A pint bottle of whiskey was placed between the screen and room door of the residence of Mrs. Joseph Bard, on Friday night; the one who placed it is known, and if not very careful will be notified to give an account of his dastardly insult to the family; do not repeat it, or you will be dealt with according as the law directs. William B. Miles and wife returned on Saturday from a pleasant trip to Atlantic City. Clarence Spicer, after visiting at Hazleton, has returned home. Mrs. Luther Fulton at present is visiting Mrs. John Fulton, at Osceola Mills.

SMULLTON.

Robert Hackenberg had the misfortune of losing a good horse, from a stone bruise, which ended in lockjaw, caused death. We are glad to note Verna Smith, who has been sick for nearly three months, with inflammatory rheumatism, is slowly improving. Our practical butter maker, C. F. Winters, had on last Wednesday, an experience which he will never forget. He hired a horse to bring a load of wood from the saw mill of H. E. Dooty; he drove to the pile and proceeded to load up, when he found he had to smoke his meerscham pipe; in doing so and talking at the same time, he occupied too much time for the horse; then the horse made up his mind to take a rest, consequently laid down and grunted with ease. When the load was finished the horse was told to arise, take up his bed and walk off with his load to the land of pure delight (Smullton). The horse not being of the same mind heeded not his master's call. Clayton tried talking, but of no avail; he sang "There will be glory for you when you get home," no response nor move, and they tell you, humble writer, that Clayton wept. Then the compassion of Dick was moved and he arose and went his way. Domer S. Crouse, of Fiedler, spent Sunday under the parental roof, helping to get away with a spring chick. Maud Winters is employed at Millheim at dressmaking. Daniel Cormans of Penn Hall, were visitors at the home of A. E. Strayer, Sunday. The school children were seen on Monday, wending their way to the house of knowledge.

SPRING TWP.

The children of Michael Summers are holding a family reunion at their parents at Potters Mills, to-day. On Thursday the 3rd, Robert Miller, who moved from Prossertown in the spring, has moved back in the house vacated by Mrs. Della Miller, who has gone to look after the interests of Mr. Clayton Walters, at Axeman. The men of our town who have been carrying the empty dinner pail since last winter, caused by Republican prosperity are now having them filled at Col. Reynolds' peach orchard. Mrs. Isaac Miller, at the toll gate, is slowly recovering from injuries received while visiting at Tyrone. Mrs. Moore and daughter Katie have returned to their home, after a two week's visit here. We are sorry to chronicle the sad death of Ethel, the bright little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garbrick, at Nittany Furnace; funeral services Tuesday morning 9:30, Forge church. John Hockenbury has secured employment with Mr. Klune, at the stone quarry. The two daughters of Harvey Griffith, at Axeman, from Philadelphia, have returned to that city after an extended visit at the old home. School commences Monday morning, at the Forge with Miss Dawson and Mr. Breen as teachers.

MARTHA.

We are having a dry time of it around this vicinity scarcely any water to be had for drinking purposes and unless it rains soon will be very hard on the fall crops. Mr. Ardery and family, of Bellefonte, spent a few days visiting his mother here last week. Bertha Dixon spent part of last week with her parents at Mt. Pleasant. Mrs. Wilson Williams is paying a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Gutier at Phillipsburg. Ray Stiver who has been suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism is now able to be out. C. M. Haezler, P. R. Co's operator at Martha tower, is paying a visit to his parents at Williamsport. A. C. Williams is having a new barn erected. Samuel Richards and his men are doing the work. The bride and groom returned home after a trip to Atlantic City. The farmers are all busy plowing and getting ready to sow their fall crops. Katie Mays, of Bellefonte, is visiting friends here. A number of our young people attended quakers meeting, on Sunday. Farmer Joe seems to be wearing a broad smile these last few days. Perhaps he is figuring on going to Atlantic City too, in the near future. Don't put it off too long, Joe, leap year is nearly out.

WOODWARD.

Seeding is all the go at present, and some people have finished and begun to cut corn. D. A. Snyder, of High valley, is working for C. J. Stover. The peach crop in C. J. Stover's peach orchard is pretty fair as they prove to be about the best in the valley. That shows that Mr. Stover understands his business. The prospects are between 75 and 100 bushels. A certain gentleman near Woodward left suddenly on Saturday evening for a place where he was very welcome. He returned safe and sound only a little sleepy. Bessie M. Sheatz, of Lock Haven, is visiting a few weeks with her aunt, Mrs. C. W. Vonada. The public schools of Haines township opened on Monday, September 7. The teachers for the east end are as follows: Woodward, W. C. Mingle; Weaver, A. D. Mingle; Vonada, Mary Foreman; St. Paul, M. Martin. So many people wonder why there is a path across the hill through Eby's fields; if you want to know the reason just ask E. M. S., he will tell you the cause. The Hosterman and Weaver lumber company is operating in full blast, but they say the logs don't want to run. Perhaps it would be a good plan if they were greased a little. The iron bridge at Woodward will be completed in a few days, ready for the concrete floor. Charles Stover made a business trip to Aaronsburg on Saturday night. There must be some attraction at C. W. Vonada's place, as all the young fellows like to stop and have a talk. If you want to know the cause, just ask A. M., as he likes to stop, too. Charles Kreamer and wife, of Woodward, took dinner and spent Sunday at Clayton Vonada's. Mr. Kreamer left on Monday, September 7, for Edinboro, where he is attending school at the State Normal. Ben Koons, Susan Brunner, James Vonada and wife, visited at B. M. Smith's on Sunday. Rusty is very lonely since he must sleep alone. Hurrah for Bryan.

YARNELL.

Everybody was expecting a good rain, Sunday, p. m., but we were sadly disappointed. Harris Poorman and wife, visited over Sunday with friends at Keewadin, Clearfield county. Joseph McCloskey and wife, and daughter Bertha, of Mill Hall, spent Sunday at A. G. Walkers. Verna Watson, of Bush Hollow, is a pleasant visitor, at the Powell home. Lenore Thompson, of Pittsburg, who has spent the summer with her aunt, Mrs. John Richard, is suffering with mumps. A number of our people attended the Union School convention held at the Union church, at Fairview last Thursday. J. A. Runner returned to his home at Blanchard, after spending a week here. Della Heaton, of Milesburg, is spending a few days with friends here. Quite a number of our people are getting ready for the Red Men's picnic, to be held here on Saturday. Andrew Walker was taken suddenly ill, last Thursday, but is greatly improved. Dr. Kurtz of Howard attended him. Rev. D. Barshinger, of Bellefonte, tarried Thursday night at I. P. Confer's. Saturday, Sept. 10th, is the day set, to meet at the Advent cemetery for the purpose of moving the tool house and making other necessary repairs. All who can, are requested to come and help with the work.

BOGGS TWP.

A light rain passed over us on Sunday, p. m., scarcely laying the dust. Mrs. Ida Johnson returned home on Sunday from Renovo, where she had been visiting for some time. Mabel Bard and Clair Watson spent Sunday at E. M. Bard's, of Divide. Keifer Klune is wearing a very broad smile since the stork called at his place and left that bouncing boy. Samuel Miller and family spent Sunday at Coleville. Clair Watson, of Milesburg, spent Friday evening at the Baylett home near Fairview. John Watson and family were Runville visitors, on Sunday. E. M. Bard and Lee Johnson were callers at Fairview and Yarnell, on Sunday. Walter Wensel, who has been spending most of the summer at Fleming Poorman's, has gone to Linden Hall, where he expects to teach this winter. Mrs. Lula Lucas is visiting friends at Jersey Shore.

PENN TWP.

Noah Lingle came home from Renovo to stay. Newton Miller spent a few days with E. R. Auman. Daniel Kerstetter came home from Milton to stay awhile. David Fiedler, who was ill for quite a while, is not improving. Perry Hoover took a trip to North Bend last week. S. G. Rote had bad luck; while he was cutting off a pole he cut a gash in his foot. E. R. Auman will have his new house ready in a few days to move in. Hard times clamor is heard in our little town, as there is no labor waiting on willing hands to do it—hope the times will get better. Jacob Auman lost a horse last week.

WINGATE.

Mr. Kunes, wife and family, are visiting at the home of Geo. Hoover. Mary Ingram, brother and sister, of Dix Run, spent Sunday with their uncle, Eli Stere. A. P. Woodring, of Port Matilda, was a pleasant caller at Thomas Murry's on Sunday. Mrs. Allison Freeze, of Milesburg, spent Saturday eve with her mother, Mrs. John Harnish. J. C. Barnhart was a pleasant caller at Eli Stere's on Thursday evening. There will be a festival here on next Saturday, Sept. 12, for the benefit of the Evangelical church; all are invited to attend.

HOWARD.

Our entire community was shocked and saddened by the death of a young man, who died Thursday morning in the German Hospital at Philadelphia, of Edwin Forest Watt. Although Mr. Watt had but recently become a permanent resident of our town, he has been well and most favorably known among us for several years as a salesman and was exceedingly popular, always winning friends by his unfailing geniality and uniform good nature, and his death cast a deep shadow over the whole town. While on a business trip to New York last week he was taken ill of acute indigestion, and upon returning to Philadelphia, his business headquarters, entered the hospital, and wrote his wife of his illness. On Wednesday morning a telegram was received announcing that he was seriously sick, and Mrs. Watt left on the 10:47 train, reaching his bedside just in time to receive his last message and bid him goodbye forever. In ten minutes more he had passed over to the other side. Mr. Watt was a prominent thirty second degree mason, and a member of the Baldwin Commandery II, of Williamsport, and had reached the highest degrees in all the other orders of Masonry. His body was sent from Philadelphia to his mother's home in Williamsport, where it was at once taken in charge by Baldwin II Commandery, representing the Masonic fraternity. This organization made all the arrangements for the funeral, services being held at the family residence Saturday afternoon. Afterward the body was brought to Howard, accompanied by a large delegation from the Commandery, arriving on the 4:47 train, where it was met by a delegation from the Constants Commandery of Bellefonte. Interment was immediately made in the Methodist cemetery, with the beautiful ritual and the highest honors of the fraternity. More than forty Sir Knights in uniform were in attendance at the funeral. During Mr. Watt's frequent and long-continued business visits to our town he became enamored of one of our best young ladies, Miss Nellie Burns, and they were married April 2, 1906. A little baby girl, but a few months old, remains to comfort the sore hearted young widow. Oscar E. Lucas spent Sunday at home with his mother and sister. Mr. and Mrs. John P. DeHass, of Milton, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Jacob DeHass. Banker John P. Harris looked over our town over one day last week, but concluded not to buy it. Our appreciation of our fine little borough is too great, he couldn't reach our figures. A stray spark fired the roof of Charles E. Pletcher's blacksmith shop, one day last week, but no harm was done. Miss Sallie Weirick was so successful in teaching in New Jersey last winter, that she has been recalled to the same school. A new board walk adorns the front lawn of the cozy home of the Misses Benson on West Main street. It is a pleasure to the friends of Mrs. W. F. Quick to see her with her two fine boys among Howard's summer visitors. Mrs. Quick, a grand niece of former Governor Wm. F. Packard and formerly Miss Mary Mitchell of this place, is the wife of Dr. W. Quick, Dean and Director of Agriculture at Virginia Polytechnic Institution. The Centre County Exhibiting Co., have made elaborate arrangements for their exhibition now not more than a month distant. What will the farmers of Howard and vicinity show as their contribution? We have good farmers here, and they are usually up to date in their products and certainly can make a first class exhibit if they will but try. No better advertisement of a farming community can be made than a good showing of farm products at the County fair. Let us have a Howard exhibit. Send a letter addressed to "The Representative of the Democrat," at Howard, telling what you can do and we will help organize the exhibit. Samuel Bowers is enjoying a visit from his elder sister Mary, now Mrs. J. B. Helman, and her husband, of Green Ridge, Mo. Charles Bower, an alumnus of the Pennsylvania State College, and now in charge of the electrical section of the Allis-Chalmers engineering corporation at Milwaukee, is spending his vacation at home with his parents. John Wetzel shipped a car load of scrap iron from about his foundry on Thursday last, and if he would ship about half a dozen more car loads it would greatly improve the appearance of the streets in his neighborhood. President of Council, Jackson Klune, has caught the spirit of improvement and was seen putting down a substantial brick walk from his door to his deep cool well, a day or two ago. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wilhelm, of Buffalo, arrived in town on Saturday last, and are sojourning with the Mesdames Comersford, Mrs. Wilhelm's sister. While "striking" at Wetzel's shop on Wednesday last, James Kane seriously hurt his right hand on the ragged edge of a piece of boiler plate. Mollie Breth, of Lock Haven, is a guest at the home of Rudolph Pletcher. Wm. H. Pletcher and family, of English Centre, are among the home comers to the Schenck reunion. On Wednesday last Prof. Samuel Robb, of Howard, and Miss Mame Snyder, of Beech Creek were married at the Presbyterian manse at Mill Hall by Rev. Grant, pastor of that charge. After a brief wedding trip they will be at home at Milesburg, where Prof. Robb will have charge of the schools the coming winter. Mrs. Barbara Mangner, of New York City, is a guest of John Weber and family. The Schenck reunion, though organized as a family affair, has enlarged itself into a neighborhood picnic, and the meeting of last Thursday was larger than heretofore and a delightful time was enjoyed by all. The opening prayer was made by Rev. W. W. Rhoads after which Milford Pletcher, principal of the High school at Beech Creek, delivered the address of welcome, to which the Rev. H. I. Crowe responded. Music by the Howard Cornet Band, and singing by a select choir filled in the morning hour, when dinner was announced, and it is no reflection upon either the choir, the band or the speakers to say that this was the very best fun of the day. After dinner addresses by Rev. S. Patterson, of Blanchard; Rollin S. Taylor and N. H. Schenck, of Howard, interspersed with music, social intercourse and games, filled in the day. D. B. Schenck is president, Henry C. Holter, recording secretary, and Hayes Schenck, corresponding secretary, of the organization. Dry, dry—hardly expresses or describes fully the weather conditions which prevail at this writing, and farm interests are suffering greatly. The whole community sympathizes deeply with Mr. and Mrs. John Holter, in the loss of their fine little eight-year-old son Russell, who recently returned from the Bellefonte hospital, with but small hopes for life, after a lingering sickness, and died on Thursday morning. He was a bright, studious, good boy, and his parents had high ambitions for him, and in his loss their neighbors mourn with them. Candidates are beginning to shake hands and smile with everybody. John Mokie was called to his old home at Belmont last week, because of his father's failing health. Lawrence Sigmund and wife, Brunner Williams and wife, spent Sunday last with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Confer. Freight agent Dan Holter is having his annual outing.

James Mauck, wife and daughters, Mrs. Musser and Mrs. Gummo, were guests of W. J. Mauck and family, one day last week. Our band was at Renovo on Thursday, and furnished music for the P. O. S. of A., of Lock Haven, there being a big time there in which all secret orders took an active part. Fifteen bands were in attendance, in which the Nittany band led the procession in the large parade. George Fisher and family, of Lamar, were seen on our streets on Sunday. Jake Bergstresser, Ross Walkey and Cleave McCawley, of Hubersburg, were in our town on Sunday. John Delaney and Sunday with Mrs. Jacob DeHass.
