Penrose is a notorious gangster and his helpers and backers are that class of grafters that robbed the state in the new Capitol job. He deals out post offices and appointments where he hopes they "will do most good" for his election to the senate. The Bellefonte post office appointment is a sample of it here and there are other like appointments throughout the state. Honest republicans in counties throughout the state are earnestly at work to have no capdidates nominated for state senator or assembly, unless pledged not to support Penrose.

During the religious services the other Sunday in the auditorium at State College, a six-foot section of moulding around a ceiling light became loosened and, without a moment's warning, fell with a loud crash into the gallery. A section of the fragment struck Winfred Braman, of the experiment station, on the head, cutting a severe gash. A piece also struck Mrs. Robert Foster. The crash came in the midst of Dr. Gill's discourse and created considerable excitement at the time. A thorough investigation was made by representatives of the constructing firm and no flaw could be discovered in the workmanship or materials used.
