

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Mrs. C. B. Garman is visiting friends at Altoona. T. W. Bullock, the lumberman, from Julian, spent Sunday in town. E. W. Hess, of near State College, favored our sanctum with a call. D. F. Fortney, Esq., transacted legal business in Lewisburg on Saturday. C. Corl, of Pa. Furnace, was a caller, and reports some corn up there still needed husking. Mrs. Margaret Jackson, of Juniata, visited friends at State College and Bellefonte last week. Rev. John S. Nichols, of New York, preached two eloquent sermons in the St. John's Episcopal church. Curt Tate, an old Bellefonte boy, now located at Barnsboro, is greeting his friends in Bellefonte this week. John Tonner Harris and Wilber Harris, both of Harrisburg, spent Sunday at their parental home on Howard street. The owl in the window of Knisely's pool room was chloroformed Thursday and sent to a taxidermist in Williamsport for mounting. William McClellan, the efficient baggage master at the depot of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, spent Sunday with his son, Thomas, in Altoona. The Bellefonte Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Bunting Callaway, Thursday evening. The Christian Scientists have rented a part of the second floor of the Furst building, opposite the court house, for the purpose of holding their regular meetings. David Dockstader returned to his home in Wellsboro on Friday. Mr. Dockstader has been visiting at the home of his daughter Mrs. W. G. Ogden, on Thomas street. Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Ray, of New York City, who had been visiting their son, Horton S. Ray, at the Brockerhoff House, have left for their home after a pleasant visit here. A Christmas entertainment will be held in the Evangelical church Sunday evening, December 22, by members of the Sunday school and church, to which the public is cordially invited. C. F. York, of Warriorsmark, son-in-law of Col. Emanuel Noll, of Bellefonte, is sporting one of the finest teams of horses to be found in Huntingdon county. They are black and take the eye of all horsemen. The two young children of Mrs. Henry Gordon have been taken from the poor house and placed in the soldiers' orphan school at West Chester. Mrs. Gordon, will be remembered, was taken to the Danville insane asylum several weeks ago. This week Oliver Witmer, of Bellefonte, is having quite a flirtation with the young ladies at Howard. From reports he is a clover. He and Tom Caldwell are employed by Archibald Allison, the lumberman, and have been down there doing some plumbing. R. E. Stover, constable of Haines, brought a prisoner to Kline's county boarding house, on Friday, charged with "borrowing" some coats—possibly because they were needed this cold weather. His prisoner is 32 years old, and a public charge on Haines township. The ladies of St. John's Episcopal church realized the snug sum of over one hundred and thirty dollars at their birthday social held at the home of Mrs. Wilkinson last week, practically all of which was clear. The evening proved a most delightful one throughout. Sunday morning a valuable dog belonging to James Toner, the liveryman, was killed by the train. Jim raised it from a small pup, and thus was greatly attached to the canine. He could have cried when he saw the carcass lying on the track; but what was the use? Conrad Miller is making fast progress in rebuilding his residence on East Linn street. With favorable weather he will soon have the slate roof on, and the sides of the house built up again; when this is done the interior of the house will soon be gotten in shape for occupancy. David, a bright little, three-year-old son of James A. B. Miller, Esq., took ill with a strange malady about two weeks ago, which is supposed to be a nervous attack and which causes him to stutter so that it is difficult to understand him. At this writing he is much improved, and with proper care and treatment he is recovering. Considerable improvements are being made in and around the Pennsylvania Match Factory. The yard has been filled up until its present level is several feet higher than it was originally. When a heavy layer of crushed stone is put over this it will give the place an entirely different appearance. Prof. A. Reist Rutt, who was at one time assistant principal in the Bellefonte High school but who is now superintendent of schools in Lower Merion township, Chester county, was the principal speaker at a meeting of the Woman's Club of Ardmore a week or two ago and made quite a hit. His subject was "Europe in the Nineteenth Century."

Miss Ella McClain has been seriously ill at her home on Allegheny street, with typhoid fever. She is attended by a trained nurse from Lehigh, and thus she is receiving the best of attention. Her friends are hoping for her speedy recovery. Her brother, James McClain, of Spangler, spent a couple of days here this week looking after things pertaining to her interest. Bellefonters on business in Tyrone last week, were Elliot Hollibaugh, Nelson Showers, and Frank Smith who were lured by the struggle in the armory; Sheriff Kline, having taken a refractory youngster to the reformatory at Huntingdon; merchant Paul Sheffer, Attorney N. B. Spangler, Miss Edith Zimmerman, Mrs. Mable Valentine, and also Howard Holtzworth, of Unionville. The money just rolls into the pocket of our friend G. Edward Houpt, the concrete block manufacturer. If he can't get hold of the American eagle, on the dollar, in one way he will try another until he succeeds. Friday morning he took his gun and went out in the Ridges back of Milesburg, where he shot a large red fox. It was a beauty and was worth about $700. That made "Eddie" smile. Saturday Clement Dale, Esq., transacted legal business at Howard and Jacksonville. C. E. Yearick, of Howard, was a juror this week, and did not forget to favor us with a call. James H. Potter, the wholesale hardware dealer, transacted business in Tyrone, on Monday. The Lutheran Sabbath school is preparing for a Christmas exercise, with an interesting program. Blair's jewelry store has an important announcement in this issue to attract Christmas purchasers. Miss Shell, who spent a few days at the home of John Keichline, Esq., has returned to her home in Lock Haven. Lloyd Barnhart, who had been absent from Bellefonte for sometime, has returned, and will remain here during the winter. Mrs. John S. Tome, of Jersey Shore, who spent last week in Bellefonte as the guest of Mrs. Louise Bush, left Saturday for her home. Communion will be administered in the Lutheran church next Sabbath, morning and evening; preparatory services on Friday evening. Mrs. Wm. McCormick, of Philadelphia, who had been a guest at the residence of Col. and Mrs. J. L. Spangler, has returned home after a pleasant visit here. Mrs. Lew Wallace, who has been seriously ill at her home on Curtin street is improving, and her friends feel certain that she will soon permanently recover. Harvey Shaffer, clerk in O'lewine's hardware, who returned three weeks ago from a hunting trip and was taken quite ill, is able to be around town again we are pleased to say. Dr. A. Hafer is again at his office, after his hard fall on the pavement in front of Dr. Feldt's residence on High street last week. He not only saw stars but was unconscious for a short time. Jas. W. Gussallus, of Nittany, Pa., was a pleasant caller on Monday. He recently made sale of his farm and secured good prices. Having purchased a property he will retire from the farm. W. A. Guisewite, of Aaronsburg, and W. C. Krader, of Coburn, called in our sanctum. They report some whooping porkers slaughtered down there. Wm. Musser, at Pine Creek Mills, killed a porker that dressed 628, pounds, and Cyrus Meyer slaughtered one that dressed 50 pounds. Gosh, awer sell macht groose Shunke. A new substantial railing has been erected on the new state road, between Bellefonte and Milesburg. It has been whitewashed which gives it a neat and tidy appearance. Besides this it acts as a protection to those traveling on that thoroughfare. Should a horse frighten at an automobile, or anything else, there is little danger of him going over the high embankment. Mrs. Hilda Reeseman and her seven-year-old daughter, left Saturday for Columbus, Ohio, where they remained over Sunday with her sister. From there they went to Terra Haute, Ind., and from thence home. They had been spending several months very pleasantly in Bellefonte at the residence of Abe Baum, father of Mrs. Reeseman. The little girl had been going to school here and was learning. These brisk December days the Bellefonte sports are shying clear of the stock ticker—for the reason that all the fleece has been sheared from the "lamb." If reports are near correct Bellefonte's contribution to the "Finnance" was quite large on account of the slump. Some of the boys will not appreciate the holiday season for good reasons. The bleating of our home lambs is sad, yet instructive. Friday night, at the Brockerhoff House, Prof. Sherwood Hall and Arthur Sloop entertained the football squad of the Bellefonte Academy at a banquet, given under the direction of Mr. Horton S. Ray, the genial proprietor of the hotel. That it was a success in every respect, goes without saying. Twenty-two guests sat at the table. The delicious menu, the witty toasts, and the music made the evening pass very pleasantly. Rev. H. M. Robinson, of Milroy, filled the pulpit in the Bellefonte Presbyterian church on Sunday. He is a young man who, ten years ago, now, will be counted among the ablest ministers in the Huntingdon Presbytery. He has a comprehensive knowledge of the Bible which is one of the things that will aid him in becoming a strong preacher. He also speaks without notes which is strongly in his favor; while here he was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Shaffer, on Curtin street. A new platform has been erected at the rear of the Pennsylvania railroad passenger station, next to the siding running along the building occupied by the Lauderbach-Barber wholesale grocery. It is intended to be brought into service when the Lewisburg train is late. It will pull in on the siding and the passengers and express will be let off. Thus there will be no interference with the Bald Eagle train, and men in charge of the train will get through with their work quicker. Friday evening the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. basket ball team went to Tyrone and defeated the "Big Five," of that place, by a score of 26 to 22. Tyrone has a very fast team and they have already played some of the big league teams this season. It was quite a surprise to the Tyrone supporters to see the Bellefonte boys carry away the laurels from their heavier opponents. The game was witnessed by nearly three hundred people. If the Bellefonte boys had the support that the Tyrone boys had they would have played faster ball and made a much better showing. To-day is the time set for the event by which Recorder John C. Rowe, of Bellefonte, and Miss Mable Elizabeth Armstrong, of Altoona, will solemnize their marriage. For the past month the officials at the Court house have been coaching and advising this official for the ordeal which we predict he will meet without faltering. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe expect to return to Bellefonte and occupy the Rowe residence, on Curtin street, after December 17th. Just what will be doing about the Court House, upon his return is giving Mr. Rowe some thought. There will be a demonstration of some character and a lively one, too.

Benj. Fredericks, of Fleming, gave us a business call. J. Calvin Meyer, Esq., transacted business in Tyrone on Monday. Miss Helen Hull, of Bishop street, who had been quite ill, is slowly recovering. Linn Bottorf, of Curwensville, was a recent visitor in Bellefonte and Leont. Mrs. Wilson I. Fleming has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank McCumsey, at Renova. Thursday Mrs. Archibald Allison returned from Williamsport where she was visiting friends. John Uzzle, the general landlord, of Snow Shoe, was in Bellefonte the other day shaking hands with friends. Aleck Morrison, of Bellefonte, spent several days very pleasantly with Mr. and Mrs. William Clark in Tyrone. John Hartsock and son Russell, of Bellefonte, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Dave Poorman, at East Tyrone. Miss Teresa Shields arrived home on Saturday, after spending a short time with friends in Tyrone and Altoona. Joe Kelleher, conductor, of the shifting crew in Bellefonte yards, spent Sunday very pleasantly with his mother in Tyrone. Thomas Conaghan, one of the efficient telegraph operators at the Tyrone railroad station, spent Sunday with his mother near Bellefonte. John Dubbs, the Bellefonte implement dealer, can be found at his new place of business. He now has plenty of room to entertain his friends. John Barnett, a pleasant young man, from Minnesota, is visiting in Bellefonte at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lockington. He is a farmer by occupation, and is getting along nicely. Morton Smith, one of the clerks in the Bellefonte post office, will soon have more trouble ahead of him in trying to keep the boys away from his home. A recent addition to his family was a little daughter and he is much pleased. Mrs. Levi Straub, who has not been in Bellefonte since she left, twenty years ago, came last Friday from New York State with her son-in-law, Edward Crowley, to spend the greater part of the winter with her sister, Mrs. Theresa Tate. The other day the American Express Company of this place got a package addressed to Governor Pennypacker, Bellefonte, Pa. So famous has Bellefonte become for governors that this package was mislabeled for Governor Pennypacker. Among the cases which attracted considerable time of the court last week was a dispute among lumbermen and when jury returned its verdict it was for only 96 cents which was a victory, as the other party had the costs amounting to more than that many dollars. Mrs. Harry Hazel, Morris W. Cowdrick, and Mrs. Romizer, who had been in Bellefonte for several weeks, left Monday for Niagara Falls. They were here in the interest of Pack Cowdrick who was seriously ill with typhoid fever but who is now on a fair way to a permanent recovery. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haagan and family, of the Arlington, Tyrone, came to Bellefonte Sunday to visit Mrs. Haagan's father, Dr. A. W. Hafer. Mrs. Haagan and the children remained here during the week, while Mr. Haagan returned to his work at the hotel Sunday evening. Fred Walls Larimer, who holds a responsible position in the main office of the American Lime & Stone Co. at Tyrone, spent Sunday in Bellefonte. They say he came to see his mother but the majority of his time here was otherwise spent. His real reason to have a mother under existing circumstances. Miss Wilcox, of the Central Entertainment Bureau, arrived in town Thursday to have charge of rehearsals for "At the Ferry," the comic entertainment which will be given in Petrikin Hall, for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A., on December 17. It will be a home talent entertainment which always gives satisfaction. Charles Barnes, brother of Homer and Joe Barnes, of Bellefonte, who has developed into quite an expert athlete, is now playing on the basket ball team of the New Haven, Conn. Y. M. C. A. The New Haven team is very strong, and Charlie is one of its best players. Just a few days ago they had a hard game with YaleVarsity. Tuesday morning Jacob From, of Centre Hall, who was convicted last week for stealing chickens, was taken to the Western Penitentiary at Allegheny. He was in custody of Sheriff Henry Kline, and Abram V. Miller. When Jake first heard the verdict he began to cry and pout, but he has since discovered that there was no use kicking against the strong mandates of the law, and so he was looking pretty cheerful when he left. "Domino" while crossing the diamond in Bellefonte on Monday afternoon, lost his gum shoes and came within an ace of being compelled to secure John Knisely's dipnet to fish them out. "Domino" says he lives in the enterprising and progressive borough of Unionville where such a nuisance would not be tolerated for one minute; when "Domino" has reason to swear he always says, "Get the behind me Satan" and that is all that saved the air from being penetrated with brimstone on this occasion. Mrs. N. B. Spangler went to Philadelphia, several weeks ago and while there found it necessary to consult a physician. Her ailment proved to be an attack of appendicitis and an operation was determined upon at the Medico Chl hospital which showed that her ailment was due to that cause. Since then she has been improving and will be able to leave the institution this week. She had been subject to illness from this source for some time, but never of a serious character until recently. Charles K. Lutz, wife and three children, of Milbura, Kansas, who came east to attend the Jamestown Exhibition, and who spent a short time with friends in Bellefonte, and Centre county, left Tuesday afternoon for their home. A number of years ago Mr. Lutz went west and located in Kansas. He purchased a large amount of land, for $11 an acre which is now worth from $25 to $40, an acre. He converted this land into a cattle ranch, and at once commenced coining money. The result is that while in Bellefonte Mr. Lutz began negotiation for two of the finest farms in this vicinity. It is his purpose to soon return to Old Centre county where he and his family expect to make their future home. Mr. Lutz, is a brother of Harvey Lutz, of Bellefonte.

Attorney J. A. B. Miller spent Sunday with friends in Snow Shoe. Robert Hood, an efficient moulder at Lingle's foundry, departed for Williamsport Friday morning. Charles McAllister, of Harrisburg, who spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baney has returned home. Mrs. Samuel Rine returned Monday from Altoona where she had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jack Norris. Mrs. Chas. Donachy and daughter left for their home in Lock Haven on Wednesday after a pleasant visit among friends in Bellefonte. Asbridge Thomas and brother Rich, after spending a delightful week in Bellefonte, returned to their home at Lewisport, Friday. On Monday A. L. Armstrong butchered two hogs which weighed 750 pounds each, when dressed. Pretty fine specimens of the piglets. At the social held at the Reformed chapel on Friday evening, the ladies cleared about $50. The readings and recitations were features of the entertainment that was greatly enjoyed by those present. This week there was three Ex-Cheriffs in Bellefonte, Cyrus Brungart, of Centre Hall; Robert Cook, of Howard; and Shearer, of Lock Haven. They are all good fellows and are always welcome to our town. Harry Hutchinson, ticket agent at the P. R. R. station, has been taking his annual two weeks' vacation. He returned from a visit to New York, Philadelphia and Atlantic City where he enjoyed himself. Ed. Gillen, the groceryman, ran a nail in his foot last week and he has been having quite a time to keep the wound free from blood poison. He has had it lanced twice, which were very painful operations. Prof. Angel, the eye specialist, will be at the Brockerhoff House, Wednesday and Thursday Dec. 18 and 19. Prof. Angel announces the reduction of 25 per cent on former charges. See his advertisement in another column. Miss Fleming, of Lock Haven, will sing at the Theatrum on Saturday night. She has a strong and cultivated voice, and will certainly please all who will go there to hear her. Remember the price of admission is only five cents. Mrs. Harriet Wilson, of Stormtown, was a pleasant visitor in Bellefonte on Saturday; she is a member of one of the oldest and most prosperous families in the county which, for years, has been held in the highest respect by all who know them. John Harris, Jr., son of banker John P. Harris, of Bellefonte, was in town the other day. He has a lumber operation at Beaver Mills, about eight miles from Julian, which is proving quite resourceful. John has the appearance of a typical lumberman. If you desire to enjoy an evening of real fun go and see the comic opera "At the Ferry" in Petrikin Hall, Tuesday evening. It is composed entirely of home talent, and for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. Give the show a good audience and you will not regret it. W. K. Anderson, of Chicago, Ill., a very pleasant boarder at the home of Dr. Edith Schad, departed for other towns in Centre county. Mr. Anderson is traveling in the interest of one of the western colleges, and is desirous of securing students in this part of the country. Milton R. Johnston, the Bellefonte marble dealer, spent a short time recently in Mt. Joy where he erected a handsome monument. Before he returned home he slipped down to Harrisburg and went through that famous capitol, the mention of which makes every honest Pennsylvanian blush with shame. Several weeks ago, Rev. L. N. Flock and Clement Dale, Esq., were appointed a committee to sell the Lutheran church at Jacksonville. The sale took place on Saturday and the highest bidder was George Garbrick, of Bellefonte, his bid being $192. The building, which is in fair condition, will be torn down and brought to Bellefonte, and the lumber used in building a house on Curtin street. South Water street has been improved with a heavy layer of coarse limestone. For some reason or other the streets in crossings in the borough were never in a worse condition than they are to-day. At some crossings it is almost impossible for ladies to get through the mud and water. In many places the crossings are lower than the bed of the street, and thus the water and mud continually stands on them. It should be remedied. Friday B. F. Confer, of Milheim, brought his daughter, Miss Blanche, to the Bellefonte hospital for treatment. She is 21 years of age, and about three months ago had a tooth pulled. Shortly afterwards an abscess formed on the left side of her face, near the nose which finally developed into a running sore. An operation was performed on Saturday when particles of the bone was taken from the sore. The abscess was thoroughly cleansed, and it is believed that she will recover. Mr. Confer, the father of the young lady, spent Sunday and Monday in Bellefonte looking after his daughter's interest, who will have to remain in the hospital for several weeks. Dr. H. H. Long and wife, of Berwick, spent Sunday in Bellefonte as the guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Ward, on Curtin street, and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Weiland, of Lemont where, for a short time, they were guests of his sister, Mrs. Lenker. Mr. Long was married at Berwick on Thanksgiving after which they left for Lemont where Mrs. Lenker tendered the bride and groom quite a brilliant reception which was largely attended. Dr. Long was at one time, a student of Dr. Ward, and is quite well known here. He has a large practice in Berwick and is getting along nicely. He has a most excellent wife, who has made many warm friends in this community during her recent visits here. Mrs. Long and Mrs. Wieland were schoolmates at the State Normal school at Bloomsburg, and thus they are close friends.

A. Bitner and Henry Thompson, of Blanchard, gave our sanctum a call. Hamil Goheen and Jacob Reish, of Penna. Furnace, gave our sanctum a call on Tuesday. Mrs. Daniel H. Hastings went to Philadelphia, Tuesday morning, to do some Christmas shopping. Rev. Dr. Boal, of Centrehall, was a visitor in town, and, as is his custom, favored the Democrat with a call. The Centre County Bar Association will hold their annual banquet at the Nittany Club on Saturday Evening. Emma Polk, who had been a visitor in Bellefonte at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Kelley, left Tuesday for her home in Baltimore, Md. Monday evening Rev. W. B. Cox accompanied Miss Laura Turner to Philadelphia for the purpose of having an operation performed for necrosis of the jaw bone. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wooster, on Allegheny street, are rejoicing over the arrival of a bouncing baby boy, which made his appearance at their home on Monday afternoon. Joseph J. Rhoads, assistant engineer of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Philadelphia, and who is in charge of all trains that leave Broad street station, was a Bellefonte visitor on Sunday. While standing on a step ladder yesterday at the Blanchard residence, on Linn street, Mrs. Alice Cain fell and sustained a broken arm. The accident was caused by the ladder breaking. James Simmonds, who had been working in Bellwood, arrived in Bellefonte Wednesday morning with head done up in bandages. He was working about an engine when he was badly scalded. Foster, the weather prophet, gives us to understand we may expect a biting cold wave about the 19th of December, which will continue during the balance of the month. He says the weather will assume the blizzard form. To-morrow evening Mr. and Mrs. James R. Hughes will give a reception at the Fraternity House to the new students of the Academic grade. Christy Smith's orchestra will furnish the music. In the afternoon of the same day there will be a declamatory contest at school for the W. S. Furst prize of $10. Frank Bartley, the Bellefonte liveryman left Wednesday for Chicago where he will visit his brother, Herbert. It is the intention of Mr. Bartley to locate in the Windy City, should he find a good opening. This means that he will sell his livery stable in this place. He was accompanied west by his cousin, Harry Bartley, of Marion township. W. H. Golden, physical director at State College, and his wife were in Bellefonte Tuesday. Mr. Golden went to Pittsburg while Mrs. Golden took the train for Boston, Mass., where she is visiting friends. "Pop" Golden, as he is familiarly known among the boys, is related over the splendid record made by the State College football team this year. Dr. William Laurie, of Bellefonte, attended an adjourned meeting of the Huntingdon Presbytery which met in Tyrone, on Monday. The main business transacted was the granting to Rev. R. A. Hunter, of Birmingham, a dismissal from the Huntingdon Presbytery, where he is to become the pastor of the Grace Presbyterian church. Miss Madeline Lack, the new leading lady for the famous show, "Saved From the Slums," arrived in Bellefonte Friday evening to play with the aggregation here on Saturday night. The little escapade of the week, however, had sort of a freeing up effect on the audience, as only a lakers dozen were present. It is not likely that the new lady was favorably impressed with her reception. The company left Sunday afternoon. A gentleman who gives the casual business special study says that he expects to see extensive developments ere long in the Prentiss, Harris and other lands in Rush township, Centre county. John P. Harris and his son Linn Harris, of Bellefonte, are interested in the development of these lands, on which considerable money has already been spent. The gentlemen, interested, expect to reap a large income from these lands in the near future. The Centre county Medical Society held their monthly meeting in the Court House Tuesday and an unusually interesting meeting was held. The members present from out of town were: Drs. Christ and Glenn, of State College; Dr. Dale, of Lemont; Dr. Kidder, of Boalsburg; Dr. Alexander, of Centre Hall; Dr. Braucht, of Spring Mills; Dr. Huff, of Milesburg; Dr. Thompson, of Port Matilda; Dr. Kurtz, of Howard; and Dr. Woods, of Pine Grove Mills.

Hunters Pay Dearly. Two young men of Milton were arrested for hunting for game in a naphtha launch on Friday last in the river near that place. The result of their day's sport was that one wild duck and a crane were killed. They also selected the Sunday before to do their hunting and in consequence of committing two offenses they were fined $20 for hunting with the aid of a naphtha launch and $3 for breaking the Sabbath. This with $3 costs made the total for the day's hunt the sum of $78. MARRIAGE LICENSE. John C. Rowe Bellefonte. Mary E. Armstrong Altoona. G. W. Blatt Philipsburg. Nellie Moriarty Hawk Run.
