone to Philadelphia, where she will remain with relatives for a few weeks.

Fred Robb, formerly of Bellefonte, but now employed at Pittsburg, recently underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. Lizzie Dennison, after a month's visit among friends in Pine Grove Mills and Altoona, returned to her home in Philadelphia.

Boston Campbell, of near Pine Grove Mills, has purchased a Deering corn husker and is ready for business for any who wishes his services.

J. B. Rishel, on the Ard farm, near Coburn, along Pine Creek, will move to Coburn, and John Whitmyer will move from Coburn to the Ard farm.

W. D. Port, of Pine Grove Mills, fell from a high ladder while picking apples in his yard, breaking several ribs as well as sustaining severe body bruises.

Daniel Breen, of Pine Grove Mills, has moved to Lemont where he will officiate as Geo. C. Meyer's right-hand man in the grain and coal business.

The Pennsylvania Telephone company now has a force of men at work stringing a new line from Millheim to Centre Hall. James N. Woomer is in charge of the gang.

Christ D. Keller, of Centre Hall, will batch it next winter. He will have charge of the stock on the Huston farm, east of Centre Hall, owned by his brother, David K. Keller.

George A. Vonada sold two lots, known as the Ream and Royer properties, on North street, Millheim, to Mrs. Ada M. Yake, of Pittsburg. The consideration was $425.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Weaver, of Altoona, are at the Weaver home on Main street, in Pine Grove Mills, to lend a helping hand to his brother, Foster, who is laid up with a broken leg.

Dr. J. C. Ward and wife, of Shamokin, are at Pine Grove Mills recuperating the doctor's health, that has become somewhat impaired from overwork and close confinement to his office.

William I. Underwood and wife of Frankford, Philadelphia, are visiting his sister, Mrs. Mary A. Way, of Lovelieu. They will also visit relatives in Unionville and Bellefonte before returning home.

George Jodon, who is a tenant farmer on the James I. Thompson farm at Centre Furnace, found all of his six cows dead in the stable Friday morning. Last spring he had two horses to die so that he is in hard luck.

The Millheim Journal has changed its form from a four to an eight page paper which is an improvement. A new cylinder press has also been installed. We are pleased to note this evidence of the Journal's prosperity, so well deserved.

Miss Mabel Meyer will retire from the Bell exchange at Centre Hall some time in November for reasons that can be explained by Daniel Koch, of Sunbury, employed by Seabold, the musical instrument dealer. It's the same old story.

Mrs. Lizzie Dennison, after a month's visit among friends at Pine Grove Mills and Altoona, returned to her home at 1644 Fairmount avenue, Philadelphia. Mrs. Amelia Herst accompanied her and will visit friends there for a month or more.

M. M. Condo and daughter, Miss Anna Condo, of Darragh, had been visiting in Centre Hall for a short stay among their many acquaintances. While in Pennsylvania, Mr. Condo was looking around for apples, potatoes, etc., to be shipped direct to him.

The Phillipsburg Journal says that Henry C. Quigley, of Bellefonte, the republican candidate for Senator in this district, arrived here Monday evening and will spend several days in this vicinity, looking after his political interests, making Phillipsburg his headquarters.

Harrison Kline, who lives near Bellefonte, had the misfortune of falling from an apple tree. The gentleman is about 70 years old, and as he fell a distance of about fifteen feet, his injuries are such as have confined him to his bed. No bones were broken, but he suffered considerable pain.

John E. Osman, of Shingletown, and Miss Margaret M. Albert, of Pine Grove Mills, sprung a surprise on their many friends on Monday of last week by quietly slipping away and going to Lemont where they were married that evening at the Presbyterian parsonage by the Rev. Walter K. Harnish.

Miss Mary McWilliams, of near Pine Grove Mills, went to Wilmering last week where she was joined by her cousin Mrs. Mary Fleming, of Connelville. After spending sometime among relatives at Wheeling, West Va., they will go to Freeport, Ill., where they will make their headquarters with Geo. W. Eaton and family.

The postal card "crash" has struck Snow Shoe. The most attractive card they have yet been able to place on the market is John Uzzle's Deer Park and its colony of wild deer, with John Uzzle, the veteran sportsman and pioneer landlord of the county, as a relief in one of the corners. It is most attractive and should find ready sale.

The ladies of the St. Mary's Catholic church at Snow Shoe have set apart the evenings of Friday and Saturday, Nov. 2nd and 3rd, for a social event in the basement of their church. On Friday evening an oyster supper will be served and on Saturday evening they will vary the bill of fare with chicken and waffles. All are invited to attend.

Charles Atherton, of State College, the former manager and captain of the Johnstown baseball club, is being prominently mentioned as manager of the "Joyful Johnnies" for next season. In 1905 Atherton led the Johnnies into second place, but owing to illness came into disfavor this year and went to the American Association, where he played good ball.

Rev. J. M. Rearick, pastor of the Lutheran church at Centre Hall, has been having quite a serious time. For several weeks during the summer he had been laid up with a sore ankle and had so far recovered that he was able to fill his pulpit. About ten days ago he became suddenly ill with a chill and for the second time was unable to fill his appointments, when Rev. James Boal helped him out again. He, however, has his appointments last Sunday as usual, and is getting along very well.

Mrs. Catharine Thall, of Benner township, is very ill from a complication of diseases.

Mrs. P. S. Ishler and two sons, Fred and Russell, of Boalsburg, are visiting in Tyrone.

Milligan Walker, living above Runville, will have sale of his farm stock, on Tuesday, Oct. 23rd.

Ex-county commissioner Abram V. Miller and family, of Pleasant Gap, are preparing to move to Philadelphia, where they will make their future home.

Prof. Geo. C. Butz, of State College, was in Erie county last week on some grape investigation in co-operation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey F. York, who spent the summer in their cottage in Michigan, returned the latter part of last week to their home in Warriors-mark.

Miss Janet Snedden, formerly of Phillipsburg, now one of the teachers in the Patton public schools, was taken to Philadelphia Tuesday last, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis.

The stork visited the homes of Charles O. Musser and Tobias Wetzel, in Millheim, and left with each of them a baby daughter, and on Tuesday of last week young son arrived at the home of Samuel Weaver.

A portion of one of the "Bright Angel" dormitories at State College is to be moved to the rear of the college orchard to be fitted up for hospital purposes. The remainder of the dormitory will be incorporated with a new structure for the horticultural department, to be erected in the orchard.

Mr. R. C. Rocky, formerly of Tyroneville, and who had been teaching in Porto Rico, has been visiting relatives over here for several weeks. Mr. Rocky brought with him a young Porto Rico boy, whom he has formally adopted. The two left for New York city, from which they will proceed to Panama, where Mr. Rocky will continue in the profession of teaching.

J. A. Harvey, of Beech Creek, while out prospecting in Rush township, for Bellefonte land owners, located a sub-basin of coal not before known to exist. It has always been supposed that there was no coal in that section, in the neighborhood of Beaver Mills, and Mr. Harvey's find discloses what may prove a paying mine for the owners.

Editor Musser, of the Millheim Journal, is to be highly complimented on the excellent change he has made in the general make-up of that sheet. He is going to keep up with the procession or bust, and that's the spirit of the 20th century and it is bound to win. Next thing we hope to hear is that the Journal is set up with the aid of a typesetting machine and run off on a Hoe press.

The Tyrone Herald says that two Hanna citizens under the influence of liquor, raised a disturbance Thursday night in that place and Officer Fisher, upon essaying to arrest them, was attacked by one of the fellows who threw a brick at the policeman who narrowly escaped serious injury. Officer pursued the brick-thrower several blocks, firing four shots after him. He got away for the time but an hour later Mr. Fisher picked him up and imprisoned him. Charges of resisting an officer and assault and battery with intent to kill confronted the prisoner. The other disturber got off with $10 fine and 30 hours' meditation.
