

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to one and all.

That button down the front sweater is here, $1 to $6 all colors.—Sim The Clothier.

J. L. Gordon went to Huntingdon to see his father who is suffering from a stroke of paralysis.

T. W. Kreamer shipped fifteen hundred Christmas trees to Philadelphia and New York on Monday.

C. Meserve, secretary of the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A., transacted business in Lock Haven, Friday.

Kathryn, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rider, is quite ill at the family home in Beaver row.

Al Dale's whiskers are growing more luxuriant as the cold weather sets in. They are Gum Stump hollyhocks in full bloom.

Harvey E. Corman, of Zion, gave us a call. He is one of Walker township's tall men, towering skyward 6 feet, 2 inches.

Thomas A. Shoemaker and family are now comfortably located in the Reeder property on the corner of Allegheny and Curtin street.

James Gault is now spending most of his time on that farm he recently purchased at Howard and on which he and his family will move in the spring.

Prothonotary A. B. Kimpfort has been housed up the past few days with a bad cold. Nothing serious in his condition, only out of shape to be at work.

Miss Petticoats is coming to the Garman Opera House on Jan. 8th. The scenes are laid in New England and are decidedly refreshing and fascinating.

Miss Mary Martin, one of the efficient composers in the Centre Democrat office, Bellefonte, was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, on Sixth street.—Tyronne Herald.

Remember, no paper will be issued from this office next week as all our employees will be enjoying the usual holiday vacation of one week. Next issue will be on January 2nd, 1908.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Peters, who were recently married in Bellefonte, left Sunday afternoon for Conemaugh, where they will make their future home. Mrs. Peters' maiden name was Miss Edna Evey.

Miss Fleming, of Lock Haven, sang at the Theatorium Saturday evening. She has a strong and sweet soprano voice which pleased and entertained the many patrons of this delightful place of amusement.

Interesting letters have been received at the Bellefonte Academy from the Wisner children who reached Gibraltar in safety, enroute to meet their parents at Naples, Italy. They had a delightful voyage and were greatly delighted upon meeting their parents.

A. G. Morris, of Tyronne, was a recent visitor in Bellefonte. He is anxious to get all the lime kilns in this vicinity started up again, and just as soon as business shows any signs of recovering, this branch of industry will be one of the first to be put in full operation.

Among those who attended the funeral of Mrs. J. F. Booser at Osceola Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sellers and Mrs. Belle Barr, of Pittsburg; M. R. Johnson and Wm. Sowers, of Bellefonte; and Mrs. Elizabeth Tressler, of Fillmore. They all returned to Bellefonte Thursday evening.

For a couple of months Dr. George Fairlamb, one of the oldest residents in Bellefonte, has been confined to his room, in the Bush House with sore feet, the result of rheumatism from which he had been a sufferer for a number of years. He is able to see his friends, and among the recent callers were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Beal, of Coatsville.

Miss Sarah Hastings was fourteen years of age on Tuesday and in honor of the event she entertained a number of her friends at dinner. Miss Sarah is a daughter of the late Ex-Governor D. H. Hastings and the social affair proved a very enjoyable one to all present. Her friends left with the wish that she might be permitted to enjoy many more such delightful occasions.

Friday evening the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. basket ball team defeated the Juniata basket ball team to the score of 46 to 71. It was simply a walk-over for our boys, and it demonstrates that the team has received first class training under the tutorage of Mr. Hubbard, the physical trainer. Melvan Walker, who was injured in the other game, was unable to play in this game.

D. J. Gingery and John W. Murphy, of Martha Furnace, were pleasant callers on Friday; on that day Mr. Gingery received the appointment of Mercantile Appraiser, for which there were about eleven applicants. Mr. Gingery is one of Centre county's young and most successful farmers. He is also a thorough business man, and thus the appointment is a good one. He will commence his duties immediately.

Friday afternoon a declamatory contest took place at the Bellefonte Academy, the prize being given by Wm. S. Furst, Esq., of Philadelphia, once a student of the institution. There were six contestants and all acquitted themselves in fine style. The first prize was awarded to George Lutz Hornbrooks, of Wheeling, W. Va.; the second prize was taken by Edmund Joseph, of Bellefonte; with favorable mention for William Crocks, of Williamsport. This was the first prize contest and it proved a success.

Andrew J. Cook, has resigned his position as superintendent for the Berwind-White Coal company and with his wife and daughter Miss Margaret, expects to take a trip to California this winter. Mr. Cook has not been in the best of health for months, and sometime ago was compelled to undergo an operation. Since then he has been troubled with rheumatism and he decided that a change of scene and climate was the best thing possible for him. He is now in Philadelphia where he will remain until after Christmas when he will return to Bellefonte and as soon as he can get things in shape, which will be about the middle of January, will leave for California, where they will spend two months or more visiting his brother, George Cook and family. They expect to return to Bellefonte in the spring and if his health is then all right Mr. Cook will very likely again associate himself with the Berwind-White company though not as superintendent.

The younger a man is the more he thinks he knows about women.

Benjamin Johnstonbaugh, of Brad-dock, is spending a few days with friends in Bellefonte.

Off on all our heavy overcoats, an unusually good present—an acceptable one.—Sim The Clothier.

Our merchants report a brisk holiday season; there was little evidence about town of a money stringency.

The first real snow of the season fell on Saturday and was of sufficient depth to make good sleighing throughout the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Richard are entertaining Mrs. C. E. Aull and daughter, Margaret, of Ardmore, a suburb of Philadelphia.

Mrs. M. Talhelm, Mrs. E. E. Beal and daughter Hazel, of Union, were Christmas shoppers in Bellefonte on Wednesday. They made a pleasant call at this office before leaving town.

Mrs. Ralph Mallory, and her two children, left Bellefonte on Saturday for Philadelphia where they will remain until after Christmas. They will be guests of Mrs. Mallory's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murphy.

Misses Mary and Anna Brown, who have been in Frederick, Md., since the death of their father, arrived in Bellefonte this week and will spend the winter with their sister, Mrs. Kyle McFarlane and family.

Owing to the closing down of Red Bank for the winter William Burnside has given up his home at Scotia and is once again in Bellefonte intermingling with his many friends. He is a good jolly fellow, and he will have a high time here this winter.

The ladies of the Methodist church made quite a hit with "Der Deutch Market" they held in the Garman residence recently. Most everything in the shape of pies, cake, candies, etc., as well as fancy work, was sold and the ladies cleared close to one hundred dollars.

The people of Milesburg held their annual Thanksgiving service for the benefit of the Bellefonte Hospital. The sum of $3.29 was turned over to the Treas. of the hospital by Claude Smith. The Board of Trustees are grateful for all donations. They are being used for an excellent purpose.

Walter Stahlsmith, who has been the efficient day operator at the Pennsylvania railroad station at Lock Haven, for the past four years, has been transferred to the office at Bellefonte. Last week Mr. Stahlsmith shipped his household goods to Bellefonte, and the family has also come here.

The annual dinner of the Centre County Bar Association was held at the Nittany County Club Saturday evening. The weather was not just the best but nevertheless those present had a delightful time, and anxiously await another such event. There was quite a number of members there and all joined in making the event a very enjoyable affair.

Samuel E. Goss, who about a year ago sold out his insurance office in this place and went to Ladysmith, Wis. to engage in the lumbering business with his brother, has returned to Pennsylvania and is now located at Juniata, near Altoona. For a man born and raised in the state there is no place to live in like old Pennsylvania.

According to general orders issued by Col. Hugh S. Taylor the regular inspection of company B will be held on Wednesday, January 15th, 1908. A preliminary inspection will be held on Friday evening, January 3rd. This will be the first inspection under the new inspector and every member of the company should turn out on every drill night so as to be in good trim for that occasion.

In the absence of Rev. James B. Stine on Sunday, Rev. Richard Mallalieu, of Williamsport, preached in the Methodist church Sunday morning and evening. Rev. Mallalieu is the father of W. S. Mallalieu, manager of the Pennsylvania telephone company in this place and is one of the well-known ministers in the Central Pennsylvania M. E. conference. His sermons were well received.

Among our callers on Monday was Mrs. Sarah Witmer, of near Fillmore, who came to renew her subscription to this paper. Her husband, the venerable Wm. Witmer, now in his 86th year, has not been to town for almost a year, owing to ill health. Mr. Witmer was a familiar figure on our streets for years, and was known as one of the most prosperous farmers in Centre county, possibly the shrewdest financier of any.

John H. Woomer has given up his position as representative of the Singer Sewing Machine company in Bellefonte and on Saturday will make sale of all his household effects. Mr. Woomer has accepted a position as solicitor and collected for a firm in Ohio, and has been assigned the State of Indiana as his territory. Until he decides on a location Mrs. Woomer will make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Harry Rerick, in Altoona.

Friday afternoon we had a pleasant call from Mrs. Richard Lutz, of east Howard street. Six weeks ago she fell striking the back of her head. She was unconscious for sometime, and considerable fear was manifested that her injuries would finally result in brain fever. She, however, recovered and Friday was the second time she ventured out since the accident. Mrs. Lutz paid the Democrat quite a compliment for which we take off our hat.

W. S. Furst, Esq., of Philadelphia, has purchased the interest of the Daniel Rhoads estate in what is known as the Furst and Rhoads park on west Linn street. This is a very desirable piece of property, and it is the intention of Mr. Furst to build a row of desirable houses there which will not only bring in a neat income, but will greatly improve the appearance of that end of town. It is altogether probable that this work will be begun next spring.

Two State meat inspectors were in Bellefonte recently and made an inspection of the butcher shops and slaughter houses in Bellefonte, in accordance with the provision of the pure food law. In general both the shops and slaughter houses were found to be in a good condition, though in one or more instances the inspectors suggested some changes which will insure a more sanitary condition of their product. Especially were the butchers cautioned against the use of water from the creek for any purpose whatever.

Malcolm Mitchell is home from his work at Syracuse for a vacation that will last over the holidays at least.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin K. Corl, of State College, were callers and inspected the work of getting out a newspaper.

S. D. Gettig, Esq., one of the leading attorneys at the Centre County Bar, transacted business in Millheim on Saturday.

Miss Corra Brungart, daughter of ex-Sheriff Brungart, of Centre Hall, was a Christmas shopper in Bellefonte on Saturday.

Pauline, the hypnotist, at the opera house from the 25th to the 28th. The program will be filled with plenty to amuse and instruct.

A. A. Stevens, of Tyronne, is having his residence fitted up with a hot air plant. The work is being done by Wm. Brown, of Bellefonte.

The Bellefonte basketmakers, Misses Blanchard and Merriman, have a pretty display of baskets in the writing room of the Brockerhoff House.

Mrs. A. A. Hoffman, who has been spending the past three weeks with friends at Pittsburg, Johnstown and Marietta, O., returned home Monday.

Mrs. Lew Wallace, of Bellefonte, who had been seriously ill for a couple of weeks, is getting along nicely, and there is no doubt as to her permanent recovery.

The Teachers' local institute for Bellefonte borough, Benner, Spring, and Walker townships, will be held in the Howard street building at Bellefonte on Saturday, January 28th, 1908.

Charles Faxon, who had been visiting friends in Spring Mills and Rebersburg, returned to Bellefonte on Saturday. He thinks the girls down there are prettier than those in Bellefonte.

J. V. Shreck, of Renova, spent Sunday in Bellefonte as the guest of his sister, Miss Emma Shreck, who has charge of the Theatorium. He was accompanied by Mr. McFadden, of the same place.

Mrs. Sylvia Norrish, the Secretary of State Association of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Louise Bush, departed Tuesday morning for her home in Bradford county.

The Lutheran Sabbath school will have an entertainment in the church, on Christmas evening, Wednesday, consisting of recitation, responsive reading, vocal and instrumental music; a specially prepared program will be used upon the occasion.

Low Gettig, the Bellefonte butcher, is going around with blood in his eye looking for the fellow who broke into his slaughter house the other night and stole an entire hog which had been killed the day before. Lew says that in this case, a hog carried a hog.

Ed. Gillen, the groceryman, is again able to be at his place of business after being housed up for a week with a sore foot. He began thinking about handing in his checks but fortunately a turn came for the better, and he is now getting along all right. It is difficult to down an Irishman.

Warren Bower, of Haines, was a pleasant caller, and says they have excellent sleighing down there. He will quit farming in the spring and with his aged father, Wm. Bower, will move to Aaronsburg, where Warren lately purchased the Julia Bower home, on Front street, for $500.

The annual club dinner for members and their ladies was given at the Nittany Country club Thursday evening; 85 guests being present. Smith's orchestra furnished the music the principal diversion being dancing and cards. Supt. Johnson, of Tyronne, took his party to the club in a special train.

Mail carrier John Brachbill, of Williamsport, is now rejoicing over the arrival of a bouncing boy. The baby weighs eight pounds and will be named in honor of his grandfather, John Calvin Brachbill. The stork has been very kind to John, and his many friends in Bellefonte extend to him their congratulations.

One of the interesting and historical objects to be seen in Bellefonte just now is the engine, No. 1771, that piloted President McKinley's funeral train from Renova to Harrisburg. The engine has other distinctions that make it worthy of notice. It can be seen on the siding near the P. R. R. depot almost every morning.

Forest L. Bullock, the Bellefonte blacksmith and wagonmaker, has purchased from Gamble, Gheen & Co., a piece of ground on South Water street, between the steam laundry and Keichline's machine shops. He is now quarrying out a place in the rocks to erect a shop. The ground he formerly occupied will be utilized by Wm. Keichline who will enlarge his shop.

The State Superintendent of Public Instruction has appointed the following gentlemen to be members of the Committee on Permanent Certificates for Centre County for the three years beginning December 1, 1907: Jonas E. Wagner, Bellefonte; C. Dison Koch, Philipsburg; and William P. Hosterman, Penn Hall. The next examination will be held at Bellefonte, April 17th, and 18th, 1908.

One of the most flourishing industries in Bellefonte, just now, is Sourbeck's candy factory, located in the basement of Petrikin Hall. The candymakers are J. D. Sourbeck, John Sourbeck, Jr., and Geo. Ghervert. They manufacture clear toys, taffies and all kinds of candies. On an average of four to five hundred pounds of sweets are turned out each day. The process is interesting and requires a certain amount of skill.

Monday evening the Bellefonte Council made a reduction on the County Commissioner's water bill. They deducted the cost of the water used in the fountains in the Court house park during summer. This was the right adjustment of the matter, as the Commissioners purchased the fountains with an agreement with the Council that the water should be furnished free for them. They are very pretty ornaments to the town and this is the only arrangement that could be made to keep them there.

Roy McCalmont, brother of Mrs. J. C. Meyer, of Bellefonte, who married Miss Elsie Weaver, has been seriously ill at his home in Rochester, N. Y. He had a bad attack of erysipelas and after succeeding in breaking it up left him with a bad attack of rheumatism. His condition was so alarming that Mrs. McCalmont, sent for her mother, Mrs. J. C. Weaver, of Philadelphia, who was at Howard attending her sister's funeral. It is reported that a turn has come for the better, and with the proper care he will recover.

Mrs. W. L. Daggett has returned from Philadelphia.

Howe's moving pictures at the Opera House, Tuesday, December 24th.

Harry Yeager is still making improvements in his residence on Spring street.

Miss Eva Crissman will have her dancing class to-night instead of tomorrow night.

Mrs. Sabra Garman visited Mr. and Mrs. Al. Garman, at Tyronne, on her way home from Pittsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lukenbach, of Tyronne, who spent Sunday in Bellefonte, left Monday for their home.

Tuesday, Dec. 24th, Lyman H. Howe will be at the Opera House with his famous moving pictures.

Lee Derstine, who was injured at Altoona on Friday, came home on Saturday and is getting along alright.

James Uzzle and Laurie Redding, two prominent citizens of Snow Shoe, were Bellefonte visitors Wednesday.

While no paper will be issued next week, the business office will be kept open during the holiday season for the transaction of business.

Start the new year right by opening an account in the Savings Department, at the Bellefonte Trust Company. Your money will draw interest, while on deposit.

The revival service continues with interest at the United Brethren church. Nightly there are penitents at the mourner's bench, inquiring for the way of the better life. Let the good work continue as it is much needed in Bellefonte.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Watson and child, and Mr. and Mrs. John Shreckler and child left Wednesday for Conemaugh and Pittsburg. The gentlemen are railroad employees and are off with their families on a ten days vacation.

The public schools of Bellefonte, will close Friday afternoon for the Christmas vacation and will re-open on Monday, Dec. 30th. Friday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, the annual Christmas orations, of the senior class, will be delivered in the High School room.

"At the Ferry" is the name of the home talent entertainment given in Petrikin Hall Tuesday evening for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. There were many laughable situations, in which everybody took their part admirably. It was again demonstrated that we have home talent that it is difficult to surpass.

"Merrily we roll along, roll along" is the tune heard at the skating rink these winter nights. Some do "roll" but it is surprising what a fancy bunch of skaters Bellefonte already possesses. If you want to pass a dreary winter evening, pleasantly, healthfully and cheerfully, take our advice and go to the rink.

Wednesday testimony was taken before H. C. Quigley, as Master, in the State College turpentine case. The object was to have that part of the pike abandoned between Lemont and the college. The township was represented by Fortney & Fortney and Gettig, Bower & Zerby. The pike company was represented by John Blanchard, Esq. The stenographer was Miss Anna Fox. There was no verdict before going to press.

One of the most entertaining places to go to in Bellefonte is the Theatorium, and for that reason it should be more liberally patronized by our people. For five cents the patrons certainly get the worth of their money. Within the next few days they will give three entertainments that will be worth 50 cents but the admission will be but five cents.

To make it pay the hall ought to be crowded. One of these entertainments is called "The Clock Maker's Secret." It is said to be the finest thing ever thrown on canvas. If you desire to see it carefully, watch the bulletin board in front of Petrikin Hall.

Shakespeare, the immortal bard, would have taken about seven bits and raved like a demon had he been induced to pay two dollars to attend the recital in the Court house, on Monday evening, and listened to the decorated she-male mewing his famous lines to a select audience of Bellefonters. It was the biggest fiasco of the season, and the spindle-legged gander who canvassed the town for money was seeking new fields for his attraction. Any ordinary school girl capable of memorizing could have excelled the decorated haw who attempted to give a Shakespearean recital. It was enough to make the world's greatest poet twist in his grave. It was painful and most of the audience left. Stung again.

On Wednesday afternoon about 4.30 Miss Julia Curtin, an aged lady who boards at the Bush House, started out to hunt her grand nephew, Gregg Sheldon, a lad about 6 years of age, who was out someplace sliding. While attempting to cross the crossing, near the Brockerhoff residence, she was run into by a team and knocked down. She was picked up and carried to the office of Dr. G. H. Hayes where it was found that her nose was broken, a front tooth knocked out and the inside of her cheek cut. After the wounds were dressed she was taken to her rooms at the Bush House, where she is getting along as well as can be expected.

Sunday morning and evening Rev. John Hewitt, of Columbus, Ohio, delivered two excellent sermons in the St. John's Episcopal church where he officiated twenty-two years ago. His general appearance has changed to the extent that there were a number of his friends here who failed to recognize him. The change, however, is for the better, as he is much stouter and probably better looking. He is a strong man in his church, and is pastor of one of the largest congregations in his city. It is altogether probable that he will be given a call to again become the pastor of the Bellefonte church. Should this be done the indications are he will accept. His many friends, outside of his congregation, will heartily welcome both he, and his good wife.

Monday evening Recorder John C. Rowe and bride returned from their honeymoon trip and are now comfortably quartered in their home on Curtin street. Tuesday evening the court house officials, with Sheriff Kline and others, went to their residence and for several hours they owned the place. Sheriff Kline beat a drum while the rest of the gang had toy horns and, with these, they made Rome howl. They were cordially received by the happy couple, and during the evening an elaborate turkey dinner was served to the hungry mob. "Jonny" withstood the trying ordeal like a little man, and Wednesday morning he was again behind his desk in his office looking like a two-year-old. His friends around the Temple of Justice presented Mrs. Rowe with a linen table cloth and napkins.

Don't forget that little matter of your subscription, if in arrears we are anxious to hear from you before January 1st, 1908.

The freight station at Bellefonte must seem like home to David Barlette who has been an employe there for thirty-four years.

Mrs. Edward L. Walker, of East Oarney, N. J., nee Miss Ida Orris, formerly of this place, is here to spend the holiday season among friends.

ADJOINING COUNTIES

Commencing on Wednesday morning an additional express route was established, running through from Lock Haven to Pittsburg, during the holiday season.

About noon, Saturday, one of the large tanks of the gas company in Sunbury exploded, badly wrecking the entire plant and fatally burning Wesley Campbell, an employe. Loss about $100,000.

On Thursday evening Miss Mollie F. Snyder, of Lewistown, while walking on the road near Yeagertown, slipped in a rut twisting her foot and breaking the bone of the left leg above the ankle.

On the same date five years ago Miss Snyder fell on a sidewalk in Lewistown and broke her arm.

The summons of death came to Rev. Father J. C. Farran, dean of the Catholic parish in Central Pennsylvania, Monday morning at the rectory of St. Columba's church at Johnstown. He was rector of St. Matthew's Catholic church at Tyronne, serving in that capacity for a period of twenty-seven years.

Frederick Muthler, of Beech Creek, has moved his mill from the woods adjoining Peter Rupert, where considerable timber was cut and sawed, to the tract purchased by Mr. Muthler of the estate of the late Christian Bitner in the township, where there is considerable timber to cut. The mill will be ready to start in less than a week.

Fred Salsbury, of Beech Creek, accompanied by his father, Henry H. Salsbury, went to Bedford where Fred entered a school for telegraphers which is maintained by the Pennsylvania railroad for the instruction of those desiring to become operators and station agents. The New York Central, Reading and other railroads have established similar schools.

Henry Twele, of Greenock, near McKeesport, is probably the most youthful smoker in Allegheny county. The boy has been using tobacco for more than a year. His father is a miner. The boy cries unless given a pipe or a stogie once or twice a day and nothing else will pacify him. Milk and medicine are spurned, and he falls asleep soon after smoking. He is 3 1/2 years old.

A raft of round pine timber, which has been stranded high and dry on the river shore above the bridge on the Lockport side, at Lock Haven, since early in the winter, is being rafted and will be run down the river to Williamsport by Samuel H. Myers and several assistants. It is seldom that rafting operations are carried on in December, but the flood in the river makes it possible at this time. Although the stream is covered with slush ice, no trouble is anticipated in getting the raft to the Foresman mill, at Williamsport.

The search for the body of Mrs. Geo. Swope, of Lock Haven, who was drowned in Bald Eagle creek, has been given up. All boats that were in use have been taken from the river and put into winter quarters during the past week. The cause for giving up the search is that the cold winter weather that has set in and so much slush ice running in the river greatly handicapped the men that worked so faithfully to recover the body. It was with regret that the work had to be suspended as the public was greatly interested in the finding of the body.

Young Man Held up.

Henry Shaffer, a young man, of Mill Hall, who is employed at Heckman's mill, while walking on the road from Mackeyville to Mill Hall, near the axe factory, was held up and assaulted by two foreigners, thought to be Italians. They evidently were after money, but Shaffer fortunately had only a little change. In the struggle the young man had nearly all his clothing torn or cut from his person and a number of bruises were inflicted on his body. The highwaymen made their escape and have not yet been captured.

Frightfully Hurt.

William Meyers, employed in the clay mines of the Pennsylvania Fire Brick Co., at Beech Creek, was injured Tuesday forenoon by the premature explosion of a stick of dynamite.

Mr. Meyers was tamping dynamite in a hole, preparatory to putting off a blast, when there was a terrific explosion. He was picked up in a partly unconscious condition and his head, face, body and limbs were found to be cut and bruised, while his right eye was torn out and laid on his cheek. One leg was badly lacerated. He was taken to the Lock Haven hospital.

AUDITOR'S NOTICE.

In the Orphans Court of Centre County. In the matter of the estate of Mary Crust, late of Renner Twp., deceased. The undersigned an Auditor appointed by the said Court to make distribution of the funds in the hands of the Accountant and among those legally entitled thereto, will meet the parties in interest for the purpose of his appointment at the office of Fortney & Fortney, in the borough of Bellefonte, Pa., on Saturday the 25th day of January A. D. 1908, at 10 o'clock a. m., when and where the said parties may appear or be forever debarred from coming in on said fund.

D. PAUL FORBERRY, Auditor.
