THE NEW LIME OPERATION.

The Chemical Lime Co, composed of such enterprising business men as John Walker, John Olewine, A. C. Mingle, Archie Allison and Andrew McNut have their lime operation, on Buffalo Run, almost ready for operation. Sometime ago they received two boilers from Pittsburg which after they had been set and ready for firing, an inspector came along and condemned them. The result was they were compelled to send the boilers back and get a new one from Williamsport. This of course, delayed the time for starting several weeks. The new boiler, however, has been installed and it will only be but a few days until the wheels of this new industry will be set in motion, giving employment to a large number of men.

Two lime kilns have been erected, one of which has already been filled with stone and is now ready to have the match applied. The other kiln will be ready in a short time. The building containing the stone crusher is about eighty feet high and is quite an imposing structure. The elevated railroad, from the quarries to the kilns is substantially high, especially where the stone is put into the kilns. No money or labor has been spared to make this one of the finest plants of the kind to be found in the country. What we pride in more than anything else is that it is Bellefonte capital and the indications are that it is going to be a grand success. They have orders now on file that will take them some time to fill. This company has the very best stone to be found in this county which is an additional guarantee that the adventure will prove a good one.

Please Remember.

We are still in receipt of notices to change subscriber's addresses to another post office but without naming the office to which it had been addressed to before. This gives us much annoyance to find the old address, and among over five thousand names are often found as many as a half dozen of similar names, and in some cases we can't find the name at all. We have so often printed requests to give us the former address when an order for change to a new office is sent, but with some this is never observed. We trust that this will be the last time we will need to call attention to this neglect. Even without having made such requests, the subscriber might know that it would be the proper thing to give the name of the post office to which the Democrat had been going.

Poultry Keeping at State College.

Last year the Pennsylvania State College instituted a special course of twelve weeks in poultry keeping. This is one of the five winter courses in agriculture which begins December 3, 1907. J. W. Clark, Cainsville, Ontario, has been elected to give special instructions on this subject. He has been engaged in the business for ten years and has won the leading prizes in live as well as dressed poultry in both Canada and New York. He has judged at the leading shows, being sent out each year by the Ontario and Dominion Governments. He has had several years' experience on the Ontario Institution staff lecturing on poultry husbandry.

The Lewisburg Chronicle, the oldest Republican paper in the central part of the state, talks right out, and is not a flabbergab. It says, in its last week's issue:

"The policy of The Chronicle is Republican, but not the Republicanism of a Penrose machine. The scandal of the Capitol Gratt, is of such a nauseating character, that any political machine contaminated with this scandal should be consigned to oblivion. At the coming primaries a Senator and Assemblyman will be nominated, who if elected, will have a vote for a United States Senator. The people have a right to know whether or not a candidate will be Penrose or Anti-Penrose and The Chronicle will strenuously insist that the candidates declare themselves openly on the important proposition. We shall talk right out in meeting and the old threadbare pledge of supporting the caucus will not do."

SOME two hundred state road inspectors have been appointed by the state road commissioners, every one with a fat salary, with little to do and with little or no competency, but with fat salary that is intended to apply for work for the success of the machine instead of securing good roads.
