

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

There was nothing done at council Monday night except sign bills. James Sullivan, a representative citizen of Snowshoe, was a pleasant caller. Wm. Breen, on the Curtin farm near Bellefonte, is troubled with gangrene on one of his legs. Mrs. Roan, of Beaver street, who was taken to the Bellefonte hospital recently, is getting along nicely. W. L. Hunt and family left Thursday for their home in Renovo after a short visit at the residence of D. W. Woodring. Rev. W. B. Cox, pastor of the Evangelical church, returned Friday evening from Harrisburg where he transacted business. It is stated that Dr. J. Jones, who has been seriously ill in the hospital, is slightly improved but far from being out of danger. Philip Beezer, the butcher, is taking ice from Spring Creek that is sixteen to eighteen inches thick. That makes the ice man laugh. William Breen, who resides on the Curtin farm, east of Bellefonte, is suffering from a sore leg, which has been causing him much pain. Joe Barnes, the able assistant in the Adams Express Co., has recovered from the grip, will off duty his place was faithfully filled by Hastings Gates. Ambrose Slotman, who had been slated for the assistant in the Bellefonte Postoffice, spent Saturday with his family here. He left Monday for Emporium. Dentist Hafer, of this place, being troubled with cataract on the right eye, on Monday left for the Willis Eye hospital, Philadelphia, to submit to an operation. Shem Spigelmyer, of Antis Fort, was circulating among his many Bellefonte friends on Monday. The longer he lives the more he grows to look like "Coal Oil Johnny." Gilbert Beaver and family, who have been making their home in Bellefonte, have decided to move onto their farm which is located a short distance outside of New York City. Mrs. M. A. Grove, widow, of this place, spent an hour quite pleasantly in our sanctum a few evenings ago. In earlier years she was from Haines twp. She has survived two husbands; she is a lady of unusually wide intelligence in biblical matters and other literature. Herbert Bartley and family, of Lock Haven, spent Sunday in Bellefonte as guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bartley, in Push's Addition. "Herby" is still holding down a good position with the Clark Printing Co. Some time ago he looked as though the undertaker was close on his heels but he fooled him, and now he is the picture of health. Joseph W. Shaugency, of Bellefonte, has been employed by Oscar Gray, the insurance man, as an assistant and solicitor. "Joe" is a hustler and when he gets hand in he will make "er a right business writing life and fire insurance if he could insure men that their hair would not fall out he would soon be walking on easy street and living in a brown stone front. The people in Bellefonte who are not patronizing the Theatrum are missing a grand treat. It costs but five cents, and there is no place in town where you can get so much for your money. The attendance is large each night which is very gratifying to those who have the enterprise in charge. While this is true the hall is large and they can accommodate many more. Several nights last week Mr. Lewis, of New York, sang which proved to be a musical treat. The Democrat had a very pleasant lady caller, Mrs. Lillie Ove, of Bedford, Pa., who is making a week's stay at the Bush House, her son being a student at the Bellefonte Academy. Mrs. Ove is a lady of intelligence and refinement and the evening spent at our home was most agreeable. Her husband, now deceased, was a prominent newspaper man in several of the western counties of the state, hence Mrs. Ove is conversant with matters pertaining to "the art preservative." James Krebs, of Boggs twp., was in our office on Tuesday on his way home from a visit to Altoona and Johnstown. In the latter place he saw the genuine soup houses in full operation, hundreds of men, women and children in line to get enough food to keep them from starving. Mr. Krebs was amazed to see the effect of the panic in these industrial centres. His account is hardly an exaggeration as he is one of Boggs townships leading citizens, an old soldier and a republican of some influence in that section. William Shoppe, who has been filling the position of local editor of the Daily News since December 1st, has resigned and accepted a position as collector and solicitor for the Pennsylvania Telephone Co., whose headquarters are in the Bush Arcade. This week "Billy" has been trying to kill two birds with one stone by working on the paper and filling his new job. This week, however, will wind up his career in the editorial chair, which has been of short duration, we think he will find his new position better adapted to his taste. William L. Foster, of State College, has verbally announced to his friends that he will be a candidate for the legislature. You can easily tell on what side of the fence he is on. That's more than you can say of some of the other republican candidates, but before the campaign is over they will have to show their colors. The voters will demand that every candidate come out from under cover and declare his attitude toward Penrose the leader of the gangsters. The fellow who fails in this had better crawl in a hole and draw the hole in after him. Miss Ella A. Meyer, who was head nurse at the Bellefonte hospital, resigned her position on Saturday and went to her home in Phillipsburg where she spent Sunday and Monday. She returned to Bellefonte and is now open for engagements as a private nurse. She had been at the hospital for nearly two years where she received the best of training under the direction of Miss Lois Calderwood and our skilled physicians. She is therefore well qualified to enter a sick room and take charge of the most complicated case; she is an excellent young lady and deserves consideration.

Ask Archie Allison how he likes the toothache. Benton Tate, of Bellefonte, spent Friday in Tyrone. Miss Margaret Burgett has been visiting friends at Downingtown. Harry Williams has returned from Altoona, where he visited friends. W. R. Brackbill, the progressive furniture dealer, is slowly recovering from a sprained ankle. Mrs. William A. Lyon left Bellefonte Friday to visit her daughter, Mrs. McGinnis at Punxsutawney. Mrs. Edward Nolan, Mrs. Harry Garbrick and Mrs. Alice Cowdrick spent Thursday at Mill Hall with Mrs. Curt Cowdrick. Lian Graham got tired of City life and is now back in Ed. Eckenroth's wallpaper store. He says, Bellefonte is just, last and all the time. Mr. Thomas Laurie is quite ill at the home of his brother, Dr. William Laurie, D. D., on Spring street and there are grave doubts of his recovery. Charles Eckenroth recently bought the I. C. Weaver house on Penn street from Lillie C. Reeder. The price paid was about eleven hundred dollars. Gen. James A. Beaver, of Bellefonte, is now a member of the State Board of Agriculture. The appointment was made recently by Governor Stewart. The fraternity dance at McAllister's Hall, State College, on Friday evening proved a success in every particular. A number of young ladies and gentlemen from Bellefonte were present. Wednesday morning Benj. Gentzel shipped a load of Center county horses to W. C. Walters, West Chester, Pa. This is the first carload shipped to that place and is buying more to ship to the same place. Mrs. Lucy Elliott, who lives with her sister, Mrs. Elliott, on Spring street, fell down the back stairs one day recently and sustained some bad cuts and bruises about the head and face but no serious injuries. Miss Helen Overton, who is at the head of the primary department at the Bellefonte Academy, has taken up the work of drilling her pupils on what to do in case of fire; in other words, she is practically organizing a juvenile fire brigade among her students. Among the pleasant callers at this office Friday was ex-county commissioner John D. Decker, of Pottery Mills. He has been a reader of the Centre Democrat for sixteen years and that, probably, is why he is retaining his elastic step and youthful appearance. He is a good man and his record clean. The Woman's Guild of St. John's Episcopal church will hold an exchange party Saturday during the month of February in P. D. Sheffer's grocery store, beginning February 1st, at 11 o'clock a. m. Bread, cakes, pies, desserts, candy and baked beans for sale. Any orders left with Mrs. W. H. Wilkinson will be filled. While at present Bellefonte is having her share of the hard times so far as works being closed down are concerned, there are indications that the depression here will not last long. In fact it is stated by pretty reliable authority that some of the industries will resume work in the near future while it is expected that everything will be in full blast by the first of April. The Young Men's Bible Club, of the Y. M. C. A., reorganized Tuesday evening by the election of Milan Walker, president, and James Harshberger, secretary and treasurer. Dr. J. Allison Platts is the teacher, and a special course on the life of Christ will be taken up. Nineteen young men are enrolled in this club, and every young man is invited to come. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Cook have arrived in Los Angeles, Cal., and letters received from them by friends in town say that almost the first person they met upon their arrival in that city was Dr. Tom Orbison, an old Bellefonte boy. Naturally they are delighted with Los Angeles and the delightful climate of California at this season of the year and anticipate having a very pleasant stay. Monday morning about 1 o'clock, three engines, with a snow plow, left Sunbury and ran over the L. & T. branch of the Pennsylvania railroad, between Lewisburg and Bellefonte. In some places it was difficult to get through, but the crew arrived in Bellefonte in time to let the regular train go out according to the schedule. The three engines followed the passenger train out in order to be on hand if any trouble occurred. Mrs. Claude Smith came to Bellefonte this week and opened up her apartments in Crider's exchange. It will be remembered that last fall while at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Elze, in Milesburg, she and Mrs. C. Greenough, of Greencastle, O., were badly burned by attempting to extinguish a fire caused by an exploding lamp, and Mrs. Smith has only now recovered so that she is able to come to her own home here. Jesse Cox left on Monday for Reading where he will visit friends for a month. If he sees a good business opening there the probabilities are that he and his wife will make that their future home. He has three brother-in-laws living in that city, besides having property there. Then, Frank Derstine holds an excellent position in a large store, in that place, so that Jessie would not be an actual stranger. We expect, however, that at the final wind-up they will come to the conclusion that Bellefonte is good enough for them. Saturday a young man from the Ridges came to Bellefonte with a sled load of wood. While here he began tanking up until his appearance was worse than that of a hog. He was too drunk to know what he was doing so he threw himself on the sled in a drunken stupor. When the horses started down High street, practically without a driver. When at the corner of High and Thomas streets they were stopped by Harvey Stine who turned the team and started them toward Milesburg. The name of this young boozier is known and if it was not for bringing reproach upon his family we would name him. The sensible horses must have gotten the bar room sign home safely as no report has reached us of anybody freeing to death from Wallace Run.

Temperance rally in the Court House to night. "My Wife's Family," at the opera house next Thursday night. Abe Baum is confined to his home with a bad attack of rheumatism. Mrs. Ida Powers returned Monday from Williamsport where she had been visiting friends. There will be no morning Service next Sunday in St. John Reformed church Bellefonte. The Holy Communion will be celebrated in the Reformed Church, at Zion, Sunday morning, at 10.30. The Misses Fox have returned from Bellwood where they have been visiting their sister, Mrs. Gearhart. Misses Sebring and Waite, of Williamsport, are visiting Miss Sallie Fitzgerald of North Spring street. G. M. Gamble, one of Bellefonte's progressive business men, spent a day or so this week in Williamsport. Mr. and Mrs. John Dugan, who had been visiting friends in Bellefonte, left Sunday for their home in Altoona. Chas. E. Holter, book-keeper for the Nittany Iron Co., is confined to the house at present with attack of the grip. Mrs. Tate, wife of Dr. H. W. Tate, who had been visiting friends and relatives in Philadelphia, returned Saturday. Easter Sunday comes on April 19. Lent commences on Ash Wednesday, March 4, and continues until Easter Sunday. Mr. Hoffsommer, of Harrisburg, Assistant State Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. spent part of Tuesday looking over the work here. Mr. R. Richard Taylor wishes to announce that the band will be at the rink tonight and that on next Tuesday night there will be a masquerade skate. It is said that "Davy" Stuart, of Bellefonte, is tetotally smitten on one of the charming bells, of Williamsport, who is visiting friends in this place. In return the young lady is in ecstasy over such untiring devotion. Mrs. Emma Henderson, formerly of Buffalo Run Valley, but who resides in Philadelphia, is very ill with typhoid fever. Miss Henderson is a pleasant lady and her friends well sorry to hear she has been unfortunate. On Saturday Miss Ollie Teller was taken to the Danville Asylum by Sheriff Kline. She went along willingly and there was no trouble whatever. Her mental condition appears to have grown worse in the past few weeks. Rev. Barry, of Hartleton, father of Rev. Barry, of Bellefonte, while going to Millmont, on Monday last week, his horse ran away, throwing the Rev. out. The horse finally got fast in the lines and falling stopped the runaway. Wednesday evening the Maccabees dedicated their new hall in the McClain block. At this writing the attendance was large and the services interesting and a large number of new members were taken in. The regular services were followed by a banquet. George T. Bush returned from Williamsport Saturday where he attended a meeting of the Williamsport Consistory of Scottish Rite Masons. He reports an addition to the membership of one hundred. It was a grand affair and everybody had an enjoyable time. A musical farce comedy, said to be of unusual excellence, will be the attraction at the opera house next Thursday evening. Manag' Garman having secured the three act play, "My Wife's Family," the combined work of Hal Stephens and Harry Linton, prolific and successful writers of that style of entertainment. C. N. Meserve has a flock of thirty fine thoroughbred Rhode Island Red and Barred Rock Pullets, that produced 535 eggs in January. The largest number of eggs for one day was twenty-five and the smallest number was eleven. The flock contained five hens that are confirmed setters, so the actual work was done by thirty pullets. Sunday having been "groundhog day" the sun shone brightly all day and the groundhog—or any other hog—could see its shadow all day. According to the philosophy of the groundhog fool, the critter, having seen its shadow, became frightened, hereat, returned to its hole, to remain there until a six weeks' spell of cold weather had blown over. What fools some mortals be—the cold snap arrived several days before the groundhog had a sniff of it—the train came in ahead of time. Dr. A. W. Hafer, the dentist, has been compelled to give up his practice for the present on account of his eyes. For some time past he has been troubled with a cataract on his left eye which finally entirely obscured the vision and it has now grown so bad that the sight of the right eye has become affected. Upon the advice of his physician he has given up work and will rest his eyes for a few months. Tuesday he departed for the Willis Eye hospital, Philadelphia, for an operation and treatment. Saturday night the late train, on the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, stuck in the snow drift near Zion. There were eleven passenger son the train, all of whom were compelled to remain there from 11 o'clock Saturday night until 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Among the snow-bound passengers were H. P. Harris, Henry Quigley, John Shugart and Rev. W. B. Cox and family. Here by hangs the tale for their being no preaching in the Evangelical church Sunday morning. The cars were kept warm, and every attention was given them by the conductor, Harry Winton. The company sent three engines to the scene but, on account of the high drift in which the train was imbedded, they might as well have sent their gasoline car. Sunday morning the yard engine, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, went to their rescue and finally succeeded in pulling them out. Must Report Violations of Law. Judge Harry Alvan Hall laid down the law to the constables of Clinton county. Judge Hall's talk to the constables came somewhat as a surprise to the officers, and some of them may not have appreciated it, but the people of the county will. After the officers had made their regular quarterly returns Judge Hall instructed them to take seats in the jury box, and then turning to them said: "As constables it is part of your duty to visit, at stated intervals, all places in your bailiwick where liquors are sold and to make report to the court. It is your duty to report all violations of the law as to the sale of liquor, whether such violations are witnessed by yourself or are properly reported to you by others.

GREGG TWP. PENN HALL. Sunday was dog day, and as he had time to come out, we will have six weeks of cold weather. Clara Condo spent Sunday with her parents. Rev. B. R. M. Sheeder, who had been conducting a series of very interesting meetings, had to close on account of a severe cold. Irene Rishel spent several days with her sisters, Mrs. W. H. Sinkabine. Mrs. F. M. Fisher entertained her father and brother several days last week. Jerry Albright, our enterprising tea agent, had a bad trip home, on Saturday. W. H. Sinkabine and wife, entertained Rev. Sheeder one day last week. Mamie Bartley spent several days in town, last week. R. B. Bartges made a flying business trip to the county seat, on Saturday. John Hosterman and mother attended the funeral of Mrs. William Haunt, at Selinsgrove. S. G. Burrell, wife and son Matthew, visited at the home of Robt. Bartges one day last week. Mrs. Daniel Corman, Mrs. Jerry Albright, and William Hosterman, are at present suffering from a severe attack of grip; hope for their speedy recovery. William Heckman, who is a student of the Spring Mills Academy, spent Sunday in town. Grace Grove spent Wednesday with her friend Mary Bartges. W. E. Armbruster and wife, of Kingston, Ill., who had been visiting with the former's mother and sister, since their arrival on New Year's day, left for their home on Monday. This was Mrs. Armbruster's first visit to Pennsylvania, which she appreciated very much. The citizens living along the Brush-valley road, leading from Centre Hall to Penns Cave, met at the home of B. G. Groves, last Thursday evening, for the purpose of organizing a company to build a telephone line through this district. Spring Mills Lodge, No. 597, I. O. O. F., the youngest and one of the most flourishing lodges in Centre county, will hold their annual banquet at the Penn Cave house, on Feb. 22nd. Landlord McCormick will do his utmost in serving this order with the best of the season. Some fishermen are still seen along the streams gigging fish; the question is, is it a lawful way of fishing. Vote for Iken, Moses says he will do as we tell him. Mr. Emanuel White is helpless, due from the fact that she has been laid up with rheumatism for several years. A baby girl, Naomi Stover, came to stay at the home of Howard Weaver, at the Union. Emanuel White took 50 loads of ice from his pond at Logan Gap, last week. Snow storm—Well, I guess, such a blizzard was not heard of for years; roads all blockaded, at places ten feet high. Preachers could not make their appointments and some of our school marmas did not reach their school houses till Monday evening. Mail carriers could not get through, and in general, everything was tied up until the shovel brigade was called out. WOODWARD. Quite a snow fell in this locality on Saturday morning and about 2 o'clock in the afternoon a strong gale began blowing from the Northwest which drifted all the roads in the surrounding country, and made them impassable, but have been opened since. C. D. Motz spent last week at Washington, D. C., accompanied by George Small, of Ketsburg. Bertha Hosterman and Virginia Lewis, of Pittsburg, are spending some time at the home of C. W. Hosterman. Charles Miller, of Iowa, and Mrs. Fannie Kellar, of Linden Hall, spent Sunday with their sister, Mrs. R. M. Wolf. The runaway rage seems to have struck this town, as the stage horses ran away last Tuesday afternoon and Thursday morning. Ben Cohen's followed suit, but no damage of any account was reported. Maud Ard and sister, Lonna, returned to Philadelphia, last week. Geo. Smith and family, of Wolfs store, spent last Tuesday at the home of Israel Runkle's. Katharine Benner after spending some time in Aaronsburg, returned home last week. COBURN. The primary school was closed, Monday, because the teacher, Miss Miller, of Millheim, could not reach this place on account of snow-drifts, which impeded travel between here and Millheim; even the preachers could not reach their respective appointments on Sunday and this place had to do without hearing the Word preached, as no minister resides here. Enoch Bilger and wife, of Middleburg, visited their relatives in this valley last week. Mrs. T. A. Hosterman and daughters spent the greater part of this week at the home of G. W. Hosterman, at Fiedler. Stuart Harter, of Harter, W. Va., arrived here last week to visit his parents. C. H. Hosterman and family, who spent several weeks at Woodward, returned to their home at Solber, Thursday. On Sunday G. W. Radel and wife celebrated their birthday very pleasantly at home. There are not many couples that can do that on the same day. W. H. Harter and family, of Linden-hall spent last week visiting friends here. Mrs. Beula Daniels, of Elizabethville, visited her parents, G. W. Radel's a few days. Mrs. Rachael Hosterman spent part of last week with her daughter, Mrs. T. H. Motz, near Woodward. Goes Over Embankment. Ralph Fryer, the son of E. B. Fryer, the Mill Hall milk man, Sunday afternoon drove over an embankment along Fishing creek near the Brookside farm. The young man was driving to Mill Hall with about 50 gallons of milk. The roads were terribly drifted with snow and the high winds blowing at a velocity of 40 miles an hour pelted the flying granules into the eyes of the young driver and horses, and almost blinded them. The team made a misstep and soon wagon, horse, boy and milk were tumbling down the steep embankment. The outfit struck a tree about 20 feet down the bank where it lodged. If it had not been for this fortunate obstruction they would probably have rolled down the entire distance of 100 feet to the bank of the creek. With the assistance of neighbors and friends the horse and wagon were gotten to the road again and continued their journey to Mill Hall.

Frank B. Clark Arrested.

The Phila. Press gives an account of the arrest of one, Frank B. Clark, for five different charges of false pretense and one of misdemeanor. Clark was the promoter of the proven bogus Central Coal and Coke company, capitalized at nearly half a million dollars. It may interest our readers to know that this same Clark is wanted in Tyrone for similar charge and for having attempted to defraud Templeto & Co. out of about $1,200 worth of furniture. During his short residence in Tyrone, Clark lived in very pretentious style. During his stay there, proceedings were brought against him for passing a bogus check for $10 on the Adams Express company. His wife obtained his release by forfeiting a watch and diamond ring to cover the amount. Shortly after this event Clark mysteriously disappeared and was followed soon by his wife. The police authorities of Philadelphia and Bellefonte also wish to arraign Clark on similar charges and have forwarded bail pieces to prove that he skipped his bond in each case to avoid trial. He is called by the detectives one of the cleverest, crooked financiers in the country, and is thought to have disposed of $50,000 worth of stock in "fake" coal, coke and mining companies. Clark was arrested Saturday morning in Pittsburg, on a process issued by Judge Thomas in the criminal court and was placed in jail at that place. ADJOINING COUNTIES. Frank Miller, of Pine Grove Mills, had the misfortune to lose a good horse. Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Smith are rejoicing over the arrival of a young son at their home near Millheim. Keep in mind the Farmers Insitute to be held in Centre Hall, Monday and Tuesday, 17th and 18th prox. A good program has been arranged. George Tate, the Yeagertown builder and contractor, purchased the British farm in Ferguson Valley, Mifflin county. Mr. Tate was formerly a resident of Centre Hall. Miss Eva Miller taught the primary school at Coburn recently in place of her sister, Miss Olive Miller, the regular teacher, who was visiting relatives at Williamsport. Prof. Joseph Fletcher, of Blanchard, and A. A. Fletcher, of Howard, conducted a musical convention at Mt. Eagle in the Methodist church; it closed on Saturday evening with a concert. Mrs. Elias Hancock, of Runville, and Miss Sue McLaughlin, of Milesburg, the former the mother and the latter a niece of Ed. Hancock of Phillipsburg after a visit of several days at the latter's residence returned home Saturday morning. The other evening a number of young people from Centre Hall and vicinity were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Royer, at Old Fort. The event was a surprise party in honor of Miss Vergie Kritzer's birthday. Delicious refreshments were served, and time passed rapidly. Miss Kritzer received many beautiful and useful tokens of remembrance. Many farmers throughout Nittany valley are yet much handicapped by the great snow drifts that in some instances reached the depth of 8 feet, and no effort will be made by some of them to attempt to clear the great piles of snow from the lanes and crossroads. In order to reach the main roads they drive through fields, as the task of shoveling so much snow would not be an easy one. Saturday afternoon, Senior week exercises were held in the Auditorium, at State College, and was given under the auspices of Physical Director W. N. Golden: Music, Mile, Napoleon, orchestra; boxing exhibition, Messrs. Sullivan and Hirschman; song, Jolly Good Fellows, quartet; fencing, Messrs. Zink and summer; music, Much Oblige to You, orchestra; Indian club swinging, James C. Zink and Johnson; music, the Merry Widow, orchestra; blackened glove contest, Elmira Terror vs. Bronx Kid. The new bridge over the Susquehanna river at Lewisburg, being erected jointly by Union and Northumberland counties, delayed so long by litigation and dispute, is at length nearing completion, and the final span will be lowered the latter part of this week. The bridge when completed will be one of the finest in the state, costing $125,000. It will consist of 8 spans, with a 22 foot concrete roadway and a six-foot concrete sidewalk. It will be finished in about two months.

WEATHER NOTES.

Lock Haven had 8 degrees below zero from last week's cold wave. Loganton had 13 deg. below. Throughout Nittany valley the thermometers registered 8 below zero. In Dakota it was 30 below. Thermometer Wednesday morning, 6th, was 4 below zero—3 lower than at any time this winter. January, just passed, had one-and-half inches of rain—rain on four different days. Of snow there were 3 inches. January's mildness was broken just before close of the month. Thursday morning the thermometer registered 1 above zero, and on Friday morning it was 1 below. Ice of 7 inches, and over, was taken from the ponds. Snow had disappeared before the cold wave set in. Soon after midnight last Friday, a snowstorm set in and raged until Saturday noon. High winds followed Saturday afternoon which continued all day Sunday. The depth of snow here on Saturday was 10 inches while out in the region of Snowshoe there was a depth of 18 inches. Heavy drifts were reported from some sections. Our correspondents from all parts of the county report troublesome snow drifts, by the late storm and from 10 to 12 inches of snow and ice men having a fine harvest. The cold wave we had this week extended to Europe. Telegrams received indicate that all over the old country the cold wave was a visitor and even into parts of northern Africa. Throughout Germany telegraphic and railroad communication has been badly deranged by the snow and high winds.
