COBURN.

By way of correcting a few errors in our items last week, T. A. Meyer is elected supt. of the Reformed Sunday school, and O. J. Auman moved on the Foster farm vacated by Bressler, while B. W. Wingard went on the Harter farm which Auman left.

C. F. Corman, wife and little son, Paul, who have been visiting relatives here, returned to their home this week.

Mrs. Catharine Hoover, an aged lady who lived about two miles west of Coburn, died on Thursday from the result of a rupture; she was buried at Paradise a day or two later, while the funeral services were conducted on Sunday morning by Rev. C. F. Garret. She was a noble christian woman, a kind mother, and a most excellent neighbor. Five sons survive her viz: Harvey, John, Elmer, William and Perry.

Mrs. N. F. Braucht, and sons Paul and Arthur, of Dewart, visited here several days ago.

Miss Marion Kerstetter and Esta Rishel spent Sunday with Miss Mabel Vonada.

L. L. Weaver and family, of Pine Creek, spent Sunday with Emanuel Kerstetter's, and T. B. Everett and wife of Madisonburg, visited at A. B. Meyer's.

During a few weeks' absence of ticket agent G. W. Radel, this station was in charge of C. F. Kerstetter.

Miss Mamie West, of West Brushvalley, is at present making her home with her aunt.

Now for a few weddings—A matrimonial fever seems to have broken out in our community, which has attacked bachelors and old maids, as well as some who are yet in their early teens. The parties first affected in a fortnight are, Alfred C. Auman, son of J. Auman and Miss Sadie M. Wingard, daughter of B. W. Wingard; on Sunday Mar. 31 they proceeded to the parsonage at Millheim and were united in marriage by Rev. C. F. Garret. Not far from the homes of this happy couple live W. V. Gentzel and Miss Lizzie Braucht, who have for about twenty years lived in a sort of double singleness, but this fever attacked them to such an extent that on Tuesday afternoon, April 2, they called the Rev. B. R. M. Sheeder to their home, who spoke the uniting words, and now Billy is happier than ever and thinks it was a cheap but good way to pay his maid and housekeeper. On Tuesday evening Rev. C. F. Garret went to Woodward and there united in marriage Clayton P. Sheesley and Miss Bessie A. Long, of Millheim. But the fever still raged at the once famous Georgetown, and Saturday evening Harry Wingard and Miss Mabel Lingle went to the parsonage at Millheim, where Rev. C. F. Garret pronounced them man and wife. Now the thing spread to Frogtown, and Harry A. Keen and Miss Mabel Corman appeared at the parsonage on Sunday evening and Rev. Garret spoke the uniting words again. Even Brushvalley was not exempt from it—for Monday Clarence C. Brungart of Wolfs Store, and Lulu Mowery of Rebersburg, proceeded to the parsonage at Millheim, and Rev. Garret by force of habit, did the same thing again. We wish to all these couples a long and prosperous life together.

Mrs. William Yearick and children, from Nittany, put in a few days at T. A. Yearick's last week.

In the midst of a young and prosperous life, Sarah Ellen, wife of Agnew Limbert, was called to rest Friday morning at 8 o'clock. A week prior to death a child was born to her and from that time her physician looked on her illness as fatal, and the only consolation to her friends was, that where there was life there was hope. Wednesday of last week she grew worse, and kept growing weaker, until the final summons came. The end was calm and without a struggle; she passed into the great beyond to receive her eternal reward. It was sad from the fact that she was just in the vigor of young womanhood. She was a hearty young woman, and had a host of warm, genial friends. The deceased leaves to mourn her loss, a husband, one child, father, and the following brothers and sisters: Willie and Nannie Phillips, of Ohio; Cleon, Mrs. L. H. Duck, Elmer, Clarence, Earl, Nelson, Bessie, Maggie and Bertha. The funeral took place Monday morning and the interment was made in the Reformed cemetery at Madisonburg. She was 21 years of age, and is greatly missed by all who knew her.

Our Grammar school, so successfully taught by Prof. J. S. Fox, of Mill Hill, will close on Friday next. Alice Beck's school will not close for several weeks yet, as she had a serious spell of sickness during which time her school was closed.

27 years ago, T. E. Griest planted a specious of Locust, a mere switch, in front of his porch intending it for a future shade tree. It grew very rapidly but in the last two years it began to decline and finally died. The stump at the ground measured about 16 inches. A few days ago "Bud" had the trunk cut into two logs, and will have them sawed into boards with which he intends to have some article of furniture made, which shall be an heirloom in the family and as a souvenir of the old familiar Locust, which he planted with his own little hands.

Jno. T. Patton, of Warriorsmark, has just closed a deal with the Altoona Sand and Iron Ore company, by which the company leased for a term of years a valuable tract of land near Warriorsmark belonging to the Patton heirs, it contains valuable deposits of sand, limestone and iron ore. The company will start at once to put in machinery to crush the stone, and wash and dry the ore. The shipment of sand will begin at once.

OVER THE COUNTY.

James Heverly, of Howard, is again seriously ill with dropsy.

Mrs. Frank Mixler who has been visiting her sister Miss Bradley, at State College, left for Atlantic City Friday morning.

Prof. J. P. Smithgall, principal of the Centre Hall public schools, will open a private school in Millheim within a short time.

W. R. Gardner, of Howard, has his new brick house about completed. It is one of the finest houses in that place, and when he gets through it will make a beautiful home.

Wednesday evening, April 3, about thirty of the young friends of Cincera Yearick met at his home above Jackson-ville, and gave him a genuine surprise in honor of his 21 birthday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lingle, who had been very seriously ill during the past winter, has fully recovered. While ill she was at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Q. Kennedy, west of Centre Hall.

Among the farmers moving out of Pennsylvania is James Durst, who moves from the McCoy farm at Pottery Mills to the William Kyle farm, west of Reedsville. The farm he will occupy is quite large and productive.

Mrs. William Scantling, of Blanchard, has been ill with a complication of diseases for sometime; her daughter Mrs. A. L. Davidson, of Wilmington, Delaware, is nursing her during her illness; at present she is convalescing.

Rev. J. M. Rearick, pastor of the Lutheran church at Centre Hall, announced that he might not remain there long as he was physically unable to perform the pastoral duties on so large a charge.

Joshua R. Pheasant, who lived on the Bower farm, one mile east of Mt. Eagle, recently purchased the E. T. Hicklen homestead in the village of Mt. Eagle, to which place he expects to live a retired life. The sum paid for the property was $600.

The spring term of the Millheim school will begin on April 15. The higher classes will be in charge of Prof. C. R. Neff, assisted by Prof. Smithgall, of Montoursville, while the primary and intermediate grades will be in charge of M. C. Haines.

Captain Irvin, of Bellefonte, and a corps of the Salvation Army conducted open air services on the streets of Lock Haven Friday and Saturday evening.

The lassies sang, played musical instruments, while the vocal music which what God has done for them. They were given a hearty welcome.

Joel Strubie, of Zion, who has been confined to his bed for the past three years with nervous trouble, has not been able as yet to secure relief from his affliction. He has purchased a lot in the village of Zion upon which he intends erecting a brick residence during the summer and which he expects to occupy next fall.

Huckster Kerlin, of Centre Hall, has one of the largest henneries in the county. His henhouse is large and arranged for the comfort of his feathered tribe. He employs a number of broodens and these yield a goodly crop of peeps right along. His stock of grown chickens runs well in the hundreds, and present a lively scene in the yard, or large field for their purpose of promenade and scratch.

One of the most progressive business men in Centre county is W. J. Weiser, of Port Matilda. He has a regular John Wannamaker department store up there where you can get anything most from a good piece of beefsteak to the complete furnishing of a house. He and his son are running a meat market, furniture store and grocery store combined, and they are making a success of it. They are in a thriving community and are selling lots of goods.

A musical will be given in the Methodist church at Howard, on Saturday evening, April 20th, for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital. In instrumental music there will be piano, violin, cornet and clarinet, while the vocal music will include quartets, solos, duets and choruses. There will also be recitations and select readings. The admission will be but 10 and 15 cents and everybody is invited to attend and help swell the receipts for the hospital.

The Pennsylvania Ministerial Association met at the home of Rev. Daniel Gress in Centre Hall, last week. Rev. Black, of Boalsburg, Rev. McClain, of Spring Mills, and Revs. Schuyler, Rearick and Boal, of Centre Hall, were in attendance. A paper prepared and read by Rev. J. M. Rearick on "The Abrahamic Covenant" was a splendid production and was greatly enjoyed by the others present. Sermon outlines were given by the others present. The next meeting of the association will be held at the home of Dr. Boal.

Sometime ago "Billy" Stuart, son of postmaster J. W. Stuart, of State College, took "Greely's" advice to go west and grow up with the country. On March 17th he drilled in his No. 6 well on his leased land near Skiatook, Oklahoma, and it proved to be a seven hundred barrel natural. He is now drilling his No. 7 and has his derrick and rigging up for No. 8. At this rate he bids fair to become a rival of the Standard Oil company. Billy has the sand and grit. He, some day, will come home with his pockets lined with gold.

On Tuesday evening of last week, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, wife of Henry Brown, of Millheim, met with a terrible accident. She was at the home of her son, Charles Brown, on West Main St., and started to the cellar carrying some household utensils. As she descended the steps leading into the cellar one of the steps broke, precipitating her to the bottom. She fell on her head and arms, breaking her nose and her two wrists. Dr. John Hardenbaugh was summoned to attend her, and with the assistance of Dr. C. S. Musser, who was also called in, the fractures of the arms and nose were reduced.

David P. Funk, of Altoona, a veteran employe of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., has just been placed on the retired list. Mr. Funk was a native of Centre county, though his parents moved to Blair county when he was a boy. After he grew to manhood he followed carpentering until the breaking out of the Civil war when he enlisted and served for three years. After his discharge he returned to Centre county and worked at the wagonmaker's trade until 1881, when he went to Altoona and entered the employ of the Pennsylvania railroad company. For the past fifteen years or more he has been connected with the outside repair gang and was considered one of the best workmen in the company's employ. His home is in Juniata.

Clarence L. Peasly, Esq., of Williamsport, has been engaged to deliver the Memorial address at Millheim the coming Decoration Day.

Mr. A. G. Archey took his wife to Pine Grove Mills Thursday and now they are cozily ensconced in the new home he recently purchased.

While working in the foundry Andy Moyer had the misfortune to badly burn the back of one of his hands. The accident occurred while he was pouring molten metal.

Saturday Mr. and Mrs. David Meyers, of Centre Hall, returned from the South after an absence of several months. They were both greatly improved physically, although we are sorry to state that Mr. Meyers was not entirely relieved of his rheumatism from which he has been a sufferer for years.

The Millheim borough council relet the abutments for the bridge in that town to Haupt Brothers, Bellefonte, for $435, the same sum named in a previous bid. There was some dissatisfaction among bidders the first time the contract was let, and the second letting was held to give all a square deal.

The Monarch Coal company's new shaft near Philipsburg is down about 80 feet. While the principal aim of the company is to reach the B vein, at a depth of about 135 feet, it was gratifying a few days ago to strike the C vein at a depth of about 75 feet, which shows up a fine quality of coal measuring 3 1/2 feet in thickness.

POTTER TWP.

The farmers are busy plowing. Miss Mae Bartges went to Millheim to spend the summer with her grandpa and grandma Moyer.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Durst is on the sick list.

Miss Bessie Ream was out calling on Sunday.

Progress grange had quite an interesting meeting on Saturday afternoon.

Bellefonte Trust Company.

The Bellefonte Trust Company

WILL SUPPLY

every person who becomes a depositor to the amount of One Dollar or more with a handsome and serviceable

HOME DEPOSIT SAFE

like the above illustration. This Safe is to be used at your home, and is loaned you

WITHOUT CHARGE

Take the Safe home, and from day to day place in it any surplus money or spare change you wish to save.

It is securely locked and the key is held by the Bellefonte Trust Company, thus removing the very usual "temptation to spend."

At certain intervals when an accumulation has resulted, at least once in every sixty days, bring your Safe to the Bellefonte Trust Company, your money will then be removed, counted in your presence, and entered to your credit on the pass book.

Your deposits will earn interest at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum.

This plan as briefly outlined above, is within the reach of everyone. You know many people who want to start a bank account, but are waiting until they get enough to make it "worth while." These people never reach that point. If you want to succeed make a start in the right direction, and don't put it off. DO IT TO-DAY.

Money at interest makes a good servant—it works Sundays and Holidays, and twenty-four hours each day.

ADJOINING COUNTIES

Contractor Jacobs, of Philadelphia, has started to build a state road between the borough of Mill Hall and the Flemington bridge. In a week or two a large number of men will be employed.

Last week some one's dog ran a nice buck deer into Kemries field, near Carroll, Clinton county, and while trying to jump over a wire fence the deer got his hind leg fast in the wires and unable him to go any further, so he was killed by the dogs. Whose dogs they were is yet a mystery.

Engineers have begun the survey for an extension of the New Berlin and Winfield railroad to Centreville, Snyder county, a distance of twenty miles from Winfield. It wouldn't be far from Sennettville up to Barkers at Ingleby, thence to Coburn. Doc Barker would give the right-of-way, sure.

The Huntingdon Globe claims for Huntingdon county the oldest auctioneer in the world. He is Joseph H. Waite of Warriorsmark. His age is 87, and when his son called to visit him last Saturday he was advised that the old gentleman was several miles from home, crying an auction sale.

Clinton county game wardens will have a score to settle with the owners of dogs who are chasing deer out of season. Dogs are chasing deer in the Farrisville and Queen's Run district. Monday a deer was chased to the river at Farrisville, and on Tuesday another was brought to the river at Queen's Run.

Through the enterprising efforts of O. S. Rumbarger, the postmaster at Warriorsmark, that office was changed April 1, 1907 from fourth class to third class, thus giving the office mail facilities equal to that of any village throughout the country. When Mr. Rumbarger took charge of this office some nine years ago it was very small, but now it has grown to be twice as large in amount of business transacted.

Public sales, this year, in adjoining counties, were favored with good prices for live stock, same as in Centre county. The Tyrone Herald says: John Everhart, of Franklin township, who made sale of a lot of surplus stock some days ago, received good prices. Four horses brought $890, one of them selling for $249. The cows averaged $44. Mr. Everhart realized $680 on his hogs and his sale aggregated $906. Seven horses, nine head of cattle and six brood sows were not put up for sale. Had these been disposed of, the sale would have amounted to about $4500.

A Great Methodist Church Dedication.

On Sunday, April 21, the new stone Methodist church, of the First charge, in Altoona, will be dedicated by Bishops D. H. Moore and E. G. Andrews. Former pastors will participate. This large structure, seating 1,600 has been almost two years in construction, and is one of the most imposing buildings to be seen in the central part of the state. It has already been called by Bishop Berry, the "Cathedral of Methodism." The interior is rich and grand in its simplicity and harmony. Display has been avoided. The cost, $75,000, is so low as to make it almost a dream. With $50,000 raised and paid, the dedicatory fund, $25,000, must be provided. Full preparations are making for this occasion. The dedication will be followed by a week's services, closing the feast of dedication with Sunday, April 23.
