

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Mrs. B. W. Rumbarger, of Hublersburg, announces a pleasant caller. Mr. and Mrs. Curt Johnson returned to Altoona Sunday evening after spending the day with relatives in Bellefonte. The sociable given in the Methodist church Thursday night by one of the Sunday School classes was a grand success in every way. Mr. and Mrs. Willard Barnhart were called to Avis Saturday on account of the serious illness of Mrs. Barnhart's mother, Mrs. Johnstonbach. When spilen for a lickin' all the outside base-ball, foot-ball and basket-ball teams come to Bellefonte and get it-an' take it along home with 'em. General James A. Beaver left Monday for Williamsport where he is holding Superior Court this week. He will be away for the next month or three weeks. Miss Elsie Bidwell, the obliging and efficient clerk in the stationery and post card store of Mr. George T. Bush, has resigned her position to take effect March 7. She is going to her sister in New York state. Our sanctum was illumined with calls from W. J. Dale, of near Bellefonte; J. W. Eby, Zion; Alf. Keen, Mithim; J. O. Confer, Reading; J. Rossmann, Heckler; Mrs. B. W. Rumbarger, Hublersburg; J. K. McClincy, Fleming. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Faxon, of Bellefonte, announce the engagement of their daughter, Laura Carolyn, to C. Earl Whipple of Kansas City. The young people are in Panama City where the wedding will take place Thursday, March 12th. As suddenly as a copious shower from an unclouded sky Charles Nolan, the printer, dropped in Bellefonte Thursday to see his old friends. Father Time has been dealing favorably with him, as he is the picture of health. He really resembles a poet more than a type slinger. The Harrisburg Star Independent says that among other gratifying results of the last election all good citizens will heartily approve of the return to Councils of Harry F. Sheesley, of the First ward, and Ross A. Hickok, of the Fourth ward. The work of these gentlemen in Councils has been of such a character that their re-election reflects credit upon the constituencies they have served. Edward Overton a member of the A. M. E. church, of Bellefonte, has been licensed as a local preacher by Presiding Elder Anderson. Edward has been a faithful student, and is abundantly fitted to preach the gospel. With his clerical suit on he makes quite a distinguished appearance. It is to be hoped that he will be of great service to the church in winning men from the error of their ways. John Olewine, the hardware dealer, is again at his post of duty in his store. He had been confined to the house for about ten days or two weeks with the grip, thus he became better acquainted with his wife which is a pretty good thing for most any man. Although a little bleached he withstood the ravages of the dreaded disease in first class shape. However he does not want to be put through the trying ordeal more than once in ten years. Harry Winton, passenger conductor on the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania has purchased from William H. Noll, of Pleasant Gap, a house on Quaker Hill, now occupied by Rhule, the barber. The sum paid was $1100. Harry isn't in the habit of swearing but by the time he gets through with that hilly proposition he will be a graduate in profanity, all right. When you are up there once it is a nice place to live, and he will have a comfortable home. The euchre in the St. John Catholic hall on Thursday evening was a very pleasant and enjoyable affair. Wilson Gephart won the gentlemen's first prize and James Weaver the second. Mrs. Barnhart captured the ladies first prize and the second prize was awarded to Mrs. Herman Holtz. For the booby prize Miss Edna Williams and Stanley Plechecki were tied and in a final play-off it fell to Miss Williams. There will be another euchre this Thursday evening. All are invited. Wake up. Get into the Academy voting contest and make it interesting from the start. The more votes you cast the more you are helping to secure an athletic field for Bellefonte. If the sporting element of the town does not contribute to this project who will. Cast in a few votes today and help swell the fund. Then keep at it and get others to help. Bellefonte must have an athletic field and Bellefonters must raise the funds. Don't all depend on the Academy. They originated the project but all Bellefonte must assist. Among the constables who made their return to court on Monday was Milton E. Stover, of Aaronsburg, constable of Haines township, who is getting to be quite an expert as a raccoon catcher. Thursday he was engaged in dragging wood from the mountain and while hitching his horses to a hollow log his dog chased a raccoon out of it which was afterwards killed by Mr. Stover. Thinking there might be some more he secured a good club, and with assistance of the dog he killed four more. The dog frightened them and as the animals came to the end of the log to make their escape Mr. Musser put an end to them. Lieut. Colonel Alex. M. Damon will deliver his celebrated lecture entitled: "In Darkest America" in the court house next Monday evening. It will be illustrated by one hundred and twenty-five magnificent stereoscopic views. In speaking of this lecture Rev. C. D. Case, pastor of the Hanson Place Baptist Church, Brooklyn says: "I only wish that same lecture could be given in every church in our city. Irrespective of the interest in the work it would bring it would be a spiritual uplift and incentive to the whole church." This being true it is to be hoped that the court house will be packed until standing room would be at par. Col. Damon is a man of fine personality and a most impressive speaker, and is able to hold his audience with marked attention. In addition to this the Salvation Army needs money. They are doing a magnificent work here in reaching people who could not be reached by any other organization, and thus they need help. The price of admission to this lecture is but a cent, but it is worth three times that amount, so nobody will regret being present.

Thomas Fishburn, of College, was a pleasant caller. Pure food, pure water and pure air, will prolong life. Jerry Lutz, of Bellefonte, is quite ill at his home on Howard street. Fred Tillman and family are about to move on a farm near Mechanicsburg. Mrs. Robert Irvin left Friday for Altoona for the purpose of spending a few days with friends. Miss Marguerite Potter, of Linn street, has been visiting Mrs. W. A. Lathrop in Wilkesbarre. Wilbur Harris, of Harrisburg, spent Sunday in Bellefonte at the home of his mother, on Howard street. The Lord's Supper will be administered in the Lutheran church, by Rev. Barry, Sunday, March 8, morning and evening. Our friend John Mark, of Gregg, was a caller and reports roads down there having been troublesome from snowdrifts. It snowed all day Sunday last; depth some three inches, causing drifts on the roads in some parts. Sleighing has been good since. Mrs. Sarah Walz, of Pleasant Gap, has been confined to the Harper home with the grip since her arrival in Bellefonte two weeks ago. Miss Sabra Faxon left recently for Bakertown after spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Faxon, on East High street. Mrs. Edward Lucas and daughter, Kathryn, have departed for their home in Pittsburg after spending a couple of days with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Thomas. Thursday Mrs. R. A. Beck and two children left Bellefonte for Hanover where she will visit friends. She was accompanied by her husband as far as Lock Haven. Mrs. John Crowell and children left for their home at Birmingham Friday evening after spending a week with her cousin, Mrs. E. R. Owens and other friends in this neighborhood. J. T. Turner, of Julian, gave us a business call; also John O. Bower, Woodward; E. H. Grove, Benner; Ira Hazel, Madisonburg; A. F. Hazel, Fleming; also Mrs. J. C. Laufer, Buffalo Run. A. A. Pletcher, of Howard, was in Bellefonte on Monday circulating among his many friends. He led the singing at the farmers in Hallmoon township on Friday and Saturday, everybody was pleased. Chas. M. McCurdy, cashier of the First National Bank, left on Monday afternoon for Philadelphia to attend a meeting of the Philadelphia Bankers, which will be held at the Bellevue Stratford this Thursday. Miss Mary Blanchard, of Bellefonte, exhibited several hundred baskets at the "Kirmis" which was held last week at the Bellevue-Stratford, Philadelphia. The exhibit received the highest commendation from all who saw it. Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Montgomery and their son Hassal, departed Thursday for Philadelphia for an extended visit. Mr. Montgomery went for a week or ten days while Mrs. Montgomery and Hassal will remain for a month or more. William Furey and his two sons, of Pittsburg, arrived in Bellefonte Friday and were driven to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris W. Furry, a short distance east of town. They left for home on Sunday evening after having an enjoyable time here. A bunch of Philipsburg's best citizens favored our sanctum with a brief stay Monday evening, viz: candidate for sheriff Smith, B. Cameron, Cyrus Thompson, J. B. Hoffman, and Saml. T. Phillipsburg attorney, W. D. Crosby. Tuesday evening it began to snow falling to a depth of three inches, when rain set in lasting into next day—and then there was an awful slush. At mid-forenoon, Wednesday, snow again began to fall in large wet flakes, making the situation more awfully awful, such as was not on the ground hog's program. After nine years of faithful service as councilman of Bellefonte, from the Northward, W. H. Derstine, will retire on March 2nd. He could have had the nomination again but he declined. He made an excellent custodian of the people's interest, and when he took a stand for anything he couldn't be moved with a hydraulic jack. Jacob Smith has rented the M. I. Gardner house on Spring street and will move his family there from the Morrison house on the same street on April first. The house to be vacated by the Smiths has been leased and will be occupied by David J. Kelley and family on and after April 1st, who will move there from their present home near the lime kilns. The death of Mrs. G. Irvin Davis, at her home in Holidaysburg recently, who was an aunt of James K. Barnhart, of this place, is the sixth death in the Barnhart family which has occurred within a year. While this seems an appalling death rate to occur in a family connection within one year, it is somewhat mitigated by the fact that five out of the six deaths were of persons who attained a venerable age—three score and ten or more, so that they had already lived the allotted years for mankind. The deceased was a daughter of Judge Henry Barnhart, and was born in Centre county over seventy-five years ago. Friday afternoon a close and interesting contest took place at the Bellefonte Academy. It was for the prize essay offered annually by the local Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, on some subject touching the Revolutionary period. The contestants were Grace Cook, John South, Ellen Hayes, Lorne Hummel, James William Crooks, Emily Bassett and Townsend Frazier. The singing of national songs between readings, and instrumental music by Miss Jacobs and Professor Hall, made the program very pleasing. The judges were Mrs. Jennie Hastings, Mrs. Lizzie Potter and Mrs. Catharine Dinges. They found the contest a very difficult one to decide and concluded to offer two first prizes of five dollars each to Messrs Crooks and Frazier respectively and the first ladies prize to Miss Ellen Hayes. The large number of daughters present, expressed themselves as very highly pleased with the contest.

Charles Corman, of Cresson, has been visiting at the home of Miss Anna Kaup, on Willowbank street. Miles Shultz left Monday to attend the funeral of a relative, Mrs. Lulu Shultz, which took place at Everett. J. E. Miller, father of George H. Miller, of Bellefonte, who was reported dangerously ill, is slowly improving. James Parsons, who was employed at the Baldwin locomotive works, arrived in Bellefonte, Saturday evening. B. H. Fear, of Buffalo, N.Y., is a visitor at the home of secretary and Mrs. C. N. Meserve, on East Bishop Street. A game of basket ball was played between the regulars and the scrub team, the latter winning out by a score of 54-21. Eli Baney an old resident of Bellefonte, is seriously ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Abe Robb, on Halfmoon Hill. His death is only a matter of a short time. The ladies of the Reformed church will hold a social at the home of Mrs. Harry Jenkins on High St., Friday evening cakes, candies, ice cream and other good things for sale. The attraction at the Theatorium this evening will be the Gans-Nelson prize fight. It will be a correct reproduction of this famous struggle between these expert athletes, and thus interesting from start to finish. The Bellefonte Academy basket ball team pleased their many friends last night when they swamped Clearfield High School by the score of 51-17. Capt. Laderer of the Academy team made 29 points himself. He is a great player. The art exhibit for the Bellefonte schools on Thursday, Friday and Saturday was pretty well patronized by our people. Those interested in art could not help but be exceedingly well pleased with the large and magnificent display of pictures. C. D. Stine, of Tipton, spent Sunday in Bellefonte. He was formerly a resident of this place but now has charge of the Eye and Shoemaker repair plant at Tipton, near Tyone. He is thoroughly competent, and thus no better man could have been chosen for the place. There was something doing at the local Y. M. C. A. Thirty-two young men sat down to the 10 cent dinner at 6 o'clock. They afterwards attended the Bible class. A class in electricity was organized with eighteen members. Supt. Bussler, of the Electric Light station, will be the instructor. The hallowe'en party in "Under Southern Skies" is a riotously funny scene, that calls up memories of youthful days and revives a troop of sentimental frolics. The scene is made very picturesque by genuine Jack o' Lanterns of boy and girlhood days. At Garman's opera house on Friday, March 6th. Among the visitors at this office this week were John A. Daley, of Romola, his son Frank, Harry Knepe, of Marietta. The latter is an experienced taxidermist and for the last two months has been roaming over the mountains of Centre county in search of game to use as specimens. Thus far he has been very successful. A movement is now on foot among some of the Bellefonte merchants and clerks to continue the closing of the stores at six o'clock throughout the whole year instead of a period during the summer. The present agreement expires about the middle of next month and it is the object of those interested in such arrangements whereby the six o'clock closing will continue the same as at present. One of the most pretentious productions, from a scenic view point, touring the county this season is "Under Southern Skies." The use of a 60 ft. baggage car is required to transport the scenery and mechanical effects, and the services of 23 people are needed in the presentation of the play. The unqualified endorsement of the Eastern press has been accorded this organization, and all indications point to the forthcoming engagement as one of the most important of our local season from a theatrical and social standpoint. This show will appear in Garman's opera house Friday, March 6th. Quite a number of people in Bellefonte were acquainted with Dr. Harvey Farbay, who at one time was pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of Tyone. After leaving there he went to Philadelphia where he fell from grace. He afterwards went to Chicago where he reformed and started life again by going into the slums of that city where he commenced a magnificent work. He is now in New York City at the head of a project with New York philanthropists to erect a building at a cost of $300,000 in which work will be given to unemployed men. The building will be situated at Lafayette street and Bond street. It will not be a mere lodging house, but a workshop as well, and he who does not work shall not eat. This is merely to take care of the worthy men who are willing and industrious. The home, therefore, will not appeal to professional vagrants. Saturday being Washington's Birthday the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution gave a brilliant reception in the evening to the A. R. Company B. 5th Regiment, with the staff officers, the sons of Cincinnati, Sons of the Revolution and the Spanish War veterans, together with many other invited guests. It took place at the Academy Fraternity house on the corner of Allegheny and Curtin streets, which was magnificently decorated to the taste of old colonial style. The affair proved to be one of the most stylish social functions ever given in the town, and was unique, in every detail. Christy Smith's orchestra was present whose delightful music added much in making the reception such a noted success. The ovation given to the old veterans of the Civil War was as flattering as when they retired after the great struggle. During the evening refreshments were graciously served by pretty young ladies attired in costumes of "ye olden times." The festivities is terminated with an old fashioned Virginia Reel in which many of the older guests recalled the happiness of by-gone days. Some of the officers of the Chapter received in their very happy way, namely, Miss Helen Overton, Regent, Mrs. Ellis L. Orvis, Vice-Regent, Mrs. John Porter Lyon, Treasurer, and Mrs. Jennie Hastings and Mrs. Boal, of the Board of Managers. Words are not at command to adequately commend the Daughters as a Chapter for the remarkable success of the reception in very particular. The larat boys were very helpful to the Daughters and kept "open doors" to all visitors, circulating through the building.
