NOVEMBER COURT IN SESSION

A Large Number of Unimportant Cases Called

HENDERSHOT PLEADS GUILTY

To Robbing Blair's Store, Joseph's Residence—Verdicts Rendered—Other Cases Tried—Reported by S. D. Gettig, Esq.

November court convened on Monday morning at ten o'clock, with the Hon. Ellis L. Orvis on the bench. After hearing a number of motions and petitions, the grand jurors were called and sworn, and Philip D. Foster, ex-county treasurer, of State College borough, selected freeman. The constables of the several townships and boroughs made their quadrennial report and list of traverse jurors called.

The first case called was Commonwealth vs. Theodore Green, prosecutor Lewis Wallace, indicted for assault and battery. This case grows out of the trouble in the alley near the postoffice, in the borough of Bellefonte on the afternoon of June 8, 1906, when the defendant, as alleged by the Commonwealth, deliberately struck Bruce Wallace, a brother of the prosecutor, on the back of the head and again on the face with something in his hand, Mr. Wallace being unconscious and remained so for about twenty-four hours, regaining consciousness while in the hospital; and according to the Commonwealth's allegations Mr. Wallace was standing in the alley with some other gentlemen, quietly, and had done nothing to provoke this unwarranted assault. The defendant alleges that Mr. Wallace had used some ugly remarks towards him and threatened to strike him. Verdict of guilty as indicated.

Commonwealth vs. Burdine Butler, indicted for assault and battery, prosecutor Reuben Lucas. This case is from Howard and the defendant plead guilty.

In going over the list of civil cases the following cases were continued: J. G. L. Myers vs. F. H. Dale and Margaret Dale.

The next case taken up was Amos Copenhaven and J. S. McMonigle vs. J. P. Sebring, being an appeal from judgment of Vinton Beckwith, Justice of the Peace, and grows out of some lumber operations. H. G. Stover, vs. J. C. Snook, vs. C. R. Snook and Alfred Keen, being an appeal from judgment of F. P. Musser, Justice of the Peace. The defendant took exception to the records and the Court ruled that nothing could be considered in the case excepting a certain note therein referred to, the action being confined then to a note given by the defendant to H. G. Stover, subsequently paid by the plaintiff. This note had been given by the defendants to Mr. Stover at the time of his sale. When the note came due it was paid at the Millheim Bank by Ammon Snook for his father, the use plaintiff. The defendant alleging that this was an arrangement that his father, the use plaintiff, was boarding with him, and that this note was paid in payment of the board. The use plaintiff denied the contract for boarding and offered bills for provisions, etc., furnished to C. R. Snook in corroboration of his theory, but these bills were ruled out by the Court and issue confined to the question of the note, the other defendant Mr. Keen being the bail thereon, the note being for $77.45, and the board claimed by the first named defendant from the first of January, 1905 until sometime in October, 1905. Verdict on Tuesday morning in favor of the plaintiff for $89.94.

The offense in this charge occurred on the same night that the offenses charged in the two previous indictments upon which the defendants plead guilty. The defendant alleges in this case that he did not stone the house, but one of his own witnesses admitted that the defendant had thrown one stone. Verdict on Tuesday afternoon of guilty.

Willis W. Stephens charged with assault and battery; prosecutor Jared D. Sowers. Bill ignored and the prosecutor to pay the costs.

That the defendants assaulted her by bringing her from the premises and placing her in a buggy and hauling her to Winburne, a distance of three miles, while the defendants' allegations are that neither of them touched the person, that they were requested by the mother of Mrs. Levers to get a buggy and haul Mrs. Levers to Winburne, that mother and sister of Mrs. Levers put her in the buggy and she was taken to the place she desired to go to. Reeder, being an appeal from the judgment of the Justice, the case is from Bellefonte and the action is brought to recover on a book account against the defendant, the goods being up the account being sold upon the credit of the defendant and upon her contract. Robert Cole vs. George Kachik. This is also an appeal from the judgment of a Justice of the Peace. This case is from Snow Shoe Township and is on trial.

Dismantling the Works.

Men are engaged in dismantling the works of the American Axe and Tool company, better known as the axe trust located in Mann's Narrows. The best of the machinery will be shipped to other plants owned by the trust to be used in making repairs, while the balance will be turned over to the junk dealers. This was one of the oldest industries in the country, having been established by Manns in 1852 and operated successfully for more than a quarter of a century, when it was sold to the American Axe and Tool company, better known as the axe trust, and James Mann became treasurer of the company. Two years later the trust decided to close it down in the interests of other plants and it has done an indifferent business up until about five years ago when it was closed down entirely. The plant was run by water power and old-time trip hammers used. In the early years raw material was obtained from the old charcoal furnace at Greenwood, when the best axes known to the market were turned out at the Lewistown plant.

Horses and Cattle Burned.

The large barn on the farm of Lewis E. Bolapue, about one mile and a half west of Howard, was burned to the ground together with the contents. The family had just gone to bed when the fire broke out and before help arrived the building was a mass of flames, and beyond control. The entire season's crop, as well as two large horses and five hogs, were also burned to death before they could be rescued. Last week Mr. Bolapue had a large sale and he sold the farm, this year's crops and the two horses to a Mr. Williams, of Osceola Mills, who is going to move there on the 1st of April. It is stated that the loss is about $3000, partially insured.

Big Corn Crop.

J. F. Hoy, one of Bennet township's good farmers, had a corn crop worth telling of and what it cost to harvest it and the fodder.

From 13 2/3 acres he got over 1300 corn shocks, 325 piles with four shocks to the pile, averaging 6 bushels and a fraction to a pile, yielding 1,987 bushels or an average of 145 bushels and a fraction to an acre; and farmer Hoy husked 1,387 bushels himself and hauled 368 bushels off the farm. The cost of putting this crop away, corn and fodder, was $13. We would like to hear from some other farmers who know what it cost them for like work.

Arm Crushed.

George Tibbins, Tuesday forenoon received a message from Altoona to the effect that his son, Joseph E. Tibbins, who moved to that city some time ago with his family, had his arm crushed and was otherwise injured in an accident Monday.

GRANGERS PASS RESOLUTIONS

Denouncing The State Capitol Extravagance at Harrisburg

VERY FEW VOTE THAT WAY

The Difference Between Resolutions and Votes—Grangers Could Accomplish Reforms if They Only Voted as They Talk—Order Has Political Graters

Port Matilda Grange, No. 3, of this county, appointed a committee which prepared a report and resolution on the Capitol scandal, as follows:

"We understand our duty to our State and Grange is to help clear off the outrageous scandal of fraud and graft that rests on our new Capitol at Harrisburg.

"At present as the law stands it gives the Board of Public Grounds and Buildings unlimited power of expenditure of public money (at least so says Governor Pennypacker). Now if this is the case, and it is our opinion that it is so, we wish to offer these resolutions:

"Resolved, That our representatives in both houses of the Legislature be requested to repeal or amend the present law which gives the Board of Public Grounds and Buildings unlimited powers of expenditure and so word or frame a law that it will be specific as relates to things to be bought and the amounts to be expended for such purposes.

"We earnestly desire a law to be enacted that will at all times hereafter prevent three of our public servants composing the Board of Public Grounds and Buildings from having the power of purchasing unlimited amounts and paying such prices for them as they see proper.

"The School Board of any township in our State cannot expend from our State funds more than the amount of its appropriation, but by a process of reasoning employed at Harrisburg with an appropriation of a few dollars the State officials may spend millions.

"We demand an impartial and non-partisan investigation made by business men competent to judge of the materials, workmanship and methods employed from the commencement to the finish of the Capitol enterprise.

"We demand that all persons found guilty in any way defrauding the Commonwealth in this new Capitol enterprise be punished and the money or moneys be recovered if possible.

"ELLA ARDREY,
"ANTA M. GOSS,
"R. D. ANCKENY,
"Committee.

"JAS. E. GOSS, Master,
"R. D. ANCKENY, Sec'y.

We notice that numerous granges in this county are "resoluting" that the Capitol scandal should be investigated, and stolen money restored to the treasury. We know these people mean well, but if the Grangers of Pennsylvania had voted the way they now are "resoluting" Emery and Creasy would soon uproot the whole Capitol business. All the resolutions adopted by all the Granges in Pennsylvania would not have been as efficient as a vigorous governor, but the people did not want that kind of an administration. We predict that by the time Stuart and Carson get through with the $13,000,000 Capitol steel not a dollar will be recovered or a guilty thief punished; and the whole posse from Huston, the architect, down, will be white-washed all over. That is what the people voted for—they will get it. Mark our prediction.

The ballot box is the place to remedy the gross evils in this state, and bring about a more just system of taxation. These things our Grange organizations have been talking over, year in and year out, and passing resolutions that would fill volumes, but every time an election comes around they seem to stand for the Gang and the political system that has oppressed them all these years.

In this county, the Grange leaders every year seem to reserve the principal day at their Exhibition for the political Machine to hold a grand demonstration. Grangers, don't you think it is about time to do some tall thinking? You have the numbers to obtain anything you want in the form of just and equal legislation, but as long as the head of your organization appears to be in league with the Machine and receives appointments, so long will corporations grow fat while you pay the bulk of the taxes.

A Generous Gift.

The grandchildren of the late ex-Governor Andrew G. Curtin have decided on a very fitting memorial for their grandfather and grandmother. The three children of Mr. and Mrs. Sage of Ithaca, N. Y., and the two children of Mr. and Mrs. William Curtin, of Philadelphia, have contributed five hundred dollars each, while the rest of the grandchildren will also contribute according to their means, the fund to be spent in properly furnishing and equipping the operating room in the Bellefonte hospital.

All Schools to Close.

In a concerted and determined effort to stamp out the present diphtheria epidemic in Tyrone where there are at present thirty-two cases, the local school board and the board of health adopted stringent measures which, with added restraints, will effectually prohibit the congregation of children in school, Sunday school, church, place of amusement, social function, or on the streets, for at least a month. Thirty-two cases of diphtheria are now under quarantine.

A Fire on Valentine Street.

About 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon the fire alarm sounded for the West ward. On investigation the fire was located at the residence of Henry Young on Valentine street, two doors from the Bellefonte Hospital. Both Logan and Undine fire companies responded promptly and rendered valiant service. The fire caught from a spark from the chimney and in a short time the roof was a mass of flames and spread with great rapidity. There was considerable wind blowing at the time and it was feared for a while that the hospital and Edward Gross' residence were in danger. The wind however changed and the good work of the firemen prevented the further spread of the fire. Mr. and Mrs. Young succeeded in saving most of their household goods, but in doing so Mrs. Young was badly burned on the arm from the hand to the elbow. She went to the hospital and had it dressed, and is now getting along nicely. The house is owned by Mr. Gray and was insured while Mr. Young had no insurance.

Powder Mill Blows Up.

Wednesday of last week a peculiar shock was felt by many persons in Philipsburg. It was the result of the blowing up of the Clearfield Powder Mills located two miles from Clearfield, owned by Hon. James Kerr, and operated by C. W. Mills. Manly Mills and Clifford Shirey were hardly burned. The loss will reach about $30,000. This is the second time the mills have been destroyed by explosions during the past four years. The shock was felt for miles, and huge timbers from the buildings were blown half a mile. A little girl walking on the railroad tracks near the mills was struck by a piece of board and knocked down, but not badly hurt. When the mills blew up four years ago three men were killed and two badly injured.

Bar Meeting.

Thursday morning the Centre County Bar Association held a meeting in the court house in memory of the late Hon. Thomas O. Furst. It was presided over by Hon. John G. Love who made a short address, highly complimentary upon the life and character of the deceased. A suitable minute on the death of Judge Furst was read by D. F. Fortney, chairman of the committee selected to draft memorial. John D. Doris, of Huntingdon, a law partner of Judge Furst, read a minute prepared by the bar of Huntingdon county upon the death of Judge Furst. Thomas H. Murray, of Clearfield, then delivered an address on behalf of the bar of Clearfield county.

Pay For Burying Relative.

At the Centre county teachers' institute a resolution was adopted endorsing the new by-laws of the state board of education which provides that teachers may attend the funeral of a relative without the loss of salary.

The only proviso is that the deceased must be a teacher's husband, wife, daughter, father, mother, sister, brother, grand-parents, uncle, aunt, nephew or niece, and that he or she shall be excused from teaching for just one day. But there is also the restriction that the uncles, aunts, nephews and nieces must live in the same house with the teacher, if he or she is to receive the concession.

A Large Bear.

Odey Kelley and Charles Daley, of Curtin township, shot a large black bear Saturday about noon. They were out on what is known as the Walker branch on the run and were searching for deer when they suddenly came upon him. Both gentlemen shot about the same time, striking the animal in the head, when it fell to the ground. The bear was brought to Bellefonte Monday by Charles Daley and his father, John A. Daley, and for several hours was on exhibition in front of the court house. The bear dressed 280 pounds. Mr. Daley sold it to Captain Harry Simlar, of Philipsburg, for $50.

May Be Released in a Few Days.

James E. Heslin, of Lock Haven, whose pardon from the Western penitentiary was Wednesday last week recommended by the state pardon board, expects Governor Pennypacker to sign the papers releasing the young man in a few days. Heslin, it will be remembered, was charged with assaulting his father with intent to kill, and at the May term of court, Judge E. L. Orvis, of Centre county, presiding he was, after pleading guilty, given a sentence of three years which was considered by the young man's friends to be quite severe, in view of the circumstances in the case.

Light Plant Ruined.

One of the largest boilers in the power house of Clearfield Electric Light Company exploded at 8 o'clock Saturday, completely destroying the large plant of that company and also the large four-story grist mill of George W. Smith which immediately adjoined the power house. John Beyer, night engineer was in the dynamo room when the boiler blew up, and was buried in the debris, but was taken out a few minutes later only slightly bruised. The electric light company's loss will be between $75,000 and $100,000, fully insured. Smith's loss will be about $15,000.

PENNSYLVANIA DAY AT STATE COLLEGE

One of The Most Successful Events of The Year

AN IMPORTANT CHANGE MADE

Dr. Hunt Elected Dean of The Agricultural Department--Local Alumni Associations Forming--Gen. Beaver Presides.

The annual exercises in commemoration of Pennsylvania day, were held in the college auditorium in the presence of State's 600 undergraduates, nearly 100 alumni, and over 300 other visitors. Acting President Beaver was master of ceremonies.

W. B. Simpson, Representative-elect from Huntingdon county, made a splendid address on technical education in Pennsylvania, paying a high tribute to the grand work being done at Pennsylvania State College for young men. Stirring speeches were also made by State Senators Godcharles and Hulings, and by General Daugherty, of Wilkes Barre, who reviewed the cadet battalion Friday afternoon.

General Beaver announced, amid great applause, that Dr. Hunt, of Cornell university, and one of the country's foremost agricultural specialists, has been elected dean of the agricultural department at State College.

Miss Kate Cassett McKnight, of Pittsburg, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs, which convened there a month ago, gave a most interesting address concerning "The need of a more universal co-educational system in Pennsylvania." Altogether, the program was one of the best ever held there on Pennsylvania Day and when the exercises closed with a thunderous "Penn State" yell, every visitor in the audience was impressed with the enthusiasm and spirit of the sons of old Penn State.

President Beaver's reference to the interment of Signor Wilson's body in Pennsylvania soil, was a fine patriotic appeal.

As the closing event of the celebration of Pennsylvania day, State's sturdy gridiron sons won a fine 11 to 0 victory over the West Virginia university eleven. Old State's great center rush and captain, Dunn, hobbled about on the side lines on crutches, and the men in white and blue seemed inspired by this sight and played splendid football from whistle to whistle.

A New Association.

A movement is on foot all over the State to establish societies from the alumni of State College for the further advancement of that institution. A meeting of that character was held the other evening in the insurance office of John S. Gray & Son, Bellefonte. There are 10 graduates of State College in Bellefonte, nine of which were present: Geo. R. Meek, Dorsey Hunter, F. L. Cole, E. H. Meyer, J. E. Wagner, F. E. Prey, H. J. Boyle, E. S. Erb and Oscar Gray. Dorsey Hunter was chosen chairman of this meeting and Oscar Gray secretary.

As the subject had been thoroughly discussed the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, E. R. Chambers; vice president, J. D. Hunter; secretary and treasurer, G. O. Gray; executive committee, J. D. Hunter, Geo. R. Meek and Jonas E. Wagner.

Remarkable Dog.

Last Tuesday John Green, son of William Green of Ebendale, near Osceola, went hunting in the woods near there and was accompanied by a small dog. Later the dog returned to the home of the Green's and acted so strangely that the boy's father made an investigation. He followed the dog to the mountainside, a distance of about two miles, and was horrified to see the boy lying on the ground, having been shot through the stomach. The boy was still conscious and lived about a half hour after the arrival of his father. The young man stated before he died that he stepped upon a log and in attempting to keep himself from falling the gun accidentally discharged, with the above result.

Light Plant Ruined.

One of the largest boilers in the power house of Clearfield Electric Light Company exploded at 8 o'clock Saturday, completely destroying the large plant of that company and also the large four-story grist mill of George W. Smith which immediately adjoined the power house. John Beyer, night engineer was in the dynamo room when the boiler blew up, and was buried in the debris, but was taken out a few minutes later only slightly bruised. The electric light company's loss will be between $75,000 and $100,000, fully insured. Smith's loss will be about $15,000.

Governor-Elect a Bachelor.

It is said that Governor elect Edwin Stuart will not go to Harrisburg before inauguration day, next January, unless something develops requiring his presence. Mr. Stuart is a bachelor, and his sister Miss Cora Stuart, who at present has charge of his home in Philadelphia, will do the honors at the executive mansion during her brother's term of office. For the first time in over half a century the governor will be a bachelor.

Basket Ball at the Y. M. C. A.

A good sized audience attended the Basket Ball games in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Thursday evening and were treated to a very fast exhibition of the game. Lock Haven's men were much heavier than the local players, but the Bellefonte light weights outplayed and outclassed their heavier rivals in every court as the score was 40 to 12 in favor of the home team.

Bright, Sparkling Paragraphs--Selected and Original.

THANKSGIVING HYMN.

Lord of the years! To Thee we bring
The tribute of our praise,
For happy memories of the past
And hopes for coming days.

Fair bend the sunny autumn skies;
And nature, freed from toil,
With smiling eyes and generous hands
Pours out her wine and oil.

She paints her autumn sunset clouds
With tints of gold and rose;
And lends the year her brightest flowers
To crown its peaceful close.

On busy mart and harvest-field
There rests a Sabbath calm,
As in thy temple courts we lift
Our glad Thanksgiving psalm.

To Thee, O Lord! our harvest hymn
With glowing hearts we raise;
With grateful memories of the past
And hope of future days!
