

FRANCIS SPEER'S

Breezy "That" Column

THAT some girls in Bellefonte, who go to Garman's opera house, think that they are the whole show.

THAT Paul McGarvey, of Bellefonte, is a tip-top young man; but if he is looking for light work he might get a job at the gas works.

THAT Laird Holmes, of State College, says he must be a mighty good boy who can keep a job in a rubber factory and not get bounced.

THAT when you are around purchasing a Christmas gift from "Billy" Brackbill, the Bellefonte furniture dealer, just ask him how he enjoyed the art gallery.

THAT they say that a man by the name of Timothy over in Rebersburg caught the hay fever by kissing a grass widow; but he was in clover while he was doing it.

THAT Andy Reeser, the general proprietor of the Musser House, Millheim, says that the man who sleeps with his watch under his head shouldn't mind the bed tick.

THAT when Harris Olewine, of Bellefonte, takes his best girl down to Hecla park to skate on the lake it would be better for him to have a fall-out than a fall-in.

THAT it is said that a farmer out in Spring township subscribed for the "Ram's Horn" to post himself on how to be a successful sheep raiser. We don't mean Morris Furey.

THAT when a certain young lawyer in Bellefonte was asked whether his wife took any interest in politics replied: "I should say so. She's speaking of the house. The funny part of this, is, it's true."

THAT they say that five girls of Bellefonte have formed a society to protest earnestly against "Teddies" new spelling. On the petition they sign themselves, Alyssa, Mayme, Grayce, Kathryn and Carrye.

THAT there are some fellows in Bellefonte so stingy and avaricious that should they get into Heaven by the skin of their teeth, the first thing they would do would be to dig up the gold on the streets and turn it into cash.

THAT there is a certain girl in Bellefonte who writes extremely silly letters to boys and they are having a very enjoyable time showing them to their friends. These letters are creating more amusement than a first class circus.

THAT William Rowe, Deputy Recorder of Centre county, has become fascinated over bee culture, and is totally infatuated with a queen. "Billy" wants to look a little, for some fellow might come around and give him a stinger and then he might be anything but a honey-suckle.

THAT when a young lady in Bellefonte is engaged to a young man (who is out of town) she ought to have enough of respect for the man of her choice as to not flirt with every Tom, Dick and Harry that comes along. The great trouble is she is stuck on between and flattery has turned her head.

THAT the other evening two young ladies of Bellefonte were returning home from the skating rink when one of them was overheard remarking that Maurice Jackson was the handsomest young man on skates. She added that she looked them all over and he's it. When Maurice gets those skating "duds" on he catches their eye, all right.

No Reform Spelling.

President Roosevelt's pet theory of reformed spelling received its death blow in the House of Representatives, Wednesday, when that body passed an appropriation for an increase in the pay of the public printer, "that in his work he shall conform with the orthography generally accepted in the dictionaries of the English language." The increase in the salary of this official is from $4,500 to $6,000.

A Well Known Remedy

One of the oldest, safest and most favorably known remedies in the world to-day is Brandreth's Pills—a blood purifier and laxative, being purely vegetable; they can be used by old or young with perfect safety and while other remedies require increased doses and finally cease acting altogether, with Brandreth's Pills the same dose always has the same effect no matter how long they are taken. One or two pills taken each night for a while is the best thing known for any one troubled with constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia or any trouble arising from an impure state of the blood.

$1.90 Per Tick.

The reported estimate of Henry H. Rogers that John D. Rockefeller's income from Standard Oil alone will be $60,000,000 this year has resulted in the usual computations as to Mr. Rockefeller's income per minute, etc. One of these shows that every time the clock ticks off a second $1.90 goes into Rockefeller's coffers. By the time a whole minute has elapsed he is $114 richer, and in an hour he has added $6,840 to his fortune. A day brings it up to $164,160, enough to pay the salary of the president for three years, with a little left over. The rate goes on every day in the week, Sundays and holidays. Even if the clock stops ticking the $1.90 keeps on coming in every second.

What Campaign Cost.

The statement of the Prohibition state committee for the recent campaign was filed Thursday at the state department, showing that the receipts were $16,605.65 while expenditures were $17,636.65 and there are unpaid bills amounting to $3,918.81. The statement also shows that Homer L. Castle, Prohibition nominee for governor, received $350 from the committee funds for expenses and that he was paid $250 for his services in 1905. The committee owes State Chairman McCallmont $1,875 in salary and $425 on account of cash advanced.

Many a man's wealth consists of the money he intended to save and didn't.

THAT what a difference it would make in Bellefonte if some fellows were just half as smart as they think they are.

THAT when very handsome young man goes to Madisonburg, the pretty girls down there act as if they had rubber in their necks.

THAT Claud Moore, of Howard, has been in the jewelry business long enough to know that a fellow never pawns his watch just to pass the time away.

THAT when you come to think of it Bellefonte is full of men who can be counted heroes. They saved their wives from dying old maids. Isn't that enough?

THAT John S. Walker, the Bellefonte lime manufacturer, says that it doesn't do any good to lock the stable after the horse has been stolen, unless you want to save the automobile.

THAT the difference between a camel and some fellows in Bellefonte is that the former can work seven days without drinking while the latter can drink seven days without working.

THAT when a young lady in Bellefonte asks a young man how old he thinks she is Mike Hazel says that he is justified in not giving voice to his real thoughts. He must have made a wrong guess at some time.

THAT the question was asked the other evening why fat men such as Dr. Lee, of Centre Hall, are always jolly and good-natured. We don't know but we suppose it's because it is so hard to make them mad clean through.

THAT if C. P. Long, the enterprising merchant at Spring Mills, could make a mountain of first-class timber out of a molehill he could smoke $1.00 cigars and wouldn't need to care a picayune who is treasurer of Centre county.

THAT Prof. D. O. Ethers, of State College, has been a hard student in his time and he has come to the conclusion that woman is one problem of life that science can never solve. Lots of married men have come to about the same conclusion.

THAT there are some women in Bellefonte whose reputations are so run down that they couldn't be uplifted with dynamite. They are great workers in the church, but in the final wind up the devil will get them all. This may be putting it pretty strong, but they are here all right.

THAT there is a young business man in Bellefonte who has a very perceptible bump on his head, indicating his extreme fondness for married women. He needs to have it reduced or one of these days he will take a sudden notion to go west. He is a pretty sleek article but there are people who are onto him.

THAT Jesse Cox, of Bellefonte, who runs the down town restaurant, says that some of the best sermons come largely on what kind of soup. If it's oyster soup that you have to get a microscope to see the oysters, the chances are that it will send a man to the bad instead of the good. Jesse don't serve that kind.

THAT Ralph Spigelmyer, the progressive business man of Bellefonte, says that the last thing he does before going to bed at night is to comb his hair. That startling declaration made Jim Foreman laugh, for he was puzzled "the darndest" to know where Ralph would get the hair to comb. While you are at it you might just ask Mr. Spigelmyer to perform that acrobatic stunt, that of jumping through his hands. It's a good one.

Three White Deer Shot.

Three white deer were killed in Clinton county during the season recently closed. One was killed near the coal mines on Hogland's run on Bobst Mountain. Another is reported to have been shot near Haneyville, in the Pine Creek region. The other was killed on Buck Horn Point, in the Scotchtown region, south of Farrisville. The latter deer was shot by T. C. Eason, one of a party of ten, who also killed a red deer and two bears. Mr. Eason's prize was pure white, with brown spots on its head and sides. As it followed its mother it looked like a dog. Most of the white deer shot in recent years have been found in the Snow Shoe Mountains.

A Difference.

Instead of John H. Sanderson & Co., contractors for the new capitol "trimmings," putting down carpets in the Senate and House at a cost of $18,773.75, under the "special" schedule they will be laid by the firm for $4,513.75, and the State will save at least $14,260. This is only another cut-down made by Mr. Berry last week, amounting to a handsome sum carpets alone. Perry's election is proving a great blessing to the people of the state, in unearthing the most astounding robbery ever heard of. Some one may now again say, "liar."

Re-measure The Mileage.

Many representatives will fight for legislation that will determine exact mileage of every railroad. The mileage of many railroads is less than set forth in time tables, and excess fares and freight rates are collected from the people. If his plan is carried out, an immense amount of money will be saved to the public every year.

Knows His Voice After 42 Years.

Although he had not seen him in 42 years, the civil war veteran, D. A. Geiger, of Kutztown, recognized his former comrade, Henry H. Brownmiller, by the sound of his voice, though he did not see the latter when he spoke. Brownmiller is 65 years old and lives at Schuykill Haven and paid a visit to Kutztown.

Pennsy Stops Gift Giving.

For some years it has been the practice of the employees of the Pennsylvania railroad to present their foremen with gifts on the holidays. This is regarded by the company as a wrong thing and orders were issued recently that it should be discontinued.

Finding Pearls Again.

The annual harvest of valuable pearls from oysters has commenced. Harry Miller, of South Williamsport, found one in a bivalve this week for which he has been made a cash offer by a New York dealer, to whom the pearl was sent.

You can't square yourself with God unless you pay what you owe to your fellow men.

ADOPT RESOLUTIONS.

The 1500 Grangers in DuBois in attendance upon the state meeting were given an enthusiastic reception by the citizens of the town.

Resolutions were adopted as follows: The state to assume entire cost of schools and have a seven months term, opposition to free distribution of seeds by government, general two cent fare. Express to be placed under contract of international commission favoring parcel post, county officials to be salaried and all fees retained by county, governmental telephone, prohibit hunting birds with dogs to control freight rate in state, increased road appropriation, protest against raising of newspaper postage, investigation of capital building.

HILL RE-ELECTED.

In the business session on Thursday the annual election took place and Worthy State Master W. F. Hill was re-elected. The contest was very close and fought out to a finish. About eight hundred votes were cast and Hill won over Albert M. Cornell, of Bradford county, by only twenty-four votes. S. S. Blyholder, of Armstrong county, was elected overseer; E. B. Dorsett, of Tioga lecturer; S. E. Niving, of Chester, Treat and J. T. Ailman, of Juniata, was re-elected secretary.

The one other proceeding of the day which concentrated great attention was the report of the Legislative committee, which was prepared largely under the direction of William T. Creasy, secretary of the committee. It calls attention to the adoption by the political parties in making up their platforms of many of the reforms for which the agitation originated with the Grangers. It declares for a road law that will relieve the townships much more than is provided for by the present laws and outlines legislation on that subject. It puts much stress upon an adjustment of the tax and election laws and demands that the operation of automobiles be regulated in a way that will dispose of the annoyance they are causing to the country people. Ship subsidy is denounced as a robbery and a parcels post is demanded. Postal savings institutions are also among the national issues espoused by the committee and endorsed by a vote of the convention.

Election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people was also demanded.

Officers were elected as follows: Master, W. F. Hill, Franklin; overseer, S. S. Blyholder, Armstrong; lecturer, E. B. Dorsett, Tioga; J. T. Ailman, Juniata; G. B. & Z. Ailman, Juniata; J. T. Gilford, Erie; chaplain, J. W. Johnson, Wyoming; treasurer, S. E. Niving, Chester; secretary, J. T. Ailman, Juniata; gatekeeper, Wallace Chase, Tioga; Ceres, Hannah Lyons, Chester; Flora, Carolyn Dale, Centre; Pomona, Mary Howden, McKean; member of executive committee, William Armstrong, Luzerne; finance committee, J. A. Herr, Clinton.

Fence Law Decision.

Judge Woods handed down a decision in Huntingdon county on the fence law of special interest to the farmers of that county.

Henry Parks sued three of his neighbors, all farmers, for damages for the trespassing of their cattle on his fields. The defendants claimed that the general fence law of 1889 did not repeal the special fence law of 1784, relating to the counties of Cumberland, Bedford, Huntingdon and other central counties, and therefore Parks was bound to maintain a lawful fence.

Parks' counsel denied this contention, alleged the act of 1889 repealed all special fence laws. On a case stated the Court decided in favor of the defendants. The case will be appealed to the Superior Court and if Judge Woods' decision is sustained, Huntingdon county farmers will be compelled to rebuild the fences which they have abandoned since 1889, or run the risk of their crops being damaged by stray cattle.

The special fence law of 1784, referred to above, applied to Bedford, and two or three other counties. The general fence law of this state does not require fencing to keep animals out, and makes the owners of the animals liable where they trespass on another's premises. As to Centre county there has been no interpretation of fence laws pertaining to it, but if the decision of Judge Woods stands it would seem that the portion of the county taken from Northumberland county would be subject to the special fence law of 1784, and fences would be required. In the other portions of the county, the general fence law would apparently apply.

Trains Buried Under Snowstorms.

The worst snow in years is reported by the railroads which have western extensions. The trains in western North Dakota on every line are snow bound and in some cases are lost track of. It is even reported that a complete snowed in and cannot be located. The snow in many cases is piled so high and traffic is at a standstill. Advice were received at St. Paul on 24, to the effect that some branches have not run trains for days.

For a quick mustard plaster trim the crust from a thin slice of light bread, sprinkle it thickly with ground mustard. Spread a very thin cloth over the mustard and dampen with vinegar or water. The plaster is all ready, with nothing to clean up after making it—and much better than the old sticky batter plaster. A piece of bread well dampened is better as a poultice than either flax-seed or slippery elm and will neither dry out or sour so quickly.

No man ever surprised a woman by telling her that he loved her.

Woman will do as much for love as men will do for money.

A Greasy Tale.

Some of our exchanges are bragging about the large hogs killed in their communities but they can't hold a candle to Millheim. This place has always taken the lead for heavy weight porkers and holds the belt again this year. The following is a partial list of some very heavy hogs killed this fall: Samuel Weiser, 2, 1140; W. E. Smith, 2, 950; J. C. Hosterman, 2, 741; Isaac Shawver, 2, 973; L. P. Auman, 2, 811; F. O. Hosterman, 2, 811; F. P. Royer, 2, 815; G. B. Stover, 2, 800; Ed. Fehl, (Aaronsburg) 2, 973; C. L. Gramley, (Rebersburg) 2, 973; J. W. Kerstetter, (Coburn) 3, 1411; Jacob Kerstetter, (Coburn) 3, 1560. Total weight of the 32 hogs, 14,749. Average weight, 460 pounds. A number of other persons in this vicinity killed large hogs but did not take the trouble to weigh them.—Journal.

Tonsiline Cures Sore Throat

The throat is one of the most delicate parts of the body. It is also one of the most important, and should be given the best possible care. The throat is the gateway to the body. The air we breathe, the food we eat, the liquids we drink, all pass through it. It is very easily affected by cold, strain, exposure, etc., and Sore Throat is therefore one of our most common ailments. Strangely enough, it is also one of the most neglected. Sore Throat is a very serious matter, for the whole system is in danger in consequence of it. Every Sore Throat patient is a candidate for Tonsiline, Quinsy, Diphtheria and other serious or fatal diseases, all of which can positively be prevented by the timely cure of the Sore Throat by the use of TONSILINE. If taken in time a dose or two will do it. TONSILINE is made to cure throat diseases and nothing else. It is the one remedy for this purpose sold largely in the United States. Every user endorses it; every physician, knowing its virtues, commends it. The one most important thing to remember about TONSILINE is the fact that it really does cure Sore Throat. All druggists, 25c and 50c bottles. The Tonsiline Co., Canton, Ohio.
