EDITORIAL.

It was a good thing to have a democrat in the State Treasury, therefore try it again.

If Gov. Hastings were living do you think he would give Chambers a boost for District Attorney? Yes, the kind Chambers gave him.

No DOUBT Ed. Chambers would like to have all of the late Gov. Hastings' friends turn in and help elect him now. There was a time when Hastings got Ed. the position of Deputy Revenue Collector, and then returned against the Gov. That was not so long ago.

VOTERS, do not forget the election on Tuesday, Nov. 5th. Vote for Harman, so as to have a democrat on the board of capitol grounds and buildings, instead of three republicans. Berry is the only watchdog now, the other two are gangsters and will not be in the interest of the public as is well known.

ED. CHAMBERS had four years as Deputy Revenue Collector; next he got four years in the state auditing department under Gov. Stone. After that he was re-appointed under old Pennypacker. He also got four years as a member of the Governor's Staff. If he did not save anything from these fat positions, it was his fault. He has had enough, why give him another office?

Who nominated Sheatz? The Penrose gang. Who strangled the soldiers' pension bill? Sheatz the Penrose nominee. Who voted for and supported many gangsters' measures in the legislature? Sheatz, now rewarded by Penrose and his corrupt following, for state treasurer. What will a vote, for Sheatz, on November 5th mean? It will mean the continuation in power of the gang that stole five million dollars of the taxpayers' money in the Capitol job, and means a continuation of the steals to further enrich the members of the gang.

A SHEATZ TRIBUTE TO QUAY.

The late Senator Matthew Stanley Quay was the father of the system of corruption that made the administration of Pennsylvania Treasury affairs a scandal from the beginning of his reign up to the election of William H. Berry to the State Treasury in 1905.

A gang Legislature stamped its approval upon his career by appropriating $20,000 of the people's money where-with to erect a monument to his malodorous memory.

John Oscar Sheatz helped to perpetrate this outrage upon the people of Pennsylvania. He voted for the Quay Monument bill.

Is the man who thus indorsed the Quay system of Treasury looting a fit successor of William H. Berry as the custodian of the public monies?—Record.

REVENUES GROWING.

The state fiscal officers of Pennsylvania estimate that the revenues for the current fiscal year, which closes Nov. 30 next, will reach $26,000,000, which is in excess of the state revenues of last year, when high water mark was reached, with receipts aggregating $25,818,924. Yet Sheatz strangled the soldiers pension bill so the gang might have more money to graft.

Highschool Appropriations.

State Treasurer Berry has authorized Superintendent of Public Instruction Schaeffer to draw upon him for $100,000, the amount of the state appropriation to township high schools for the school year ending June, 1907. Warrants will be sent to the treasurers of the 300 districts entitled to receive this money within the next few days.

Appropriations for the current year for township high schools is $137,500, a like amount being appropriated to borough high schools. The latter is the first appropriation made by the state for borough high schools.

Following is a list of the township high schools of Centre county and the amount each will receive for the last fiscal year:

Walker, $450; Benner, Boggs, Colledge, Ferguson, Gregg, Haines, Harris, Liberty, Miles, Spring and Worth, $500 each.

OVER THE COUNTY.

Mrs. Henderson, one of Howard's aged residents, has been quite ill at the home of her daughter, Miss Jennie Lauth.

In some parts of the county chestnuts are reported to be plenty. Up to this time very few have made their appearance in our market.

Mrs. Aggie Cori and two children, of State College, spent several days recently with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Bartholomew, at Millheim.

Gilbert Boyer, one of Harvey Bros.' employes, while out gunning near Lemont, succeeded in bagging a 25 pound wild turkey, which dressed 18 pounds.

The heirs of Rebecca Stover, deceased, sold their farm situated in Green township, Clinton county, to J. H. Long, of Flemington. The consideration was $3000.

E. B. Mullen, of Millheim, repaired part of the foundation wall under his flour mill on East Main street and also built a new delivery platform, the old one having become unsafe.

W. L. Hosterman, manager of the Coburn Grain and Creamery company, sold his team of bay horses to John Rich & Bro., of Woodrich, Clinton county. The team was a fine one and brought a very high price.

Mrs. Emma C. Miller, of Williamsport, has sold her residence in Millheim and timber tract on Bigg's mountain to J. C. Hosterman, of Millheim. Mr. Hosterman will take possession of the premises on April 1st, 1908.

Wm. T. Fowler, the old soldier, who recently succeeded D. B. Kunes as postmaster in Blanchard, has resigned the position because of the close confinement, and Milton Kunes, son of William Kunes, has received the appointment.

Edith Miss Annie V. Williams, of the Phillipsburg Journal, who was burned out of house and home recently is having repairs made that will greatly improve her home over the old one, and should make it more inviting for some other one.

At a meeting of the senior class at State College it was decided to hold the annual Thanksgiving dance on the evening of Pennsylvania day, Friday, November 22. The committee was appointed: Weigle, Caruthers, Ryan, G. D. DuBarry and Gould.

Capt. James A. Quigley, wife and daughter, Katharine, of Blanchard, went to Huntingdon, Friday, where the captain attended the annual reunion of his old regiment of the civil war, the Fortyninth Pennsylvania volunteers in which he held a captaincy for several years of the war.

Rev. P. F. Eyer, of Bloomsburg, spent last week with Rev. G. W. McInlay and family, at Spring Mills. Rev. Eyer preached in the M. E. churches at Smulleton and Millheim, Sunday. This was the annual observance of "Old Folk's Day." Rev. Eyer is a forceful preacher.

Farmers' week at the Pennsylvania State College occurs this winter from January 1 to 9 inclusive. There are thus four days of the last of the first week and four days of the first of the next week instead of three days in each week as last year. From reports already received a large attendance is expected.

Chas. B. Mallory, who for a number of years very successfully operated the Smulleton branch of the Spring Mills creamery, has tendered his resignation to the creamery company to take effect on November 1. Mr. Mallory will move to Pittsburg, where he will be employed by the Pennsylvania railroad company.

Ralph Stover saved a large pile of cordwood for A. Walter, of Millheim. Mr. Stover used a gasoline engine in doing the work and it certainly did it well. The portable gasoline engines and saw mills are very convenient and easily moved from place to place and are something every farmer should have who has much wood to saw.

The Tyrone Herald says that Miss Jane Broadhead, of Phillipsburg, who is a guest at the home of Harry Kling on West Fourteenth street, met with an unfortunate accident Sunday evening. In going down the back steps she fell and fractured the left arm near the shoulder. Dr. R. L. Piper was called and rendered the necessary surgical attention.

The United Evangelical congregation will dedicate the cornerstone of their new church, on Sunday, October 27th. The services will be at 10 a. m. and 7 p. m. at which Rev. Seales, of Plainfield, will officiate. The public is cordially invited to attend these services. They recently tore down their old building and are erecting a more convenient and modern structure in its place at Centre Hall.

A young son of Elmer Vaughn, of Phillipsburg, aged about 12 years, is suffering from blood poisoning. About one month ago he cut his right foot on a piece of glass. The wound, seemingly healed all right, but a few days ago his leg began to give him trouble, and a genuine case of blood poisoning developed. He is receiving proper medical attention, and it is hoped he will have a speedy recovery.

The following is a report from the sick in and around Coburn: Reuben Harter was very ill for a few days, but has again somewhat recovered. C. A. Weaver, who has typhoid fever, as present indications show, is rapidly recovering from the attack. John Martin is confined to the house with rheumatism in his lower limbs and the attacks are so severe at times that he is unable to be out of bed. Peter Rider, who has been sick for several weeks is still in the grip of disease.

The dwelling house owned by Harvey Kunes in Blanchard has been successfully placed upon its new foundation on the main street of the town, having been moved several hundred yards from the road leading to the Eagleville station. To do this it was necessary to move the house, which is a two-story frame structure, up a steep hill. The work was done by the use of a track and trucks and the power applied by the use of a windlass. The house received practically no damage and the family occupied it all the time it was being moved.

Ever since last spring Samuel Shoop, of Centre Hall, has been planning to take a trip to Canton, Ohio, Chicago, and other points in Illinois, and finally Tuesday morning of last week started on a journey to the Windy City. The first was at Altoona, where he was joined by his sister, Mrs. Edward Wolf, who accompanied him. The next stop was at Pittsburg, where another sister, Mrs. Katie Vearger, lives. From there they will go to Canton to visit a brother, James Shoop, and thence to Lockport, Illinois, where Daniel Shoop lives, and also Miss Anna Shoop, daughter of Samuel Shoop, makes her home. They have set no time for returning.

Samuel Kunes, one of the leading citizens of Liberty township, is seriously ill at his home at Blanchard.

Miss Olive Clark returned Monday to her home in Blanchard, from a visit of several weeks in Virginia, including the exposition at Jamestown.

Geo. H. Smull and wife, of Smulleton, left last week for Philadelphia and New York City and will take in the Jamestown Exposition before returning.

The Harvest home and Roll Call will be held in the Baptist church at Milesburg, Sunday morning and evening. Rev. Lathrop will be present. The Roll Call in the morning and the Harvest Home in the evening. All members are urged to be present, and a general invitation is extended to the public.

After living for seven years as tenant on the farm of Hon. Leonard Rhone, southwest of Centre Hall, John H. Breon purchased a home at the junction of the Boalsburg and Lewistown-Bellefonte turnpike, containing about sixty acres, from W. B. Keller, who occupies the place. Mr. Breon will take charge of his new possession April 1st.

The following persons drove from Lock Haven to Blanchard and enjoyed an elegant chicken and waffle supper at the boarding house of Mrs. Linn: Hon. S. R. Peale and daughters, Martha and Elizabeth, the Misses Blanchard, of Chicago, Dr. and Mrs. G. D. Green, R. M. Davis and wife, Rev. J. A. MacSparan, Prof. Wilkinson, of the Norman faculty, Miss Jean Mann and Miss Mary Quigley, of Blanchard. The affair was given by Senator Peale and his daughters in honor of the Misses Blanchard, sisters of Mrs. Green.

Harvey Beam, of Guthrie, Oklahoma, and Deputy Register of Deeds of Logan county, that state, arrived in Centre county to spend about a month with relatives and friends. Mr. Beam is quite a hunter, and anticipating his desire to pay his respects to our eastern deer and bear, he took out on Friday the first license in the county of $10 for out-of-state hunters issued under the new law. We hope he may shoot enough game to justify his investment in the license, and find sufficient enjoyment in it to induce him to come back.

One of the biggest, if not the biggest yields of corn and like grown in Centre county this year was cultivated by Jerome A. Confer on his farm on Marsh creek, in the Bald Eagle valley. He has a field of about 15 acres, and its average height is 14 feet 6 inches. It is 9 feet from the ground to the ears of corn. In fact, they are so much above the reach of an ordinary man that the corn had to be cut and laid down in order to husk it. The corn is of the golden grain variety, and in its cultivation Mr. Confer uses a very little fertilizer and only the usual amount of plaster.

GOD SAVE THE COMMONWEALTH. I, HENRY KLINE, High Sheriff of the county of Centre, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby make known and give notice to the electors of the county aforesaid that an election will be held in the said county of Centre on the

FIRST TUESDAY IN NOVEMBER, 1907, being the 5th of November, A. D. 1907, for the purpose of electing the several persons hereinafter named, to wit:

One person for State Treasurer. One person for Prothonotary. One person for District Attorney. One person for County Surveyor.

Gilbert Boyer, of State College, while out hunting the other day near Lemont, succeeded in bagging a 25 pound turkey which, when dressed, weighed 18 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. James Smetzler, of Centre Hall, started on a week's trip through Ohio. Most of the time will be spent with Mr. Smetzler's brother, David G. Smetzler, near Republic, Ohio.

Mrs. Dr. Pond and Mrs. J. P. Welsh, of State College, have been selected as representatives from the Woman's Club, of that place to the State Federation of Women's clubs which meets in Devon, on Oct. 29.

Miss Bessie Weber, of Centre Hall, who underwent an operation in a hospital in Philadelphia for appendicitis, was improved sufficiently to return home. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. John H. Weber.

F. Walls Larimer has accepted the position of sales agent for the American Lime & Stone company, with headquarters at Tyrone. He has taken the place made vacant by the recent death of George B. Stevens, son of Hon. and Mrs. A. A. Stevens.

James Lindsey, of Colyer, is making arrangements to return to Pittsburg from which place they moved a few years ago. Mr. Lindsey sold a store in that city several years ago but the purchaser being unable to meet the payments Mr. Lindsey was compelled to take it.

Dr. James W. Boal, of Centre Hall, attended the annual meeting of the Presbyterian Synod which met in Philadelphia last week. He is a member of the committee on missions which is doing a good work; while Rev. Boal was in the city, Mrs. Boal visited her sister at Shippensburg.

Owing to failing health, John Neese, who for three years was head miller at the Centre Hall flour mills, has quit the mill for the present. He has not fully decided what he will engage in, but desires to be out of doors as much as possible. Harry E. Lutz, of Altoona, formerly of Snyderstown, is Mr. Neese's successor, and as soon as Mr. Neese can vacate his house, he will move into it. Mr. Lutz has a record of being a first-class miller which assures that a good reputation of the Centre Hall flouring mills will be maintained.

G. A. Harvey, of Fleming, who is known in Bellefonte, had a slight stroke of paralysis Sunday afternoon while calling at the home of his brother, W. I. Harvey, on South Fairview street at Lock Haven. He was conversing with Ellis Harvey and Harry Mann and in attempting to rise from his chair fell over. He could not speak for a time, but did not lose consciousness. Dr. G. D. Green was at once summoned and gave Mr. Harvey medical attention. His condition is much improved and his friends hope for his speedy recovery.

The Lutheran conference is in session at Pine Hall, near State College, this week having assembled, on Tuesday.

The following is a report of the wild turkeys killed near Howard recently: T. A. Pletcher one 8 1/2 and 11 lbs, John Schenck an 8 pounder William and Kline Haines each one 10 and 11.

The Centre County Teachers' Institute, an event that always attracts attention among all who are interested in the advancement of education, will convene in Bellefonte the week beginning November 18th. It is said that the attendance will be larger than usual. Our towns will then be filled with some of the prettiest girls in the state.

BUFFALO RUN.

Miss Lillian B. Stine gave a party at her home in Matternville, on last Wednesday evening, Oct. 16th, to a number of her friends at which she spent a most delightful evening, in playing all kinds games and amusements. After which a fine lunch was served; those who were so lucky to be present were: Ella and Emma Moore, Howard Hall, and Bessie Hoy, of Waddle; Chas. Underwood, Warriors Mark; Orris Harris, and John Hicks, Stormstown; Mary Furst, Elsie and Mary Hartsock, Carl Furst, Anna and Pearl Zeek, of Buffalo Run; William and Lillian Stine, of Matternville.

MURDER TRIAL ENDED.

The trial of Jacob Miller for the murder of Hamilton Mayer at Tamarack came to a sudden conclusion on Wednesday, at Lock Haven, by the court permitting the prisoner to change his plea of not guilty to the charge of murder in the first degree, and enter a plea of guilty of murder in the second degree. To this the district attorney assented, and the jury was discharged. The prisoner was remanded to jail for sentence.
