

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

W. T. Hubler, of Rebersburg, was a pleasant caller at this office. J. K. Johnston, Esq., spent Sunday with his parents at Mt. Eagle. Miss Edna Koonitz spent a few days recently with friends at Fillmore. Mrs. David Barlett and daughter, Mary, have returned from Altoona and Jeannett. Miss Ruth Hunter, of Mill Hall, spent Saturday with friends in Bellefonte. Groceryman Ed. Gillen, of Bellefonte, transacted business in Lock Haven, on Monday. Mrs. H. S. Pletcher returned to her home in Howard, Friday night, after visiting several days at the home of John Meese. Friday J. C. Rumbarger went to Unionville where he attended an anniversary dinner in honor of Mrs. Margaret Brugger. Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Jack Decker returned from Lancaster where Mrs. Decker and children had been visiting friends. Harry Robb, an engineer on the Pittsburg division of the Pennsylvania railroad, spent Sunday at the home of his mother on East High street. Thomas Burton, of Pittsburg, spent Sunday with his family up along Spring street. He is an engineer on the Pittsburg division of the P. R. R. Rev. Barry will be preacher the Lord's supper in the Lutheran church, next Sabbath, morning and evening. Preparatory services Friday evening. Charles Cook, of Blanchard, the implement dealer, transacted business in Bellefonte. He handles none but the best machinery, and is a good all around fellow. A carload of young trout reached York from the state hatchery at Bellefonte, for distribution in the streams throughout York county. It is the largest single shipment ever made. Mrs. Jacob Monash and her two children, of New York City, are guests at the home of Mrs. Monash's father, Abram Baum, on Bishop street. They expect to remain several weeks. February had 1.54 inches of rain, and 35 inches of snow—six snows in all. The total precipitation, rain and snow, was 4.50 inches. The 35 inches of snow count same as 3 1/2 inches of rain. The Daily News, of Monday, says that Fred Bryan spent Sunday with friends at Roland. Why didn't they speak the truth and say he spent the day with one friend, a young lady, who is dead stuck on him. D. I. Willard, of the "Willard and New York City selecting his spring and summer stock. He says when he gets it on the shelves in his store, there will be something doing. The individual gymnasium contest commenced at the Y. M. C. A. Monday night, will continue until the middle of April. Medals will be awarded the highest scoring contestants. All senior members interested are cordially invited to compete. Friday, March 6th, Dickenson Seminary vs Y. M. C. A. in gym. March is down for raw and cold, according to the believers in the weather of the "last Friday in the month" ruling. That would be rough—as last Friday was rough, raw and anything but genial. The "last Friday" and the "groundhog" must be in cahoot from all appearances. Recent callers in this office were: J. C. Vanada, of Potter; A. S. Fletcher, Howard; Wm. Hoover, Geo. Spotts, Ira Benner, Harvey Bowersox and J. M. Hubler, of College; Beulah Kunes and W. T. Kunes, of Runville; G. Murtoft, of Benore; H. A. McClellan, of Spring Mills; Grant Williams, lumberman, of Nittany, and Mrs. Kate Heaton, of Bellefonte. Mrs. Kirk, wife of Dr. M. A. Kirk, and daughter, Miss Lois, went to Mt. Eagle Friday where they spent the day with Mrs. J. B. Leathers and daughters. They had an old-fashioned chicken dinner, the fowl being a large as a good sized turkey. The Leathers home is a delightful place to visit as the inmates always do their best to entertain their friends. George T. Bush left Thursday morning for Philadelphia where he attended the banquet of the Swarthmore College Club held at the Bellevue-Stratford, on Saturday night. After partaking of a bountiful feast, and having a good time generally, he started out through the city looking for something new in the post card line, of which he will make an exclusive display in his store next month. The Elks Minstrel held in Jersey Shore, Thursday and Friday evening, is said to have been the most successful home talented entertainment ever given in that town. Herbert McCoy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCoy, of Bellefonte, was one of the end men who made a big hit. Lee Larimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Larimer, of this place, also took part in the entertainment. Bellefonters always bob up serenely on occasions like these and they generally win laurels. It seems that you can't place them wrong. The vacant livery stable, in the rear of J. B. Miller's law office, recently occupied by James Gault, has been leased by L. H. Musser, the implement dealer. Monday he moved his machinery and other effects to his new location where hereafter he will be found ready to do business. The Beezer livery stable, on north Waters st., vacated by Mr. Musser, will be occupied by John Lyon as a garage. Mr. Lyon will make some repairs to the building and then he will have one of the most complete establishments of the kind to be found anywhere. Pat Garrity, of Seven Mountain fame, gave the Democrat sanctum a call the other day, jolly and good humored as ever and looking the picture of health, better than ever—and now has 65 years notched on his shingle. Pat has resided in his mountain home from his boyhood and entertained hundreds of trout fishermen in his time—the writer being one of the fortunate. No one ever left Pat's house without feeling that a wholesome denizen of the mountains was his host. He is a good fellow, intelligent, and enjoys and can tell a good joke. With him lives his nephew, Walter, who is an expert at trout fishing, while Pat don't care a snuff about that kind of sport. They are two happy and contented bachelors.

Under Southern Skies" at the opera house Friday evening. Among our pleasant callers the past week were Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Kunes, of Runville. Mrs. W. J. Fleming left Friday for Harrisburg where she will spend several weeks with her husband. The sports around town figure that it is but a little over a month until the trout fishing season opens. John Armstrong, formerly employed at Schadd's plumbing establishment, is critically ill with consumption. Mrs. John C. Rowe, who had been seriously ill at her home on Curtin street with pneumonia, is slowly recovering. The Lenten season began yesterday. That will mean a cessation of many social functions in Bellefonte, for some weeks to come. John Jenkins, of Milton, spent Thursday in Bellefonte as the guest of his brother and sister, W. R. Jenkins and Mrs. Dr. E. S. Dorworth. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hazel, of Niagara Falls, are rejoicing over the arrival of a ten-pound boy. They have named him Riamilton Otto Hazel. H. A. McClellan, of Potter twp., who will sell a very choice line of live stock this season, was in to get some property advertised in a column of this paper. Miss Lydell Jones, a graduate nurse of the Bellevue hospital, New York City who had been a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Reese, left for Scranton on Friday. Thomas Faxon, who had been confined to the house with diabetes for a couple of weeks has recovered sufficiently to again take charge of the engines at the Electric Light station. Mrs. S. Cameron Burside, of Philadelphia, but who is well known in Bellefonte, has gone to Europe where she will spend some time with her daughter who is studying over there. R. Hamill Boal, of Horton, Virginia, circulated among his friends in Bellefonte recently. He came here last week to attend the funeral of his sister, Mrs. John I. Thompson, of Lemont. Just an even dozen young folks composed a jolly party from Julian who sledded to Bellefonte the other evening and were entertained by Miss Lela Ardrey, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Ardrey, on Reynolds avenue. Nathan E. Markle and family left Centre county this week for Cumberland county, where they have located on a farm near Mechanicsburg, where they expect to make their future home. Many friends join in wishing them much success. The Reformed sociable held Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jenkins, on High street, proved a success in every particular. The attendance was large, and there was quite a demand for the cake, candy and ice cream. Dr. A. Schaffer, of Bellefonte, has been assisting in the business offices of the Hayes Run Fire Brick Company, at Orvis, the past few weeks and it is quite likely that he will accept a permanent position with the company as a sales agent. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Richard have closed up their residence on East Lion street and have gone to Philadelphia where they will remain until April 1st. Their business in going there is to assist in settling up the estate of Mrs. Richard's father, the late Mr. Aul. W. Harrison Walker, Esq., was in Snow Shoe Monday in the interest of the creditors of the Watson & Thompson failure. He is trying to get matters shaped up as rapidly as possible, although it will be some time yet before the creditors will know exactly where they are at. William McClellan, who was knocked out several days last week with rheumatism, is on duty again at the station of the Central railroad of Pennsylvania. He has been having quite a difficult time this winter with the disease which has given him much pain and loss of time. Al Garman was in town on Sunday. He expects to be here after April 1st to take personal direction of the Garman House, as the hotel license was recently granted to him. He may not remain in that capacity permanently, but will remain here until definite arrangements can be made for the future. Morris Baum spent last week in New York making selections for the coming spring season. The result is that advance shipments are arriving which indicate the exclusive styles and popular goods for the coming season. If you want to be correct in your dress see Sim the Clothier about it. After an absence of over a year in Philadelphia and Lewistown, Mrs. Benner Graham and two daughters have returned to Bellefonte where they will, hereafter, make their future home. They haven't seen anything along the line that suits them better than their own mountain town. That's the way most of them feel about it. Last week we neglected to state that there were eight contestants in the C. class of the Bellefonte High School for the annual prize given by the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Quite a number of daughters and other guests were present, and the prize winners were Miss Crilly Robb, daughter of Mrs. Herman Robb, and Harris Olewine, son of Mr. and Mrs. John I. Olewine. On Tuesday evening, 35th, Mr. Elsworth Ardrey, his wife and daughter had a very interesting little time at their home on Reynolds avenue entertaining a tally-ho party of their friends from up the Bald Eagle way, around Julian and Martha. Of course it was prearranged and it would be useless here to try to do justice to the warm reception and the very excellent little feast served. As the drive was a long one, the party arrived about nine, and had to leave about twelve. It snowed—all knew it—but what was the difference! Sleighing was fine, baskets plenty. Here is the roster of those coming: Verna Williams, Blanch Williams, G. E. Ardrey, Roy Stiver, Marian Matern, Clara Myers, Clair Funk, Telford Funk, Bethel Eberts, Nora Hamer, Chester Cromister and J. R. Matern. It was a decided success and there is not one but will remember it with great pleasure.

Our public sale register will be found on page 3. Robert Thompson left Tuesday for Huntingdon. John A. Weaver, of Hublersburg, gave our sanctum a call. David Vonada and son, of Gregg, gave the Democrat a call. Under Southern Skies" tomorrow evening, at the opera house. Fish shipments will soon be made from the Bellefonte Fish Hatchery. You will note that all the leading sales in Centre county are found in the Centre Democrat sale register. Rev. J. A. Platts will give an address in the Salvation Army hall Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. All are welcome. Curtis Taylor, Jr., brakeman on the passenger train on the Central Pennsylvania railroad, is slowly recovering from a serious illness. This evening the ladies of the Bellefonte Methodist church will serve a chicken and waffle supper in the lecture room of the church. You are invited. Henry Weaver, who is a brakeman on the Pittsburg division of the Pennsylvania railroad company has been spending a few days with his father and brother. One of the most successful plays to be presented in Bellefonte this season is "Under Southern Skies" which will appear at Garman's opera house to morrow evening. J. Malcolm Laurie, cashier of the First National Bank, of Winburn, Clearfield county, has been visiting in Bellefonte this week at the residence of his uncle, Dr. William Laurie. J. Forest Pletcher, ticket agent for the Pennsylvania railroad company at Clearfield, dropped off the train a few minutes Monday evening to shake hands with old acquaintances in Bellefonte. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Longacre, formerly of Bellefonte, but now located in Williamsport, are rejoicing over the arrival of an eight-pound baby girl which arrived at their home Tuesday. Miss Lulu Stover, of Lock Haven, an elocutionist of considerable merit, pleased a Bellefonte audience at the Martha Washington sociable held Friday night in the Methodist church by the Queen Esther Circle. Under Southern Skies" is one of the largest and most expensive dramatic companies now travelling, as the company numbers twenty three people, and every piece of scenery used in the production is carried with the company. The Lock Haven steam laundry has established an office in Bellefonte in charge of H. Ruger. Collections are made on Tuesday and laundry returned Thursday. All kinds of dyeing, pressing and cleaning will receive particular attention. Friday afternoon Sheriff Kline, with the assistance of John Knisley and Joseph Shaughnessy, took to the Danville asylum, Lloyd Rimer of Howard, Warren Wilkins of Aaronsburg, and a Hungarian. Mr. Wilkins is a man eightythree years of age and quite feeble. Tomorrow (Friday) evening the ladies of the Bellefonte United Brethren church will serve a corn supper in the evening, the charming, on the High Street. For twenty-five cents you can get all you can eat. Ice cream and cake will be served extra. This is a worthy cause so go and help them along. Dr. T. C. VanTries has window cards printed to advertise his famous lecture. On these cards is a large photo of the Doctor in a sitting posture. The public, on observing this handsome picture, can not help but be impressed with the high character of both the lecture and the lecturer. If you are an enthusiast on basketball go to the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium tomorrow night and witness the game between the Y. M. C. A. team, and the team from Dickinson Seminary, Williamsport. Provisions have been made for ladies who wish to attend. The game will be interesting from the first kick of the ball until the last. So if you are looking for a place to go to in the evening, you can't make a mistake by going there. Dr. Platts has a flock of 20 Plymouth Rock pullets of the famous Merkle strain and 15 Rhode Island Reds, of the celebrated Thompson strain, which come pretty close to holding the record these days in egg production. In the last two days of February they laid 351 eggs; in eight days they produced an even 200; while in four days of the last week they laid 105. Dr. Platts is so thoroughly convinced that these are hard to beat that he is already planning for his next year's flock and has an incubator hatch coming out this week. Monday the American Express office changed its location from Bush's store to the depot of the Central Railroad of Pa. They have abandoned the wagon and William Miller is now acting as agent and express messenger. Walter Armstrong, formerly the messenger on the train, now employed by the railroad company, "Old Bob", the faithful express horse, has been shipped away to do service elsewhere. The Bellefonte horsemen did their level best to buy him but the company refused to accept any price for the animal. He is well trained and as sound as a dollar. The "Thespians," the State College Dramatic Club, were very cordially received in Bellefonte Saturday night in presenting "The Toastmaster." The plot was a good one and ably carried out in every particular. There was enough spice to keep the audience awake and in good humor, the general impression was that it was the most satisfactory entertainment ever given by the company. The quartette rendered several selections during the evening, which was loudly enjoyed, the music from the orchestra was highly appreciated because, like a turkey dinner, it only comes about once a year. This week L. G. Gresham, a representative of the General Electrical Co., of Philadelphia, was in Bellefonte for the purpose of seeing what prospect there was for introducing electricity for motive power. He, with Supt. Fred Brugger, of the Electric Light station, made the rounds among the printing offices, shirt factory, planing mills and other places in the town where the modern method of power could be used. As usual our business sided up to the situation and gave the gentlemen every encouragement, providing they could make good their claims. The Bellefonte Electrical Co. would like to start this day service by the 1st of April, and judging from the encouragement they have received there is a probability that it will be a go, although the company has not decided what action they will take in the matter.

A short time ago her son Hershey, became ill with pneumonia and Mrs. Robb took care of him. Her anxiety for the young man's recovery, together with the labor of caring for him, was too much for her physical strength, thus she was also stricken, and for a week was confined to her bed. She was 50 years of age and all her life had been a resident of Liberty township. The deceased's maiden name was Margie Stover, and about 30 years ago she was married to Christian Robb. HENRY HARVEY—an aged citizen of Centre county, died Saturday morning, about 2 o'clock at the residence of his son, Irvin Harvey, at State College. His death was the result of a stroke of paralysis with which he was afflicted several weeks ago. The deceased was the son of Isaac Harvey and 83 years ago last September, he was born on a farm at Cedar Run, Clinton county. He afterwards resided in Huntingdon, Blair county. For ten or twelve years he was director of the Farmers' Institute in Blair county and on account of his advanced age and ill health he retired and for two years lived with his daughter, Mrs. Frank Strunk, at Howard. He became stronger and went to Altoona to take up institute work again but found it too laborious. He then went to the home of his son, Irvin, at State College. He was twice married, his first wife being Isabelle Elliott, who has been dead for about fifty years. His second wife was Lizzie Garner. The deceased was a life long member of the Christian church and was true to his faith. He was much devoted to church work and he made the Bible a study and companion of his life. JACOB HOUSER—died Wednesday morning, about 1 o'clock at the University of Philadelphia. He resided about five miles from Bellefonte, along Muncy mountain, near Hunters Park. Five weeks after he had the teeth drawn. Later he was taken to the University of Pennsylvania where his jaw bone was taken out. He seemed to be improving and his friends were making arrangements to bring him home. Monday morning they received a message that Mr. Houser, within the last 24 hours, had become suddenly insane, and he was in a critical condition. The next news that came was that he was dead. His remains were brought home Thursday morning. He was about 61 years old and is survived by a wife and several grown up children. The time of the funeral was not set before going to press. MRS. ROBERT HENDERSON—died Tuesday morning at 5 o'clock at her home on the Hunter homestead, near Hunter's Park. For years she had been an invalid, the result of a complication of diseases. At times she would recover sufficiently to walk around the house, and about two months ago came to Bellefonte. This was her first trip to town in two years, and she was very much pleased with the prospects of a permanent recovery. She returned home and it was only a short time until her old troubles returned which terminated in her death. Mrs. Henderson was a daughter of the late Hon. Benjamin Hunter, of Benner township, and about 48 years of age was born on the Hunter homestead where she passed away. She was a most excellent lady, a fond mother and a splendid neighbor, and the circumstances surrounding her death are sad. She was a faithful member of the Buffalo Run Presbyterian church and took a great interest in its prosperity and welfare. She is survived by a husband and two daughters, Nannie and Bertha; also by the following brothers and sisters: Craig, of Fillmore; Dorsey and Robert, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. Andrew Reeser, of Millheim.
