On Monday morning, as the writer was sitting in Johnie Stere's store, the horrible cry of "fire fire fire!" was again heard in our usually quiet town. It was the residence of D. Buck that was on fire, and in less time than it takes to tell, half the town had gathered together each one with a bucket of water. Ladders from every direction were brought to the burning building and with the agility of a cat a half dozen boys were on the comb of the roof dousing the water on the fire and in a short time they succeeded in subduing the flames. The fire was caused by burning paper that was carried through the flue from the furnace in the basement; about 10 or 12 square feet of the roof was burned off. Mr. Beck desires, through the medium of the Centre Democrat, to express his heartfelt gratitude to the boys who so energetically and successfully fought the fire demon and saved his house. His house is located in the heart of the town and is one of the best in the city.

Steps have been taken to secure water works for the town, not only for the better protection of our homes, but that we may have pure water for culinary purposes. Let us hope that the movement will not end in talk only, but let everybody boost the project until we succeed. Don't let'er drop.
