Recorder John C. Rowe, District Attorney William G. Runkle and County Surveyor Henry Wetzel were recently sworn into office. Of course, as both Mr. Rowe and Mr. Runkle are just entering upon their second term in office the swearing in process to them was nothing new. In fact, about the only thing new in connection with the whole matter is that for the three years of his present term district attorney Runkle will draw one thousand dollars a year salary instead of fees as he did under the old law; a fact which makes the district attorneyship about one hundred per cent more desirable than formerly. In other words Billy will go out of office with $3000 in his inside pocket.

On the 25 of March Lieut. James Taylor, brother of Col. Hugh S. Taylor, will leave Detroit, Mich., for the Philippines Islands. He will accompany the 7th United States Infantry who will probably make Manila their headquarters for six months and then go into the interior of the Islands. Cameron McGarvey, who has been in the Philippines for sometime, will be home in the near future. The probabilities are that Taylor and McGarvey will meet in Manila. Cameron is a natural born artist and recently he sent his sister, Miss Mame McGarvey, a number of water colored pictures of the scenery found in that far off clime. They are very pretty, and much admired by those who have seen them.

BIG FIRE AT SCOTIA

The biggest fire in the history of Scotia, this county, occurred Saturday morning about 7 o'clock just as the men were going to work. The origin of the conflagration was at the tippie, or main operations. The large, high building containing the ore washers and the latest improved machinery for preparing the ore for the market, was entirely destroyed, together with the jig house. In addition to the immense ore washers there were nine stationary engines, two large water tanks and twelve ore cars destroyed. The fire is said to have originated in the oil room on the top of No. 2 tippie, where the cars are oiled every time they are brought up from the banks.

The fire spread rapidly and finally wiped out the entire plant, except the boiler house. There was an army of men present but they were powerless to do anything toward saving the property. The company had just made repairs to the building to the amount of $700 or $800, and thus the company was preparing to do even a greater amount of work than the general revival of business.

The unfortunate affair has thrown a large number of men out of employment, and this is one bad feature, especially at this season of the year. The operation formerly belonged to Andrew Carnegie, but several years ago was purchased by the Bellefonte Furnace Co. The loss is about $15,000 which is partially covered by $6,000 insurance. It is not definitely known whether the plant will be rebuilt on the same large scales as it was prior to the fire.

Tyrone Should Blush With Shame.

Thomas Ever, a molder recently thrown out of employment at Newark, N. J., while making his way to his home in Pittsburg, was nearly frozen to death one night last week. Accompanied by Timothy Snelling, of Glassport, he got off a train at Tyrone and applied for lodging at the police station. Being refused, although the temperature was near zero, the two men started to walk to Altoona. Two miles east of Altoona Eyer tired and hungry and overcome by the cold could proceed no farther and begged his companion to let him sleep along the road Snelling dragged and carried the man as best he could until they reached a suburban hotel. The proprietor was aroused, and the wayfarers were admitted and cared for. Eyer later was conveyed to the Altoona Hospital with both feet badly frozen.

David Wineland, the oldest citizen of Morris's Cove, near Huntingdon, who is actively engaged in the blacksmithing business, near Fredericksburg, is past 97 years of age and he pursues his vocation daily, walking a mile to and from work, morning, noon and night, and he says he feels active as he did and gets around without the aid of a walking stick. Once a week he walks from Fredericksburg to Martinsburg, a distance of two miles. The senses of sight and hearing are quite as keen as the gentleman's activity, as he does not wear glasses. Twice a week he shaves himself, and was only once shaved by a barber in his life time. Mr. Wineland hopes to see his hundredth birthday.

Killed a Big Wild Cat.

Fred Field, of Williamsport, and A. W. Wilson, of Whetham, have succeeded in bringing down the largest wild cat ever seen near Whetham and on Saturday Mr. Field took it to Williamsport to be mounted. The animal weighed 84 pounds, was a male and was probably the mate to the one killed by Mr. Field about two weeks ago. They followed the big cat through the deep snow for after a mile, the track showing that it was gradually becoming exhausted. Finally he worked his way into the public road and he was able to make better progress. It was so much exhausted that its progress was comparatively slow and the hunters soon came upon him. He made two efforts to spring into a tree but failed.

Bishop Darlington, Sunday began his annual visitations to parishes in the Diocese of Harrisburg of the Protestant Episcopal church for the purpose of classing presented by rectors. Must Put Up Signs.

The Mercantile Appraisers are receiving blanks and other record papers from the state and will soon begin upon the wholesale and retail dealers of the county. The appraisers have been directed by the state to fine every business man without a sign giving the name of the proprietor and the character of his business in front of his place of business or trade. The fine in this case is $10 for each offense and the appraisers will levy the same in every instance where the law has not been complied with.
