THE PANTOGRAPH.

It Will Aid You in Copying Maps or Drawings.

An instrument that can be used to copy maps or drawings or to enlarge or reduce them is called the pantograph, and you can make one yourself with just a little care.

You can use four flat pieces of wood, as shown in the illustration, or four plain flat rules, which you can buy for a cent apiece. The rules are better, for they have the inches and smaller divisions already marked on them, whereas if you use the pieces of wood you will have to make those marks yourself.

The four pieces must be so fastened together at B, C, G and H that they can turn freely on each other, and all parts of the pantograph must be supported at the same distance from the table, so that the motion will be an even one. If you use ordinary screw eyes to fasten the joints G, B and H from below they will lift the pantograph to an equal level.

A lead pencil is fastened at A, and a screw eye should be put in from underneath just next to it to hold it level also. At C a steel nail is used of such a length that its point just clears the table when the pantograph rests on the screw eyes. F is fastened to a block of wood screwed on the table by means of a steel nail, on which it must move freely. It is well to shape this block like K, so that the screws that hold it to the table will not prevent the stick from moving freely on the nail at F.

If now you place a map or a picture under C and a piece of blank paper under A and then move the steel nail at C along the lines of the picture the pencil at A will draw a similar picture twice the size of the one at C. If you put the pencil at C and steel nail at A the picture drawn will be one-half the original size.

The proportions may be made different by changing the position of the joints G and H, where the pieces of wood are fastened together, but the opposite sides of the figures OG and HB must be kept equal.

You can regulate the size of the drawing by remembering that the line drawn by A will always be as much larger than that drawn by C as the line AB is larger than CH, so that if you wish to enlarge the picture or map to four times its size move the hinge halfway up to C. And since the opposite sides of the diamond must be kept equal G must also be moved halfway down to B.

If you make the pantograph carefully it will more than repay all your trouble.

Happened on Friday.

You have all heard that Friday is an "unlucky" day, and many persons have so firm a belief in the superstition that they would not on any consideration begin any work or start on a journey on that day. Here is a par-list of important historical events that happened on Friday; read it and then make up your mind whether or not the day deserves its "unlucky" reputation: The Mayflower landed; the Bastille was burned; Moscow was burned; Washington was born; America was discovered; Shakespeare was born; Lincoln was assassinated; Queen Victoria was married; the battle of Marengo was fought; Charles I. was beheaded; the battle of Waterloo was fought; Julius Caesar was assassinated; the battle of New Orleans was fought; Joan of Arc was burned at the stake; the Declaration of Independence was signed—all on Friday. Now, what do you think about the day?

Magical Increase.

Have you tried what they call magical increase?

Take a large drinking glass, conical in shape—that is, small at bottom and large at top. Put in it a quarter, half fill with water, then place a plate on top and turn quickly over so that the water may not escape.

A piece of silver as large as half a dollar will immediately appear on the plate, and somewhat higher up will be another piece of the size of a quarter.

Curious phenomenon, isn't it?

An Amusing Trick.

Here is an extremely amusing trick: Place two persons on their knees opposite to one another. Each is to kneel on one knee, with the other leg in the air. Give one of them a lighted candle, requesting him to light that of the other person. This is exceedingly difficult to do, both being poised delicately on one knee and liable to tumble on the slightest movement.

Early and Late.

Go to bed early—wake up with joy; Go to bed late—cross girl or boy.

Go to bed early—ready for play; Go to bed late—moping all day.

Go to bed early—no pains or ills; Go to bed late—doctors and pills.

Go to bed early—grow very tall; Go to bed late—stay very small.

A Doctor's Medicine

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is not a simple cough syrup. It is a strong medicine, a doctor's medicine. It cures hard cases, severe and desperate cases, chronic cases of asthma, pleurisy, bronchitis, consumption. Ask your doctor about this.

I have used a great deal of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for coughs and hard colds on the chest. It has always done me great good. It is certainly a most wonderful cough medicine. —MICHAEL J. FITZGERALD, Medford, N. J.

You will hasten recovery by taking one of Ayer's Pills at bedtime.

THIS TELLS THE STORY!

The following is an extract from a letter just received ordering our "Headache Cure":

56 Charlotte Street, Dorchester, Mass., Oct. 18, '06.

F. Post Green, Dear Sir—Your "Cure" works wonders for me. It has never failed in a single instance. I am an old chronic subject, 63 years old, and have had these terrible sick headaches ever since I was born. Tried everything for years but have found the remedy in your Waters. Have only two or three serious headaches in the year and if I have your Waters with me I always get immediate relief. Very sincerely, D. W. HOWARD.

Mr. Howard will be remembered as the leader of the Boston Ladies' Orchestra that gave a performance here a few years ago.

GROOMING COUNTS

But it cannot make a Fair Skin or a Glossy Coat.

Women with good complexions cannot be homely. Creams, lotions, washes and powders cannot make a fair skin. Every horseman knows that the satin coat of his thoroughbred comes from the animal's "self-right" condition.

Let the horse get "off his feed" and his coat turns dull. Currying, brushing and rubbing will give him a clean coat, but cannot produce the coveted smoothness and gloss of the horse's skin, which is his complexion. The ladies will see the point.

Lane's Family Medicine

Is the best preparation for ladies who desire a gentle laxative medicine that will give the body perfect cleanliness internally and the wholesomeness that produces such skins as painters love to copy.
