EDITORIAL.

THE Republican National Convention convenes at Chicago on Tuesday, June 16th. It will be Taft; and Lewis Emery, Jr., of Bradford, will be the original Taft delegate from Pennsylvania.

THE Philadelphia gangsters are now having a little family quarrel in which McNicol, Weaver, Ashbridge and other star actors are concerned. They are telling on each other, and some spicy incidents are coming to light.

A PENNSYLVANIA law of 1820 provides that a vehicle must give one following, and at more rapid pace, one-half the travelled portion of the road, under a penalty of $20. The penalty with costs was recently collected from a farmer near Erie who refused to give half the road to an auto following him.

THE trial of the second lot of capitol looters is still in progress, but likely will be concluded by the end of the week. The evidence clearly shows conspiracy to defraud the state in the furnishing of the metallic furniture and overcharges in the measurements for the same. The result of course rests with the jury, and the general opinion is that they will be convicted.

THE Congress adjourned in a surly mood. The Stand-patters and the President could not even meet each other half way. The President, in many things is quite right, judging from his professions. But the Stand-patters are wrong in every thing and were legislating, or attempting to legislate, solely for the Wall street money bags and robber Trusts. Tariff revision, loudly clamored for by Democrats and some Republicans, was postponed, shelved entirely to the entire satisfaction of the trusts, monopolists and money sharks, and to the utter disgust of the deeply wronged masses.

IT WILL BE TAFT.

DURING the past week the Taft boom for the republican presidential nomination has been sweeping all opposition out of the way. The committee on contested seats has decided everything in Taft's favor and it looks as though the Taft men would organize the convention and manipulate everything to their liking from start to finish. The Knox rosters from Pennsylvania will be lonely; Hughes delegation from New York will be of no account while speaker Cannon and Fairbanks will simply not be in it at all. In other words, the Taft band wagon is coming down the pike and the stragglers are falling over themselves to get a front seat. We predict that Lewis Emery, Jr., from this district, will be one of the star actors, right in the swim, because he got on the trail early.

Freight Train Wrecked.

A slight wreck on the L. & T. railroad occurred the other day above Weikert. The east bound local freight had the engine and three cars derailed and badly damaged. The wrecking crew with the derrick were sent to the scene, and were several hours in cleaning up the wreckage. A brakeman was bruised and had an ankle sprained. The afternoon passenger trains were compelled to transfer around the wreck. The train from Bellefonte went as far as the wreck and then returned.

U. P., at Pittsburgh.

I. O. O. F. ANNIVERSARY.

This month marks the fifth anniversary of the I. O. O. F. lodge at Spring Mills, it having been instituted five years ago on the 19th, inst., opening with twenty-three charter members. On account of securing the services of the speaker desired the anniversary services had to be held on the 4th, last Thursday evening.

The address for the occasion was delivered in the Lutheran church at Spring Mills, by Rev. B. H. Hart, of Harrisburg, who is now the youngest Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of this state, he having just completed his term as Grand Master last month. That he is peculiarly adapted to making addresses for such occasions is surely undisputed, for he was given the rudiments of an education, along with five brothers and sisters, by the I. O. O. F. lodge to which his father had been attached; he joined the order as soon as he had reached the age at which he could join; he has made the work a study since boyhood, really, he is one of the most real, living exponents of the principles of the order that can be found anywhere. His talk was exceptionally instructive, especially to those who oppose a fraternal secret organization of this class, simply because it is a secret organization, and they are not able to learn a few secrets that are only for the protection of the members and which they cannot learn without joining a lodge of the order. Every one present, in a large audience, would have been pleased if this eloquent speaker could have continued for hours longer than he was privileged to speak. All departed for their homes hoping that they would have the privilege of hearing him again in the not far-distant future.

Rev. Lantz, of Spring Mills, ably assisted the Rev. Hart by offering prayer at the opening and closing of the services.

The attendance from the home lodge was quite large; besides, a large number of visiting members from Bellefonte, Boalsburg, Centre Hall, Rebersburg, Millheim and Uniontown lodges were present.

A quartette composed of Will Ream, C. C. Bartges, Mrs. Margaret Ruhl and Mrs. R. G. Kennedy rendered especially fine vocal selections, while an orchestra composed of C. E. Zeigler, Calvin Meyer, Cleve. Gentzel, James Osman and C. C. Bartges rendered instrumental music of the highest grade.

Spring Mills lodge is composed of good material—good live stuff, and is increasing rapidly, the membership at present being well up in the eighties. By the end of the year they hope to increase the membership to one hundred.

OUR OVERTAXED FARMERS.

By gathering the American farmer and his products into a collective heap the statisticians are enabled to make a great showing. A writer in the American Review of Reviews declares, for example:

What our farmers earn in seventeen days would buy out the Standard Oil Company—water, oil, good-will and Mr. Rockefeller. One harvest would purchase Belgium and leave a good deal in the bank for running purposes. Two would buy Italy, three would buy Austria and five would pay cash for all of Russia.

But out of all the billions of dollars wealth the farmers get out of the ground every year they are only able to keep for themselves a very modest allowance. They are taxed within an inch of their lives. They are made to pay dearly in a "protected" market for all they buy, and are at the same time compelled to compete in the open market with all the rest of the world in making sale of their products. The farmer is the mainstay of the nation, but he doesn't have a fair show. He will wake up one of these fine days and turn the tables on his plunderers.—Record.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS.

The promise of enormous crops from all sections of the country has in a large measure restored confidence in the business world. When the farmers have large crops it fills their pockets with coin, which soon is put in circulation in purchasing a variety of commodities. That means that the present financial flurry is on the wane, and business prospects are already brightening. The railroads are placing large orders for new equipment, all of which implies that our industries will soon be running on full time, and plenty of work for all.

A short crop would simply have intensified the financial strain and the conditions would have grown worse. For this happy result we alone can give full credit to the Providence which rules over the universe, and causes the rains to fall, the sun to shine and all nature to yield such bounteous harvests.

While this is true, we expect to hear our Republican friends, as usual, claim all the credit.

A Novel Machine.

Howard R. Ruger, of Bellefonte, has adopted an entirely new idea. Instead of him doing so much of the talking himself he has placed in front of the Petrikin Hall a machine that is helping him out. It is an automatic weighing machine. All you have to do is to step on the platform of the scales and put a nickel in the slot. Instead of a needle registering your weight on a dial the machine speaks out and tells you correct weight. The method is on the principle of a phonograph. A large disk is found in the inside on which are the weights of persons from one to two hundred and fifty pounds. For instance when a man weighing 150 pounds steps on the scales and drops his nickel the needle touches the disk and immediately it calls out your weight. It has been affording considerable amusements to the public.

Another Story.

The Phillipsburg Journal says:—"Joe Millward, of Pittsburgh, was in Phillipsburg over Sunday. Joe has been all over the west within the last eighteen months, and he states we people of the east know nothing about real hard times. He is now employed as foreman of a department of a rug factory in the Smoky City, and is getting along nicely."

OVER THE COUNTY.

Don't forget the Undine picnic at Heckla Park, on July 4th.

Commencement exercises at State College this coming week promise to be well attended.

The Julian base ball team will hold a festival and cap social on Saturday evening, June 13th.

George Harkless, of Phillipsburg, was recently granted a pension of $24 per month through a special act of Congress.

Reunions are fast ripening over the county. Two came off this week, the Shafer-Hazel and the Yearick; both enjoyable affairs.

Patton township school board, will meet at Waddles school house, June 27th at 1:30 p. m., to elect teachers, for the school term ending June 1909.

Prof. Irwin W. Zeigler, one of the teachers in the Clearfield High school, is at the home of his mother, Mrs. Lydia Zeigler, west of Centre Hall.

The big lake out in Spring township has dried up and entirely disappeared during the past week. Most of the crops which it covered will be a failure in consequence.

Will Rossman has completed his course in the railroad station at Spring Mills and accepted a position at Herndon, Northumberland county. James Finkle is assisting Mr. Campbell.

All of those delinquents to the Centre Democrat who received an urgent notice from this paper last week, should give the matter prompt attention. Something must be done soon or else accounts will be left for collection.

A beautiful portrait of Dr. Atherton, late president of the Pennsylvania State college, will be presented to the institution on commencement day, June 17, by Mrs. Atherton. The picture will be hung in Memorial hall.

Next week is a notable one for State College. The Commencement exercises are elaborate and will exceed any previous Commencement. The institution has swung itself to the first rank. Sunday next will begin the opening.

It is booked for Thursday evening, 18th inst., in the Presbyterian church, at Centre Hall, the wedding of the prospective marriage of Rev. James Johnston Glenn, of the Branch, and Miss Lutitia Goodhart, of Centre Hall.

There will be a festival in the U. B. churchyard, in Paradise, the afternoon and evening of the 20th of June. One feature of entertainment will be a sack race. Refreshments will be served. Proceeds to be used to defraying pastor's salary.

The citizens of Gatesburg are interested in the announcement of the wedding of Miss Belle Gates to Mr. Joseph Bullock, and Miss Irene Gates to Mr. Oscar Graziar. Both these weddings will take place during the month of June.

Ex-Commissioner George L. Goodhart has two very fine suckling colts, one bred from Nickabon owned by O. H. Detwiler, and the other from a Milfine county horse. Both animals have the appearance of making good roadsters.

After viewing the road across the Seven Mountains, on the Milfine county side, one of the commissioners is quoted as saying that the damage done by the recent rains will require $5000 to repair. That portion of the abandoned road is being kept in repair by the county.

The Phillipsburg Journal says that Dr. W. W. Andrews who went with his wife and daughter, Miss Ruth, on an automobile trip to Williamsport and Lock Haven, had a breakdown and was obliged to leave his car at the latter place for repairs, while he and family returned by rail.

The old Washington furnace lands located in Centre and Clinton counties, and comprising about fifteen thousand acres, are now being offered for sale by James A. Reilly, of New York. Four thousand acres of land in Liberty and Clinton townships are also being offered for sale by the same party.

The Potter township school board met at Old Fort Hotel recently for settlement. The board re-organized by electing John A. Heckman, president; W. R. Neff, secretary, and A. T. Weaver, treasurer. The other members of the board are M. F. Rossman, A. C. Ripka, and C. W. Slack.

Cards have been issued by Captain and Mrs. J. A. Quigley, of Blanchard, for the marriage of their daughter, Mary Shaw Quigley, to Mr. George F. Hess, of Beech Creek. Miss Quigley belongs to one of Centre county's most prominent families and Mr. Hess is the junior member of the firm of George D. Hess & Son.

A pouring good rain came on Tuesday that was the right thing at the right time. The hot weather for a week prior had baked the cornfields, and in some instances had retarded vegetation slightly. It will give the grass another push and insure one of the heaviest hay crops known in Centre county for many years. The wheat is in full head and this will insure a good solid grain and a heavy yield. Other crops are doing splendidly.

The supervisors, of Spring township, are determined to have good roads, and with that purpose in view they received a large stone crusher last week that is considered the best of the kind made. It has an attachment for screening the different sizes of crushed stone. While taking the machine up Bishop street, the cable broke and it ran down hill broke down a tree in front of Grahams house and toppled over but was not damaged, beyond a few scratches.

Newton Hamilton camp meeting grounds are being put in shape for the summer. The patrons will find that a number of important improvements have been made. A number of new cottages are being erected, which, when completed, will bring the number of available summer cottages up to about 500. In addition to the new buildings all the structures which have been already erected are being gone over and will be in first class shape by the time the grounds are thrown open to the public in July.

The people of Smulton, this county, are highly elated over their new water plant. Everything works like clock work, thus everybody is satisfied. The water is piped 1185 feet from the mountain into the town through two-inch iron pipe. The cost of putting the water in the houses is about $15 a family. This almost includes all fixtures after the main pipe has been tapped. The work was done by W. J. Brungart who understands his business. The water company is out of debt and has a sinking fund.

Tussey lodge of Rebekahs, of Boalsburg, held a festival a few nights ago and cleared over $50.

The Tussey lodge of Rebekahs, of Boalsburg, are richer by $50. The proceeds of the recent festival were $50.

Rev. John Housman and wife, of Altoona, are spending several weeks among their many Centre county friends.

Mrs. J. F. Lingle, of Aaronsburg, who recently had an operation performed at the Bellefonte hospital, is getting along as well as can be expected.

The Mensch family re-union, held near Hartleton, on Friday, was largely attended. Over 150 persons, some from this county, belonging to the connection were in attendance.

Wm. VanTries, of Ferguson township, tenant farmer on the Bucher Ayers farm, bought a two-hundred acre farm near Union Furnace, and expects to move there next spring.

Fred Garner, of Ferguson township, sold his 100 acre King stepper to James Keller, of Shavers creek, very close to the $200, mark. Mr. Keller knows a good horse at first sight.

The new Ferguson township school board organized recently by electing W. S. Ward, president; Wm. Glenn, treasurer; Hon. J. W. Kepler, secretary, C. B. McCormick, the new member, was absent.

Miss Margaret McKnight, of Buffalo Run, left recently for Philadelphia to attend the funeral of her uncle who died there the beginning of the week. Miss McKnight will be in the city for ten days or two weeks.

Gregg township, Union county, road supervisors are reported as using the King Split-Log Road Drag with great success and its effect is materially evident in the better condition of the roads—says the Lewisburg Journal.

David Behrer, of Benore, is past 81 years old and is able to get around pretty well for a man of his age. He is an old veteran of the Civil War. He with E. W. Veckley, spent the day recently with G. W. Potter, of Ferguson township.

Several hunters who have just returned from a fishing trip up Beech Creek report having seen three deer near the mouth of Eddy Lick near the railroad station known as Panther. Similar reports from other sections indicate that deer are getting plentier.

Undertaker Roy Reareick, of Centre Hall, Henry Rossman, of Tusseyville, J. B. Heberling, of Pine Grove, Samuel Campbell, of Millheim, and Charles Fisher, of Boalsburg, agent for the Harrisburg Casket Co., are attending the undertaker's convention held in Uniontown this week.

Mrs. Emeline Sloan, widow of the late Alexander Sloan, celebrated her eighty-second birthday on May 20th. The interesting feature of the item is that she was born near Howard, this county, her parents being Mr. and Mrs. William Hays, though most of her life has been spent in Lock Haven.

Don't forget that on next Wednesday the Yearick-Hoy reunion will take place at Heckla Park. An earnest invitation is hereby extended to the friends the friends and neighbors of the two families to be present on this occasion. There will be several addresses and plenty of amusements.

Hugh L. Fry, a veterinary student at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, is putting in his vacation farming on his father's farm, near Pine Grove Mills. He is a hard student and is bound to make a competent man in his chosen position. If he turns out to be as good as "Pap" he'll be all right.

John Mitchell, of Tyrone, who recently associated himself with Lot B. and Charley Callahan in the purchase of the Sandy Ridge Fire Brick Company's store, which is now conducted independent of the plant under the name of the Sandy Ridge Supply Co., has moved his family to the latter place, occupying the Samuel Vaughn Property.

Reports have been spread broadcast that Heckla Park had suffered severely by reason of the recent cloudburst near that point. This is incorrect. In fact Heckla Park, with its clean walks, beautiful lawns and flower beds never appeared to better advantage than at this time. Many dates for picnics and other gatherings have already been booked by the management and the usual successful season is confidently looked forward to.

Enormous Fines.

Penalties may be imposed upon the Standard Oil company that will make the $20,000,000 fine, of recent memory, paltry when the plans under way by the department of justice are carried out.

Preparations are now being made in Chicago by District Attorney Sims, acting by the direction of Attorney General Bonaparte, for the beginning of new prosecutions that may cost the gigantic corporation $60,000,000 if the maximum fine is imposed. The last fine of $20,000,000 was for 1462 cases of rebating, but the new cases involve over 3400 counts.

Post Office Robbed.

The other night, for the fourth time within a year, the post office at Ramey, Clearfield county, was forcibly entered by thieves who blew open the safe and carried off $150 worth of postage stamps. There was no money in the safe. There were indications that they had made preparations to haul the safe away on a wagon, but for some reason they changed their programme and blew off the safe door in the building. There is no clue to the robbers.

He is survived by his wife and four children, all at home; his mother, one sister and three brothers living at Aaronsburg. Interment at Rebersburg.

JAMES HASSON—one of Harris township's best known and highly respected citizens, died Saturday morning about 10 o'clock. The deceased had been ill for over a year with diseases incident to his advanced age. The deceased had been a lifelong resident of Harris township and resided at Boalsburg. He was a son of the late Judge Hasson, and was well known in military circles, having been major of the famous Pennsylvania dragoons during the Civil war. He figured prominently in his country's cause and led his men with undaunted bravery. Mr. Hasson was aged 79 years. He was a member of the Presbyterian church. His wife preceded him to the grave some years ago. The funeral was held Monday at 10 o'clock. Interment was made at Boalsburg.

MRS. ELLEN DAVIS—died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Williams, in Bush Addition, Thursday morning at 2 o'clock. For some time she had been keeping house for her son in Altoona and about eleven weeks ago, when she became too ill to oversee her house, she returned to the home of her daughter in Bellefonte. For the past three weeks she had been critically ill with spasmodic asthma, which ailment caused her death. She was born in Bellefonte January 26, 1822 and was 56 years old last January. With the exception of four years she always resided in Bellefonte. Surviving her are the following children: Mrs. Harry Williams and Mrs. Jacob Barler, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Philips Labe, of Williams and Fred, of Altoona; One brother John Davis, of Coleville, and two sisters, Mrs. Lyde Griswold, of Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. Annie Yeager, of DuBois, also survive. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon from the home of Harry Williams in Bush Addition. Interment was made in the Union cemetery.

HARVEY SHAFER—A cousin of Harvey Shaffer, clerk in Olewine's hardware store, died at his home in Kankee, Ill., on Saturday, May 30th. He was taken ill on the previous Wednesday and gradually kept sinking until the end came. He was the son of Adam Shaffer, and was born at Zion, Centre county, on May 26, 1846. In 1856 he went west with his parents, locating in Manteno, Kankakee county. On December 1867, he was united in marriage to Miss Annie Bruce, of Manteno, Ill. To this union there were the following children: Mrs. George Brammer, Monteno, Ill.; Mrs. Ralph Boughton, Cherryvale, Kansas; Mrs. Robert Simpson, Peotone, Mrs. James Zamwalt, of Farmer City; Harvey and George, of Manteno. He belonged to the Presbyterian church and was highly respected by all who knew him. Mr. Shaffer was a motorman on the trolley cars in Chicago at the time of the great conflagration that laid waste about half of the city. Besides the above children he is survived by a wife and a sister, Mrs. John Lockie, of Peotone. Interment was made at Peotone.

MRS. MARY B. J. VALENTINE—died at her home, Burnham, Bellefonte, Thursday afternoon on a gradual decline following a stroke of paralysis she suffered seventeen years ago. Deceased was a daughter of Joseph and Ann Bowen Jacobs and was born at East Whiteland, Chester county, in 1825. In 1857 she married to Reuben Bond Valentine, one of the best known of the early Valentine iron masters and farmers in the county. He died in 1871, leaving his wife with two daughters, Anna and Caroline. Mrs. Valentine was a direct descendant of John Jacobs, the first of that family in America, his grandson having been the first speaker of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. On the maternal side she was a direct descendant of William Brinton, of Staffordshire, England, who settled in Delaware county in 1684 and was one of the earliest converts of George Fox. She was a woman of exceptional mental attainments and her name is indissolubly associated with the works of charity and uplift that went on among the workers in the early iron industries of the county. Funeral service was held at her late home on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock according to the ritual of the Episcopal church, of which she was a member. Interment was private.

MRS. KATE SANDERSON BARLOW—wife of Thomas Barlow, died in the Pennsylvania hospital, Philadelphia, on Wednesday, of last week after undergoing an operation for appendicitis. Deceased was a daughter of John M. K. Sanderson, of Jersey Shore, and has frequently visited in Bellefonte as a guest of Mrs. Louisa Bush. She is survived by her husband and one son, John Sanderson Barlow, who in 1907 was a student in the creamery course at State College. The remains were buried at Port Washington, the Barlow family home.

SAMUEL H. DEIBEL—A well known citizen of Bellefonte, passed away Tuesday morning at 4:45 o'clock at his residence on Willowbank street. He had not been well for a year or more, and about three months ago he was compelled to retire from business. Since then he had been slowly growing weaker. At times he would be confined to his bed and afterwards recovered sufficiently to be able to again. The last couple of months he had been entirely confined to his bed, suffering excruciating pain, caused by a complication of heart trouble and Bright's disease. He was the son of John Deibel and was born near Hartleton, Union county. On the 28th of last November he was 60 years old. He married to Miss Ellen Sarah King, of Hartleton, in 1870, and in 1890 they moved to Montrose, Col., where they remained for a year. In 1891 they came to Bellefonte where Mr. Deibel erected a cozy home and a carriage works. The business was successfully carried on until several years ago when the shop was torn down and a couple of tenant houses were erected on the site. Mr. Deibel served two terms as poor-overseer of Bellefonte, and at the recent primaries was one of the republican candidates for county treasurer. The deceased was a good sociable gentleman who was ready at all times to do a kindness for those who needed his assistance. A wife and one son Harry survive; also the following brothers and sisters: Alfred, of Watsonburg; Mrs. Daniel Catherman, Laureton; Mrs. Lannon Lucas, Kate and William, Montrose, Col.; Charles, Utah; Henry, Oklahoma. Services will be held at the hotse this evening at 8:30 o'clock. Tomorrow morning the remains will be taken to Laureton for interment.

His Plans Failed. An exchange says: You can't always tell what will happen. For instance, there is a story of a man who determined to commit suicide. He went to the store and bought a rope, a can of oil, a box of matches, a dose of arsenic and a revolver. He went down to the river and pushed his boat from the shore and waded to where a limb hung over; and tied one end over the limb and the other around his neck, saturated his clothing with the coal oil, lighting a match and set his clothing afire, took the dose of arsenic, put the muzzle of the revolver in his temple, pushed the boat from under him and pulled the trigger. But the bullet glanced, and cut the rope above him and he fell kerflop into the river; the water put out the fire and he got strangled and coughed up the arsenic and rose up and waded out and declared himself a candidate for the legislature on the reform ticket.

Teddy after Big Game. President Roosevelt is giving attention to his plans for a trip to British East Africa next summer, on which, it is understood, his son Kermit will accompany him. The president will carry a complete hunting outfit and will devote much of his time to the study of the habits of animals, collecting material for a book, which it is believed he will write upon his return. It is said he would remain away from the United States about two years.

Happy Man. John Post died in Greene county at the age of 98. He was the embodiment of sweet contentment with his surroundings, never having been farther than four miles from his place of birth. His life helped to convince many of the truth of the saying that "a rolling stone gathers no moss," for he managed to acquire a considerable amount of wealth in his extremely limited sphere.
