-Mr. and Mrs. Steve Finnigan left Thursday afternoon for Philadelphia where they will spend this week.
-We are informed that Joseph Tressler, of Pleasant Gap, is very low from his recent illness, lasting several weeks.
-Miss Bessie Hall, of Milesburg, spent Sunday with her cousins, Misses Grace and Lucella Shook, of this place.
-Miss Elizabeth Fryberger, of Philipsburg, after spending a few days with friends in Bellefonte, returned to her home.
-County Treasurer, F. K. White, of Philipsburg, is in Bellefonte this week attending to the duties connected with his office.
-Mrs. Wallace C. Musser, of Warriorsmark, who two weeks ago underwent an operation in the Bellefonte hospital, has recovered and has been discharged.
-Mrs. Roy McCalmont, of Rochester, N. Y., arrived in Bellefonte and will spend a month at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Weaver.
-Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fenlon and Peter Collins, of Bellefonte, were attending the funeral of Mrs. Ann MacDonald who was buried at Loretto.
-The owner of a pair of rooky rubbers, left in front of these headquarters, will please come with a 2-horse team, prove property, pay for this notice, and remove the foot gear.
-W. Harrison Walker and wife returned home Thursday evening from Philadelphia. Mr. Walker was attending to legal business while Mrs. Walker was visiting friends in the city.
-W. L. Daggett, proprietor of the Bush House, who had been seriously ill for several weeks, is slightly improved and hopes are now entertained that he will be able to get around again.
-Miss Mabel Wagner, of Barnesboro, is visiting her friend, Miss Edna Meyer, of East Curtin street. Miss Wagner formerly resided at Milesburg and is a graduate of the Bellefonte High school.
-John Knisely is able to be up and around the house from his long illness with rheumatism. As a result his clothes don't fit him as of yore, being able to take up about two inches of slack at the girth.
-Friday morning opened with the first real blizzard of the season, with an inch of snow and a fullblown blast to whirl it about. Sunshine and snow blizzards had a race most of the day.
-The remains of the late Mrs. John Lint, who died in Dixon, Ill., on Nov. 29, were brought to Bellefonte last week by John Garthoff, and after the funeral services here the remains were taken to Zion where interment was made.
-The many friends of Edgar B. Vensel, who spent six months or more in Bellefonte while connected with the firm of Vensel & Garber, brokers, will be interested in the announcement that he was married to Miss Agnes Barrett, of Pittsburg.
-Just now our country cousins are in their happiest days, regarding the inner man with fresh, clean sausage, liver-wurst, ponhaus and sauerkraut, in speck. Who wouldn't be a farmer, the most independent of all classes and upon whom all others are dependent?
-The many friends of Edgar B. Vensel, who spent six months or more in Bellefonte while connected with the firm of Vensel & Garber, brokers, will be interested in the announcement that he was married to Miss Agnes Barrett, of Pittsburg.
-Lieut. Colonel H. S. Taylor went to Franklin Thursday evening where he attended the annual meeting of the National Guard Association of Pennsylvania. Friday evening the officers were entertained at dinner by Gen. Chas. Miller which proved a grand affair.
-Miss Margaret Rowlands, who was brought to Bellefonte from the school in Lewistown, from an acute attack of appendicitis, is slowly growing better. Miss Rowlands hopes to return to Lewistown for the Xmas examination, before leaving for her home in Homestead.
-Prof. Angel, the expert eye specialist of Williamsport, will be at the Brockerhoff House two days next week, from Thursday morning until Friday noon, Dec. 20th and 21st. All who will need attention to their eyes should call on the above dates and consult Prof. Angel.
-Jesse Cox, of Bellefonte, received a box of oranges from Florida that beat anything in the fruit line that ever was received in Bellefonte. They were dwarfs not bigger than a hickory nut. They were sent by William Walker, son of Eliza Walker, of Bellefonte, from Tampa.
-Mrs. Emma Baylets, of Bellefonte, is mourning the death of her mother, Mrs. Sarah A. Havlin, which occurred at her home in Altoona last week. Mrs. Havlin, who was seventy-two years of age, had been ill only a few days with pneumonia. Her husband and five children survive.
-Monday of last week while Mrs. H. Godfrey, a Polish woman, who resides in the Armor Gap, was in Bellefonte on business her child, a little over three years of age, began playing with the fire when the flames ignited with the child's clothing and it was so badly burned that it died in the Bellefonte Hospital at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day.
-Newlin Irvin, proprietor of what is known as the Ardel planing mill, has been quite ill at his home on Spring street with something like diphtheria. Sunday his case was considered quite serious, but since then he has been slowly improving. If no other complications set in there is no doubt of his recovery. Of late, Newlin has been having trouble with a boil on the side of his face which refused to heal, and now comes this double affliction which naturally sets very hard on him.

-Edward Young, of Bush's Addition, is seriously ill with the quinsy.
-"The Mummy and the Humming bird," at the opera house on Friday, December 14.
-A-341, B-676, C-193, D-89; if you have the above numbers on china tickets take them to the Yeager & Davis Shoe Store.
-Miss Marie White, of Bellefonte, left on Monday for Philadelphia where she will visit friends and do a little Christmas shopping.
-Joseph Ceaders, the Bellefonte baker and confectioner, who has been laid up with a slight attack of lumbago, is around again as usual.
-Mrs. Clark, housekeeper at the Brockerhoff House, was confined to her room several days last week with a bad cold; is able to be around again.
-Charles Davies, of Williamsport, was a visitor in Bellefonte this week. He represents a gold mining enterprise and it is certain that it will be a great winner.
-Fred Kurtz, Jr., editor of the Lewisburg Journal, and wife, spent Sunday in Bellefonte with Mr. Kurtz's parents, Fred Kurtz Sr. and wife on High Street.
-J. S. Carson's big sale on the Cameron Barnside farm east of Bellefonte, takes place next Tuesday and will attract many buyers. All good stock, fine condition.
-Bellefonters will be interested in the announcement of the engagement of Thomas Brew and Miss Ellen Roberts, both of Hazleton. Mr. Brew is the son of the late S. A. Brew, of Bellefonte.
-Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Meyer of Bellefonte are spending a few days in Philadelphia where Mr. Meyer is attending to important business. On last Sabbath Mrs. Meyer sang a solo in one of the largest churches in that city at 20th & York streets to a greatly delighted audience.
-Bruce Garman has been having a severe time with his attack of rheumatism the past week. On Sunday he felt so much improved that he got up and came down stairs by a relapse followed, and on Monday his brother, Al Garman, came down from Tyrone, to manage the place until he can be around again. At this writing he is very much improved.
-Harvey Miller of Juniata, Pa., was in town the past week to ship his household goods from here to that place, where the family will reside in the future. Several years ago he served as a policeman in our town and was a good one. Now he is employed in the railroad yards at Juniata, testing the air brakes on freight trains, and has a good position.
-"The Mummy and the Humming Bird," which will appear at the opera house on Friday, December 14 possesses the reputation of being sterling in quality, and a great Grand Army man, and of the most entertaining and interesting comedies of the day-clean, wholesome, and justifying every demand of the author.
-Morris Runkle, of Bellefonte, the very obliging clerk in C. M. Parish's pharmacy, spent Tuesday at Houserville helping Daniel Houser to butcher. We don't know what kind of a hand Morris makes with the cleaver, sausage stuffer and the butcher knife on occasions like these, but when it comes to handling a common table knife and fork he is an expert, and will do the work of two ordinary men.
-Some time ago Hiram Peterhoof, of Bellefonte, clerk in the Cattig meat market, was unfortunate enough to have his leg smashed. It never fully healed, and from time to time has been giving him considerable trouble. For the last ten days he has been confined to his home on Bishop street suffering from the same wound, although he is now feeling better and expects soon to get back to work again.
-Robert Alexander, of Lewistown, one who makes and sells medicine that will cure all your pains and aches, is again circulating around among his friends in Bellefonte and vicinity. "Bob" as he is known among the old soldiers here, is a great Grand Army man, and in his tour through the State, he has found that Post No. 95 G. A. R. of Bellefonte, to which he belongs, is one of the best, and he is always glad to get back.
-The fellow who stole Rev. Crittenden's Thanksgiving chickens didn't wait long after being informed to take them back again in such and such a time or he would be "pinched." This was a clever piece of detective work on the part of officer William Beezer, and he is to be complimented. The person who would go to Rev. Crittenden's coop and take chickens is not the best kind of a citizen, and should be taught a lesson on general principles.
-Tuesday afternoon a delightful musical recital was given by Mrs. Marie Walsh at her home on High street, which was largely attended. The numbers on the program consisted entirely of pupils of her class as follows: Martha Shoemaker, Catherine Allison, Sarah Hastings, DeSales Walsh, Majora Jackson, Madeline Rowe, Miss Henderson, Margaret Walsh, Martha Barnhart, Adelaide Rankin. The selections received skill but the young Misses were equal for it, and all were delighted with the recitations.
-Many of the stores are getting a festive air about them; indicates that the holiday season is not far off. Many attractive windows are to be seen and admired by the older people as well as the children. The Christmas spirit, therefore, is becoming more pronounced, and it is pleasing to see how the people are enjoying it. It is very pleasant to behold and feel that you are part of it. Judged from our well stocked stores there is no necessity of anyone spending one cent out of Bellefonte for Christmas gifts.
-W. F. Malin, of Bellefonte, general superintendent of the Huntington & Clearfield Telephone Co., is having a little trouble with the subscribers at Edenburg about the price of telephoning to Johnston. For a while there was no charge but under a new ruling of the company a charge of 15 cents was made. Immediately there was a howl and a kick. The Bell Telephone Co. made capital of this and offered to make the rate 5 cents. In the fierce battle that was waged Supt. Malin claims that he lost 31 subscribers and secured 39, making a net gain of eight.
-Tuesday Governor Pennypacker appointed congressman Martin Olmstead, of Harrisburg, a trustee of Pennsylvania State College. If Mr. Olmstead develops an interest in this institution he can be of great service toward making it the best and most useful in the State. He is a man of ability, wide experience and considerable influence.

RECENT DEATHS.

Mrs. MATHIAS THAL--died Tuesday morning at 5 o'clock at her home at Roopsburg. She had been in failing health for some time, suffering from a complication of diseases. The deceased, whose maiden name was Katherine Fusser, was born in Elsin Germany, and was aged 67 years and 2 months. In the fatherland she married Mathias Thal and there their oldest son was born. They came to America forty years ago and have since resided in Centre county. She is survived by her husband and the following children: Michael, Joseph, Katie wife of George Beezer, Mary, wife of Alfred Beezer, and Andrew, all of Bellefonte. She also leaves two sisters and one brother, namely: Mrs. Ann Gessner, of Coleville; Mrs. Lillie Barger, of Jeanette; Lawrence Fusser, of Kane. She was a highly respected Christian lady and a devoted member of St. John's Catholic church of Bellefonte. The funeral took place on Thursday morning, interment in the Catholic cemetery.
Mrs. DR. THOMAS VAN TRIES--died very suddenly at her home on Spring street, Saturday afternoon. She had not been well for a week or so. The cause of her death was an aneurysm. About five years ago she was married to Dr. VanTries, and since that time has resided in Bellefonte. Her maiden name was Miss Ellen Oliver, and was a woman of kindly spirit. She had been a professing Christian for nearly forty years and a member of the Presbyterian church. She is survived by her husband, and the following brothers, Andrew and John Oliver, of Graysville, and one sister, Miss Sarah Oliver, who made her home with Dr. and Mrs. VanTries. Funeral services were held from the home of her brother Andrew W. Oliver, at Graysville, Tuesday noon.
WILLIAM C. JOHNSON--After lying almost helpless for over a year as a result of a stroke of paralysis William Johnson died at the home of his daughter in Woolrich, Clinton county, Wednesday. He was 72 years and 7 months old. He is survived by two sons and six daughters, as follows: J. Ellery, of Columbus, O.; George A., of Lock Haven; Mrs. Sophia M. Brown, of Blanchard; Mrs. J. Lutz, of Williamsport; Mrs. Anna Eason, of Woolrich; Mrs. Edith Winkelman, of Nittany; Mrs. Sallie M. Williams, of Salona, and Mrs. Kate M. Johnson, of Columbus, O. The funeral was held on the previous morning, interment in the cemetery at Cedar Hill.
JOHNNY WILLIAMS--who for fourteen years had been the efficient bell boy at the Bush House, Bellefonte, is dead. He passed away Sunday morning at 1 o'clock at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson, on Penn street. He had been ill for about three weeks with consumption. He was 36 years of age, and practically a dwarf. He was a good, jovial little fellow, and had hosts of friends among the traveling men all over the State. He is survived by his parents, five brothers and two sisters. He was among the charter members of the colored Odd Fellows but some time ago withdrew. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon.
GEORGE DIEHL--died suddenly Monday morning of last week, on the Wesley Hook farm four miles west of Clyde, O. He was 35 years of age and was born and raised at Millburg, Pa., where he grew to manhood and married. He had been afflicted with boils but he did not consider his illness serious. Peritonitis set in and is given as the cause of his death. Deceased leaves a widow, but no children. He also leaves one brother in Ohio, Charles Diehl, the blacksmith, of Colby, Ohio. He also leaves a father, mother, six brothers and one sister in Pennsylvania. The funeral took place at the Reformers' church in Bellefonte.
Miss LIZZIE HARBESBERG--died at her sister's home at Marengo, Dec. 3, of pulmonary trouble. She was the third daughter of George Harshberger, of Port Matilda, and leaves, besides her father to mourn her death, the following brothers and sisters: Charles of Port Matilda; Samuel of Reedsville; George at home; Mrs. Friday, of Vale; and little Edna, who makes her home with Mrs. Johnson. Interment was made in Gatesburg cemetery. Miss Harshberger was a bright, pleasant girl, who made many friends. She had been an active member of the Lutheran church at Gatesburg.
EDWIN GILBERT ROYER--the 15 month old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Royer, of Bellefonte, died Thursday at the family home on Water, Street of pneumonia. The funeral took place Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The child's illness dated back to August, when three of their children were stricken with cholera infantum, from the result of which a little daughter died at that time. Edwin had never fully recovered from that attack, and after suffering two weeks, died as above stated. Interment in the Union cemetery, Rev. Stein of the Methodist church, officiating.
Mrs. ELIZABETH PLETCHER--of Flemington, widow of D. S. Pletcher, died on 6th, She had been ill for the past 7 months with dropsy and heart trouble. She is survived by one daughter, Miss Nancy W. Pletcher at home, and by Geo. W. of Salona, and Benjamin F. of Flemington.
OLIVER P. REARICK--late of Seymour, Missouri, died November 24th. Mr. Rearick was born in Potter township, June 13, 1834, and in 1877 moved to the West. His first wife died some years ago, but he afterward remarried. A widow and several children survive.
RANSOM MOYER JOHNSON--died at his home at Grazierville on Tuesday evening, at 9.30 after an illness of seven months, of consumption. The deceased was aged 60 years, 8 months and 21 days. He is survived by a wife, three sisters and one brother.
Miss FLORENCE SHIELDS--daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shields, died at the home of her parents near Lamar last Saturday forenoon, of typhoid fever, aged 21 years.
Bishop McCabe Ill.
Bishop Charles McCabe, who is well and favorably known in Bellefonte, Tuesday was stricken with apoplexy on the streets of New York City while on his way to take a train for home at Germantown. He was taken to the New York Hospital where he received medical attention, and the prospects are that he will recover. He lectured in Bellefonte several times, one of his subjects being "Life in Libby Prison" where he spent four months during the Civil War. He has always been one of the pillars of the Methodist Episcopal church, and in 1896 was ordained a bishop.
Harry Robb, of Pittsburg, is visiting his mother in Bellefonte.

By naming his ten children after many states, a South Carolina valley farmer has proved his patriotism. His six daughters are named Carolina, Virginia, Georgia, Florida, Jersey and Idaho, while the boys are known as Texas, Tennessee, Ohio and Missouri.
Snyder county has but one colored person within her borders. No Snyder county candidate for office ever received the vote of a colored man. "Old Black Harriet," as she is known, has resided at Selingsgrove for at least forty years. She says that Sunday was her birthday and that she is 116 years old.
An eighteen-mile stretch of railway to be constructed by the Pennsylvania company, and which will connect Bedford and Hollidaysburg, will constitute one of the expected blessings for which the residents of these two places are thankful. The prospective new line will be a link in a branch from Cumberland to Pittsburg.
The annual session of the Blair County Teachers' Institute was convened in the High school auditorium, Altoona. Among the instructors is Prof. John Jackson of the Pennsylvania State college. Prof. G. C. Butz of State college, is touring the western counties and delivering a series of scientific lectures at the Farmers' institutes.
Joe Litter, aged 19, shot and killed John Payne, a boy 19 years old, at Standley, five miles from Lehigh, Sunday. The shooting was the result of young Payne picking up and looking at a rifle belonging to Litter. Litter told the boy to lay it down or he would shoot him. Payne laughed at the threat, when Litter drew a revolver and shot him through the head killing him instantly. Litter escaped.
Farmer J. B. Strunk, of near Parvin, obtained two fine-bred calves of Holstein Freisian stock, now about three weeks old. One of the calves is a heifer and the other a bull, a grandson of the champion butter cow of the world. In color they are black and white and are as pretty as a daisy. Mr. Strunk secured the calves for breeding purposes and Clinton county farmers will not be slow to take on.
A man in Chester county was found with a deer in his possession that had been killed with buckshot, which is against the law. Weapons firing but one shot at a time must be used in hunting deer, and the man who fires buckshot into a deer is liable to a fine of $100, and the Chester county man paid his fine. There are four other cases of a similar character, and all the offenders will be arrested and fined, if guilty.
Jesse Bigelow, of Bellefonte, has recovered from the effect of an accidental shot fired on Jacks Mountain by Corry Reed. Six number five shot entered his arm and on his wrist, and a number struck him on the back of the head and inflicted a dangerous wound. There were thirty-two shot holes in his hat. That was a close call. The accident was caused by both firing at the same pheasant, Bigelow being in line with the game.
Harry Sheets, the horse thief who stole S. S. Stanley's team from Tyrone a few weeks ago, and also identified as the culprit who had stolen horses from Franklin and Lancaster counties, was taken before the court at Chambersburg on Tuesday and sentenced to five years in the Eastern penitentiary. Officers were present from Blair and Lancaster counties to serve warrants on him for similar offenses in case he was acquitted.
It is said that contrary to the expectations of hundreds of ministers the P. R. R. Co. will again issue clerical permits to ordained ministers. This announcement has been made by the company and so far as is known applies only to the lines east of Pittsburg and Erie. What action the Central Passenger association will take in this has not been made public. There was an intimation that the Pennsylvania would not issue these permits after it had reduced its fares to 25 cents a mile.
While a case in court at Hollidaysburg was being argued last week Judge Martin Bell became suddenly ill and lapsed into unconsciousness. He was carried to a counsel table and attended by Dr. H. H. Brotherton. For a while grave fears were entertained for the condition of the distinguished jurist. He finally became able to walk to his home, and is reported as getting along nicely. The Judge has many warm friends in Bellefonte who will be glad to learn his illness was not as serious as was at first anticipated.
Andrew Reeser, proprietor of the Musser House, Milesheim, transacted business in Bellefonte to-day.
