

NOTIFYING THE CANDIDATES

BALCONY OF CAPITOL AT LINCOLN DURING BRYAN NOTIFICATION

THE ceremonies connected with notifying candidates for president and vice president of their nomination for these offices have led to a good many jokes and funny paragraphs on the subject...

This was too small space for the Democratic leader to express himself as fully as he desired, and he intimated his intention to take up other matters on subsequent occasions.

The delivery of long speeches at such functions means their preparation some time in advance, so that they may be handed to the press in time for mailing copies to distant parts of the country and setting the type.

Judge Taft's speech of acceptance was completed on Friday, July 24, and it was delivered to Judge Taft traveled hundreds of miles, from Hot Springs, Va., to Cincinnati, to be notified that he had been nominated for president by the Republican party. He did not make such a long trip to learn what had occurred in the Coliseum at Chicago a month before, but, rather, to meet in a suitable place the official bearers of the intelligence and take advantage of the occasion to make a speech of acceptance expressing his views on the issues of the campaign.

press associations on the afternoon of the same day under a pledge that it would not be released for publication until the afternoon of the following Tuesday, the day of its delivery.

Washington and Grant were no speechmakers, and both were mortally afraid of delivering addresses than leveled cannon or pointed gun.

After the adoption of the constitution the election of a president was held under its provisions on the first Wednesday of January, 1789, and early in the following April the ballots of the electors were counted in the presence of congress, the choice of Washington for president being unanimous.

Being of an inquiring turn of mind, five-year-old Bobby one day managed to turn on both faucets in the bath tub to see what would happen.

Originally the candidate made only a brief and perhaps informal speech in acceptance of the honor. Abraham Lincoln spoke only 129 words to the committee that notified him at Springfield in 1860.

Being of an inquiring turn of mind, five-year-old Bobby one day managed to turn on both faucets in the bath tub to see what would happen.

His prayer was answered, for his sister rose to the occasion and turned off the water and temporarily saved Bobby from the much feared slipper.

IN WEST VIRGINIA.

Differences Among Republicans and C. W. Swisher, Nominee of "Regulars." The split between the Republicans in West Virginia over the governorship has attracted national attention on account of the possible effect of these differences in the party on the national ticket.

Conundrums. Why is it impossible for a person who helps to believe in young ladies? Because he calls every miss a myth.

A Riddle. What does man love more than life, Hate more than death or mortal strife, That which contented men desire, The poor possess, the rich require, The miser spends, the spendthrift saves And all men carry to their graves? Answer.—Nothing.

The Three Pathways.

The owner of three houses, numbered 1, 2 and 3 in the drawing, had a fence erected to inclose them. In the fence he made three exits, numbered 1, 2 and 3. He constructed walks from the houses to the gates, so that the people who lived

SENATOR BURDICK NOTIFYING SHERMAN OF HIS NOMINATION.

There were no telegraphs or telephones or even railroads to convey important intelligence with speed and acquaint the public with all happenings of note on the very day of their occurrence. Originally there was sense in supposing that a candidate might receive the first news of his nomination from the committee appointed to convey to him the information. Those days passed long ago, but customs often survive years after the conditions which brought them into existence have changed.

Originally the candidate made only a brief and perhaps informal speech in acceptance of the honor. Abraham Lincoln spoke only 129 words to the committee that notified him at Springfield in 1860.

We Invite the Children to a Maple Feast

If you have a child who doesn't know Mapl-Flake, let us buy you a package for it. Then the child, when it tastes the maple flavor, will ask you to buy it next.

The ideal food for hot weather. Whole wheat, made wholly digestible. Flaked and toasted, and flavored with maple syrup. It gives one the maximum nourishment and produces the minimum heat. Meat acts the other way. At least one meal a day, in summer, should consist of Mapl-Flake and fruit. Comfort and good health demand it. None of the fad foods can possibly take its place.

There is little use in making the best food if children don't like it best. So we give it this enticing flavor—the most delicious flavor that a cereal ever had. The result is, children want it as much as you want them to have it. You can't serve it too often; they never get too much.

One Package Free

One package of Mapl-Flake will make you a convert forever. You will never go back to inferior foods after you once try this. So we offer to buy the first package ourselves, rather than have you delay. Please send us this coupon—now before you forget it. We will then send you an order, good at your grocer's for a full-size package free. Then you'll know. You will need no persuading to get it again.
