Beer makes a man fat; but on the other hand, it makes him lean, if he has anything to lean against.

WEDDINGS.

MOORE-KENNEDY

Irvin Moore and Miss Leah Kennedy well known young people of Sandy Ridge, were married Saturday eve, at 5 o'clock at the M. E. parsonage, Rev. S. D. Wilson officiating. They were attended by Miss Martha White and James Volk. The happy young couple will have the best wishes of their many friends.

STEELE-ASKEY.

Though they managed to keep the affair very quiet the fact has leaked out, nevertheless, that on October 17th Wm. Steele, Jr., of Bellefonte, and Miss Dora Askey, of Pine Glenn, were united in marriage at the M. E. parsonage at that place by Rev. David Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Steele have arrived in Bellefonte and intend remaining here for an indefinite time.

FLEMING-DONALDSON.

At an elaborate luncheon given by Miss Maud Retts, of Butler, Tuesday, Nov. 15th, the engagement of Miss Winifield Donaldson to Mr. Ward Fleming was announced. Miss Donaldson is the youngest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jones Donaldson, of Butler, and is a very popular young lady. Mr. Fleming is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson I. Fleming, of Bellefonte, and is a student in W. U. of Pa. law school. The scheme of the luncheon was pink and blue, pink roses and smilax decorating the table.

FRY-CORL.

One of the pleasing and happy events of Institute week in Bellefonte was the marriage of George B. McClellan Fry and Miss Sarah M. Corl, both of Ferguson township. The groom is one of the progressive teachers of Centre county and was here attending Institute; thus the pretty nuptial event took place in the parlor of the Haag Hotel in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. At 11 o'clock Rev. A. A. Black, pastor of the Reformed church at Boalsburg, said the word that made the two one for life. The bride was attired in brown costume with hat to match, and looked very pretty. After an informal reception the bride and groom, with their friends, repaired to the dining room where proprietor Mitch Cunningham had prepared a feast of good things especially for the occasion. The groom is the son of Capt. and Mrs. W. H. Fry, and a young man of considerable energy, who will make a model husband. The bride is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Corl, possessing all the accomplishments necessary for a good and faithful wife. They will, therefore, live happily together and enjoy the comforts of their home. Friday evening a reception will be given the bride and groom at the home of Capt. W. H. Fry, near Pine Grove Mills.

MORTON-WILLIAMS.

Wednesday Miss Alice Williams, of Bellefonte, was married to Lewis Edward Morton, of Scranton. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride on Penn street at 12 o'clock, and was performed by Rev. C. P. Harrington, pastor of the A. M. A. church.
