

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Mrs. Jacob Finklestone is visiting her parents and friends in Philadelphia. Druggist Sidney Krumrine and wife were recent visitors among friends in Williamsport. W. Scott Wieland, who had been ill at his home, on Spring street, is able to be about again. Mrs. William McClellan, of Bellefonte, spent several days recently in Snow Shoe as the guest of her daughter. Mrs. George Kerstetter, who had been visiting her sister, Mrs. Harry Yeager, left for her home in Harrisburg, on Friday. N. P. Kreider, of Wolfs Store and T. E. Smith, of Fiedler, were, callers, and each reports still some corn to husk in their localities. William Undercoffer, who holds a good position in Philadelphia, returned to that city on Sunday after spending a pleasant vacation with his parents. The condition of Mrs. George Blackford and Miss Ella McClain, who had been seriously ill, is very much improved. Everything now points to their permanent recovery. Friday Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Casebeer left for Somerset and Pittsburg. They had a good Christmas trade and they just came to the conclusion they would take a trip and have a little enjoyment. Monday the Nittany Furnace was banked, and it will remain that way until the price of iron advances. About ninety men are thrown out of employment by the close down. It is thought that the suspension will not last more than a month. The many friends of Mrs. Mary Ann Johnston, who for some time past has been with her daughter at Beaver Falls, will be pleased to learn that she has finally so far recovered from the fall she sustained a year ago as to be able to walk around with comparative ease. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bellingier and child, of New York, have been guests of Mrs. Bellingier's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Sourbeck, on east Bishop street. Mr. Bellingier will leave to-day for his home while Mrs. Bellingier will extend her visit a week longer. John Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Martin, and some of his friends took a walk out to Roopsburg, on Sunday and while going through what remains of the Hass brewery he fell, breaking his right arm at the wrist and otherwise injuring himself about the face. In writing up the improvements at the Bellefonte Hospital in our last issue we were in error in stating that the heirs of Hon. A. G. Curtis had given $2,200 for the equipping of the operating department. The donors of this magnificent gift are the grandchildren of Mrs. Andrew G. Curtis. The Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. basketball team suffered its first defeat at Lock Haven on Friday night at the hands of the All-Collegiate team of that city, the score being 38 to 7. The Lock Havenites had the advantage of the visiting team in the fact that they were accustomed to a slippery glazed floor and were experts in dodging rafters, and electric light globes, a return game was played in Bellefonte Wednesday evening; score 34 to 17, in favor of the Bellefonte team. On Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Simon Hockenberry and his mother were returning to Bellefonte from the Forge church in a buggy and Frank Bartley was going in the opposite direction in a carriage when the two crashed together with much force. The shaft of the buggy was driven through Bartley's horse's neck in such a manner as to sever the jugular vein and caused the horse to bleed to death before he could be unharnessed. The horse was one of the finest and valuable blacks, and the loss is a severe one. Company B, N. G. P., will be inspected, Wednesday, January 15. A preliminary inspection will be held on Friday, January 10th, by Maj. Dunkle. The Hospital and Bugle corps will be inspected on the same date in the Bellefonte Armory. Capt. Hunter will hold the preliminary inspection at Altoona on the 24th. Maj. Hayes will inspect the Hospital corps, and Capt. Garbick will inspect the Bugle corps. Col. Taylor is making a special effort to advance the standing of the 5th regiment and thus far has attained considerable improvement. Dr. Thomas VanTries, of Bellefonte, has been invited to deliver his recital in the Presbyterian church at Baileyville, tomorrow (Friday) evening. His subject will be "Anecdotes and Reminiscences of Eminent Men and Women Whom I have Seen and Heard." The Doctor has delivered a number of these recitals in the state during the last few months and all who have heard them were perfectly delighted. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the Sunday school, and no doubt he will be greeted by a large audience. Dr. VanTries expects to give his recital in Bellefonte sometime in the future. Our merchants inform us that trade in Bellefonte, for the holidays, was fully up to that of former years, and in a number of instances went ahead considerably. Crops had been good there was steady employment for all kinds of labor, all of our local industries were in full operation the past year and consequently our people had money to make purchases. In the past month some establishments have reduced the working hours and there is a slackening down of activity in the business world due to the stringency in financial circles and a panic condition that necessarily follows. It is thought that we have passed the worst. What is known in Bellefonte as the J. A. Woodcock properties, one of which is located on Linn street and two on Lamb street, were sold on Monday to Christ Decker, of Zion, for $3300. They belonged to Misses Anny J., and Caroline Valentine, daughters of Mrs. Reuben Valentine. The negotiations were made through W. Harrison Walker, Esq. If anybody ever secured a bargain in Bellefonte real estate it has been our friend Decker. The way lumber is selling now he would be unable to erect the beautiful home on Linn street, so he secured the houses on Lamb at a gift. Mr. and Mrs. Decker expect to come to Bellefonte to make their home but not for a year or more. They are a pleasant couple and the people of the town will welcome them as permanent residents.

Here's to 1908—may it be a prosperous year to all. Miss Pearl Rine spent Christmas with friends in Johnstown. Some of our people still refer to that Shakespearean recital with much feeling. Anthony Brown, a student of Williamson College, spent Christmas week in Bellefonte. Are you starting the new year right Don't turn a new leaf and then "wet it down." Mrs. Henry P. Harris, spent the holidays in Harrisburg as the guest of her son, Wilbur F. Harris. Prof. Hubbard, physical director at the Y. M. C. A., spent his holiday vacation with friends in Scranton. The revival services in the United Brethren church is still going on and a great deal of good is being accomplished. The county auditors will be in session next week, at the court house, passing on the accounts of the various county officials. Christmas passed off very quietly in Bellefonte—some what like a Sunday. Notable that there were no drunks to be seen. The day was quite fine. Walter Stahlsmith, of Lock Haven, is now one of the corps of Pennsylvania telegraph operators in this place, having moved his family here recently. Roy Hall, of Tyrone, is now firing on the shifter in the P. R. R. yard; Mr. Heaton, who formerly fired on this engine, has gone to Tyrone to work. Are you having sale this year? If so remember you should have your advertisement in this paper—circulation over $200, which is 2000 more than any other. E. K. Smith, of Hart, Michigan, gave us a pleasant call. He was formerly of Haines and later of Oak Hall, this county. He is connected with a large dairy in Michigan, and is pleased with that state. E. G. Rothrock, who had been working out in San Francisco, Cal., the past year returned home recently and expects to remain here. Good wages and plenty of work was not sufficient to induce him to remain there. It is not a difficult thing at present to engage laboring men and mechanics in this section; as there is not enough work to keep all steadily employed. In other towns the condition is worse than about Bellefonte. A. J. K. Johnson, of Tyrone and Mr. Lincoln of Williamsport, entertained a number of railroad men at the Nittany Country Club Tuesday evening. They were making an inspection of the Bald Eagle Valley railroad. Pauline, the hypnotist, drew large crowds at the opera house last week. Some parts of his program were fine, while others were more or less of a fake, its purpose in greatly amusing the large audiences. The Bellefonte Chemical Lime Company are now turning out a high grade of lime at their plant, up along the Buffalo Run. All the kilns are not complete but work is being rushed along to put the plant to its full capacity. The other night a young lady from Bush's Addition and fell over her own feet while coming from the Theatorium. She is exceedingly sensitive about meeting with an accident of that character, and while picking herself up turned the colors of the rainbow. The committee on the teachers' local institute for the district represented by Bellefonte borough, Benner, Spring, Walker townships, which will be held in this place on Saturday, on January 18th, have secured the Howard street school building in which to meet. The animal show that opened up in the Brown building several weeks ago, found the venture very unprofitable. Last week they packed up their "menagerie" and departed hence. While here a valuable monkey died for them, the best part of their collection. J. Fred Weaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Weaver, formerly of Bellefonte, who recently graduated from the Peabody Conservatory of Music, in Baltimore, Md., has been chosen organist in a large church at Wilkesbarre. He is a fine musician and commands a big salary. Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Musser, formerly of Bellefonte, but now of Altoona, are returning over a little son, Grandfather, William Musser, of Bellefonte, is so elated over the little fellow that he was found the other day trying to pick his teeth with a square piece of pick. Miss Kate Brisbin, who was operated upon in Philadelphia for appendicitis, is now at home at the residence of Col. and Mrs. J. L. Spangler, on Allegheny street. The trip was rather fatiguing, but she has become stronger, with full assurances that she will permanently recover. The young lady had quite a serious siege of it, and her many friends will be glad to hear of her improvement. At their regular meeting held recently by the Bellefonte Conclave, Independent Order of Heptasophis, elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Archon, Thomas Beaver; provost, W. W. Gephart; C. Y. Wagner; secretary, Herman Robb; financial secretary, F. E. Naginney; treasurer, Charles F. Cook; inspector, George Sunday; warden Joseph Wise; sentinel, Snyder Tate; trustees, Hammon Sechler, George W. Rees and A. C. Mingle. Some forty members of the order were present and following the election of officers and transaction of what other business there was to dispose of they all partook of a very appetizing banquet at Blackford's restaurant. On Christmas Roger Bayard, local reporter on the Tyrone Herald, was a visitor in Bellefonte. He is greatly pleased with his new position, and says that he has learned more about newspaper work in one month in Tyrone than he did in a year in Bellefonte. That's probably because he has a boss in Editor Jones, who is putting him through a course of sprouts. The fact, however, stands that since Bert has taken charge of the local columns of the Herald the sheet is much newer and attractive than it was before. He has a special faculty of gathering news, and if it is around he will get it. His friends will be glad to hear of his success and hope it may continue.

J. H. Durst, of Centre Hall, was a pleasant caller. G. E. Heckman and wife, of Centre Hall, were pleasant callers. Mrs. D. Kustaborder, of Warriors-mark, was a pleasant caller. The Misses Maud and Sarah Miller spent Christmas with friends of Huntington. You will not want to miss the "New Years Resolutions" in the That column this week. Mrs. Maggie Lucas, of Altoona, and Mrs. Mary Heaton of Runville, were pleasant callers. Miss Lucy Confer is now visiting friends in Philipsburg and is having a pleasant time. Have you made all your New Year resolutions? Start right and then you can make a good finish. Miss Hattie Wilson spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Miller in Tyrone, during the holidays. Mr. and Mrs. John Bullock spent Thursday as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lukenbach, in Tyrone. Miss Petticoats, at the opera house next Wednesday evening, will prove one of the best attractions of the season. Herbert McCoy, wife and two children, of Jersey Shore, after a week's visit with the former's parents, returned home on Saturday. Anthony Company, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Company, of South Allegheny street, is seriously ill with pneumonia and his recovery is doubtful. Mr. and Mrs. George Sowers and son, of Philipsburg, who had been visiting friends and relatives in Bellefonte and State College, left for their home on Sunday. Thomas and Clarence Hamilton, of New York City, are spending their vacation in Bellefonte at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Hamilton, on Howard street. One of the best attractions of the season will be "Miss Petticoats" at the opera house next Wednesday evening, January 8th. Manager Garman authorizes us to give the strongest endorsement to this production. For several weeks Kline Woodring, Esq., has been suffering from weak eyes, to the extent that he was compelled to remain at home for several days. He is one of the energetic young men of the town and his friends hope that his present affliction will be of short duration. Fred B. Sourbeck, who has charge of his uncle's hotel in Latrobe, spent Sunday in Bellefonte with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Sourbeck. He never looked better in his life which is an indication he, at least, gets a square meal every time he sits down to a round table. Tuesday evening there was a meeting of the Democratic County Committee in the office of N. B. Spangler, Esq., when the election of a County Chairman was taken up for the year of 1908. It resulted in the unanimous choice of W. D. Zerby, Esq., of Bellefonte, who is an active and energetic young man, fully capable to look after the interests of the party in this county. On Christmas the local Salvation Army, through the generosity of the people of Bellefonte and the Elks, 120 poor persons were served with a good palatable dinner. The local corps are doing a fine work in Bellefonte, in seeking to relieve the hunger of men, and afterward seeking to lead them to a better life. May the good work steadily increase. The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, recently organized in Bellefonte, made up a purse of $50, which they judicially distributed among the deserving poor of the town. $1.00 here and $2.00 there brought good cheer to a large number of persons. In addition to this act of generosity the Elks furnish a room in the Bellefonte hospital at a cost of $150. Mrs. Daniel Rinesmith, of Clearfield, spent Saturday and Sunday in Bellefonte at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Kirk, on west High street. She is a sister of Mrs. Kirk and a very pleasant and agreeable lady. Tuesday evening Dr. Kirk and wife were agreeably surprised when Thomas Jones, wife and child, of South Dakota, called on them and spent the night. Mrs. Jones' maiden name was Tammy Haines, who has a number of friends here. They were on their way to Woodward to visit Mrs. Jones' parents. John P. Hosterman, formerly assistant principal of the Bellefonte High School, but who is now superintendent of the public schools at Montrose, with his wife and child, have been spending the last ten days with Mr. Hosterman's parents at Centre Hall. This week he called on his friends in Bellefonte, who were pleased to see him. John, as he is known here, gets the credit of putting the school at Montrose in better shape than ever before, as a result he has the co-operation and the good will of the parents, the school board and teachers. Time of space will not permit us going into details in noting the excellent reception the public was given Christmas at the Bellefonte hospital. The day passed into history as one of the brightest and happiest ever spent at that institution. Although the hospital was crowded with patients not one of them was forgotten. The turkey roast was thoroughly enjoyed by all who could partake of it. Every wife in the institution was well supplied with flowers which always brings good cheer to those who are ill and down-hearted. Miss Calderwood and her corps of nurses are to be highly commended in their successful effort in this line. Those who spent Christmas with friends and relatives in Bellefonte were the following: Joe Katz, of Lewistown; Jas. Parsons, of Philadelphia; Harvey McClure, of Mt. Union; Walter Rankin, of Lewistown; Chas. Barnes, of New Haven, Connecticut; Elliott VanDeventer, of Pittsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Nellie McCoy, of Jersey Shore; Miss Herbert Conley, of Birmingham; Miss Mae Brown, of West Chester; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Miller, of Philadelphia; Miss Anna Keckhine, of Cornell University; Ambrose Sherry, of Belmont, N. C.; Miss Sabra Faxon, of Altoona; Fred Montgomery, of Pittsburg; Fred Hollobaugh, Tyrone; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Donachy of Lock Haven; Amos Cole, of Lewistown; Guy Kaufman, of Altoona; Miss Sarah Bayard, of Williamsport; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Latimer, of Indiana; Harvey Goyesher, and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Faust, of Altoona; Mr. and Mrs. John Nolan, of Lock Haven; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas, and Mrs. Geo. Smith, of Altoona; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Nolan, of Curwensville.

E. E. Davis is visiting her sister in East Orange, N. J. F. B. Buddinger, of Snow Shoe, was a visitor to the county seat on Monday. Donald Potter spent Christmas with friends at Crafton, a suburb of Pittsburg. Joseph Mitchell, of Burnham, spent a short time in Bellefonte at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Lyon. Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hoffman spent several days this week as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Walker, at Salona. December had 3.48 inches of rain and 9 inches of snow. The total precipitation, rain and snow, was 3.57 inches. Miss Mary Brown, who is attending the West Chester Normal school, spent Christmas in Bellefonte with her parents. Miss Marie Walsh, Nellie Conley and Grace Armour attended the Benedict Assembly, which took place in Tyrone on Saturday night. Miss S. J. Waite, one of the efficient teachers in the Bellefonte public schools, spent part of her holiday vacation with friends in Altoona. Harry Haines, the efficient clerk in Fabble's clothing store, who has been suffering from an attack of appendicitis, is slowly improving. Miss Ruth Wagner, of Altoona, who had been spending a part of her vacation among friends in Bellefonte, has left for her home. Prof. W. C. Miller and wife, of Warren, Ohio, spent the holiday season in Bellefonte at the home of Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Smith. The famous production of "Miss Petticoats" will be at the opera house next Wednesday evening January 8th. It is pronounced a clever attraction. Tuesday, before Christmas, Philip L. Bezer, the butcher, did a worthy act in making it possible for the inmates of the poor house to have a turkey dinner. Miss Pearl Faxon and Miss Agnes Tolan, of Bellefonte, returned home Sunday evening from a pleasant visit with relatives and friends at Tyrone and Birmingham. Mrs. Fred Bezer, who is well known in Bellefonte, recently underwent a successful operation in the McKirk Sanitarium, Philipsburg, has recovered sufficiently to go around in the house. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cooke and daughter, who since they left Bellefonte have been at La Capana, State of Sonora, Mexico, have gone to Los Angeles, Cal., to spend the winter. Miss Anna Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Morrison, who had been seriously ill with pneumonia and appendicitis, is getting along nicely, and there is hardly any doubt as to her recovery. Sunday morning and evening the U. B. church held special services. During the day a free-will offering was taken which will be used to pay off the debt on the parsonage. The total amount taken during the day was $50.90. Mr. Edward Waite, who is very successfully conducting a commercial school at Hazleton, spent a short time with his brother, Darius Waite, Monday morning. He departed for Lock Haven on the 1:25 train. The annual election of directors occurred at the Young Men's Christian Association building recently and resulted in the re-election of the following men for three years: C. C. Shuey, J. R. Hughes, G. M. Gamble, J. H. Eberhart and J. E. Wagner. Bert Parker, of Johnstown, Miss Emma Parker and Mrs. Web Parker, of Somerset, who spent part of last week as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Parker, left Monday for their respective homes. They were accompanied as far as Holidaysburg by Mrs. Ross Parker. Lew McQuiston, who slipped on the ice in front of Emil Joseph's residence the other day and sprained his wrist, is at work again in the blacksmith shop connected with their carriage business. For several days he had been housed up and suffered considerable pain. This office received a handsome card receiver from the Clinton Daily Democrat for which the editor will receive our thanks. The Democrat is one of the most progressive dailies in the state, and its managers are always doing something that will promote its interest and widen its influence. The Philipsburg Journal says that Paul Fortney, Esq. of Bellefonte, who is associated with his father, D. F. Fortney, Esq. in the legal profession, under the firm name of Fortney & Fortney, was here on Tuesday on a professional visit. Paul is one of the most popular men at the Bellefonte bar, and yoked up with his father represents a strong legal team. For a couple of months past Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Anderson and child, of Chicago, have been boarding at the residence of Dr. Edith Schad, on Thomas. Mr. Anderson, during his stay here, canvassed the county in the interest of the Interstate School of Correspondence, of Chicago. It was their intention to spend Christmas in Oklahoma but their child took sick, and for hours lay at the point of death. Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Anderson, of Chicago, who have been in Bellefonte the past two months, left for Oklahoma where they spent their Christmas. Mr. Anderson represents the Interstate School of Correspondence, of Chicago, and during his stay in Bellefonte he has personally called upon every school teacher in Centre county, as well as to others who he thought might be interested in his work. Next Wednesday evening Bellefonte will have a first class attraction in the famous play "Miss Petticoats." There are few attractions in a season that come to our town of this class, and for that reason we do not hesitate to recommend this one to our people. It is the dramatization of a popular book that has been widely read, and many of our people are familiar with the story. It will be presented by a strong cast, and will be a treat that should not be missed. Two weeks ago Linn McGinley, the right-hand man in S. H. Williams' wall paper store, fell in front of Olewine's hardware store and sprained his right ankle. The injury kept him housed up at his residence for two weeks. Linn has always been very active and those two weeks seemed about two months to him. Edward Richard, manager for the White Rock Lime Co., met with about the same fate recently which kept him housed up for one week. The hurt was kept in the house, at one time in his life. He was fixing something at a window at his residence on Linn street, and on stepping from the sill to the floor turned and sprained his instep.

Miss Minnie Cole, one of the teachers in the Reformed Sunday school, entertained her class the other evening at her home on Lamb street. Mrs. James Noonan and two children Margaret and Geraldine, and Mrs. W. C. Brown, of Howard street, left Wednesday for New York. Ex-county commissioner Daniel Heckman and wife, of Bellefonte, spent Christmas very pleasantly with Mr. and Mrs. Spicher, of Wilkesburg. Misses Bess and Stella Heverly, Clara Aikens and Mrs. G. P. Heverly, of Milesburg, were among the pleasant callers at this office on Tuesday. Miss Elsie Viedorfer, stenographer in the law office of James A. B. Miller, Esq., and Mrs. Benke spent their Christmas vacation with friends and relatives at Pine Glenn. Fred Lane, better known to his friends as "Red Top," left Tuesday for Philadelphia and Atlantic City. When he is in the latter place for a couple of days, what will the wild waves be saying? Mrs. Esther Gordon and Miss Sallie Graham, of Lewistown, spent last week in Bellefonte as guests of their sister, Mrs. J. C. Harper, on Howard street. They, with their sister, Miss Maize Graham, are getting along nicely in the thriving town across the mountain. The train from Lewisburg was two hours late in reaching Bellefonte Wednesday morning. The delay was caused by the flyer running into the Bellefonte train which was standing on the wrong track at Montandon. The engines, especially the one attached to the train for this place, was badly smashed. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stover, of Altoona, spent the holiday week in this vicinity, dividing their time with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Musser, of Bellefonte, and with their son, Alvin Stover, on the John Rishel farm, in Benner township. It looked like old times to see them around as they resided here, for a great many years. Cards have been received in Bellefonte announcing the marriage, on November 27th, of George P. Meyers, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Meyers, of Rochester, N. Y., but who are well known in Bellefonte, and Miss Carolyn McGillivray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex McGillivray, the wedding having taken place in Saginaw, Mich. On Friday afternoon, prior to Christmas, the annual Senior class orations took place in the High School room which proved a very enjoyable affair. After the literary feat the young ladies presented some of the young men with Christmas gifts. Harold Gardner, part of a toilet outfit; Frank Crisman, a cake of soap, Edward Shields and Arthur Ward, each a mirror, Ivan Walker, a price list of books, and Norman Kirk, a doll baby. You may draw your conclusions from the gifts as to what the girls think of their boys. Some of them evidently needed a bath. ANNUAL ELECTION.—The annual meeting of the Farmer's Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Centre county, will be held in this office, at 10 o'clock, Monday, Jan. 13, 1908. The business of the meeting will be the election of a board of directors for the ensuing year, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. of said day. FREDERICK KURTZ, Pres., D. F. LUSE, Sec'y. ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE. Estate of SAMUEL H. KUNES, deceased.
