

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Wm. Wolf and J. O. Beatty, of Avis, favored the Democrat sanction with a call. Mrs. E. S. Dorworth has returned from Milton where she had been making an enjoyable visit among friends. W. E. Tyson, formerly of this place has been elected manager of the Tyrone basketball team. Billy is an enthusiast and will make 'er go. What is being done in this town to enforce the law forbidding the smoking of cigarettes by boys and the sale of these pests to juveniles? Mr. and Matthew Poorman, who have been visiting friends in Bellefonte the past three weeks, returned home to Milwaukie, Tuesday. W. C. Storm, for many years a barber in Bellefonte, left this Thursday morning for Seattle, Wash., where the family will reside in the future. Don't forget the trip to Wonderland in the court house this evening. If you want to get some idea of the vastness of America there is the place to go. D. F. Fortney, Esq., of Bellefonte, will be present at the Democratic meeting in Lock Haven, on next Saturday evening and assist Messrs. Harman and Berry in the speech-making. Mrs. William R. Gainsford left the other day for Philadelphia and Atlantic City. She has not been well for several months and it is to be hoped that the change will prove beneficial. W. A. Alexander, of Earlstown, was a pleasant caller, and informs us farmers over there are busy working away their corn and potatoes, and picking apples selling at 50 cents per bushel. Willard's Way has something to say that should interest the ladies having returned from the Eastern cities he has some exceptional bargains for this season. Read his advertisement in another column. George B. Haines, of Rebersburg, returning as a delegate from the Lutheran conference, at Pine Hall, spent an hour in the Democrat sanctum. Esq. Carlin, a representative citizen of the same place, also called later. Mrs. John Hull, of Bishop street, recently installed a large bakeoven in her home and she is now ready to supply the public with bread, pies, rolls and cakes of every description. She will also make homemade candy. Henry Tibbens, of this place, the great sucker angler of the United States, went out gunning on Monday noon and that day killed seven gray squirrels, and next morning early killed a wild turkey. Now game will be that much scarcer than ever. The passenger train that leaves Bellefonte for Lewisburg in the morning at 6:40 o'clock was detained here for two hours Wednesday morning on account of the shifter being off the track at the switch leading to the White Rock lime kilns and stone quarries. Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Company, with two Topsyes, two Marks and every thing up-to-date, without destroying the venerable earmarks of this attractive dramatization of Harriet Beecher Stowe's great work, will be presented on Friday evening 25th, at the opera house. Lieut. Harry Rassler, the young man who came to Bellefonte several months ago to assist in the Salvation Army work at this place, left Monday for Bradford where he will assist in the corps of that place. Lieut. Rassler is a young man of excellent qualities and is a faithful worker. He possesses more than ordinary ability and thus the work in Bellefonte was entirely too limited for him to remain here. Henry Tibbens, the fisherman and hunter, on Tuesday morning, while sneaking after some wild turkeys, had occasion to cross a fence, and a rail breaking he dropped, and a splinter or some other object, caught the index finger of his right hand, and laid it open several inches, which required a number of stitches to fix it up. It was a painful mishap-but he got one of the turkeys. George Kester, of Aaronsburg, one of the proprietors of a large peach orchard in Hanes township, was in town yesterday. He did not eat many peaches this year—for good and valid reasons. He does not pull up his peach trees like those peach orchard kings in Nitany valley, Shaefter, Dunn, and others, but just as fast as George sees that his trees are taking the grip, he cuts them from the face of the earth. The members of the Lutheran church, of this place, gave Rev. Barry, their pastor, a surprise, at his home on Spring street, last Monday evening by invading his domicile, bearing packages, baskets and other receptacles, holding good things—sweet, sour, raw, prepared and the like, to supply the larvae for a spell of time, and gladden the appetite as well as the heart, with these evidences of appreciation on the part of his flock, by whom he is held in high esteem. The donors spent the evening quite pleasantly with the Reverend and his father and mother, who happened to be present on their way to conference at Pinehall. There was a general attendance of members, and a mound of packages was left at the home for which the pastor expressed his happiest thanks. A special series of revival meetings will open the coming Sabbath, in the Methodist Episcopal church, with a "meeting for men only" at 3:30 p. m., all men, of all classes, are earnestly invited. A male choir will lead in the music, and the pastor will have "a heart to heart talk" with men. The usual revival services will follow in the evening and every night during the week, except Saturday. Next week the pastor will be ably assisted by some of the leading ministers of the conference. The schedule for the week is as follows: Monday, Rev. J. H. Daugherty, of Tyrone; Tuesday, Rev. H. C. Jacobs, of Altoona; Wednesday, Rev. Alex. Lamberson, of Altoona; Thursday, Rev. G. M. Klepper, of Altoona; Friday, Rev. E. A. Pyles, of Wellwood. The second week, the Rev. M. C. Piper, of Milesburg, will assist the pastor during the entire week. The church, for some weeks, has been earnestly praying and planning for these meetings, and an unusual interest is hopefully anticipated. All are cordially invited to attend and participate in this Master's work for the salvation of souls.

Uacle Tom's Cabin, at the opera house on Friday evening. Miss Eva Crissman returned Thursday from Sunbury where she had a delightful time. A new stone walk has been laid along the north side of Prof. Hughes' residence on Academy Hill. Manager Garman has booked Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" for the opera house on Friday evening of this week. Miss Nell Conley, who is a student at the Birmingham Seminary spent Sunday with her parents in Bellefonte. Mrs. Nolan and son, Boyd, left Tuesday morning for a visit to Pittsburgh. They expect to remain about two weeks. Dr. J. Allison Platts returned home Tuesday morning from Philadelphia where he attended the Presbyterian synod. Monday morning there was ice on the walks and plant life drooping from the freeze. Sunday afternoon there was a light rain. The other night an inmate of the Bellefonte lockup succeeded in escaping from the steel cells. He was afterwards caught and heavily fined. Mrs. Charles Stover, of Altoona, was a Friday visitor with Bellefonte friends on her way to Sunbury, to visit her father, J. D. Doppie, at that place. Miss Lois V. Calderwood, matron of the hospital, returned Saturday from Pittsburgh where she attended the Graduate Nurses Association held in Schenley Hotel Auditorium. Things at the Bellefonte Skating Rink are progressing very nicely. Dick Taylor, the manager, is doing all in his power to make the rink attractive for all lovers of this sport. John Sherlock, of Hollidaysburg, Miss Annie Flanagan and Thomas Flanagan, of Altoona, were guests over Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Kelley near Coleville. Mr. and Mrs. John I. Gibson, of Philadelphia are rejoicing over a very pretty little daughter. Mrs. Gibson was Miss Blanche Cook, of Bellefonte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cook. Dr. H. A. Blair, of Bellefonte, left Friday for Philadelphia to attend the wedding of Miss Mary Wright to Fred Simpson. The wedding took place this week, being a quiet but pretty affair. Dr. J. Allison Platts, pastor of the Bellefonte Presbyterian church, returned this week from Philadelphia where he represented the Huntingdon Presbytery in the Presbyterian synod which met in that city. Sunday Rev. W. B. Cox occupied the pulpit in the First Evangelical church of Altoona on Sunday morning and evening. Rev. G. W. Fry, of Milesburg, occupied Rev. Cox's place in the Evangelical church in Bellefonte. Mrs. Lillie G. Reeder on Thursday moved her household goods from her home on north Allegheny street to a room on the third floor of the Reynolds building, expecting to make sale of the most of her furniture on Saturday, October 26th. Miss Bottorf, one of the accomplished young nurses of the Bellefonte hospital, came back to the institution Friday to take up her work again. Miss Bottorf reports having a very pleasant time while visiting relatives in Altoona, Tyrone and her home at Scotia. The new porch in front of the Banner residence, on High street, has been lowered and widened about eighteen inches which makes a decided improvement to its general appearance. The way it was put up first rendered it practically useless as to shelter or convenience. Miss Clara Solt has returned from Philadelphia where she underwent treatment for an affection of the jawbone somewhat similar to necrosis. Her many friends in Bellefonte will be glad to know that she has been entirely cured of the disease, and is now enjoying her usual health. Joe Barnes, the accommodating young clerk at the Adams Express office, left Friday on his vacation. He will take in the sights in New York City, he will then take a boat to the Jamestown Exposition and on his way home will visit in Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia. Mrs. Maria Rhoads, son and daughter, Edward and Miss Rebecca Rhoads, left Monday to visit friends at Chambersburg. Mrs. Rhoads will remain there about four weeks while Mr. Rhoads and his sister will take in the sights at the Jamestown Exposition and other points of interest through the South. Ex-Sheriff D. W. Woodring is having extensive improvements made upon his property on East Howard street which will greatly improve the appearance and value of the property. He has just finished having the entire house weather boarded, and having state roof placed on. When finished it will make one of the most comfortable and attractive homes in that portion of the town. Thomas A. Shoemaker, of Bellefonte, has purchased the Col. W. F. Reeder residence on North Allegheny streets. This is one of the best and most desirable properties in town. In order to give Mr. Shoemaker possession immediately Mrs. Reeder stored some of her household goods on the third floor of the Reynolds' block and in the near future will offer most of her furniture at public sale. The people of Bellefonte were highly pleased with the Passos Play given in life moving pictures at the Theater. The production in beautiful colored pictures portrays the life and crucifixion of Christ. It was witnessed by a large attendance and everybody went away greatly pleased. In fact it was so vivid and realistic all were practically absorbed in the intensely interesting events portrayed. The theater company certainly gave our people a rare treat, and it was fully appreciated. "The King Bee" was the attraction at Garman's opera house Monday evening. The large audience was kept in good humor from the time the curtain rose until it fell at the last act. The musical comedy is funny and tuneful, and the large company provides a clever entertainment; while this is a fact the company have been playing it bad luck. It seems that the company had not been making expenses and one of the members had been furnishing money to tide them over until they struck a streak of better luck but the outlook not being as rosy as it might be, he issued an attachment on the show's paraphernalia Monday night and thus they were detained here over Tuesday, giving another show Tuesday night. A settlement was finally made and the company left.

GEORGETOWN.

C. J. Finkle has got his stove mill a booming. The American Literary society of Decker school has been holding its meetings weekly at the Decker school house; all are cordially invited. The party at Ezra Harter's was well attended and all report a good time. Election Proclamation. The Sheriff's election proclamation appears in this issue giving all the important information regarding the forthcoming election. In addition thereto we are authorized to include a fac simile of the official ballot for the inspection of all voters. This helps almost everybody in the county to study the form of ballot so that when they come to vote they will not be confused. In nearly all the other counties the Sheriff incorporates the ballot in his proclamation, but Sheriff Kline is the first to do so in our county and we believe the public will approve his course. Voters can cut this ballot out of the paper, mark it as they want to vote, take it with them in the election booth, and use it as a copy to mark the official ballot. Thus they can make sure of their vote and avoid the humiliation of asking for assistance, which often gives rise to suspicion. Eight cartloads of apples, average 600 bushels have been shipped thus far from New Bloom, Perry county, to Pittsburgh. The prices paid the farmers ranged from 45 to 50 cents per bushel.

ON PAGE SIX OF THIS ISSUE WILL BE FOUND A CHAPTER OF SHEAR'S RECORD, WHICH EVERY HONEST VOTER SHOULD READ AND STUDY.

Election, Tuesday November 6th.

THAT Sim Baum, the up-to-date clothier, says that one man's money isn't as good as two. Any time you fool Sim we will make 'er good.

Many a man is so stinky that he won't even tell a story at his own expense. A poor excuse may be better than none, but a poor bluff isn't.

MY BOOKS.

They dwell in an odor of camphor, They stand in a thicket of shiraz. They are warranted "early editions," These worshipping tones of mine. In their creamy "Oxford vellum," In their redolent "crushed levant," With their delicate watered linings, They are jewels of price, I grant. BLIND tooled and morocco jointed, They have Zaehnsdorf's daintiest dress; They are graceful, attenuate, polished, But they gather the dust no less. FOR the row that I prize is yonder, Far away on the undazed shelves, The bulged and bruised octavos, The clear and dumpy twelves— MONTAIGNE with his sheepskin blizzard, And Howell the worse for wear, And the worm drilled Jesuit's Horace, And little odd chopped Mollere. AND the Burton I bought for a florin, And the Rabelais foxed and flea'd— For the rest I have never opened, But these are the books I read. —Austin Dobson.

THE IRISH PIPES.

I heard the piper playing, The piper old and blind, And knew his secret saying— The voice of the summer wind. I heard clear waters falling, Lapping from stone to stone; The wood dove crying and calling, Ever alone, alone! I heard the bells of the heather Ring in the summer breeze, Soft stir of fir and feather, And quiet hum of bees. The piper drew me yearning Into the dim gray lands Where there is no returning, Although I wring my hands. There to the piper's crooning I saw my dead again, All in a happy nooning Of golden sun and rain. You piper kind and hoary, Your pipes upon your knee, If I could tell my story The things you piped for me, The folk would leave their selling, And bid their buying go, If I could but be telling, The things you let me know. —Katharine Tynan.
