

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Philip Beezer the Bellefonte butcher, is seriously ill at his home on Spring street.
Dr. and Mrs. J. Jones, of Bellefonte, are rejoicing over the arrival of a little daughter.
Mrs. George Spicer was taken to the Bellefonte hospital suffering from blood poisoning.
Up to this time the court has made no disposition of the liquor license applications.
W. H. Brocker, one of the prominent citizens of Chambersburg, was a visitor in Bellefonte Tuesday.
The employes of Crider's planing mill had a rest Monday. It was the result of the engine breaking down.
Did you see "Duch" Otto's new tobacco sign? "Well it's a peach." Talk about relief work, that takes the cake.
Samuel Rumberger one of the bookkeepers for the Ambridge Bridge Co., of Ambridge, Pa., is visiting his parents in Bellefonte.
Mr. and Mrs. Al Garman and Mrs. Hamilton Ottore are in Bellefonte called here on account of the serious illness of Bruce Garman.
Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton entertained twenty-five young ladies and gentlemen in honor of Cyrus Mattern, of Pitcairn.
During this week there have been five farm sales each day of the week in different sections. Live stock is bringing unusually large prices, especially horses.
Jennie Lose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Lose, returned home from a visit to Altoona and Lakemore where she spent Sunday with Mr. J. B. Royer and family.
Miss Edith Peters left on Saturday for Niagara Falls, where she will be employed in a large millinery establishment; her sister May has been in that city for the past two months.
Martin Dale has leased one of the Reynolds farms up near Rockview and will move there from the Armour house on or before the first of April, and during the next year will try farming.
Howard Curtin, who is now making his headquarters at the Brockertoff House, purchased a horse at George Beezer's sale last week, and the probabilities are that he expects to take life pretty easy this summer.
When the rooms over the law office of W. Harrison Walker, on High street, are completed they will be immediately occupied by Dr. Ward who is removing from Carlisle. The rooms are large, well lighted and centrally located.
The Centre Democrat does not hesitate to recommend the production at the Garman opera house, on next Wednesday evening, as worthy of patronage. The "Beauty Doctor" has had a phenomenal success and will be presented here in first class style.
Monday morning Claude Cook, of Bellefonte, while coming from his home on Curtin street to his office, slipped and fell on the pavement spraining his right wrist to the extent that his hand was badly swollen. He was put out of commission for several days from his effect.
Mrs. Catharine Humes has purchased the Ardell home on East Linn street and with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilmore will occupy it after April first. Mrs. Satterfield has bought the John L. Given house on Bishop street, now occupied by Morris Runkle, and will be her future home.
Morris Runkle, the efficient pharmacist in Parrish's drug store, will move from Bishop street to the property on Water street, known as the Foster homestead. This is one of the most delightful places to live in the town. D. Wagner Geiss will move from the Harper house on West High street, to the house on the corner of Bishop and Spring streets, recently purchased by the trustees of the Bellefonte Academy.
Thursday A. B. Frantz, representing Humphrey Co. of Kalamazoo, Mich., was in Bellefonte trying to introduce the instantaneous and automatic water heater. He is a young man of considerable business tact and ability, and those here who came in contact with him were strongly impressed with his personality and the courteous way of dealing with men. His home is in Waynesboro, Pa., and is a distant relative of Ex-County Treasurer W. L. Spear.
The Pittsburg Bulletin, one of the progressive Society Journals of the "Smoky City," last week published a halftone of William M. Faray, who recently was elected president of the "Pittsburg Underwriters Life Association." The young man who has been so highly honored, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Furey, of near Bellefonte. A number of years ago he went to Pittsburg as an office boy in Harry English's insurance office. He performed his duties so efficiently that today he is a junior member of the firm of English & Furey, and is recognized as one of that city's most progressive business men.
"St. Patrick's Day in the Morning" did not go unnoticed in Bellefonte, although there was no outward demonstration. Saturday evening the Undine Fire Co. celebrated the event in elegant style. During the evening several speeches were made appropriate to the occasion after which refreshments were served and they had a very pleasant social time. Sunday W. A. Lyon, monologist, of Bellefonte, wore a green derby that was just about a thousand sizes too small for him. It was concealed under his Sunday go-to-meeting hat, and when he tipped it to the ladies the St. Patrick hat came into full view, and even the fellow in the "straightlaced" was forced to smile.
Last week three strangers were placed in the Centre county jail by a policeman of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. The charge was stealing rides on freight trains. They were sent to jail for thirty days but Sheriff Kline began thinking what legal right had the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. to sponge off Centre county by dumping their criminals here and a day or so afterwards he let them go "scot free." In this he was right. If this big, powerful corporation wants to protect itself against the impositions of these "Weary Willie's" let it provide a place for them at its own expense, and not place them where they will be an expense and burden to the taxpayers who have nothing to gain by it.

Dr. J. Lee Woodcock, of Scranton, arrived in Bellefonte Friday.
John Waite, of Lock Haven, came up to spend Sunday with his mother at this place.
Harry Alters, one of the clerks in Joseph's store, is suffering from a felon on his hand.
Jas. E. Solt is very ill at his home on Logan street and is not able to work in his shop.
Mrs. Charles A. Dougherty, of Canton, Ohio, is a guest of Mrs. Henry Harris, on Howard street.
Miss Helen Bickford, of Lock Haven, succeeds Miss Mame McGarvey as retoucher in the Mallory photographic studio.
Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Giles, of Pittsburg, spent last week in Bellefonte at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Irvin, on Spring street.
John Smith, the hustling furniture dealer of Spring Mills, spent last Thursday in our town and circulated among his many friends.
Mrs. W. B. Dix, of Dayton, Ohio, is visiting in Bellefonte, coming here from Dallas, Texas, where she spent several weeks with her husband.
Rev. J. C. Kelley, who is well known in Bellefonte, has resigned as pastor of the Presbyterian church at Williamsburg, Blair county.
W. H. Madara, of Yeagertown, favored us with a call. He was a Spring Mills boy, and some eight years ago went to Yeagertown, where he holds a nice position in the Standard Steel Works.
Landlord Fred Moesbarger, of Altoona, came down to spend Sunday with friends in Bellefonte. His hotel in Altoona is common headquarters for Centre county people to congregate and spin yarns.
Harry Taylor returned home from Baltimore, Md., and will be assistant manager of the Bellefonte Steam Heat and Gas Works. He is a first class young man and is just the fellow to have charge of a plant of that kind.
The attraction booked for the opera house on Monday evening is pronounced a fine production; a musical comedy filled with rare effects, fine scenery and amusing incidents. It is highly recommended by manager Garman.
To the surprise of all his friends W. A. White 'is getting along very nicely at the Bellefonte hospital. It will be remembered that his home is in Howard and several weeks ago had his leg operated on in order to save his life.
Miss Charlotte Von Morozowitz, of Pittsburg, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Cassidy, on Bishop street returned home Friday. Miss Von Morozowitz is a Russian lady, and enjoys her visit here very much.
Dr. Kilpatrick, the dentist, has been playing the part of a "batch" the past few weeks while the Mrs. and children are visiting friends in Philadelphia. His loneliness is broken by occasional trips on his new auto, out through the county.
The ladies of the Bellefonte Presbyterian church will give a supper in the chapel this evening. There will be lots of good things to eat and all are invited. They will also have fancy work, aprons, etc., for sale, so take a well filled purse with you.
Wednesday night of last week Henry and Smead, a hostler at Gault's livery stable, quarrelled with his wife and then in a spirit of revenge took an overdose of laudanum. He was taken to the hospital where he recovered and discharged Friday morning.
The Nittany Valley railroad company began work on an extension out along the old turnpike which when completed will do away with the tressle near the tollgate. They will run the road on grade, connecting with the road into Nittany furnace by a switchback.
Harry Corman, who formerly resided in Benner twp. and held up travelers on the College pike for their toll, but now at Cresson, spent the past week visiting friends in this section. He now acts as inspector on the branch road that comes in to the main line at Cresson.
Mrs. A. A. Huffman, of Pleasantville, Pa., who has been ill with typhoid fever at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. Harrison Walker, on Linn street, for the last month, suffered a relapse and her condition is not as encouraging as it had been.
Miss Marie White who spent the past few months in Philadelphia where she had a good position in the offices of the Virginia Coal & Iron Co., was here over Sunday. She was on her way to Williamsport to accept a position in the law office of Hon. Seth McCormick as stenographer.
Streams that were high last week from the rains, have fallen to their normal condition. From 1 o'clock Wednesday morning, 13, to 8 a. m. there was .76 of rain, and on Thursday, 14, from 1 a. m. to 7 a. m. there was 1.01 inches of rain—total inside of 24 hours of 1.77 inches which took away large bodies of snow.
The annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Huntingdon Presbytery will be held in Clearfield March 27th and 28th and promises to be of unusual interest this year. Missionaries will be present from India, China, Syria and Corea. Mrs. M. H. Wilson, of Bellefonte, is the secretary of the society.
In order that Katz & Co's out-of-town friends shall reap the same benefit that their Bellefonte friends enjoy, they have advertised their Easter millinery opening in this week's issue. Even if you are not a lover of fine millinery you should at least hear Smith's orchestra which will be in attendance at their store on Tuesday, March 26th.
The game of basket ball in the Y. M. C. A. on Friday night between our local Y. M. C. A. team and Dickinson Seminary was a most exciting one. The largest crowd ever to witness a game was present on this occasion. The Williamsport boys didn't get to town until after 9:10 and the game came off at a late hour. The game was exciting, and the score 50 to 25 in favor of the visitors. The first game these teams played together the score was 60 to 15, so the Bellefonte team made a big gain although they were defeated.

Miss Elizabeth Gephart is visiting friends at Sewickley, Pa.
Walter Crosswhite, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting friends in town.
Col. W. Fred Reynolds is transacting business this week at Windber Pa.
Don't forget the dates of Katz & Co's Easter millinery opening, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 26th and 27th.
William Brew, of Philadelphia, spent several days in Bellefonte this week as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fenlon.
Ben Williams (colored) is again in Philadelphia receiving medical treatment. For some time past he had been in bad health.
For a fine treat and no expense, see Katz & Co's Easter millinery and hear Smith's orchestra at their store, Tuesday, March 26th.
Mrs. Percy Blackford, who has been visiting the Blackford home in Bellefonte the past week, returned to her home at Clearfield, Tuesday.
Harry Hasson, who has been a pleasant visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Howley the past week, returned to his home at Washington, D. C., Tuesday.
Lee Walker, who has been quite ill with quinsy the past week at the home of his parents, has gotten entirely well again and returned to his work at Syracuse, N. Y., Wednesday.
Miss Clara Aikens and Bess Heverly, of Bellefonte, left Tuesday evening to attend the funeral of their grandfather Perry Aikens, which took place Wednesday afternoon at Milesburg.
Don't forget the "Brixton Bargiar" in Garman's opera house tomorrow night. It is a farce drama by the "Thespian" of State College, and will be worth seeing. They will have a large house.
Tuesday George Everhart was monkeying with the buzz saw at Ardell's planing mill when he met with the misfortune of having the top of the second finger of the right hand sawed off. He will therefore rest from his labors for the next ten days or two weeks.
Ed and Theodore Haupt, of Bellefonte, have secured the contract from the borough of Millheim to put in the cement abutments for the bridge spanning Elk creek at that place. There is some question as to whether the contract will stand as no specifications were submitted by the borough.
The Bellefonte Academy and the Y. M. C. A. basketball teams are having a hot old time playing a series of games for a silver cup. Both sides want to win it, and playing the second game Tuesday night they couldn't agree on a referee and to assist any unpleasantness the game was called the score standing 6 to 4 in favor of the Academy.
A large number of Bellefonters will be interested in the announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Louise French Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lattimer Potter, of Baltimore, to Chauncey O'Neil, of Sewickley, Pa. On Wednesday, April 3rd in the First Presbyterian church, of Baltimore. In the bridal party will be Miss Daisy Potter, of Bellefonte, who left for Baltimore Monday.
The Session of the Bellefonte Presbyterian church has inaugurated a series of neighborhood prayer-meetings as a part of their preparation for the Communion Services to be held on April 7th. It is hoped to reach all the sections of the congregation during the next ten days. The first one of these meetings was to be held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Louisa Harris on Allegheny street. To-morrow evening a meeting will be held at the home of Dr. Edith Schadd on Thomas street. Other meetings will be held next week.
Dr. David Dale, one of the progressive physicians, of Bellefonte, was put in a sweat box Tuesday over that automobile that ought to have taken him down to the home of Harrison Kline's but it didn't. The machine balked on Howard street, and the sweating the doctor could do it wouldn't budge an inch. While he was trying to persuade the critter to move he saw a funeral cortege coming up the street and he ran into one of the houses, to save himself from becoming a subject of a practical joke. The trip was abandoned and the "auto" was taken to the repair shop.
For the last month an interesting membership contest has been going on in connection with the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. There has been some hustling done and thus a great many names have been added. The contest closes tonight in the Petrin Hall. From eight to nine o'clock there will be a musical program followed by the losing team eating a pot of mush. The price of admittance will be ten cents and all who go will receive the worth of their money in a good laugh. After the entertainment the winners will be given a banquet in the hall in the Y. M. C. A. building.
Calvin Evens Drowned.
Monday afternoon a sad drowning accident took place in the waters of the Bald Eagle Creek, near Lock Haven. The unfortunate young man was Calvin Evens, the 16 year old son of G. W. Evens, of that city, and a cousin of the Garman boys in Bellefonte. He with a number of students from the Normal school, got into a frail canoe and started down the creek their destination being Jersey Shore. When about three hundred yards below the Catawba bridge the canoe came in contact with a water birch tree about twenty feet from the shore. One of the boys stood up in the boat for the purpose of shoving the boat out into the stream when it overturned, slinging the boys into the turbulent waters. Young Evens being unable to swim, and the others being handicapped by having heavy clothes on, one could not help the other and thus Evens was left to perish. Two of the young men were rescued with great difficulty.
More Rural Telephones.
Centre county is among the leading counties in the State that soon will have in it a network of telephone wires. Our farmers are progressive, and they have come to realize the importance of being connected with the outside world by the telephone. Not only is the rural telephone a thing of convenience but to the farmer it's a paying proposition, and phones in farm homes have come to stay.
While it is true that the taxpayers sometimes get impatient about the cost of criminal trials the time seems to have arrived when expense should be a secondary consideration with the representatives of the law.

As in all towns, Bellefonte has in it people who believe that the only object in life should be to lay up riches that misfit into utter insignificance at the grave; that they were placed here only for a few years to do good and be helpful to others. To this end a Women's Club has been organized, and through the courtesy of Col. W. F. Reynolds over the Bellefonte Trust Co., the spacious third floor has been offered, rent free, for three months, while the Gas and Steam Heat Company and the Bellefonte Electric Co., have kindly promised free heat and light for the same period. A representative of the Centre Democrat, accompanied by Judge Ellis L. Orvis, inspected the rooms Thursday and we were surprised to find such cozy and comfortable quarters. Everything had such an attractive appearance that those going there can not help but be impressed with the plausibility of the movement. There are a number of apartments, such as a reading room where all the daily papers and monthly magazines will be found. The writing room is supplied with tables, pens, ink and stationery. The rest room is furnished nicely with rocking chairs, several lounges and on the table will be a work basket, containing thread, needles and everything necessary for girls to sit down and sew. There are curtains on the wall, and thus the surrounding is very homelike. The large spacious room which for years was the Masons' hall, is now a game room with nice tables, and a beautiful new piano. Here the young ladies can put their time in a way that cannot help but be enjoyable.
Friday night the rooms were formally opened and the little impromptu ceremony was well attended. The speaker was Rev. Edward Richerson, with whom the idea originated and who was ably assisted by a number of good women of the town. The attendance was large and encouraging. Rev. Richerson stated that the "Young Women's Club" was only an experiment for three months. If the young ladies of the town use the advantages aright, by that time it will be organized on a permanent basis. Occasionally there will be held a sociable or entertainments, as one of the pleasing features of the club. After the address light refreshments were served. The rooms will be open daily, including Sunday, from 10 o'clock in the morning to 10 o'clock at night, where all young women over 16 years of age, are cordially invited.
RECENT DEATHS.
JAMES R. ALEXANDER—another old and highly respected citizen, of practically Bellefonte, died Sunday morning at eight o'clock at his country home, just north of the borough line, after a prolonged illness from general debility. James Alexander was born near Lewistown, April 7th 1828. When quite a young man his father moved to Pennsylvania, where they followed farming. He was married in March 1857 to Mary A. Wolf, who died about 17 years ago. After the death of his father, Mr. Alexander went west on two different occasions, but concluded that Centre county was the best place to live. On his return the last time, in 1868, he bought the Simpson farm, just northwest of the town. He was a great hunter, and each season for thirty-five years, was found in the heart of the Alleghenies. For a number of years he kept a diary of each day in the year, noting the nature of the weather and what events took place. The deceased was honest in all his dealings, and possessed with a kind disposition. His age was 78 years. He is survived by one daughter and one sister. Funeral services took place Tuesday afternoon.
PERRY AIKENS—one of the oldest residents in Milesburg, died Monday morning at 8 o'clock at the home of his son, William Aikens, at that place. His death was due to a complication of diseases. His age was 77 years, 10 months and 23 days. He was a very pleasant gentleman and had hosts of friends in the neighborhood where he lived. He was a member of the Advent church and lived an honest upright life. His wife died about three years ago. He is survived by the following children: William, with whom he made his home; John J. L. Aikens, and Mrs. G. P. Heverly, of Boggs township; and G. S. Aikens, of Uniontown. The funeral, took place Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Charles F. Hall, the Baptist minister at Milesburg conducting the services.
MRS. JOSEPH F. MCKIBBEN—one of the earliest settlers of the county, died at her home at Freeport, Ill., after an illness that began about the first of February. Mrs. McKibben was a native of Cedar Springs, Clinton county, her parents being James and Isabella McKibben who afterwards went west in 1851, settling in Rock Run township, and remained there until the end. She was born on April 4, 1825, and twenty years later, at her old home, she became the wife of Mr. McKibben, himself a native of Cedar Springs. The deceased was well known down through Nittanyvalley. She is survived by eight children, all of whom live in the west. The funeral took place Monday.
JAMES K. POLK WARD—Sunday afternoon, 10th, a former Centre county soldier, died at the home of his son Harry, at Washington, Pa., of heart failure. The deceased was born in the village of Rock Springs on Feb. 2, 1844, and was the eighth son of Simon and Elizabeth Ward, pioneer settlers of the valley. When the call to arms was issued he, with six of his brothers, responded, joining Robert Foster's company. C. One hundred and Forty-eighth regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers. A widow, four sons and one brother, William, of Phillipsburg, survive. Interment was made in the Washington cemetery.
MISS MARY DUNCAN—one of the members of the well known Duncan family in Pennsylvania, died at the home of her brother Robert H. Duncan, Washington, D. C., Monday morning of last week. Her age was about sixty years. Miss Duncan was the daughter of David Duncan, deceased, of Spring Mills. The brother mentioned above survived. Interment at Spring Mills Wednesday afternoon. The body arrived immediately before the ceremony, and was accompanied by Robert H. Duncan and Wallace Duncan, the latter a nephew of the deceased.
MRS. SARAH SHANNON—died, after an illness of more than a year, at her home on Adams avenue, at Tyrone, Saturday morning, aged about 66 years. She suffered from asthma and heart trouble. Mrs. Shannon, whose maiden name was Miller, was born in Centre county, and shortly after her marriage, about fifty years ago, removed to Tyrone where she had resided ever since. On March 31, 1896 her husband, John Shannon, was killed. Interment at Bald Eagle cemetery.

MRS. SARAH PATCHEN—died Monday of last week at her home in Clearfield. Before marriage Mrs. Patchen was Miss Sarah Weaver, of this place, and will be remembered by many Bellefonters.
Every man wants a square deal but it doesn't seem as though there were enough to go around.
