Uncle Herb's niece, from Madisonburg, paid him a friendly visit over Sunday. Dorer Kachau and wife were seen at the home of H. K. Smull. Hosterman, dentist from Centre Hall, accompanied by Dr. G. S. Frank, of Millheim, spent a few happy hours in our city, filling teeth for Mrs. Mallery Mrs. Wetzel and Mrs. Smull. They fled in all directions, calling back as they ran, "have courage" (we haven't.) "It won't last long just hold still." Chas. ran up on the pigeon loft, crept behind a hoghead filled with corn, while Herb laid down along the run—the roaring of the waters killed all the noise. Promptly at 6 o'clock p. m. both heroes crept from their hiding places, each saying, why that did not last long—it did not hurt one bit. PHYSICIANS DISAGREE.

Different Opinions on Cooper's Remarkable Success Held by Cincinnati Medical Men.

Cincinnati, O. March 21.—The astonishing sale of Cooper's preparations in this city has now reached such immense figures that the medical fraternity at large have become forced into open discussion of the man and his preparations. The physicians as a whole seem to be divided with regard to the young man's success in Cincinnati—some being willing to credit him for what he has accomplished, while others assert that the interest he has aroused is but a passing fad which cannot last, and which will die out as quickly as it has sprung up. The opinion of these two factions is very well voiced in the statements made recently by two of a number of physicians who were interviewed on the subject. Dr. J. E. Carass when questioned about the matter said: "I have not been a believer in proprietary preparations heretofore nor can I say that I believe in them at present. But I must admit that some of the facts recently brought to my notice concerning this man Cooper, has gone far towards removing the prejudice I had formed against him when the unheard of demand for the preparations first sprang up in this city. Numbers of my patients whom I have treated for chronic liver, kidney and stomach troubles have met me after taking Cooper's remedy and have stated positively that he has accomplished wonderful results for them. I notice particularly in case of stomach trouble that the man has relieved several cases of years standing that proved very obstinate in treatment." "I am the last man on earth to stand in the way of anything that may prove for the public good simply through professional prejudice, and I am inclined to give Cooper and his preparations credit as deserving to some extent the popular demonstration that has been accorded them in this city." "Another well known physician who was seen took the opposite view of the 'Cooper-mania,' as he called it which now has this city in its grip. He said: "I can only liken the present state of affairs to a certain kind of hallucination. For want of a better name I might call it 'Cooper-mania.' The people of Cincinnati seem to be firm in the belief that this man Cooper has health corked up in a bottle." "Some of them imagine that he has completely cured them of various ills judging from their statement. It is beyond me as to why the city has gone crazy over the man. It may be safely put down, I think, to one of the passing fads that so often attack the American public." "Sooner or later the people are bound to regain their senses and will then realize the reputable physician is the one to whom their health may best be entrusted." In the meantime Cooper meets several thousand people daily, and only smiles when statements of the above character are quoted to him. His charitable work still continues to be very extensive.
