UNIONVILLE.

Mrs. Florence Boliard, of Pine Glenn, with her pretty little girl baby, is visiting at the home of Dr. C. A. Van Valin.

The merchantable coal oil has got to be so dense and heavy that Longer Wian was seen driving through our town recently with a horse power attached to his tank wagon.

George Barton, son of E. P. Barton, is the proud father of a roib. boy baby his first one, too; and George thinks its the only rose on the bush.

Our esteemed friend, S. K. Emerick, attended the annual banquet of the I. O. O. F. at Centre Hall, on Tuesday evening last. He is the oldest Past Grand belonging to that, and has always been in good standing in the Order and will have another guess coming, if he dont always remain so.

Rev. W. C. Robbins, the official Temperance advocate for this conference district, delivered one of the most logical and powerful sermons on that topic, I ever heard, on last Sunday, at the M. E. Church. Dr. Robbins strikes out straight from the shoulders.

J. Wilbur Smith is teaching the intermediate school in Milesburg. Miss Madge Orris, the former teacher, having resigned. We congratulate Milesburg in having secured so able and successful a teacher as our Wilbur, and we assure you, will get the worth of your money.

On last Friday night Mrs. Robert Smith took a dose of carbolic acid in mistake for medicine and, but for the timely efforts of Dr. E. A. Russell, she would have died from its deadly effects. See is now considered out of danger.

Here is a cute joke on a little granddaughter of Billy Shirk, the lawyer. She had been at church with some other members of the family, where communion services were held. When she returned her mother, seeing a frown on her pretty little face, inquired what was the cause of her gloom.

"Why mamma" she said, "The preacher had a play dinner at church and he didn't give me a bite." Poor child!

A little girl was found sticking fast in the mud on one of our prominent pavements recently. If they were made of brick, woman and children could pass over them in safety.

There now, what do you think of this little gentleman? Ain't he a little dandy? His name is Blair Irvin and is only 2 years old and bears the proud distinction of having 9 parents, all living in Union township, within the radius of five miles. Here they are—Toner Irvin, his parents; A. A. Hall and Annie Hall, his maternal grand-he's always up to some funny tricks," and she helped us to laugh at the frightened crowd. This brave little girl was Miss Nina Davis. We bade her good bye and pushed on westward till we came to the farm of John Q. Miles, my companion taking all the time like a graphophone. We turned off the road and ran in to the house to see our old friend, the ex-Treasurer, and was sorry to find him "under the weather." However, I never knew him to be so ill that he could not tell a few jolly jokes.

The next farm we struck was that of ex-Sheriff Cronister. The lane from the road to the house, was made of concrete and on each side of the road there was a nickleplated iron fence of beautiful design. The house, barn and all outbuildings looked as if had been built by Aladdin with his wonderful lamp. Everything about the premises had the appearance of thrift and prosperity. The ex-Sheriff received us most cordially and insisted that we have our auto put up and fed, and ourselves too; but I had my trip marked out for the day and I was compelled to decline his generous offer, and before I left I had the audacity to ask him how he made money enough to live in such luxury. "I should think you ought to know," he said with a merry twinkle of his eye, "I made it selling Mullien, Plantain, and Canada Thistle seed." "Aw! come off," I said.

Our next stop was at Orm. Eberts' store. My companion asked him whether he wanted to sell out. "Oh yes," he said. "What amount of business can you do here in a year?" was asked. "Well" Orm said, "If you sell on credit you could sell about $12,000.00 worth. If you sell strictly for cash I suppose you could sell at least $370.00 worth. This is not being very encouraging, we hurried on to Port Matilda. On this side, a piece of a man stopped us and asked if I had seen anything of the Tyrone train. "Yes" I said "we passed Billy Hallihan's train about a mile back. I suppose it will be along soon."

Then we stopped at Pringle's store. Pringle is all alone. Has nothing to look after except a dog and a couple of mules, but he is the same Pringle and many a good joke he told us before we left the store. Pringle, however, was soliciting subscribers to a petition to Congress praying that body to pass an act compelling all persons to send their mail in open letters and making it a criminal offence to mail a sealed letter. Also that that body issue postal cards as large as a sheet of note paper. Among those who signed the petition were Bill H. Williams, Aaron Woodring, Harry Chaney, Prof. John R. Williams, W. R. Gingerich, A. S. Price, Benner Turner, A. C. Williams, Geo. R. Williams, Scott Miles and many others. In the diamond of the town we saw a couple of men digging a post hole and we inquired what they were going to plant there and they told us they were putting up a whipping post to chastise the man who occasionally whips his wife. We did not believe any man in Port Matilda could be guilty of such a dastardly act and concluded they were guying us.

We went back to the store and while there three of the prettiest girls came in and Mr. Pringle introduced them as Misses Edith Ewens, Emma Reese and Jennie Biglow. I asked them whether they would like to take a ride on my golden automobile. "Oh! yes" they exclaimed in chorus. "We would be delighted," so I left my talking companion with Mr. Pringle, and we left for Tyrone and it just took us 40 minutes to go to that city and back. They were the most vivacious and jolly girls we ever met and I am sure that Cupid might go into many cities before he would find more desirable targets for his arrows than any one of these three young ladies would be. They all agreed that the Auto beats Billy Hallihan's train "Awfully". To make a short story, we left for home at 3.10 P. M. and arrived at Unionville, 3.45, sold my auto to Benjamin Fredericks and will take no more trips from home, but will confine myself strictly to Unionville news for education of Unionville readers should I take a trip at all it will be in a flying machine DOMINO.

POTTER TWP.

EARLESTOWN, NO. 2.

Chas. Neff has bought the unoccupied house on the Slicker farm and is moving it; but it got too soft in the fields, the traction engine could not travel, and are waiting for more frost. Charley always has an eye open for improvement.

Mrs. D. L. Bartges returned from her trip West, where she visited her daughter and son, and report having a very pleasant time.

The meeting of Progress grange was largely attended on Saturday; the officers were installed by brother W. Dale, and had a very interesting meeting; the duet sung by Misses Brown and Stroymer, was very fine.

We are sorry to hear of the illness of Mrs. Cary Bradford, and of the old gentleman, Mr. Loyers.

Christ, Edward and Roy Durst took in the music of Prof. Smith at Cloverdale. COLVER.

Ammon Bubb wife and son Charles, of Reedsville, spent Sunday at the home of Ed. Bubb.

C. B. Neff and wife, of near Centre Hall, spent Sunday at William Moyer's of Frittown.

Mrs. Francis Colyer and Mrs. Mary Long spent a day last week visiting at Wm. Bitner's, also a day at the home of John Messinger of near Tusseyville.

W. Frazier purchased a very fine manure spreader which he uses to spread lime, and it works splendidly. Foster knows when he has a good thing.

Quite a good many are ill with the gripple through this section.

PLUM GROVE.

Our mail carrier, Wm. Kelley, is on the sick list.

Mrs. Eliza Stump and daughter and Mrs. Victor Auman, all spent Thursday in Georgesvalley at the home of Philip Auman's.

Robert Lingle spent a few days with his uncle V. A. Auman.

Grandpa Schaffer spent a few days in Georgesvalley with P. A. Auman.

Miss Verna Lingle, of Tusseyville, spent a few days here with her aunt.

It seems lagrippe is all the go now, a great many of our people are laid up with it.

Our friend, R. E. Flick, met with a very serious accident last Saturday: He went out to the barn to harness his horses to take some freight to Martha; he had put the bridle on the horse when it wheeled and kicked him in the right side. His condition is quite serious.

A fellow from here goes to Bellefonte to put some sparkling paragraphs in that Breezy column; I heard a couple of fellows say around here they wouldn't be looking down the nose, they will be very likely to be looking up his nose. They make him think it is something to look into—you want to look out.

Daniel Straw was seen coming home from Wintburn; he had bad weather to buckster.

I saw a fellow taking a load of household furniture toward Martha, the other day. There is nothing like having the cage before you get the bird.

Our friend, Geo. Flick, Jr., left for Altoona last Monday, and returned home Friday; he forgot to get off at Martha, and went on through to Bellefonte.

John McDonald was a pleasant caller over this way.

Geo. Flick, Sr., is going to help Philip Straw to cut the blocks.

Dallas Cronister is busy making railroad ties.

WALKER, TWP.

KEYDERS STATION.

Miss Jennie Bennett, the school teacher, held a box social in her school room last Friday evening to raise funds for the purchasing of curtains for the school room. Miss Bennett is one of our most popular young teachers, with a determination to succeed in her work.
