

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

William Daley spent Sunday with friends in Tyrone. Charles Guiswaine and Walter Shall left Saturday for Kane. Mrs. John Houser, who was seriously ill with pneumonia, is gradually improving. W. T. Bair, Editor of the Philadelphia Journal, is a couple of days this week in Bellefonte. The patrons Rural Telephone company held their first quarterly meeting at the Garman house today. Ross A. Hickok of Harrisburg, was an arrival in Bellefonte, Saturday, and is visiting at the Hastings' home. Owen Rush, of Pittsburg, spent several days in Bellefonte recently as the guest of his brother Warren Rush. Harry Kline, of Harrisburg, arrived in town Saturday morning and is visiting at the Jones home on High street over Sunday. Mrs. John Powers, who had been visiting in New York since October, has returned to Bellefonte where she will remain indefinitely. Among the visitors in Bellefonte, on Thursday was William Tackash, a prominent merchant and influential democrat, of Snow Shoe. John Wilson, formerly operator in the Western Union Telegraph office, in Bellefonte, is rejoicing over the arrival of a little baby girl at his home in Altoona. Mrs. James Mitchell is having her residence, on South Spring, repaired. When completed it will be an excellent improvement to that section of the town. All last week was cool to the end, fortunately without frost. There was rain about every day, or night, the total precipitation for the week being 1.23 inches. The room in the Bush Arcade, recently occupied by John P. Lyon, has been leased by Mr. Claster, of Lock Haven, who will open a dry goods and clothing store. A large porch is being built in front of the rectory of the Bellefonte St. John's Episcopal church. When the exterior of the house is painted it will make a presentable appearance. Thursday evening J. Kennedy Johnson, Esq., returned from Erie where he represented Centre county in the triennial State Convention of the Modern Woodmen of America. Friday afternoon Mrs. Thomas Moore returned to Philadelphia after being here since the death of her father, William Dawson. She was accompanied by Miss Mary Derstine. William Chamberlain, of Milton, spent Sunday in Bellefonte as the guest of his sister, Mrs. A. O. Furst on Linn street. He is one of Milton's prominent citizens, and always a welcome guest in Bellefonte. The annual session of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of Pennsylvania will meet in Philadelphia during the week May 26. A number of members of the Centre Lodge, of Bellefonte, are making arrangements to go to the city about that time. We notice that in some parts of the state school children contribute one cent each toward purchasing flowers for the graves of the old soldiers. Why not try this plan in Bellefonte and instead of the contribution being one cent each, make it five cents. Harry Garber, formerly the Bellefonte broker, is about to open the same kind of an office in Butler. He will represent Centre county in the triennial State Convention of the Modern Woodmen of America, on Friday. We hope he will make a better record in his new location than he did in Bellefonte. Thursday R. B. Taylor began working on the new piece of State road which will run through Miesburg. Workmen, with their picks and shovels, commenced operation at the bridge over Bald Eagle Creek, and are working this way. The inspector of the road is E. T. Kinney, of Miesburg. On account of the continued suspension of operators at the Nittany Furnace, Charles E. Holter, the efficient book-keeper, left for his home, at Howland, on Friday. He will thus take a little vacation until the iron business and his friends were sorry to see him leave. Mrs. Frank Campbell, who had been spending a couple of months at Boalsburg as the guest of her mother, Mrs. Isaac Wooster, passed through Bellefonte, Monday on her way to Pittsburg, where she will become matron in a club house. Her mother, who had been in delicate health for some time, is much better. Don't forget that tomorrow (Friday) morning the farm in Benner township, belonging to the estate of the late Benj. Hunter, will be offered at public sale in front of the court house. This is one of the most desirable farms in the country. It is conveniently located to Bellefonte and contains everything that will make a most desirable country home. Everything is in first class shape. The new sign out in front of the entrance to the Garman Opera House is certainly a beauty. The electrical effect is something that cannot help but draw the attention of the people to the new electrical Theatre which has been doing a rushing business since it was started. The managers are genial gentlemen and are doing their best to please their patrons. The illustrated songs and the life-moving pictures are exceedingly fine and attractive. Those who go there are never disappointed. A strange coincidence was witnessed at the Bellefonte P. R. R. station Monday afternoon when the train from Tyrone came in. A large rooster was noticed on the front of the engine, wedged so tightly along side of the bul-nose that it was unable to extricate itself, and thus was carried along. It is thought that the rooster tried to fly across the track in front of the fast moving train when it was caught as described. Strange as it may seem, it was uninjured. Claude Smith, clerk at Montgomery & Co's. store, took it from its perilous position and gave it to the fireman who threw it off at the round house. Since the above was put in type our correspondent from Miesburg says that the rooster was taken up at that place. If the good people down there want to dispose of any more chickens in that way we will file no objections.

Lee Struble, one of Bellefonte's promising baseball players, assisted on the Mill Hall team Saturday at Beech Creek. Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Foust returned to their home in Altoona Sunday evening after a visit at the Rine home on High St. "Doak" Keichline one of Bellefonte's baseball enthusiasts, attended the game at Howard with Snow Shoe, Saturday afternoon. Miss Louella A. Shook, who is a student at the Potts Business College in Williamsport, spent Sunday at her home on Allegheny St. Fred Kurtz, Jr. editor of the Lew- isburg Journal, spent Tuesday in Bellefonte as guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Kurtz. Rev. John Hewitt, Col. W. Fred Reynolds, C. F. Montgomery and Dr. F. K. White left on Tuesday afternoon for Lock Haven where they attended the Episcopal convention. Next Sabbath morning the pulpit in the Bellefonte Presbyterian church will be occupied by Rev. Richard Sills Holmes, D. D., of New York City. For several years he was pastor of one of the most wealthy congregations in Pittsburg. James A. Shook, of Juniata College, Huntingdon, arrived in Bellefonte on Saturday morning on a short visit home. Mr. Shook has made quite a record as a debater while at Juniata, being a member of the varsity debating team both last year and this year. The result of this year's work is two victories for Juniata, one over Bridgewater, Va., April 17, and one over Waynesburg College, on Friday night. The closing banquet of the men's Bible class of the local Y. M. C. A. will be held at the rooms tomorrow evening at 6.30 o'clock. Following the banquet there will be a specially prepared program as well as a few addresses, toasts, etc. All members of the class who intend to be present at the banquet, are requested to signify their intentions to the Sec'y before noon today in order that all arrangements can be made properly. A. F. Hoffmeyer, field secretary of the state Y. M. C. A., was in Bellefonte Thursday in the interests of the annual Bible conference which convenes at East Latham, of Harrisburg, Saturday, July 12th. Mr. Hoffmeyer was endeavoring to get a delegation of Bellefonte young men to attend the conference this year at that popular summer resort. The very best speakers and instructors are secured, among them last year being Dr. Torrey. Another place in this issue will be found the new advertisement of The Manufactures Outlet Clothing Co. which will open its doors, tomorrow in the room in the Bush Arcade, recently occupied by John P. Lyon. They have a full line of clothing and gents furnishing goods which they offer at extremely low prices. The man who is looking for a bargain is cordially invited to their place of business where he can inspect the stock for himself. No trouble to show goods. It is not often a preacher is nominated for the legislature, but every now and then the man of cloth makes a point and gets there. This can be said of Rev. David Speer, of Chambersburg, brother of the late County Treasurer, W. T. Speer, of Bellefonte. He was nominated by the Republicans, of Franklin county, on a dry platform. The county is strongly Republican, and all indications favor his election in the fall. Rev. Speer preached in the Methodist church here once or twice and thus he is well known in this place. One of the most pleasant places to spend a half hour each evening is at the Theatorium. This evening there will be a French picture and Henry Brown will sing. Tomorrow night will be an Italian picture and the singer will be Edward Latham, of Harrisburg. Saturday evening there will be a French picture, Henry Brown will sing and Christy Smith's orchestra will be present. Mr. Ruger is endeavoring to give the people of Bellefonte the best moving pictures on the market. The singers and the music is up-to-date. Friday B. Thomas Stiver and a companion, of Philadelphia, arrived in Bellefonte and spent a few hours at the Y. M. C. A. A short time ago they left the city for the purpose of walking to the Pacific ocean, their destination being San Francisco. Mr. Stiver's health has been failing him for some time and he is taking this method to restore it. They walk on an average of sixteen miles a day, thus they have no definite time set for reaching the Golden Gate. Both the gentlemen seem to be enjoying the outing immensely. Special services were in the Bellefonte Methodist church, Sunday, in the interest of the humane work being done in our hospitals. The pastor, Rev. James B. Stein, preached two practical sermons along this line, clearly setting forth the great need of the day of institutions of this kind. At the morning and evening services subscriptions were received for the benefit of the Methodist Hospital in Philadelphia, and the Bellefonte hospital, the amount of the subscription being equally divided between the two institutions. On Thursday evening, May 14, the ladies of the Epworth League of the Methodist church, to entertain the Brotherhood, will meet in the church. The Brotherhood will meet in the auditorium at 8 o'clock and at the close of their meeting will repair to the lecture room where they will be received by the league. At this gathering the champion coin collectors will be received and it is hoped that all who have them will return them on this occasion. A full attendance is desired on the part of the members of the League and the Brotherhood. Saturday M. C. Gephart, the popular music dealer, was in Huntingdon where he purchased a pair of shoes. After getting in the car he laid them down along side of him on the seat, being unable to get them into his satchel. A short time afterwards a gentleman came in the car and to give him a seat, Mr. Gephart took the shoes and put them in the rack overhead. On arriving in Bellefonte Mr. Gephart left the car without taking the shoes with him. As soon as he discovered his mistake he telephoned to Harry Hutchinson the station agent here, who wired to Beech Creek where a pair of shoes was taken off the train and sent back to Bellefonte. When the box was open it was found to be a pair of old worn out shoes. Mr. Gephart says his shoes were not in a box but were wrapped up in a bundle, but who knows but what some watchful passenger on the train didn't just exchange shoes before the train arrived at Beech Creek. However Mr. Gephart is just out of price of a good pair of under-standings.

Mrs. Jacob Harpster and Mrs. Wm. Dennison, of Pa Furnace, were pleasant business callers this week. The commissioners appointed by the Court to look into the advisability of dividing Harris township into two voting precincts will report favorably to the project at next week's session of court. This afternoon at 3 o'clock the ladies of the Bellefonte Methodist church will hold a kitchen shower. Each lady who goes is expected to take something that will be useful in a kitchen, such as dishes, forks, knives, buckets, crocks etc. Refreshments will be served. About two years ago John I. Olewine of Bellefonte received a letter from some unknown individual stating that Miss Olewine, a niece of his, was in prison in England, and if he sent money to help get her out he would, in return, share in a large fortune. Everything depended upon her immediate release. Mr. Olewine, of course, was too smart to fall into a trap of that kind and threw the letter in the waste basket. The other day he received another letter from the same gentleman in Madrid, Spain, containing a twenty-five cent stamp so that it would be delivered promptly. The individual changes his tactics this time and says that he has large sums of money locked up in a trunk which is deposited and held at a railroad station in England. He himself, has gone into bankruptcy, and needs some honest man with money to help him out of his financial troubles. He offered Mr. Olewine a third part of the entire vast fortune if he forwards enough money to release the trunk. Mr. Olewine is so enthusiastic over it that he wants to sell his automobile in order to comply with the request. "Nit" A Child's Advice. The Sunday school was about to be dismissed when the superintendent arose to the disgust of nearly all the children, who thought the session had been long enough, and announced, "And now, children, let me introduce Mr. Smith, who will give us a short talk." Mr. Smith smilingly arose and after gazing impressively around the classroom began with, "I hardly know what to say," when the whole school was convulsed to hear a small, thin voice back in the rear hiss: "They amen and thit down!" Ladies' Home Journal. RECENT DEATHS. RODY V. McMULLEN—of Tyrone died at State College, early on Monday morning of apoplexy. He had been employed by R. B. Taylor, the contractor, in helping to level off the new athletic field at the college and went out to work Monday morning in the best of health. Shortly after getting on the job he took suddenly ill and died shortly afterwards. For over twenty-six years he was one of the efficient foremen of the Middle division of the Pennsylvania railroad and his work with this large corporation was always of a commendable nature. Mrs. HANNAH FETZER—widow of the late Andrew Fetzer, died at her home here, last Tuesday after an illness of several weeks. Deceased had lived all her life at this place and was a lady well known for her many excellent qualities. Mrs. Fetzer was aged 69 years, three months, and 5 days, and is survived by the following children: Mrs. Alice Poorman and Mrs. Hattie Dunkel, of Miesburg; Mrs. T. H. Malone, Oscar, Orvis, and Mertie, of Yarnell, and one step-son, Wm. Fetzer, also of Yarnell. The funeral took place Thursday a. m., conducted by Rev. Piper, of Miesburg; her six grandsons acted as pallbearers; interment in the advent cemetery. Mrs. ORLANDO HARTSOCK—died at Phillipsburg, Friday afternoon, she had been ill for nearly a week, always a frail woman. Mrs. Hartsock has been for many years in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad, of Bellefonte. The deceased, whose maiden name was Annie Boozer, a daughter of John and Sarah Boozer, prominent citizens of Potters Mills, where Mr. Boozer engaged in the woolen business, was born at that place, and was in her fiftieth year. She is survived by her husband and two children, Edna and Maurice, also her venerable mother, aged 83 years, who was with her daughter, and one sister, Mrs. Frank Glasgow, of Bellefonte. The funeral took place Monday at 2 p. m., the services conducted by Rev. Wilson, of the M. E. church. She was a full cousin of Wm. and Philip Waddle, of Bellefonte. GURNEY BEAM—the little three-months old baby of Mr. Mrs. David H. Meredith, died at his parents' home in Tyrone, on Friday, from whooping cough. The body was taken to Snow Shoe where interment was made. Mrs. ANNIE WILLIAMS—wife of M. C. Williams, of Port Matilda, died April 2nd. She was ill for three years with a complication of diseases. She leaves a husband and 2 children. She belonged to the Methodist church. The funeral took place on April 4th. NATHAN GLOVE—died Monday, at his home near Lemont. He had been ill for about six months with a complication of diseases which finally affected his heart. He was the son of the late William Grove, a pioneer resident of College township, who died about twenty-five years ago; he was married to Miss Agnes Garner, of Lemont, 24 years ago, and to this union were born several children. All his life he followed farming and was looked upon as one of the most thrifty farmers in the county. Personally he was a most excellent gentleman, being held in high esteem by those who knew him. He was a member of the Evangelical church and tried to follow its teachings. His age was 59 years and 7 months. He is survived by a wife and two children: William, of Lemont; and Mrs. Maud Shuey, who lives at home. He is also mourned by the following brothers and sisters: William and James, of Lemont; Calvin, of Roopburg; Howard, of Honesville, and Mrs. John Grove, of Rockview. The funeral took place Wednesday morning; interment at Shiloh. Wm. H. BAILEY—died Saturday afternoon at his home near Pine Grove Mills, aged 72 years. In the early winter he took ill with the grip, but recovered sufficiently to be about. About two weeks ago he became suddenly ill with heart disease. Notwithstanding the efforts of his physician, he gradually grew worse and death followed. He was a descendant of one of the pioneer settlers of the western part of the county. He was a member of Co. A, 146th P. V. M. He belonged to the Presbyterian church at Pine Grove Mills and was one of its most liberal supporters. He is survived by a wife and the following children: Miss Nannie and Stewart, at home; J. C. Bailey and Mrs. Wm. Sauserman, of Pine Grove Mills; and Paul Bailey, of Alexandria. Also by two sisters, Mary and Nannie. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at Graysville. CENTRE HALL. Our townsman, Harry Shirk, who was so unfortunate to lose his barn by fire, one year ago, is making preparations to build another one. George Sweeney, who lived with his daughter, Mrs. Andrew Gregg, during the winter, moved back to his country home. John Sweetwood, who was employed by D. B. Brisbit at the sawmill, has moved to the Benner farm and will hereafter till the soil. Andrew Gregg, who is employed by the Bell Telephone company, at Scranton, was home over Sunday. A Bell phone was installed in the nice brick mansion of Alfred Durst; Miss Vergie is one of the operators in the office of the Bell. Never did all the fruit trees look so promising in blossom as they do now; and as the 25th day of March was a bright sunny day, so look out for apples. Wm. Colyer received 12,000 strawberry plants and a year later will sell the berries by the bushel. Mrs. Daniel Wyon has been housed up of late; hoping she will be able to get around. Drover Mitterling is about to erect a large cattle shed on the lot he bought from the Odd Fellows, adjoining the Reformed church. Roy Harter, son of Aaron Harter, who lives at Harrisburg, is expected to spend the coming Sunday with friends in Bellefonte and Centre Hall. MARRIAGE LICENCE.
