

The Racket.

UNDERWEAR

We are ready for cold weather with a full and complete line of Men's, Women's and Children's Winter Underwear in both separate garments and union suits.

Children's fleeced vests and pants from 10c up.

Boys' heavy fleeced shirts and drawers, 25c.

Women's fleeced vests and pants, full size and good weight, 25c; a heavier one in finer weave, 50c a garment.

In union suits we sell the celebrated Oneita; children's, 50c a suit; women's, 50c, 75c, $1 and upwards.

Many other varieties and prices too numerous to mention.

Don't buy that new dress before looking over our very complete assortment; and don't forget you can do better at The Racket—they sell for cash.

E. P. IRVIN.

PORT MATILDA.

The weather has been very cold here for the last few days, and the turkey season opened on Monday and the birds proved very scarce in this section.

John Funk, of Tyrone, spent Sunday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Rachel Funk.

Blaine Cowher, alias "Tab", killed a nice wild turkey on Monday.

H. H. Osman is visiting at the home of his daughter Mrs. Wm. Morrison, at Stewart Pa.

Grey Behres and his lady friend, Miss May Osman, drove to Bald Eagle on Sunday.

John, understand that you were down to see your friend Tuesday night. How about it?

Charley, you had better stay off the hill, after this.

M. S. Mains expects to spend a few weeks in Pittsburgh soon.

A blind trio will give a concert in the Baptist church on Friday evening the 20th. All come and help a good cause along.

M. F. Weaver and his son are husking corn for Wm. Bennett.

For first class rigs call on H. C. Woodring.

C. M. Weaver left on Sunday for Burnham to work for the Standard Steel Co.

E. R. Jones, who has been laid up for the last year, is very low at present; he has rheumatism.

SMULLTON.

Harry Douty and wife, who spent several days at Vintondale, were called home on account of the death of his brother Ambrose at Madisonburg, on Thursday.

Neta Breen and her gentleman friend spent several days at home.

Harry Stover, wife and little son, left for New Berlin last week.

Mrs. Louisa Morris, of Rebersburg, spent a few days at Newton Brungarts.

Mrs. Rumberger, of Lock Haven, was the guest of Israel Haugh.

A good many of our people attended the funeral of Mr. Douty.

Victor Brungart and wife spent Sunday at Hublersburg, visiting her parents.

Clarence Hackenberg spent a few days at Charlie Stover's at Coburn.

Walter and Minnie Strayer, of Rockville, spent Sunday at Smith's.

T. D. Stover, who was sick for several weeks, is improving.

A large bear was seen south of town on Sunday.

GREENBURR.

Merchant J. A. Shreckengast, and P. F. Wirth, transacted business at the county seat on Saturday.

William Confer returned on Saturday from Yeagertown. He talks of moving to Milroy in the near future.

The water company, completes repairing their line by putting down terracotta pipes.

Ellis Walzer, gladdened the hearts of his family by sending them a parlor organ.

John Frank who has been working in Kingwood, West Virginia, for almost a year returned home last week.

Daniel Kahl started to build an addition to his house.

The band intends to play in Loganton on the 23d and 27th in the evening.

We are glad that all our sick are improving.

Elmer Douty and family attended the funeral of Mr. Douty's brother at Madisonburg, Sunday.

COBURN.

Miss Estella Hosterman visited friends at Madisonburg several days.

Mrs. Eliza Stover, of Hosterman, W. Va., and Mrs. Scott Burd, of Bellwood, are visiting relatives in this valley.

Maud Ard and Mabel Wolfe, of Woodward, did some shopping here on Tuesday.

Roy Schaeffer and family, of near Centre Hall, visited at Alfred Keen's several days.

Harvey Vonada, formerly of Woodward, now has his home at F. W. Hosterman's.

Mrs. Lettie Robinson and daughter Edna are visiting relatives at this place.

Revival services are still in progress and increasing in spirit and attendance. Thus far the harvest gathered are two souls.

The State Forestry Association expects to start a nursery for raising trees at Greenwood Furnace Huntingdon county, on the state lands. They will plant walnut, pine and other species.

UNIONVILLE.

At the Fisher cider press plant there were made in one day, 100 barrels, or about 3200 gallons of cider, ready to ship.

John L. Rich and John McDonnell, Tyrone ladies, spent Sunday in town. Also Mont. Musser, of Bellwood, ditto.

Mrs. Andy Rowan raised the prize beet this season. It weighed 14 1/2 lbs., unpressed. Dat beats all.

Mrs. W. A. Peters spent a week in Altoona, recently, visiting several of her children who are located there.

Henry Aaron is on the sick list or rather, laid up for repairs, he having had a serious fall.

Frank Lee and wife, of Ivona, are visitors at the latter's mother, Mrs. Fredericks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Musser, of Pittsburgh, are visitors at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Mattie Musser.

Proprietor Wm. A. Peters is constantly planning to make his hotel one of the best and most homelike hostleries in the county. Persons stopping with him are sure to be well treated, well fed and that everything possible will be done for their welfare and comfort. Both mine host and hostess are genial, companionable folks and what Mrs. Peters don't know about Cooking isn't worth a law suit to find out.

Our street lamps were not lit on Sunday night. Why not? and why do our Borough Dads not get a few tallow dips and place them in the diamond, where light is most needed? The 1200 candle-power lamp suspended in the centre of the diamond never did do any good. About half the time we are without light. We don't like to kick, but sometimes we can't help it.

Don't be surprised when you see persons holding a kerchief over their nasal protuberance while passing through the town. The stench from a large manure pile thrown out of the old Union House stables, close to the streets, some of which is out on the street, and in the centre and business part of the town, greets the passerby. How the merchants and citizens in the immediate vicinity can endure this, is beyond conjecture. Why don't somebody kick? whose business is it?

Ed. Sprow, a former resident of this place, is moving back from Pittsburgh, where he has been employed for several years. He will live in the old Jimma Bush property.

Harry Harper has moved into the tenant house on his father's lot, the old Dr. Underwood property.

The venerable David Spotts will move in the property vacated by Harry Harper, of which he has become the owner.

Albert Hazel, while lighting the street lamps, recently fell and dislocated a shoulder—maybe.

The following is the result of the first day's turkey hunt: Sam Holt, G. W. Lightner, Howard E. Holtzworth, Dr. C. A. Van Valin, J. M. Stere, Jessie Parsons, Harry Musser, Charles G. Hall, Jesse Hall, Miles Hall and John Hall, each one, making a grand total of 12. The one captured or shot by Charley Hall tipped the scales at 3 lbs., and was barefooted. Bennie Fredericks said he could have shot a fine large gobbler but he couldn't get any one to hold him. The gobbler I mean.

DOMINO'S THIRD TRIP.

In winding up my auto I broke the hair spring, so I had to abandon it and I said, "tis well" for all the girls in town wanted to go along, so I make this trip by rail and on foot. In going from here to Bellefonte we saw three railroad hogs on the train. Do you know what a railroad hog is? I'll tell you you can easily recognize him. He'll sit with his back to the window and place his feet on the end of the seat next to the aisle; or he'll place his grip and overcoat on the one end; or he'll stretch himself out pretending to be asleep, all for fear some one will take a seat beside him. His eyes bulge out with self conceit and pomposity, his nose is as red as an African people. He often wears a plug had Three such hogs were on the train the morning I started on my trip. Two real nice old ladies got on the cars at Unionville. The car was well filled. I got in first and secured the only vacant seat except the three occupied by the three "H's." The ladies walked up and down the aisle but the hogs refused to make room for them. I then gave one of the ladies my seat and made room for the other at another place. I then went up and stood in front of the three hogs and felt like giving them a piece of my mind but I did not want to break it, I want to keep it whole till I go to Brushvalley. As for myself, I wouldn't sit beside a railroad hog. I would be afraid his clothes were infected with vermin or his body with infectious disease. Excuse me for switching off, but the fact is I was mad as a hornet and would have slapped a couple of them but they were beneath my dignity. I complained to Billy Halligan, the conductor, but he said the railroad hog has become a permanent fixture.

When I arrived in Bellefonte I discovered that I didn't have enough money about my clothes to travel by railroad, so I started to the bank to replenish my very thin pocket book. In going up High street all the business men were out looking down towards the station and everybody asking, "what's happened? what was that awful noise? did the boiler of the passenger engine explode? did Fred Musser's wholesale house collapse?" "Oh, no!" said I, "that was only Paul Neff, calling out the station, Bellefonte." Paul has a stentorian voice that utterly drowns out "He-ye-aw-for-de Bush House." I went into the bank and drew my check, walked up to the teller's window with it with the air of a millionaire, but the teller with a merry twinkle in his eye handed it back to me with the remark "Short." I tell you if ever I felt Meek it was then. My first impulse was to Robb the measly bank, but my better judgment prevailed and I said "Aw! Shugar (t) here's where I draw the Curtin." When I came down out of the bank I dropped a penny into Billy Doak's little tin, helped myself to three lead pencils and a pair of shoe strings which I sold at a profit of 15 cts. Met Al. Dale, who gave me a glowing description of his experience in sliding down a precipice by which several of his ribs became unscrewed, causing an awful pain about the region of the solar plexus. "Good for you, A." I said, "why don't you get married? the same thing will happen Francis Speer some day." I boarded the train lying at the Central railroad station and went to Hublersburg—no railroad hogs on this road, had to trouble to secure a seat; conductor and brakeman are gentlemanly and obliging, cars just comfortably warm.

Landed at Hublersburg, 10:11 a. m. My first strike after landing this place, was for Bergstresser's photograph gallery where I had a thousand pictures taken, which I sold readily at one dollar per gross, thus recuperating my expenditure. I next dropped in at H. H. Noll's general merchandise store and found a host of friends arranged around on seats and the counters among whom were, farmers, Jerry Lee, John Hoy, Jr., J. D. Miller, D. A. Deitrick, Benner W. Kumberger and others. This is one of the most prosperous and productive sections of the county. The farmers are happy and prosperous. After dinner, I having been previously announced, I got on to a coffee box, to make a speech, the box was full and so was I—of good "wittles." I spoke for an hour, held the crowd spell-bound, gave my hearers much wholesome advice, told them to be good and when I advised them to vote the Democratic ticket I was surprised to see some of them turn up their toes and said, "I was sure I had all converted to think as I did." Went from here to Nittany. Found Sol Peck sorting a barrel of apples and when he put them back the largest ones were all on top of the barrel. I asked him how that happened "well, I can't tell, it just happened." I found Messrs. Peck & Son in a highly prosperous condition. Their store tidy and clean, large and well filled with the best and at prices at which no one need be afraid. I had great difficulty to get away from the Pecks, and it was getting late, I actually had to tear myself away from them. I then went over to see Captain Sam. Benison. Here I met with a royal reception. The captain has one of the finest farms in Nittanyvalley, with fine thoroughbred stock, from his horses down to chickens. If there is a happy man in Centre county, that man is Captain S. H. Benison. Wouldn't he be a dandy, though, if he were a Democrat. But really, I am imposing on the editor, so I am.

DOMINO.

GREGG TWP.

YANKEETOWN.

Harvey Bailey and wife visited at the home of Adam Joud, Sunday.

Gertrude Breen is housed up with a severe attack of lumbago.

W. H. Mark and family, of Avis, spent a week at the home of his parents.

Lloyd Luse and family, of Coburn, visited at the home of John Hoover's on Sunday.

John Condo is at present staying at the home of Samuel Musser.

A valuable horse of Harvey Bailey's was killed last Saturday night by a board running in it.

Wallace Barges and his intended visiting part of last week in Bellefonte visiting friends and attending the fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Zerby visited friends in Tylersville on Sunday.

Mrs. H. H. Mark and son Ray spent a day last week at the home of Henry Marks.

The skunk hunters are preparing themselves for a two weeks' hunting expedition, which will begin the 15th of November.

The rally day held at the St. Paul's U. E. church was a very successful affair; they asked for $200 which was all subscribed; this is to pay for a bell which is much needed.

John Hoover attended the sale of Daniel Hosterman and bought a valuable cow.

Henry mark and wife visited at the home of Henry Roper on Sunday.

A Ocker is at present in our vicinity threshing for the farmers.

A. C. Mark spent Sunday evening in Brushvalley.

MURREVILLE.

Rev. Haas began protracted meeting on Sunday evening.

Miss Mayme Wert spent a few days at Coburn.

Rev. Snyder will have communion service in St. Pauls church Sunday.

Miss Mayme Zerby of this place closed her school this week on account of vaccination.

WADDLE.

The friends and neighbors, of this place, all mourn the loss of Henderson Stanton who died last Sunday morning, Oct. 7. He had been an invalid for 11 years with rheumatism. He died very suddenly while he was washing for breakfast. He got up as usual, laughing and talking, and while sitting on the bed just fell over dead. Mrs. Stanton will leave for Niagara Falls where she will make her home with her daughter, Mrs. John Hazle. Mr. Stanton, was born March 17, 1845, died Oct. 7, 1906, aged 61 years, 6 months and 26 days. Interment in Grays cemetery.

The Misses Ruth and Della Kellerman spent Sunday with their friend, Miss Jessie Way.

Charles Messimer, of State College, spent Sunday with his lady friend, Miss Ruth Stine.

Orris says there are better fish in the sea than ever were caught. If you don't believe it, just ask him where he was last Sunday night.

Last Saturday night John Hoy and John Jr., Howard Hall and Orris Harsh were out coon hunting. They say it was awful cold but they got the coon, just the same.

Howard Hall spent Sunday with his lady friend, Miss Fannie Sellers.

The new pastor, Rev. Miller, of the U. B. church, preached a fine sermon on Sunday evening.

POTTER TWP.

EARLSTOWN.

Picking apples and making cider is all the go now.

Andrew Smith is busily painting and papering the new house of Mr. Neese.

D. L. Bartsge came back from his trip west and reports a fine trip; he took in the Pittsburgh exposition and says it is very fine. He stopped with his son Thomas at Wilmerding and also with his son-in-law at Johnstown, and says they are getting along finely; also run in to Barnesboro to see his brother Daniel and found him well.

Some one, not fearing the law was out hunting deer, and the folks in Cloverdale say he got one; at least they miss one.

The cattle sale at Runkle's hotel was very good on Saturday. D. Grove sold some of the finest stock which brought good prices.

A poor man pretending to be rich fools about as many people as a rich man pretending to be poor.

OVER THE COUNTY.

The evaporating plants at Centre Hall and Coburn are in operation.

A second daughter was born to Rev. D. and Mrs. Gress, of Centre Hall.

The corn crop in this county is well matured and an average in quantity. Applies plenty.

Roy Shaffer, of Centre Hall, is assisting John E. Everhart on the Oliver farm near Graysville.

The venerable Wm. Wilson, Stormstown's oldest citizen, is confined to bed with the infirmities of old age.

Allison Bros., of Spring Mills, have sold their coal business to C. P. Long, who will continue the business in addition to his large general store.

Down at Roland on Saturday morning a wagon load of potatoes was found frozen in the farmer's barn. The load was intended for market that day.

Rev. B. R. Sheeder, of Aaronsburg, received a message Monday evening of last week announcing the death of his mother at her home at Gettysburg.

The threatened potato rot, earlier in the season, did not continue to any appreciable extent, and, in consequence, sound tubers will be plenty and cheap.

A corps of engineers were quartered at Pine Grove Mills, last week, going over the much talked of survey for the new electric railroad touching that town.

Miss Bertha Miller, daughter of Eugene Miller, of Lorane, Or., is in Centre Hall, and for a part of the time was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shutt.

Ammon Burkholder, of Centre Hall had the good fortune to kill to the limit of squirrels the first day of the season, and the next day four more greys were bagged by him.

Dr. W. A. Buckhout, Prof. Geo. C. Watson, Prof. Geo. C. Butz and M. A. Warkle, of State College, were among the judges on the exhibits at the great Centre county fair.

W. O. Gramley, of near Spring Mills, has started a milk route and is now serving the residents of Spring Mills and Penn Hall, with milk and cream. This has been a long felt need.

One of the number of young men from about Centre Hall who is holding a good "job" in Western Pennsylvania is Clyde F. Condo. He is employed by the Jamison Coal and Coke Company.

Branch Company No. 14, The Patrons Rural Telephone Company, from Linden Hall to State College, have their wires on the poles and expect to have their instruments installed this week.

Mrs. W. H. Swartz, of near Northumberland, is visiting friends in Penns Valley. The Swartz family moved to Northumberland last spring from the Bartsge farm, east of Old Fort.

Hon. Cyrus Grove, son of the venerable John Grove, of Gregg, is on the Stephenson county, Ill., democratic ticket for superintendent of schools. This Centre county boy stands high out there.

Saturday A. G. Hosterman, of Hosterman, W. Va., sold to Mrs. Mary M. Haines, of Penn township, his house and lot near Aaronsburg in Haines township. The consideration was $325.

In making its rounds on the south side of Potter township, the stork left a baby girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Foreman, near the Red Mill. The parents are wonderfully proud of their new treasure.

The remains of Mrs. Lillie E. Davis, who committed suicide at Conneville, were taken to Howard and interred in the Schenck burying ground. Mrs. Davis was formerly Miss Lillie Ella Schenck of this county.

Raymond White, aged about nine years, son of Contractor Charles W. White, of Beech Creek, broke his arm. He attends school in Blanchard and was jumping over a fence post along with other boys, when the accident occurred.

John Baker, who farms for ex county commissioner W. H. Taylor, along the Belleville pike, found an ear of corn which grew in his corn field this season that had 32 rows, aggregating 1393 grains and when shelled made over a quart of shelled corn.

Dr. James W. Boal, of Centre Hall, sold his farm south of Earlstown to Samuel Baird, of near Pleasant Gap. Mr. Baird expects to occupy his new possession next spring. The price paid is said to have been in the neighborhood of $50 per acre.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Brown and little sons, from Westmoreland county, are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Erhard, at Unionville. Mr. Erhard is suffering from a broken jaw received in the Air Brake shops where he is employed in Pitcairn.

Miss Helen Williams, of Bellefonte, the efficient stenographer for McCalmont & Co., was given first prize at the Centre county fair for pyrography work. Along this line she is an artist and her display of a piano stool, waste basket and clock was greatly admired by the people in general.

GROVE & COLDREN'S Horse and Cattle MARKET.

An assortment of choice Horses always on hand at our stables for inspection.

D. A. Grove, - - - - Lemont.
W. H. Coldren, - - - - Bellefonte.

A. E. SCHAD
BOTH TELEPHONES.

Fine Sanitary Plumbing,
Gas Fitting,
Furnace, Steam and Hot Water Heating.

—o—
Slating, Tin Roofing, Spouting,
All kinds of Tinware made to order.

Estimates Cheerfully Furnished
Eagle Block, Bellefonte, Pa.

WOMEN'S COATS

We are at present in the enviable position of being able to offer you "extreme value" in stylish outer garments, absolutely correct in design and workmanship; goods that have been much admired by the most competent critics, and which, at the price quoted, can have no serious rivals in the market. Just as soon as the first breath of Jack Frost strikes the town the prices will be soaring upward in the wholesale districts, and much as we may regret it, we, too, shall be compelled to follow suit. Take our advice—buy now. Coats and Raincoats at

$5.00, $7.50, $10.00, $12.00, and up to $35.00

Latest Novelties in Furs

Not fur weather, perhaps, but Fur buying for the thrifty. The offerings we make consist of Furs that were made at a time when prices were under control, and are much better values than we could procure now. All the best Furs are here. We have a big assortment from

$2.50 up to $40.00

Misses' and Children's Garments

Practically, we only have two classes of customers in this department. One class that buys immediately, and another that goes out and looks around and then comes back to purchase.

We have a great assortment of Children's Coats priced from $2.50 to $10.50.

We can't show you on paper—we can tell you all about it. You'll have to see for yourselves.

If you are a lover of good granite ware, this will interest you. We are going to dispose of our line of VOLRATH WARE at a reduction of 30 per cent. This puts one of the best wares made at a price you would pay for any make of granite ware. Every piece is guaranteed. The stock will not last long, better call today. Just ask for "The ware that wears."

The Hoyer Hardware Co.
BELLEFONTE.

KATZ & CO.