PORT MATILDA.

On Saturday evening, June 13th, at Shaddy Dell, the members of the U. B. church assisted by the well thinking people of that vicinity, will hold a festival and box social for the benefit of the church. We make a special note of the above from the fact that the membership at that point is very small and unable to make it a regular appointment without assistance. We therefore solicit for them a liberal patronage. Come, all ye generous-hearted and help the cause along.

Children's day was observed on Sabbath last at Mount Pleasant chapel; the occasion was well attended.

Unionville base ball team came to our town a few days ago to cross bats with the Port Matilda team; the result was 6-5 in favor of Port Matilda.

The grain crop, wheat, oats and rye promise in this vicinity to be a large yield.

Foxes are unusually numerous in this immediate vicinity, doing much damage killing chickens and destroying the nests of wild turkeys and pheasants, in many cases killing the birds.

A girl sometimes encourages a young man just to keep her hand in.

HOWARD.

Dr. J. C. Roberts, of Williamsport, examining surgeon for the P. R. R. B., was a visitor in our town, professionally, Friday.

Our Burgess has prohibited fire works in the borough, excepting between ten o'clock in the morning of July 3, and 11.30 in the evening of Saturday, July 4. Right.

Miss Jane McCalmont and Mrs. J. A. Aikens, of Bellefonte, were guests of Mrs. Bennison, last Wednesday.

Mrs. Abram Holter, who has long been a sufferer from paralysis and a defective heart, passed away on Tuesday morning, June 4, and was laid to rest in the M. E. cemetery, Saturday morning. Her pastor, Rev. Rollin S. Taylor, assisted by Rev. W. Rhoades, conducted the funeral services in her church. Mrs. Holter was formerly Miss Mary Jane Thompson, of Howard township, and in 1854, Jan. 5, married Abram Holter of the same place, thus uniting two of the oldest and best known families of the neighborhood. Two of the children of this union preceded her to the beyond, and six are living, all of whom were present at the funeral, namely: Wm. H., J. Frank, David E., and Mrs. Irvin G. Lucas, of Howard; Robert H., of Rochester, N. Y.; Mrs. S. E. Ferree, of Wyoming. These numerous descendants of the two families constitute a very considerable proportion of the community and a large number of them attended the funeral as relatives and mourners.

Mrs. Holter was a woman of fine christian character, had been a faithful member of the Methodist church from early girlhood, was a fond neighbor and unfailingly lined up to the highest ideals of life, as she was given to know and appreciate them.

The Howard Brick Co. has just booked an order for 400,000 building brick, to be delivered within twenty days to the Milton Manufacturing Co., Milton, Pa. That means a solid train of thirty cars, or over a car and a half per working day. Howard is usually ready for any good business that turns up.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Confer entertained Mr. and Mrs. Claud Watson, of Tyrore, over Sunday.

The rural free delivery carriers, over the hills and dales of the Bald Eagle ridges, tells rather severely upon horse-flesh, and carrier W. E. Confer, of Route No. 1, finding one of his giving away somewhat under the wear and tear, exchanged with Isaac Harvey, of Lock Haven, and secured in her place a solid little mustang whose hardy blood will probably stand it better.

Charles M. Confer is confined to his room (much of the time to his bed) with an attack of acute rheumatism.

Our fine base ball club drove off in high feather toward Beech Creek, Saturday afternoon, and the scribe is not sure whether they have all returned yet or not. We approached general manager "Joe" Deihl, and grand secretary "Chet" Moore a day or two afterwards for information, but when within piteous distance discovered that their remains were of such sulphurous character that he was afraid to near any could only catch an occasional word, chiefly "rotten" and "umpire." When they have sufficiently recovered their normal good humor, he will screw up his courage and make another attempt to discover what has become of the club.

The important and much needed improvements which have been delayed by the rainy weather, on the new pavement just completed at the corner of Main and Walnut streets, in front of the post office and Kline & Wolf's store; Postmaster Wilbur F. Hall, and capitalist Jackson Kline, deserve and receive thanks of the walking community, notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Kline's is narrower at one place by several inches, than prescribed width. Absolute conformity to established grades and lines of streets and sidewalks must be observed, and enforced by the authorities when necessary, whenever changes are being made, if our pretty borough is ever to recover from the somewhat ragged appearance which still mars its beauty. Our entire community has within a year or two become pervaded by a fine and generous public-spirited rivalry in the matter of improvements which will soon make Howard by far the handsomest borough in the county, barring none, if careful attention to these trifles, but really most important, details is constantly given by individual owners and the public authorities.

Robert Neff and wife visited the home circle last Sabbath.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Thompson, of Snow Shoe, and Martin Reese, of Snow Shoe R. division, attended the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Holter, Saturday.

Eliery W. Tice, formerly of Howard, but now in Kansas, is making an extended home visit.

The Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church held a porch festival at the home of Mrs. Muffy Saturday afternoon and evening, netting a nice sum for church purposes.

Mrs. Thomas B. Sanders, who lived alone in an apartment of Robert Cook's old hotel property, was found dead in her bed Sabbath morning. She had been slightly ill on Saturday, though she was about the house and bright and cheerful as usual and in the evening several of her family friends called upon her, as was their custom. They all left her without a thought of anything serious and she retired at her accustomed time. In the morning she failed to appear at her ordinary early hour, and Mira Strunk who lives with her father in another part of the house, knocked at her door several times without having a response. She then called her sister and together they forced her door to find Mrs. Sanders had passed away. Dr. McIntire was called, and upon examination said she had been dead but an hour or two. Mrs. Sanders was fifty-seven years old, a daughter of the late Squire Jonathan Schenck, and a member of the same large family connection to which Mrs. Holter belonged. She leaves three sons, Lloyd, Earl and Jonathan, all of whom live in Juniata. Funeral services at the house Tuesday morning, conducted by Rev. W. W. Rhoades, pastor of the Evangelical church, of which Mrs. Sanders was a member, and interment at Schenck cemetery.

JULIAN.

Mrs. John Straw, who has been on the sick list, is somewhat better.

Williams, pres.; Abednego Williams, vice pres.; G. G. Fink, treasurer; Walter Williams, corresponding sec.; Ralph Hartsock, recording sec. All persons interested are invited to attend.

DELIGHTFUL TRIP.

Having a few days to spare we thought we would take a trip to Clearfield county, finding the roads in fine shape; we first stopped at Snow Shoe, at the home of the Hon. John Uzzle, the well known hotel keeper, then past Moshannon to the fruit farm of E. Gephart, of Drifting. After eating our fill of as fine a lot of strawberries as you wish to see, and a sumptuous supper, we retired for the night, dreaming we could see strawberries and milk-shake in our sleep.

The next morning, being Sunday, we had a good time talking of ye olden times and eating more strawberries; we thought of taking a drive so we sped away to Winburne, from Winburne to Philipsburg, back to Winburne, next to Lancy by way of Sweedtown, to Grassflat, next to Peale to the home of Peter Moyer, in that cozy little town. After eating as fine a supper as we ever ate, we returned to the fruit farm afore mentioned, for the night.

Now being Monday morning we again sped away to our homes, feeling well repaid for our time, making in all a travel of more than 100 miles. The company was Epley Gentzel and wife, Forster Sharrar and wife, of Zion.

Esq. Grove and Peter Smith, well-known citizens of Potter, gave us a handshake, Monday.

Ex-sheriff B. F. Shaeffer, of Nittany, gave us a pleasant call, and keeps holding up well.

Pennsylvania Railroad

JUNE ON THE GREAT LAKES.

Restful, delightful, interesting and instructive, there is no trip like that on the Great Lakes, those inland seas which form the border line between the United States and Canada. And June is one of the most charming months in the year in which to take the trip.

For comfort the fine passenger steamships of the Anchor Line have no superiors. As well-appointed as the palatial ocean-greynounds which plow the Atlantic, their schedule allows sufficient time at all stopping places to enable the traveler to see something of the great lake cities and to view in daylight the most distinctive sights of the great lakes, and the scenery which frames them.

The trip through the Detroit River, and through Lake St. Clair, with its great ship canal in the middle of the lake, thence through Lake Huron, the locking of the steamer through the great locks at the Soo, and the passage of the Portage Entry, lake and canal, across the upper end of Michigan, are novel and interesting features.

The voyage from Buffalo to Duluth covers over eleven hundred miles in the five days' journey. Leaving Buffalo, the steamships Juniata and Tionesta, make stops at Erie, Cleveland Detroit, Mackinac Island, the Soo, Marquette, Houghton and Hancock, and Duluth.

The 1908 season opens on June 16, when the Steamer Tionesta will make her first sailing from Buffalo.

The Anchor line is the Great Lake Annex of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the service measures up to the high standard set by the "Standard Railroad of America."

An illustrated folder giving sailing dates of Steamers, rates of fare, and other information is in course of preparation, and may be obtained when ready from any Pennsylvania Railroad Ticket Agent, who is also prepared to book passengers who may desire to take this trip through the Great Lakes and back.
