G. W. RUMBERGER, of Fleming, (popularly known as "Domino.")

For several weeks there has been a constant appeal from all parts of the county and elsewhere, for our versatile correspondent of Unionville, "DOMINO," to visit them in his now famous "air ship." As such a task would be nigh impossible, and as there are other important engagements of a more practical character to consume his time, he could not accept these generous invitations. There are hundreds of readers who for some years have with much pleasure read the interesting contributions from this spicy writer in this paper, and were not aware as to who was the real "Domino." For that reason we present the above portrait which is none other than George W. Rumberger, of Unionville, recently the Register of Centre county, now efficiently is serving as Deputy County Treasurer, and while not exactly a "spring chicken" he is still the liveliest "boy" in the bunch about the court house. His happy disposition is always prevalent—greeted you with a smile and parts with a joke. In season and out of season, uphill or downgrade, wet or dry, he seems to find the "silver lining" that makes life worth living. He possesses that subtle wit and humor that makes anything he writes interesting—in fact could extract sunshine from the cucumber, or provoke a jolly laugh from a multiplication table, without trying either. Always generous and considerate, in all this time, by not a line has he ever wounded the feelings of anyone by a harsh word or bitter comment but always supplied good cheer for young and old, rich or poor alike. That is "Domino"—would that there were more like him—the world would be all the better for them.

UNIONVILLE.

J. O. Peters and son George returned home on Saturday, after an extended visit to friends down in the hard coal regions.

Mrs. Nathaniel Lindenmuth left her husband's bed and board about six weeks ago, and on Monday her husband followed her to the land of hard coal—Sunbury, Shamokin, and other towns—whither she had gone to visit friends. Of course, the parting was mutual and the re-union will be a happy one.

S. K. Emerick, the Union township auctioneer, on Monday morning, discovered a large grass-hopper at Dix Run, which was making his way towards the graveyard. The poor fellow (the hopper) had lost one of his hind legs and his locomotion was necessarily slow. As Sammy belongs to the dries, we need no further evidence that he is telling the truth about the "hopper."

If a candidate for the legislature solicits your support, ask him this question: "Wet or dry?" If he says "wet," then you say "nit." If he says "dry," then give him your hand but don't make any pledges unless you intend to keep them. Mrs. Riley Pratt is not improving very much, if any. Seth Pratt, we are glad to say, is much better; Mrs. Sophia Stover is very low. Mrs. Perry Moran is also said to be in the last stages of consumption. Daniel Hall is still at the Cottage Hospital at Philipsburg, but is getting along nicely. Mrs. Mame Fisher, who has had the misfortune to have her shoulder dislocated about ten days ago, has resumed her duties as teacher of Fairview school.

Joe Gill, just now, is the happiest man in town, and not without cause. His daughter Eva, was married last week in Altoona, to Mr. M. M. Morris, Jr., son of a prominent banker in West Virginia, and on Saturday she and her husband came down and spent Sunday at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. Morris is a practical chemist in the employ of Penna railroad Co. at Altoona. To add to the family joy, his son, Forest, who is head clerk in a store at Retort, came home on Sunday morning and with him, a beautiful young lady, and spent the day at the parental home, returning in the evening. The usual jolly music of the calithumpians greeted the fair bride and groom.

"Now wasn't that just grand," "love ly." "Oh dear! didn't that male quartette, composed of J. W. Smith, Chappie Underwood, Charley Rowan and How and Peters do well? It was simply superb." "Yes, and the Smith sisters' duet was fine! and, oh my! did you ever hear anything finer than that anthem by the whole choir?" Such were the remarks made by those who were present at the musicale on Sunday night. Miss Alice Henshu presided at the organ with violin accompaniment by Roy Calhoun. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the house was well filled and the general verdict was, that it was a pronounced success, and was the most enjoyable event of the season.

Last Saturday was gala day at the home of Mrs. Margaret Brugger. Her children and grand-children came home to celebrate her eighteenth birthday anniversary, notwithstanding she was 72 years old on that day. She was born Feb. 29, 1836, so you see her birthday would only occur once in four years. There were present: Mrs. Malissa Bing, Wm. Iddings, A. J. St. Clair and wife, Mrs. J. C. Smith, Mrs. Mary Brislin and son Samuel, of Lemont, Mrs. Maggie Taylor, of Altoona, Mrs. Susan Keatly, her sister, Mrs. Francis Hall and son Eugene, Miss Wilbretta Hall, of Pittsburg, John C. Rumberger and family, Joseph E. Brugger and family, Mrs. Nora Becker, of Philadelphia, Miss Elizabeth Brugger, of Harrisburg, Rev. Dr. Piper and wife and Mrs. G. W. Rumberger and daughter, Laura—all told there were 30 persons present. The dinner was such as to tempt the most confirmed dyspeptic, as an evidence of this fact we can assure you there were no 12 basketful of fragments left. All her children and grandchildren were present, except her son Walter, of Minneapolis, who, by the way, sent as a substitute a bright, good sized, gold coin, and her granddaughter, Miss Nora Brugger, of Philadelphia. She received many valuable and useful presents. This is one of the best ways in the world to strew flowers in the pathway of the declining years of the aged and I am sure that this celebration will ever remain a green spot in the memory of this beloved lady. A telegram from Monongahela City was received by John W. Holt, on Monday announcing the sad death of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Austin Hoover. She has been a great sufferer for more than a year from that incurable disease, cancer. Her remains arrived in Unionville on the noon train, Wednesday, and was taken to the home of her mother, Mrs. Fredericks, funeral this morning at 10 o'clock; services were held by Rev. Dr. Piper of the M. E. Church, of which church deceased was almost a life long member. She leaves to survive her, her husband and the following children: Mrs. Shaba Smith and Mrs. Maud Shippe and Edward, of Monongahela; and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Annie Koller, of Conover, Ohio; and Mrs. John F. Holt and Benjamin at home. She was aged 54 years.

We Recommend Sxine Pills.

It makes no difference what is the cause of one's weakness. If it be a tonic that is needed, Sxine Pills will do more than any other tonic. They are the one tonic that strikes at the bottom of all weakness, the nerve centers. They send new vitality bounding through the body, producing a glow and tingle that revive the languid energies of youth. Sxine Pills begin by bringing quiet repose to fluttering nerves, and inducing restful and refreshing sleep. Price $1 a box; six boxes $5 with full guarantee. Address or call on C. M. Parrish, Drug gist, Bellefonte, where they sell all the principal remedies and do not substitute.

PENN CAVE.

The month of March began with a thaw.

Mrs. McCormick is suffering with an attack of neuralgia. Ward Keller, one of our bright young men, returned home after several weeks' visit in Altoona. He had an enjoyable time and is one of the kind who knows how to enjoy themselves, but he still prefers the farm for a home—that's what he says.

A number of the young folks attended a party last Friday evening, at the home of Harry Bales, at Penn Hall.

Harry Allison, health officer, visited our section the beginning of the week. There will be a telephone line run through here this spring. The places for the poles have been marked and work will begin as soon as the ground opens.

Mrs. White, who has been suffering for several months with rheumatism, is not much improved. She has always been a good, kind woman, and we feel sorry that she must go through this suffering.

Orris McCormick, who so successfully run the Penn Cave house, the past year, will move from there in the spring. Their many friends are sorry to have them leave our neighborhood.

Harry Hockman, an energetic young man from Philipsburg, was a welcome visitor this week at the home of his sister, Mrs. Grove.

Last Friday afternoon Roy Korman, with his swift steeds, took the Penn Cave school in a sled to visit the Murray school.

David Vonada was to Lock Haven last week on a business trip. Mr. Vonada knows how to make farming pay, and during the past year built a beautiful new house on his farm here.

Only a little over two weeks of school, until this term is over. We had a pleasant, successful term of school.

John White and family, of Altoona, will move on the White farm, and Emanuel White's will move into the house known as the Blue Ball house.

SPRING MILLS.

Sunday was a dreary day sleeting and raining during the entire day.

M. E. protracted meeting is still in progress.

Sleighting has been of the best during the past month and this month so far. The young folks are making use of it by having numerous parties and the farmers are moving their implements.

Little Earl, son of Oliver Corman, accidentally broke his arm while playing. He seems to be getting along alright.

On Tuesday evening some young folks had a dance at the Penn Cave house.

The A. B. C. club and their favorite gentlemen friends, gave a surprise party to Anna Cummings last Friday evening. She received numerous presents.

Andrew Zettle, who was a resident of our suburb at one time, has been seen hauling implements to Millin county, whither he will move in the spring, and continue his business of agriculture.

Harry Allison, health officer, is now making his third trip around to the school houses in the township.

The directors and teachers met on Saturday and settled up for sixth month of school. Less than a month and then young America again will be free. There will likely be a spring term in both grades.

Among the parental visitors who live at a distance, and are in town at present,

ENGLAND SAYS NO ALUM IN FOOD and strictly prohibits the sale of alum baking powder—

So does France So does Germany

The sale of alum foods has been made illegal in Washington and the District of Columbia, and alum baking powders are everywhere recognized as injurious.

To protect yourself against alum, when ordering baking powder,

Say plainly—

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

and be very sure you get Royal. Royal is the only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar. It adds to the digestibility and wholesomeness of the food.

ent, are John White and family, of Altoona; Wilber Shines and family, Robt. Catherman and wife, Frank Osman and family, and Rev. Duck, of New York.

RUNVILLE.

Jesse Witherite and Howard Watson have returned home from Medix Run. Tacy Lucas was a guest of her brother Claude's, at Snow Shoe, during the past week.

Nellie Rathmel spent Sunday very pleasantly with her parents at Hublersburg.

Mrs. C. M. Gay is spending some time at the home of Blair Alexander, near Wingate.

L. J. Heaton and wife, after a pleasant visit with relatives at Altoona and Wallaceton, returned to their home here.

W. H. Lucas, accompanied by Lucy Smoyer, also James Lucas and wife, transacted business at Bellefonte, Thursday.

Sleighting and fudge parties are all the go in our village.

Mrs. H. A. Witherite will have sale on the 24th of March. (Bill in other column.)

Adaline Shope, of Bellefonte, spent the past week at Mrs. Jane Lucas's.

The sled load that passed through here Friday night used lots of hot air. How about it Wingate? George Lucas accompanied by his daughter, Florence, arrived in our town, Friday eve.

Mrs. Sadie Poorman, of Vilas, spent Saturday at the home of Mrs. Anna Witherite.

Mrs. James Snyder and son, of Wingate, spent Sunday at the home of E. Poorman.

CLARENCE

Sleighting is all the go. Wm. Haynes and mother, of Williamsport, are visiting friends here.

Walter Oswald and William Hanson, will take their departure, Monday morning, for Gorton, where they will take up housekeeping.

Jacob Harnish, who resides with his daughter at Boalsburg, is visiting here.

Mrs. Robert Haynes departed Monday morning for Philadelphia.

John Heaton and wife, of Runville, visited at John Crofts last week.

Maud Bullock spent a couple of days with her parents last week.

Mrs. Willard Crispin is slowly recovering.

It sometimes happens that even a joke isn't all it is cracked up to be.
