THE NEWS IN CONDENSED FORM FROM ALL PARTS OF THE COUNTY

REBERSBURG.

Luther Frank is the original Bryanite. Few are the sympathizers of little Jimmie Guffy in this Democratic burg. Prof. Henry Meyer, Jr., of Bucknell, left last week to take a summer course at Cornell. He concluded farming was not his forte. Misses Mary and Sarah Meyer, daughters of Hon. Henry Meyer, are spending their vacation on the old homestead which their father has celebrated in verse of the Pennsylvania German dialect. They will return to Bucknell and books after harvest. Talk of plenteous cherries, black and red, this old Brushvalley has so many that the whole county could be supplied, and then some. Our "Fourth" was never so quiet, only two balloons sent up by Landford Faxon, a dozen or two of the crackers and not over a ball game or a plain drunk! Truly this is the Arcadia of the Alleghenies. On Sunday the 5th, the funeral of Jno. J. Ocker, a highly respected citizen, occurred at the Evangelical church. It was attended by a throng of relatives and friends. Mr. Ocker had been ill only a few weeks. He was 67 years old and is survived by a widow, a son and three daughters. The wife of Daniel Weaver, of Wolfe's Store, was committed to her last resting place in the Rebersburg cemetery on Friday the 4th; services at the Lutheran church. She was a much beloved woman, and will be sadly missed in her home. Forty-one years ago William J. Mallory left Rebersburg to dig out his fortune in New Mexico, and Arizona and he never came back to the ancestral abode until Saturday. Great joy came to his old friends and acquaintances here at his return. He is the same old "Billy," except for the silver threads among the gold. During his many years in the mining camps of the west he had a checkered career. Sometimes he was fighting hostile Apaches for his life—always, warring against tarantulas, centipedes and venomous creatures, but more recently he has been compelled to defend his life-earnings and possessions against the most dangerous of all foes, the frenzied financiers of Boston, who have almost captured his numerous silver and copper holdings, by coercion and fraud. He will remain here with his sisters, Jane Sholl and Belle Cole, for a few weeks. Are the mountains creeping down into the valley? Those who went west fifty years ago and return say that the valley is filling up and the mountains appear to be much lower than when they left, this is the opinion of Mr. Mallory, after a careful observation of the natural phases. A young naturalist of this valley would like to give Prof. Surface and the other state zoologists a pointer on the San Jose scale. He says that the trees need bleeding. The State board of Public Buildings and Grounds are not pleased with do with the state of the late rival of Clay, M. S. Quay. It has been suggested that they set it up in Rebersburg in front of the P. O., if they can't find a place in Sewickley, or the plum groves of Beaver. Among those who are spending the summer at Rebersburg, are Willis R. Bierly and his daughter Jessica. They are at the old Bierly homestead which was among the first located in the wilderness of Miles Twp., in 1791, by Anthony Bierly, Sr., who was said to have been the first white man to blaze away through "the long narrows" from Union county into Centre. Miss Jessica is an accomplished pianist and organist, having spent a year at the conservatory at Reading and a year in special organ and voice culture under Prof. Roscoe Huff, of Williamsport. Her playing is the delight of old Rebersburg. Mrs. Bessie Theel (nee Dubs) wife of Prof. Theel, principal of the Schuykill Seminary, of Reading, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Belle Cole, and has her lively young son with her. She was formerly a well-known music teacher. Already the stream of huckleberry pickers may be seen heading to the mountains. Look out for "Aunt Polly's snake!" This "varmount" is historic. All the old timers will remember that he made his abode between Aaronburg and Rebersburg somewhere. His thick ness was that of stovewood and his color also. Once a tired berry picker sat down on him to rest. The snake was more astounded than the picker and fled so swiftly, whistling as he flew, that he looked like a "strall," whatever that is. Prof. Henry Meyer, Sr., indulges the muse occasionally, when in a pensive mood. His Pennsylvania German dialect poems on "Die Alt Heemert" and "Mei Schule," are worthy of Hawthorne, the beloved singer of Lancaster. They remind us, too, of the collection of Cal. C. Zeigler a former Rebersburg boy, now Sec'y. of the American Car Brake Co., St. Louis, who wrote "Draus and Deheem," in which he dwelt upon the customs and incidents of home life in Brushvalley.

PENN TWP.

Furl Auman spent the 4th at Hecla Park. Mrs. Daniel Smith spent Friday at H. V. Gentzel's. H. V. Gentzel, who is working in Union county, was home over Sunday. Chas. Hosterman and family, also Emma Ramen, left for Buffalo, N. Y., on Monday. Lettie Wolf, who is working near Coburn, was home over Sunday. H. V. Gentzel and family also Clayton Wolf, were callers at U. G. Auman's, Sunday. John Confer, who was working at Renovo, came home last Saturday. L. P. Smith made a business trip to Lewistown, last week. William Auman and family, of Johnstown, were callers on U. G. Auman, last week, also Ezra Auman, of Millheim, in his auto. Mrs. L. Wingard, who was out at Renovo for some time, came home, on Saturday. Clothes may not make a man, but the loss of them would be at least embarrassing. Many a man is willing to sell his experience for less than he paid for it.

NITTANY.

Mira Holmes, of Jacksonsville, was the guest of her aunt Tillie Peck, over Sunday. Mrs. Charley Gansallus and three smallest children were visiting friends in Renova last week. Bert Fletcher, of Bennezzette, spent the 4th with his lady friend, Marie E. Young. Irvin Robb and wife, of Berwick, were the guests of Mr. Robb's mother, Jane Robb and son, several days the past week. Mrs. Henry McCloskey and Mrs. Fellmeier of Mackeyville, were the guests of James Gansallus and George Fishers, one day last week. John Delaney and wife, of Hublersburg, were the guests of James Gansallus and wife, on Sunday. Mrs. G. W. Young and her grand-son, Aaron Yarnell, were Hublersburg visitors on the 4th. Mary Barner, of Bellefonte, was the guest of her friend, Mayme Zerby, over the 4th. Mrs. P. S. Rossman and sons, Nelson, and Cliford, were visiting friends in Centre Hall over the 4th. Newton Dorman and family, of Avis, visited friends here. Frank Emerick, Jr., and family, of Johnstown, spent the past few weeks with the former's parents. Mrs. Justis Turner and daughter, Martha, of Altoona, are visiting the former's parents, George Gates. Prof. Ely Johnson, of Columbus, Ohio, visited his sister, Mrs. H. W. W., several days last week. Mr. Sheats and wife, of Milton, visited Cal. Stover and family, recently. Charley Young, of Clearfield, spent several days under the parental roof, recently. H. P. Zerby and wife visited the former's parents at Spring Mills, over Sunday. We had a very severe hail storm here on Sunday, hail as large as hickory nuts fell. George Harter and family from across the ridge, visited Cal. Wilson and family, on Sunday. Our band furnished music for the festival held at Lamar, last Saturday night. Mrs. Belle Robb and family visited her grandparents here, last week. Mrs. Robb was formerly of this place but now from Altoona. Harry Wilson, youngest son of Cal. Wilson, is very ill; we hope for his speedy recovery. Mrs. Carry Sweeley, of Avis, is visiting her mother, Mrs. H. W. Winkelman. Don't forget the band festival on Saturday night.

ZION.

Next Sunday, at 10 o'clock, a. m., the Holy Communion will be celebrated in the Lutheran church. Preparatory services Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. On Friday evening the sad news reached Mrs. Fisher that her sister, Mrs. Campbell, was dead. On Saturday morning, Mrs. Fisher, left for the Campbell home in Philadelphia. The Sunday school has decided to hold their annual picnic at Hecla Park. The day has not been decided on yet. Mrs. Lydia Hassinger spent the Fourth visiting her father at Clearfield; on her return home she was accompanied by her sister. Three of John Rockey's children, Harry, Arthur and Helen, are enjoying their vacation at home. The shingle mill operated by Mr. Jones is running steadily. Albert Shaffer and Edgar Lutz are roofing the big barn on the Valentine farm now occupied by Frank Lutz. John Fulger and wife are rejoicing over the arrival of a big boy. On Monday Wm. Smith unloaded his new threshing outfit. H. P. Struble expects to get his in a short time. With two new rigs there should be no difficulty in having the threshing done this fall. The carpenters under the formanship of Griffith Garrett have Horace Kaufman's barn almost finished; this is one of the three barns burnt last fall. Jacob Struble spent his vacation at home and while here kindly took a number of people on pleasure trips in his auto; on his return to Pittsburgh he was accompanied by his sister Mary and Miss Halfpenny of Lewisburg. C. N. Fisher's lady friend, of Altoona, spent Fourth of July at the Fisher home. "Pige" thinks if the aunt gets a good report of him there will be one bachelor less in Zion in a short time. Our good friend, Isaac Stover, who has been sorely afflicted for more than a year, has taken a decided turn for the worse, but we hope for his speedy recovery. John Love and family, of Altoona, have come to Emil Garbrick to make preparations for the burial of his mother who died in Pittsburgh last week.

WOODWARD.

Among the visitors from a distance in town last week, were Mrs. J. W. Hosterman and two children Earl and Marion; Mrs. O. M. J. Hosterman and son Oliver, Jr.; and Mamie Francis, all of Buffalo, N. Y. Quite a number from this place attended the P. O. S. of A. festival at Aaronburg, on Saturday night, July 4th. Joe Ard and Clayton Sheesley made a trip to Millinburg on Sunday. This and the neighboring community was visited by quite an electrical storm on last Sunday afternoon. Chas. H. Hosterman and family spent Sunday with their parents here, before leaving for their future home in Buffalo, for which place they left last Monday morning. Quite a few farmers are through cutting grain, and have some in the barn. Dr. W. P. Ard spent Saturday with his brother Samuel, at Coburn. James Yonada and wife and B. P. Colburn and Susan Brunner, spent Thursday at Chas. Wolfe's at Wolfe's Chapel. Naomi Smith went to Altoona, last week, at which place she will visit her brother Harry and sister, Mrs. Fred Lambert. Mabel Guisewite visited her mother, Mrs. Daniel Stover, during last week. Emory Adom thinks he is just it since the arrival of that little daughter. He says, "That she intends to stay." A new lumber company known as Hosterman & Weaver will begin operation in the near future. Just forty years ago, June 29, Capt.

HOWARD.

The "glorious 4th" passed without any serious accident. Praise be. Full crop and the finest sort of weather for harvesting them, bring glad smiles to the faces of our farmer brethren and promise a continued era of comfortable living for all, despite high financiers and financial politicians. Striking at and missing a ball in the game at Snow Shoe, July 4th, Charley Cooke, of the Howard team, slipped and sprained the muscles of his right hip so badly that he has been out of commission ever since. He managed to get out and see the team win over Beech Creek on Saturday, but looked a little pale and limped badly. Miss Jennie C. Ryman, of Milesburg, spent the week end with her relative, Mrs. H. A. Moore. Elliot Gardner has moved into the apartments in the Robert Cook house which were made vacant by the death of Mrs. Thomas Sanders. The fine shower of Sunday evening caused a grateful change in temperature from 94, which was the record at about three o'clock in the afternoon. The gardens and growing crops hereabout needed it badly. Col. Fred Reynolds' fine new auto, filled with a family party, which included the Col's sister, Mrs. Harris, has been seen on our streets two or three times recently. It was gratifying to notice that he had his car driven so moderately and carefully as to cause no danger or even fear of danger, to others who were enjoying their privileges on the road. Dr. G. P. Gond, the eminent scientist in charge of chemistry at the Pennsylvania State College, was a visitor in our town last week. Miss Eleanor Shaeffer, of Mifflin, and the Misses Keacht, of Cedar Springs, were recent visitors at the home of Miss Helen Bennisson. Many of our older readers will easily remember the veteran democrat, farmer and county commissioner of Curtin twp., Joseph McCloskey and his large family of stalwart sons. Six of the sons are still living, scattered from the city of Washington to Oklahoma, and the youngest of them is now a veteran himself. On the Fourth of July they gathered themselves together at the home of Mathias, who lives in Lock Haven and had a pleasing family reunion and celebration, much to the satisfaction of all with their genial spirits, their family devotion and their old time democracy all undimmed. Bryan is sure of a solid vote from that delegation, and the "unit rule" will not have to be called for them, either. During the thunder storm of Sunday evening three horses in the barn of John Poortman, near the top of the Bald Eagle ridge, on the road from Howard to Romola, were struck by lightning and knocked down. One was killed, another seriously injured, while the third was unhurt. The barn was not struck. Clarence Eby came to his fifteenth birthday and his family arranged a pleasant surprise party for him. A large number of his young friends were present and a delightful evening was spent.

On Saturday last G. R. Smith, of Milford, N. J., shipped from our station to that place a car load of 33 cows and young cattle, which he had gathered up at this point during the last ten days. The new foot crossing at Walnut and Main streets, of which Reuben Lucas and Wm. R. Wilson were the architects and builders, speaks well for their skill and fills a long felt want of the walking public. Charles Leathers and son built the new concrete walk which now adorns the front of the home of C. W. Smith, and it is a fine piece of workmanship. No handsomer in town. At their last regular meeting of our school directors, Miss Stover, of Mill Hall, Miss Anna Muffley and Susie Fletcher, of Howard, were chosen teachers in the Howard schools for the coming year, and were respectively assigned to the primary, intermediate and grammar schools. These young ladies filled the same positions last year to the satisfaction of the public. The principal, who will take the higher grade, has not been selected as yet. On Friday last John Wetzel received a car load of second-hand portable and traction engines, four in number, which he will put in first class order and place upon the market. Bargains, everyone on them, for prospective purchasers. Ben Comerford, a master roller, is visiting his mother, Mrs. J. A. Comerford. Mr. and Mrs. Ira C. Johnson are entertaining their daughter, Mrs. Eva Neff, and her two sons, of Chicago. Mrs. Irvin G. Lucas fell from a cherry tree and received painful injuries, from which she is comfortably recovering. Private enterprise and public spirit on the part of the great majority of our citizens is giving our borough a reputation among strangers for being the neatest and cleanest town in the county, and it is well deserved. If this is to be maintained, however, we shall be compelled to ask our visiting friends to turn their eyes to the opposite side of the street, when they pass the cemetery, and to close them entirely when they pass the public school ground. Whose business is it to see to these eyesores? While working in the woods on the Bald Eagle mountain, for the Howard Lumber Co., David Lucas suffered a severe case of heat prostration. He is recovering from the attack. A visit to the several members of the family who live in Northumberland, is the pleasing experience of the venerable Mrs. Samuel Kline. A handsome new porch, on the cottage of Mrs. J. N. Lauth, is the latest improvement in the west end. Miss Martha Turner is slowly recovering her health. Several of our teachers attended the State Educational convention at State College, last week and more should have done so. They report a most successful meeting and say many good things of their treatment at the College. While there was no general picnic on our Howard Fourth, several of our young teachers took their classes to the woods at different points, where good refreshments were served, and a general good time had.

One of the so-called "accidents" of the national holiday celebration woke Prof. Samuel Robb very suddenly and very thoroughly, about five o'clock in the morning, when a spent ball from a small rifle or revolver, struck him on his knee as he lay in his bed. No serious injury done, but some patriot had been careless. The Howard Brick Works made the largest month's output in June, since they started. Who says business is slow in Howard? Just forty years ago, June 29, Capt.

ROMOLA.

Hay making and wheat cutting is all the go around here. Next we will hear of some of our young ladies taking a trip to Pittsburg. Walter Bowes bought a fine black driving horse. We were glad to see our old friend Harvey Weaver return; yes I guess we were. Hope he will remain for the summer. Some of the Orvis young men come all the way to Romola to attend church; what are the attractions, M. R.? Grant Bowes has returned from the back woods. Robbs are getting the timber saved for their barn that burned last spring. Mrs. Thorn Robb returned home last week from Buffalo. Romola is a sporty town; if you don't believe it just keep your eye on some of the girls from 12 to 16 years. The girl's mothers think if they can get a fellow at that age, they are o. k. Wm. Ross and wife, of Pleasant Gap, were recent visitors here, also L. K. Dale and family at the home of grandpa Dale's. Some of our young people took in the special examination for teachers last week and were rewarded with favorable returns. The schools in this place have not been given as yet. A few of our citizens attended the association at State College last week. Maud Davis is here for her summer vacation, spending the remainder of the year in New York City. Claud Irvin, of Snow Shoe, Mrs. John Barton, of Pittsburg, and Mrs. Wolf, of Pittcairn, were visitors at the home of Mrs. Anna McKernon. Nathan Richards, of Martha, passed through here enroute to his home, from Lewistown.

ROMOLA.

We had a nice shower on Sunday which wakened up everything. Charles Johnson and wife are visiting at this place at the home of Mrs. Johnson's father, Prof. E. M. Brickley, of Jefferson county, who is spending a few weeks at the home of his mother. Isaac Packer was around to see us last week. He is a progressive young man who was born and raised in Marsh Creek. Quite a crowd of young people went to the festival at Fairview on Saturday evening. We were so lonesome last week with out the dear old Centre Democrat that the cherries are about all done now, the apples are coming. The early apples are getting quite ripe. The worshipers of wealth put the dollar before the man, but it doesn't stay there long.

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherry-bark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root, and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subsiding chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities. In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherry-bark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe chronic, or chronic coughs, bronchitis, and throat affections, and it cures sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-over coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures. Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Dennett Medical College, Chicago, says of glycerine: "In dropsical it serves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best means for the prevention of the present time in its action upon effluviated, disordered stomachs, especially if there is ulceration of catarrhal gastritis (catarrh) or inflammation of stomach. It is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity. "Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores, or ulcers. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklets telling all about the native medicinal roots composing this wonderful medicine. There is no alcohol in it."

H. C. Holter, married Miss Mary E. Hall, on her nineteenth birthday, and this year they celebrated the double anniversary by a home party of all the children. If all ball games and other athletic contests were conducted in the true, sportsmanlike manner and with the same gentlemanly conduct that characterized the match between the Beech Creek and Howard teams, on our field last Saturday, there would be no grounds for complaint on the part of even the most fastidious. The game was a hard fought and very pretty one, from start to finish, and everyone conceded that the ablest team won, though by the narrow margin of 4 to 3 in favor of Howard. And during the whole of it, from "play ball" to the "Hurrah for Howard", there was not an unpleasant incident nor the slightest break in good natured harmony. It was the first game since the reorganization of the team and Capt. Pearl Thomas handled his men with masterly skill and they responded with the fine efforts that won. The Beech Creek boys put up a square, clean game and took their defeat without a squeal. Umpire Donovan knows the game, and his decisions were so manifestly just and right, that not a protest was raised from either side and both he and the contesting team will be gladly welcomed when they visit us again.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherry-bark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root, and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subsiding chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities. In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherry-bark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe chronic, or chronic coughs, bronchitis, and throat affections, and it cures sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-over coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures. Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Dennett Medical College, Chicago, says of glycerine: "In dropsical it serves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best means for the prevention of the present time in its action upon effluviated, disordered stomachs, especially if there is ulceration of catarrhal gastritis (catarrh) or inflammation of stomach. It is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity. "Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores, or ulcers. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklets telling all about the native medicinal roots composing this wonderful medicine. There is no alcohol in it."
