The funeral of William Waite was largely attended by friends and rela-tives of deceased. He was a good christian, a noble citizen-honest, upright and clever in all dealings. The sol boys had charge of the corpse. The following were pall bearers: Thomas Royer, James Cormau, Henry Meyer, Chas, Bierly, D. B. Weaver and Manassas Gilbert.

A new enterprise has sprung up in our city in the shape of a shampooing par-lor. The room of the cobbler, H. Gil-bert, is used for operations. The first case to operate was "Lazarus" by nick name. The method of doing the job is as follows : The patient was made to kneel down with head over bucket; then the chief operator. Herb Smull, proceeded to apply the following ingredients : 8 eggs, 1 cake tar soap and 1 pack soda; after lather was freely applied, Herb be-gan to claw and scratch like two Thomas cats with their tails tied and hung over a clothes line; after the scratching was completed, D. P. Winters, Herb's assistant, began to remove the former Millheim. ingredients by applying 14 quarts of pure cold water. During the operation Henry yelled as men never yelled, and used two words that would not look well in print. P. D. then, seeing his mistake, grabbed the tea kettle and poured the contents of a 2-gallon kettle over his head. The water was at the boiling point. Then and there the grand fracas began. Our victim made expressions that mortal man never heard; there seemed to be a volcanic eruption under his nose when he yelled. Glad to say patient is resting as easy as can be expected under the circumstances,
