

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Lester Shaffer, of Milroy, spent Sunday in town. William Johnson, of Tyrone, spent Sunday in Bellefonte. Col. and Mrs. J. L. Spangler are visiting friends in Philadelphia. Mrs. Blanch McClincy, of Runville, gave our sanctuary a pleasant call. Mrs. William Wolf and son are in Altoona, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gigler. Miss Louise Garman, of Atlantic City, is visiting Mrs. Al. Garman in this place. Clarence Achenbach and wife, of Clearfield, spent part of Sunday in this place. Supt. Samuel Ryan spent Sunday in Altoona with his daughter, Mrs. Jack Norris. Rev. Jay Woodcock, of Philadelphia, has been visiting in Bellefonte and Lemont. Mrs. Charles Moerschbarger and daughter, Mary, are visiting friends at Freeland, Pa. Mrs. William B. Broughton, of Philadelphia, is visiting friends in Bellefonte and vicinity. Miss Millicent Prince, of Crafton, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Donald Potter, on Allegheny street. Carl Lindahl, who had been visiting the Bartlett home the past week, returned to his home at Altoona. Mrs. Frank Otto and Mrs. Ella Otto, of Johnstown, attended the funeral of the late Harry Hazel on Sunday. Miss Lilly Smith left Monday for Williamsport where she has accepted a position in a large office in that city. Mr. Mrs. Smith, of Buffalo, N. Y., are guests of Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Showers, on Bishop street. Miss Mona Struble left Monday for Johnsonburg and Olean, N. Y., where she will visit friends for several weeks. Macolm Heine, after a pleasant visit with his family in Bellefonte, returned Sunday to his work in Rochester, N. Y. Miss Nell M. Conly left Tuesday for Birmingham where she will take a course at the Ladies' Seminary at that place. Mr. Runser and Mrs. Dr. John Twitmyer, of Sharpsville, left Monday morning, after visiting friends in Bellefonte for a week. Miss Jane Hafer is teaching school at Peru. The teacher who began the term took sick and Miss Hafer was appointed in his place. Samuel King, one of Marion township's most substantial citizens, was a Bellefonte visitor Monday. Sam is always a welcome visitor to our town. Friday evening, Rev. A. M. Schmidt will tell of his visit to Lucerne, Zurich, Heidelberg and his sail down the Rhine. The hour is 7:30 instead of 8 o'clock. Dr. Charles Clark, at one time a clerk in Zeller's drug store, but who is now practicing medicine in Louisiana, was a visitor in Bellefonte, Monday. This week's "Domino," our Unionville correspondent, gives variety to his writings by delving in chicanery, on which he has made some original observations. D. I. Willard, the energetic proprietor of the Willard Way, left Tuesday for Philadelphia and New York City where he will purchase his holiday and winter stock. Chaplain J. Victor Royer, of Bakerston, Pa., was an arrival in Bellefonte, Tuesday. He became a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Faxon, on High street. Mrs. E. W. Parrish, of Warren, and Mrs. Edwin Pitchford, of Bradford, who have been in Bellefonte since the funeral of the late Mrs. W. Harrison Walker, left for their homes on Monday. Charles McCurdy left Tuesday for Atlantic City where he will attend the American Bankers Association Convention at that place this week. Wm. P. Humes is also in attendance. The many friends of Mrs. William Hunsinger, who was operated on at the Bellefonte hospital Tuesday morning, will be pleased to know that she is getting along as well as can be expected. Miss Byrd Stover and Miss Emerick, of Rebersburg, were guests in Bellefonte, Friday, of Miss Mary McQuistan. They were on their way home from Lock Haven where they attended a missionary convention. Last Saturday evening there was an open air meeting by the Free Methodists held by some half dozen ministers of that denomination, accompanied by their wives. A large crowd soon gathered and held out for an hour until the preaching and singing closed—the latter functions were filled by the ministers and their wives. The Free Methodists are holding a conference at Unionville this week. Their meeting last Saturday evening was held on the diamond, close to the 1st Nat. Bank. Harry Green, who for years had faithfully stood behind the prescription counter in his father's drug store, left Sunday for an extended trip up through New York and the New England states. He will probably go from New York to Boston by boat which is a most delightful trip. Harry is one of the boys who sticks carefully to business, seldom taking a vacation, thus the present little jaunt will be of unestimable value to him. He is a careful and thorough pharmacist, and his pleasing and courteous manner in the store will be missed. His father, P. P. Green, and Charles Taylor will run the establishment until Harry's return. Mr. and Mrs. George Boal, of Washington, D. C., are visitors at the Longwell residence on Spring street. Mr. Boal was once a student of law in Bellefonte and he has many pleasant recollections of that period of his life. There were four or five young fellows around here then, all of whom thought they would some day be sent to congress to occupy a place on the Supreme Court bench. This little crowd of blackstones has been scattered, as it were, to four corners of the earth, some of them occupying excellent positions, such as Mr. Boal at Washington. Mrs. Boal, then Miss Jennie Gierret, was for years one of the efficient instructors in the Bellefonte Academy. They manage to get back to Bellefonte about once a year and their friends are always glad to see them.

Ross Hickok, of Harrisburg, spent Sunday at the Hastings mansion. The Episcopal congregation will occupy their new chapel in the near future. Miss Helen Hosterman, of Centre Hall, was a recent visitor among friends in Bellefonte. Miss Blanche Underwood spent Sunday at Renova with her brother Irvin and his wife. Blaine McCormick, one of Altoona's prominent citizens, and an excruciatingly transacted business in town, on Tuesday. Fred Montgomery, the careful and efficient clerk in the Howard Creamery store, spent Sunday in Tyrone with friends. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Irvin returned Saturday from Tyrone where they had been visiting in the family of Squire John Irvin. Miss Louise Armor, stenographer for the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, is spending her vacation at Atlantic City and Cape May. Ward Fleming, who is a student in the law department of the University of Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia, came to Bellefonte Saturday on a short vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fry and Mrs. S. A. Young left Sunday to attend the funeral of their cousin, Thomas Gates, a member of the 143 P. V. L. at Mapleton, Huntingdon Co. Arthur Kimpfort is looked upon as an almost sure winner in the campaign for Prothonotary. He is making a strong fight and receiving assurances of support in all quarters. Edward D. Ruth, wife and three children, of Lancaster, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Herr on High street. Mr. Ruth is superintendent of the electric light plant at Lancaster. Mrs. William Tate and daughter, Miss Lulu Marclay, Mrs. Arvilla Heaton, Miss Sarah Waite, Darius Waite and Mrs. W. H. Spangler, attended the United Brethren church at Clearfield. Mrs. William Dawson is lying in a critical condition at her home on Willowbank street. The attending physician gives the friends and family very little encouragement as to her recovery. During the absence of Harry Green, his place in Green's drug store will be filled by Dr. F. Crawford, of Williamsport. He is a graduate and registered pharmacist, and a very careful druggist. George Watson, who had been working in the P. R. R. yard in Bellefonte, has been transferred to one of the crews on the Bald Eagle Valley. He has also been promoted from brakeman to flagman. Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Thomas left Saturday for Georgia where they expect to spend a greater part of the winter. They are very pleasant people and their departure from our town is regretted by their friends. William P. Humes left Saturday afternoon for New York where he was met by Col. Coburn who had arrived there Saturday night from Allentown. They had business of importance to transact in the great metropolis. Miss Little, of Altoona, is a guest of Miss Violet Irvin, on Willowbank street. She is the champion lady skater of Bell County. She was at the rink Saturday evening with some friends and her work on the rollers was much admired. Hon. John A. Daley was in Bellefonte this week attending court and distributing the premium list of the Centre County Fair. Mr. Daley is a hustler and is doing all in his power toward making the coming fair a go and noted success. H. G. Royer, now living at Johnstown, passed through here for a week's visit with friends in Miles township, where he formerly resided. He is a traveling salesman for the National Harvester company selling particularly the McCormick implements. All the Bellefonte horses entered at the Hughesville fair last week walked away with some of the prizes. Tom Taligan, George Beezer's last horse won second money in the 2 1/2 class. This horse will be entered at the Bellefonte Fair and he will be a winner. Charley Keckline returned Sunday evening from an extended visit to Philadelphia and Atlantic City. He reports having had a splendid time. The young man who goes to the seashore and hasn't a good time is no earthly good. We will guarantee that Charles saw the sights, all right. Edward Brown, Jr., left on Saturday afternoon for New Haven, Conn., where he has accepted the position as a timekeeper for a large manufacturing concern. He is a bright young man and it is to be hoped he will get along in elegant shape. This is his first experience in working away from home. Business must be booming at the grocery store of R. S. Brouse as he has placed on the road a neat and handsome delivery wagon; we are glad to see his prosperity as the time is almost at hand when "Billy" may change the tenor of living and then two families instead of one will reap the profits of the progressive business. Miss May and Olive Barry, of Hartleton, Union county, spent from Friday to Tuesday in Bellefonte as guests of their brother, Rev. F. W. Barry, pastor of the Lutheran church. They were on their way home from Lock Haven where they attended the annual meeting of the missionary society connected with the Lutheran church. They stopped to see how Rev. Barry was getting along and they found him able to eat three good meals a day and well liked by his people to whom he brings the Gospel message weekly. The other day W. A. Moore, president of the Nittany Iron Co., was coming from the furnace yard on the pike when his Ford runabout took a notion to perform some strange antics. The steering apparatus refused to work and in less than a second Mr. Moore found himself on the pike with the machine on top of him. It was done so quickly that the occupant had no time to think until after everything was over and then it was a little late. Mr. Moore crawled out from under the machine thankful he was still in the land of the living with no visible sign of his physique being marred.

Cyrus Solt spent Sunday with friends in Altoona. Mrs. Sarah E. Etters, of Lemont was a pleasant caller this week. Miss Alice Ishler returned from a three week's pleasant visit to Cleveland, Ohio. Harvey McClure, of Lewistown, spent Sunday with his parents in Bellefonte. Mr. and Mrs. George Richards left Saturday evening for their home at Brad's dock, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Heverly, of Duncansville, spent Sunday with friends in Bellefonte. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith, of State College, spent Sunday with friends in Bellefonte. Mrs. Jane Harper, of Centre Hall, mother of J. C. Harper, of Bellefonte, who has been in feeble health, is much better. Miss Emma Waite, one of the efficient operators in the Bell Telephone Exchange, spent Sunday in Tyrone where she had a pleasant time. Dr. H. M. Hiller has decided to locate in Chestnut where he will practice his profession. He is a good fellow and there is no question about his success. Grant Hoover, the insurance man, was up from Williamsport, this week looking after business affairs. He is hustling along at a lively pace in his line. Col. and Mrs. James Coburn, of Bellefonte, attended the large and popular fair held at Allentown recently. They were very much pleased with their trip. The passenger trains from Lewisburg to Bellefonte for the last two weeks have been behind time, from half to one and a half hours. What the dickens is the matter? David J. Kelley, of Bellefonte, one of the superintendents of the American Lime & Stone Co., who had been on the sick list for a few days, is out again attending to business. Frank Clemson, of near Waddle, transacted business in Bellefonte on Friday. He has one of the finest country homes to be found in this part of the state and he is thoroughly enjoying it. Conductor Harry Winton returned home Saturday from Washington, D. C., and the Jamestown Exposition. He stopped off at the Allentown Fair, but says there was nothing doing on account of the rain. He was well pleased with his southern trip. Joseph W. Fulmer, of Milesburg, was in to inform us that after November 1st, he will be located at Drifting, Pa., and wants the Democrat to follow him to that point. He was one of Boggs township's best citizens and his change will be regretted by many. James Sommers has opened a ladies and gents cafe, in Crider's Exchange basement under Wm. McClure's Harness shop, where he will furnish warm meals at all hours of the day. As Mr. Sommers has an elegant force of cooks, he will no doubt receive a liberal patronage. Dr. and Mrs. Coburn Rodgers, after a pleasant visit in Bellefonte, left for Freeland, Pa. The Doctor has secured a most excellent young lady as a helpmate who, while here, made many warm friends. They have decided to locate in Drifting, Pa., where Dr. Rodgers will practice his profession. He is an energetic young man and he can not help but make the new venture a success. Friday evening, Frank Bartley, the energetic liveryman, lost a valuable horse. It is claimed two girls hired the horse and practically drove it to death; when it was turned into the stable, after being used, it was in a bad condition. If this is true the girls ought to be arrested and thus be taught a good lesson. There is entirely too much of this inhumanity practiced in Bellefonte and it is time it is stopped. Dr. A. W. Harris, President of the Forth Western University of the Methodist Episcopal church, of Evanston, Ill., and his son Abraham, spent a few days at the home of Mrs. Lew Harris. They returned to their western home Monday, accompanied by Miss Elenor Harris who will spend the winter with them. James R. Harris was another visitor in Bellefonte, he left Monday for his home in Philadelphia. He is one of the leading architects of the day. William Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Smith, of Bellefonte, was badly injured one evening recently at Johnstown. He was riding home from the store on a bicycle when at a crossing he was struck by a street car. He was picked up and taken to the Memorial Hospital where his injuries were carefully attended to. His mother went out and is with him continually. A letter received says that he will be able to leave the hospital in a few days. Mrs. R. A. Yerrington, with her son and daughter, Louise, who had been making an extended visit at the home of Ex county Commissioner A. V. Miller, left for Chambersburg where Miss Louise has entered Wilson College. From there Mrs. Yerrington and her son proceeded to Richmond, Va. Mrs. Yerrington's maiden name was Miss Byrd Alexander, daughter of the late Hon. C. K. Alexander, and while in Bellefonte had a most enjoyable time. K. H. Stover, of Elkins, W. Va., formerly of Coburn, was here on Thursday and called on us. In addition to being an extensive wholesale dealer in lumber, he is also the manager and editorial writer for the "West Virginia Lumberman and Wholesaler" a large 44-page, monthly magazine devoted entirely to the lumber interests of that section. Mr. Stover's magazine contains the advertisements of many Centre county operators in that section. In fact nearly all the lumber operators in that state are from Pennsylvania. Like a thunder cloud from a clear sky, Rev. Newton S. Bailey dropped in to see his Bellefonte friends Monday. He is looking fat and plump, indicating that chickens and waffles have been plentiful in the neighborhood where he has been located, since permanently leaving Bellefonte. He was on his way from Clearfield where he attended the annual conference of the United Brethren church. For the past year he has been located at McKeesport but he has been changed to Dunlevy, Washington county, where he will have two congregations to serve. He is getting along nicely and the day is soon approaching when he will be called to some of the best appointments in the conference. He left Tuesday noon to attend a social gathering in McKeesport that evening showing that he has also become quite prominent in social circles. His friends here were all glad to see him.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bullock returned Thursday from their wedding trip. Harry M. Walker, wife and daughter, of Wolfs Store, were pleasant callers. The next event of the season will be the Bellefonte fair, October 8th, 9th, 10th, and 11th. Sigmond Joseph and Harry Holtz returned home from a business trip to New York City. Darius Waite left Friday for Clearfield where he attended the United Brethren conference. Miss Mary Kreamer, one of Renova's pretty young ladies, has been visiting Miss Mame McGovern. Mrs. Lizzie Jones and son, Daniel, of Lewistown, are guests of Mrs. Louise Ingram on Bishop street. Miss Mary Crider and brother, Hugh, returned home Friday evening from Cambridge Springs. Mrs. S. M. Hayes, of Brookline, N. Y., is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. D. L. Willard, on Linn street. Mr. and Mrs. Claude Thompson and Mr. Thompson's mother, left Friday morning to visit friends in Pittsburg. Hastings Gates is visiting friends in the vicinity of Loveville and Warriors-mark. Probably he has a girl over there. S. A. McQuistan accompanied his nephew, B. B. McQuistan, back to Butler. He will visit there about two weeks. Mr. and Mrs. William Clark, after visiting friends in Bellefonte the past two weeks, returned home to Pittsburg on Friday. Rube Spangler was an arrival in Bellefonte Friday morning from Philadelphia. He was on his way home to Spangler, Pa. Miss Grace Fox, of Lewistown, arrived in Bellefonte and resumed her position as one of the milliners in Joseph Bros. & Co. store. Among the many strangers in Bellefonte Monday was Riley Platt, of Unionville, who has been ill for several years but seems to be improving. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Saunders and Mrs. William Royer, of Centre Hill, were recent guests in Bellefonte at the homes of Christy Smith and William Bible. Miss Mame Dukeman, a very pretty and charming young lady who has been a guest of Miss Elsie Bible, returned to her home at Winburne on Thursday. Harry E. Shook, who for the past week has been a guest at his home on Allegheny street, left Friday for Williamsport where he is employed in the Harris Studio. Richard Davis, of Scottdale, Warren Elise, of Pittsburg, and Cecil Gray, of York, arrived in Bellefonte Friday. All three young men have become students at the Academy. On Friday Mrs. Brown, the good old mother of Councilman Henry Brown, had the misfortune of falling and breaking her wrist. She is now getting along as well as can be expected. Miss Bulah Dale is the obliging clerk in Gephart's music store, Bellefonte. In connection with this she is taking lessons in stenography, and some day will stand at the head of the profession. Col. H. S. Taylor and his brother Harry will soon start on the building of a water plant to supply the people of Coleville with a good supply of pure water, which will be obtained from springs on the mountain. Frederick K. Foster, who several years ago purchased the George L. Potter insurance agency in Bellefonte and conducted it for a year or more, was married recently in Denver, Col., where he has permanently located. Curt Wagner, with Dr. Joseph Beckerhoff, is remodeling the flouring mill at Rebersburg, and when finished will be one of the most complete plants of the kind in this part of the state. The capacity will be increased at least twenty-five barrels of flour a day. Misses Ione and Susie Donachy arrived home Thursday from a visit to Baltimore, Washington and Jamestown Exposition. Also visited relatives in King George county, Virginia. While in Baltimore they purchased a full line of fall millinery for their store. Thursday Mrs. Nora McClain, of North Allegheny street, Bellefonte, celebrated her eighty-eighth birthday anniversary, and is still one of the best preserved women for her age in the county. A number of her neighbors and relatives who knew of the occasion called to congratulate her on her good health and anniversary. The frequent hard rains of the last week or ten days sort of played havoc with the new sewer on Allegheny street. In the alley between Mrs. James Harris' property and the new home of L. T. Munson the sides caved in, filling half of the ditch up again. It was hard weather on deep ditches like that, and more or less expensive. On Friday a reunion of the 131 P. V. I. was held at Lewisburg. Over 50 of the old members were in attendance. This is Col. Emanuel Noll's old regiment and, of course, he was one of the most prominent comrades present. He met his old friend, Abraham Gunter, of Tyrone, whom he had not seen since the close of the war. It was stated that Lewis Lonsbury, of Bellefonte, was going to Panama to run a locomotive for the government. Any old time you get our friend Lonsbury to go down into that fever district we'll make good. How much would a bigger salary amount to him if they laid him away in about a year. He has sized up the situation about right. We are frequently asked the question, what is the length of the large trout in the spring, the monarch among the school of trout in that beautiful pond. Mr. Ryan, the superintendent of trout, when put in two-and-a-half years ago, had a length of twenty-three inches, as measured by Charles Heisler and others. If it has been growing since, the fish must now be no less than 25 inches in length. This week we came into possession of a sample broom labeled the "Bellefonte Crescent," manufactured by James W. Derr, who has secured the Peter Smith cabinet shop, and has equipped it with new machinery for manufacturing brooms. The first product is excellent material and workmanship. As the young man has just started in business, we think our merchants should give the product of this new local enterprise their support as it can be developed into an industry that would give employment to many others. Give Mr. Derr's brooms a trial.

J. A. Piper and daughter, of Nittany, gave the Democrat a pleasant call. Thursday Reuben Miller, the Bellefonte grocerman, lost a valuable horse. When a man loses a good horse these days he almost loses a fortune. Mr. and Mrs. Adam Ebley, who have been visiting Ben Gentzel's home on Bishop street, returned Saturday evening to their home at Freepport, Ill. W. T. Dunning, who recently was the organist in the Methodist church, has been offered the position of organist in St. Stephens Episcopal church, Harrisburg. R. B. Taylor will have the new state road ready for travel by the time of the Centre County Fair. All he needs now is good weather and Bert will do the rest, as he is a hustler. Claude Jones, editor of the Tyrone Herald, spent several hours in Bellefonte on Tuesday. His time is almost taken up with politics, and kissing the babies of Blair county where he is running for register and recorder. Miss Violet Irvin returned home Saturday evening from her visit through the western part of the state and Buffalo N. Y. On her way home she stopped off at Altoona and visited friends in the Railroad city several days. Chief Burgess R. C. Gilliland, of Snow Shoe, was in town this week attending court. He has great hopes of their town improving in appearance when the new organization gets familiar with its duties and responsibilities. Prof. John Hosterman writes us from Monroeville, Pa., where he is located: "Have a fine set of schools here, a fine set of pupils, and a fine lot of people to work for. Everything is moving smoothly and I am getting on very well." Week before last the Emigrant from Snyder county, through the Penrose Gazette, undertook to slander the police force of Bellefonte with the hope that he would receive the applause of some men. Last week this self-important blunderbuss was compelled to eat crow. It was a caution how those Pennsylvania Dutch farmers from Millheim pounded the life out of the Bellefonte Cud's ball team, at the Granger picnic. Can't the Millheim rooters come over here and play an exhibition game? They would draw a large crowd. The sale of the W. C. Storm property, on Spring street, was continued last Thursday, as only $2300 was bid, which was considered no price worth considering. Mr. Storm is anxious to sell in order to move to Seattle. It is a most desirable property and will command a better price. Miss Margaret Merritts, one of Huntington's most charming young ladies, is a guest at the Hamilton home on Penn street. Miss Merritts is a magnificent skater having won several prizes at Huntington. She was at the skating rink on Saturday evening and won a great many admirers for her excellent skating. Harry Mench, who is prominently connected with the Commercial Telephone Co., with headquarters at Williamsport, spent Sunday in Bellefonte. Harry is one of the employees who stands high in the estimation of the company and thus he is getting along nicely. He may keep going up until he may surprise his friends one of these days. The Centre county fair premium list has been published and is now being distributed personally to the farmers and business men of Centre county by Col. John A. Daley, of Curtin township. By a glance at the book you can at once see how the premiums on exhibits have increased this year over former years, in fact, almost doubled, and that it will now pay you to bring your best of everything to the big fair. Charles W. Neeley and wife left Saturday evening for Harrisburg where they will engage in mission work. Mr. Neeley had been an inspector for the Hammon Coupler Co., of Pittsburg, and as a great deal of this work is being done at the J. Howard Lingle Co's foundry, Mr. Neeley was sent here to inspect the work. Since coming to Bellefonte he took unto himself a wife to brighten his pathway through life, and they feel as though they can do a great work in the mission field. The Bellefonte base ballists are much agitated over the fact that the Millheim boys knocked them out again at the Grangers' Picnic on Thursday. They do not know how it happened, but they did it all the same, the score being 2 to 1 in favor of the fellows over the mountain. Millheim has a good team this year and to down it takes a good deal of muscle and tact. It is thought that the third game between these clubs will be played in Bellefonte in the near future. In our issue of two weeks ago, the Democrat called attention to the habit of many little boys of Bellefonte, being seen on the streets, smoking cigarettes, and even chewing tobacco, either in a filthy habit. We are pleased to observe that last week the ministerial association has taken up this matter and recommended the adoption by the borough authorities of measures that will break up this pernicious habit. The curfew has worked well and if the young cigarette fiends can be interfered with so as to break up the health-destroying cigarette habit, let there be no delay in adopting such a measure. J. W. Hall, C. F. Shaw and W. J. Geib, of Washington, D. C., are now in Bellefonte under the auspices of the Bureau of Soils. They have been in Centre county all summer making a map of the various soils. They not only make mention of the different character of soil but they locate on the map every road and farm house so that when completed it will be very valuable. These gentlemen expect to remain in Bellefonte for about six weeks and work within a radius of five or six miles of the town. Their work has to be accurate and thus considerable time is being put on the work. They are excellent gentlemen and, no doubt, will make many friends while here. Among the visitors in Bellefonte recently was Mrs. Frank Butler, of Butler. Her maiden name was Miss Alice Nolan, who spent her childhood days in Bellefonte, and who is well and favorably known here. She left Wednesday morning for home taking with her Mr. and Mrs. Vitalini. Mrs. Vitalini will remain in Butler while Mr. Vitalini continued his journey to Pittsburg where to-day he will undergo a very critical operation in one of the hospitals. Those who know the case are doubtful as to the results. Mr. Vitalini is a pleasant gentleman, who has made his home in Bellefonte for a great many years, and his friends will feel exceedingly sorry should they hear that the operation had not proved a success.

Irvin Dorman, of Nittany, gave the Democrat a call. We are publishing the "correct" game law dates this week. Mrs. Charles Fulton and son, Pierce, left Monday for Runville where they visit friends. J. W. Carlin, G. W. Hazel and A. N. Gorman, jurors of Miles, favored our sanctuary with a call. Charles Fulton, who had been visiting in Bellefonte, left Monday for Pitscairn where he is employed. Al Garman left Monday for Atlantic City, where he will spend a few days along the coast enjoying the good fresh sea breeze. Miss Helen Ceaders, Hugh Crider and Lewis Dugget attended a party given by the Misses Buddingers at Snow Shoe on Saturday evening. W. H. Rumberger, one of DuBois' prosperous young business men, was in Bellefonte yesterday and with his father "Domino," paid us a pleasant call. Miss Tessie Houser, of DuBois, was an arrival in Bellefonte, recently and will spend the next six weeks visiting friends in this place and in College twp. Miss Mae Walker, who perhaps underwent one of the most delicate operations ever performed at the Bellefonte hospital, is getting along nicely and permanent recovery is predicted. Monday Dr. A. W. Hafer, left for Tyrone where he met the state officers of the Royal Arcanum. He expected to get a big feed but whether he did or not we have not been informed. James Parsons, who had been spending his vacation in Bellefonte, left Tuesday afternoon for Philadelphia. He was accompanied to the Quaker City by Miss Florence Lowry. The impression was that they were going away to get married, but we have been reliably informed that the rumor is not correct, although they might spring a surprise on their friends. All arrangements are practically completed for instituting the new lodge of Benevolent Order of Elks in Bellefonte. The date has not been set but will be within the next few weeks. The Larimer building will be occupied by them and in time will be remodeled and furnished in appropriate style for this purpose. The new lodge will start with a strong membership. Wilber Wilson has accepted a position in the office of the Bellefonte Lumber Co., of which Edward Hoy is the general manager. In connection with this he is going to take shorthand lessons from Mr. Gainsfort, one of the most successful teachers of stenography in the state. Wilber is a good boy and if he buckles down to business, and forgets the girls until he is old enough to go with them, he will come out all right. It is hoped that he may learn to be such a thorough business man that his services will always be in demand and command a high salary. There isn't anything more nerve-racking than an old maid of 50 trying to be cute. FREE TICKETS TO THE FAIR GROUNDS.
