

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

—N. G. Dreibelis, of State College, was a pleasant caller.

—James Pacini, of Lewistown, is visiting his sisters in Bellefonte.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Downing are visiting friends at Bloomsburg.

—Ex-Sheriff Cronister transacted business in Bellefonte, Monday.

—Monday evening R. B. Taylor, the coal dealer, lost another valuable horse.

—Claude Hile, of Altoona, was a pleasant visitor in Bellefonte the past week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward McGinnis, of Punxsutawney, are visiting Bellefonte friends.

—Miss Clara Robb, of Bellefonte, will be married sometime during this month to Mr. Swartz, of Tusseyville.

—Grant Hoover, now of Williamsport, was in town and gave us a call. Grant informs us he is getting along well in that city.

—Potatoes were offered from wagons on the street Tuesday at 6 cents per bushel and nice apples at curb market for 40 cents per bushel.

—Mrs. Samuel Eldridge and two children, of Cape May, are visitors at the home of her parents Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Laurie, on Spring street.

—After a delightful visit at her home in this place Miss Celia Haupt left for Philadelphia, Thursday, where she has a good position as a seamstress.

—Mrs. Harry McKee, of Wilkesburg, passed through Bellefonte, Monday morning, for her home after a delightful visit at her old home at Lemont.

—The friends of Miss Mary Kelley, who will become the bride of Christ Besser in the near future, gave her a nice little party Thursday evening, which was followed with a kitchen shower.

—Charles Martin, of Pittsburg, who holds an excellent position with the Westinghouse Electrical Company, is visiting his parents in Bellefonte. He is an industrious young man and is getting along nicely.

—All of the American Lime and Stone works in Bellefonte and Tyrone closed down on Wednesday afternoon of last week during the funeral of the late Geo. B. Stevens, which occurred in Tyrone at 2:30 on Wednesday.

—Dr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Hayes closed up their residence in Bellefonte Tuesday and left for Pasadena, California, where they will spend the winter among blooming flowers and under the shade of the palm tree.

—Samuel F. Moser, of Spring Mills, favored our sanctum with a call. Mr. Moser, we are pleased to note, takes pride in spelling his name in the original German way, instead of "Musser" now so common. Quite sensible, indeed.

—The Rev. Frederick W. Barry, pastor the Lutheran church, has rented the stone house on North Allegheny street, owned by Dr. Thomas VanTries and recently occupied by L. H. Gettig. He and his sister expect to occupy the same by Oct. 15.

—On Sunday the members of the St. John's Episcopal church held their first meeting in their new Parish House on Lamb street. The dedication of the handsome little edifice will occur later in the fall. The members of the church are much pleased with it.

—The Knights of Macabees have moved their quarters from the Undine Engine house to the third floor of the McClain building. The place is being beautifully papered and painted and fitted up in royal style for the boys. When completed it will be one of the finest lodge rooms in the town.

—The special company under the management of Harrison Grey Fish will present Mrs. Fiske's famous success, "Lesch Kieschna," at the Garman opera house, Tuesday Oct. 15. During the season other Mrs. Fiske's successes will probably be presented here by special companies, so that the performance of "Lesch Kieschna" means the opening of a new era for playgoers of the one night stands.

—The Altoona high school foot ball team opened its home season on the gridiron Saturday afternoon with a scrappy and exciting game with the Bellefonte Academy eleven at Columbia Park. It was a typical school game and was marked with great enthusiasm from the beginning and ended in a score of 0 to 0. The crowd was a large one, the largest that has ever turned out at any of the school's athletic exhibitions.

—On Friday a man on Howard street beat his dog across the back of the head with a shovel and left the poor beast to die. Eight or ten hours afterwards he returned and found the animal still living when he riddled it full of holes with a shot gun. The fellow is nothing but a coward and next to a criminal. If he wanted to kill the dog why didn't he do it without having it suffer all day with a broken back and legs. Some one should treat this fellow to a coat of tar and feathers.

—Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a spirited game of football at the Glass Works Meadow. It will be between the Bellefonte Academy and the Williamsport High School. It costs about $40 to bring the Williamsport visitors here and anybody who is not willing to contribute their 25 cents to see the game is invited to stay away. They don't want any tramps or suckers hanging around. It will be a first class game, and it is to be hoped that the friends of the Academy will turn out and contribute to this expense.

—Ben Gentzel, on Monday, had the misfortune of again being seriously injured. He was out at the farm of William Carson, near Bellefonte, when a horse became unmanageable and in trying to subdue it the animal fell on him. The result was that Mr. Gentzel's nose was broken, he received several gashes in the head and a couple of ribs were fractured. Mr. Gentzel seems to be in hard luck as it was only two months or more since he recovered from a broken leg. We learn later from Mr. Gentzel that the accident happened by a colt standing near to a horse where he was and the colt was kicked and knocked down on Mr. Gentzel, and in its struggles to get up, pelted him on the face and breast, with its feet.)

—Kirk Tate, of Philipsburg, is visiting Bellefonte friends.

—John Woomer and sister spent Sunday with friends at Gorton Heights.

—Leland Struble and his father arrived home Friday evening from the South. Leland has had a severe attack of typhoid fever, and for weeks he was at death's door, but the good nursing he received in the Atlanta Georgia hospital, pulled him through. He is looking a little pale.

—John F. Navin, one of the Directors of the Seaboard Cement Company, of New York City, a very intimate friend of William P. Humes and Col. James Coburn, visited these gentlemen the past week. Mr. Navin and Mr. Humes spent Thursday in Lock Haven and Jersey Shore.

—On Wednesday evening Oct. 30th Miss Adaline Woodring will be married to Mont Singler, of Renova. This wedding will also be a quiet affair as only the immediate friends of the happy young people will be present. The coming bride is the pleasing daughter of Ex-Sheriff D. W. Woodring.

—J. H. Geib and J. W. Hall, the young men who were taking a geographical survey of the land around Bellefonte for the Bureau of Soils at Washington, left on Sunday morning for Washington, D. C. From there they will go on to Winbora, Alabama, where they will be employed at the same kind of work.

—Rev. Harrington, of the A. M. E. church, has been returned to Bellefonte and the pleasure is mutual between both pastor and people. During his year's ministry in Bellefonte the parsonage has been cleared of debt and all the organizations of the church have been built. This meant hard work upon the part of Rev. Harrington.

—Saturday evening a large crowd of people gathered on the diamond to see J. J. Watrous, of Montrose, Pa., make a demonstration of the efficacy of the Keystone Fire extinguisher of which he is general agent. A lot of boards were piled in a large box on which was thrown coal oil. When lighted it made a tremendous hot fire, and light

—A Lodge of the Keystone Guard was instituted both in State College and Bellefonte, by the organizer, Mrs. C. E. Haight, assisted by C. E. Haight. There was a good attendance at both places. Mrs. Haight made a very touching address on fraternity which will long be remembered. This lady is well qualified for her position, and is a fluent speaker.

—Rev. G. G. Skinner, formerly of Bellefonte, but now pastor of the A. M. E. church of Oil City, Pa., arrived here on Thursday evening from the Pittsburg A. M. E. conference and preached in the church at this place on Sunday evening. Many of the citizens of Bellefonte will remember Rev. Skinner when he was a barber in Mitch Graham's barber shop, 37 years ago. Since that time Rev. Skinner, by hard study and close application has become one of the most eminent divines in the Pittsburg conference. The people here were well pleased with his sermon.

—Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Wilson, formerly of Stormstown, but now Beech Creek, attended the fair in Bellefonte, Wednesday. They were pleasant callers at this office.

—Jake Barlett, the drayman, has had his wagon painted up in fancy colors. There ought not to be any trouble to find him as the wagon can be seen a mile away.

—Mrs. George Valentine and her daughter, Miss Sarah, of Baltimore, left Bellefonte Thursday morning after a visit with Mrs. Valentine's sister, Mrs. M. B. J. Valentine.

—After being off duty for six months on account of ill health, U. H. Reamer went back to his old position as conductor on the Lewisburg passenger train last Thursday morning.

—Earl Freeman was taken to the Huntingdon Reformatory Friday morning. The prisoner was in charge of Sheriff Henry Kline. He expects to learn the brick trade while in that institution.

—This is the week of prayer in the Presbyterian church. Rev. M. L. Mudge, of Lewistown, is preaching most excellent sermons which are exceedingly interesting and practical. If you have not been there you would do well to go.

—Miss Sadie Stover has rented part of Mrs. Hibler's residence on Allegheny street where she will make home made bread and offer it for sale. Miss Stover's bread is excellent and she would be pleased to have her friends remember where she is doing business.

—Last week J. Kyle McFarlane, of Bellefonte, went to Lemont for a visit to his sister, Mrs. Jack Mitchell. Although Mr. McFarlane's general health is good he has lost practically all use of his limbs, so that he cannot even stand up, and his only way of getting around is by means of a rolling chair. With the exception of several weeks ago when Mr. Budinger took him to Lemont in his automobile. Tuesday was the first time he had been down town in a year.

—The congregation of the Bellefonte Methodist church have good reason to congratulate themselves because the burden of debt which for some time has hung like a pall over their church finally been lifted. Some time ago the congregation paid off a note for $235, and on Tuesday of last week a mortgage for $4,000 with $60.50 interest was paid and the only obligation now standing against the church is an account of $1,500, and it has been amply provided for, so that the church property can be considered free of debt.

—Just after dinner on Wednesday of last week Alf Baum drove down high street with a pony hitched in a narrow tracked buggy. In attempting to turn around in front of the Bush House he made the turn too short with the result that the buggy upset and he was thrown out alighting on his side on the stone curbing. He was dragged some distance but pluckily stuck to the lines until the pony was caught by others and the buggy righted. Though no bones were broken Alf had a very bad fall and his side has been sore ever since. The pony was not hurt neither was the buggy damaged.

—Edward Eckenroth has the contract for painting the Bush Arcade.

—J. K. Johnston, Charles F. Blair, J. K. Cass, Dr. W. B. Diefenderfer and A. M. Wooden comprised a fishing party who spent a couple of days at Beech Creek last week. They were successful in landing a goodly number of bass. If you want to know what kind of bait they used you will have to ask.

—Miss Sue Shipley, of Unionville, one of the best nurses that ever graduated from the Bellefonte hospital has just returned from a delightful trip to Jamestown, Baltimore and Philadelphia. Miss Shipley is well known in Bellefonte as she has often been called to Bellefonte to nurse the sick.

—Tuesday 1st, opened the season for small game, and the sportsmen turned out in full force, but there was not much game to be found. A few found some but the many found none. It seems the returns from over the state that the shooting accidents were a bigger success than the shooting of game—and the season is not near ended yet.

—Harry Landis, of Pittsburg, is now in Bellefonte visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Landis, something over a year ago he left here and went to Altoona where he remained a short time after which he went to Pittsburg where he secured a position as caller in the Union station. He has since been promoted to an assistant in the ticket office. His friends will be glad to hear of his success.

—Milton H. Willard, son of D. I. Willard, is visiting his parents on Linn St. He came up from Philadelphia Thursday morning on a ten-day's furlough, from the U. S., Battleship Georgia where he holds the position of electrician. The Georgia is the flagship of the 2nd division of the Atlantic fleet, and Adm. Emory in command. Mr. Willard informs us that the fleet will soon sail for the Pacific coast and as this is his first cruise he is looking forward to the trip with much pleasure.

—A radical change is being made in the Adams Express offices in Bellefonte. The old Roosevelt Club Room, on Race street, has been leased from Mrs. Bush; large double doors have been placed between the office and this room which will be used as a ware room, thus freeing the main office from anything like a congestion of express packages. The old counter seems will be put up, thus making the place look modern. Instead of the counter running east and west it will run north and south, giving them plenty of room to run a truck clean through to the new acquisition. When complete the patrons of the office will imagine they are in the New York office.

They came here to attend the fair and before returning home Mr. Sellers will spend some time hunting through the mountains of Centre county. It is ten years since he left Buffalo Run and in that time has become quite prosperous in the Smoky City.

"The Toy-makers."

"The Toy-makers" is the latest book written by Mr. Pidgin and he has also written the play which has been set to music and in twenty six lyrical numbers makes up a delicious musical comedy full of fun and frolic. A village toyshop in old England furnishes a rich background for this unique story of the mechanical doll; that was brought to life by electricity and performed the wonderful feats that astounded and delight the villagers and also the audience. The fine company of singers, dancers and comedians "The Jollities" will give this jolly opera at the Garman Opera House on Friday, Nov. 15. Those who have read the book have a still greater treat in store and everyone will soon be singing these bright melodies.

WHEN Ed. Chambers attempts to hoodwink the old soldiers of Centre county into believing that he was once in the military service of either the state or nation, he must take them for dunces. The men who for four years lived on hard tack, for hundreds of miles were on the march and faced shot and shell, don't want to be classed with "tin-soldiers" like the Colonel. Old Pennypacker appointed him on the "Governors Staff" as an ornament to travel around on "Dress Parade" attending banquets and dedicating monuments, at the expense of the taxpayers of this state. That kind of soldiering is disgusting to the real soldier, and is an insult to class him with them—to catch their vote.
