

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

-Ex-Judge Cyrus Gordon, of Clearfield, circled around among his friends in Bellefonte on Tuesday.
-Lao Gargan and A. L. Reed, of New York City, are visiting their aunt, Mrs. James Noonan, at the Brant House.
-Amos Cole, who had been visiting friends in Bellefonte for about one month, left Monday for Lewistown where he is now employed.
-James W. Runkle, popular landlord of the Centrehall hotel, and his daughter, Mrs. Dr. Allison, were pleasant callers in the Democrat sanctum.
-Mrs. H. A. McKee, who has been visiting for several weeks at the home of H. Y. Stitzer, left on Saturday morning for her home in Wilkinsburg.
-Ex-commissioner Meyer favored our sanctum with a call, and sees nothing but bright prospects for Bryan—just as all observers of the situation report.
-On the 22nd of August we had .40 inch—less than half an inch—of rain. Since that, up to this date, there was no rain, in this section, save a few sprinkles.
-Frank Warner, one of the local substitute letter carriers, of Greensburg, left Friday morning for his home at Bellefonte, where he will visit for week or two.
-The front exterior of Olewine's hardware store has been improved by Isaac Miller taking out the broken pane of plate glass in one of the windows and replacing it with a new one.
-Herman C. Minier, connected with the J. P. Lyon garage, left Friday evening for Buffalo, N. Y., on a brief business trip. Minier was employed over two years by the E. R. Thomas Motor Co. of that city.
-Rev. D. Barsinger and Darius Waite returned home on Sunday from Conemaugh where they had been attending the conference of the United Brethren church. Rev. Barsinger has been returned to this charge for another year.
-Mrs. John Lane accidentally broke a pitcher while washing dishes on Thursday and cut her wrist badly. An artery was severed and for a time the wound bled profusely, the services of a physician being necessary to stop the flow of blood.
-Robert Peck, son of postmaster R. D. Peck, of Lock Haven, who pitched in Bellefonte several times for the Howard base ball team, has accepted a scholarship in a preparatory school at Pawing, N. Y. He will play on the foot ball, and basket ball teams.
-Irvin C. Speer, youngest son of Ex-Country Treasurer W. T. Speer, was recently promoted to the position of chief electrician of the United Street Railway of St. Louis, Mo. While it is a position of honor it carries with it a vast amount of trust and responsibility.
-C. C. Shuey, of Bellefonte, since he has become a local preacher, has been doing some excellent work along this line. He is an earnest speaker, who gives his congregations much to think about. His sermon at Coleville the other evening was much appreciated.
-Trude Bidwell, who has been at Philadelphia on the U. S. S. Mississippi, spent a few days last week in Bellefonte at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Bidwell. He is looking well as though cruising on the waters agreed with him. He left Monday for Newport.
-Monday a charge took place where by John Dubb, Jr., formerly of Bellefonte, received a promotion. For several years he had been route agent in this district for the Adams Express Co., with headquarters at Huntington, but he has been transferred to Trenton, N. J., where he will have charge of a district at an increased salary.
-James Harris left Bellefonte on Sunday afternoon for Reading where he has secured a position in the tailoring department in a large department store, where Frank Dersting, formerly of Bellefonte, holds a lucrative position. The friends of James Harris hope to hear of him making a success of this venture which is his first away from home.
-On Sunday morning, after the regular church services, the Bellefonte Presbyterian congregation held a special congregational meeting for the election of four additional elders. Those now acting in that capacity submitted the names of W. B. Rankin, James H. Potter, Prof. James R. Hughes and Martin L. Altenderfer. No other names being placed in nomination they were elected.
-Sunday morning Misses May and Edith Peters, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Peters, left for Niagara Falls where they again resumed their work in a large military establishment in that city. They were accompanied part way by Miss Edith's gentleman friend, H. M. German, of Philadelphia, who spent a few days here prior to their leaving. They say all signs fail in dry-weather, but the indications are that this is the last trip Miss Edith will make to Niagara Falls as a milliner. The next time she may go there as a bride.
-When General James A. Beaver was elected Governor of Pennsylvania one of the unfortunate things he was compelled to do was to resign as superintendent of the Bellefonte Presbyterian Sunday school, a position he had held for many years past at which time he served in the old "Wigwam" that stood on the corner of Spring and Lamb streets, which has almost passed out of the recollection of many of our people. Gen. Beaver was succeeded by the late J. W. Gephart who finally was compelled to resign on account of ill health. Prof. James R. Hughes was then elected superintendent of the school, who acted in that capacity for several years, but about a year ago he resigned on account of work at the Academy. It seemed that nobody in the church wanted to put on the harness, although they have good material there if it were well seasoned. In this emergency Dr. Platt, the pastor, assumed charge of the school until a permanent superintendent could be elected. The other Sabbath the school extended a call to General Beaver to take his old place again, and hearing the call, as if it were, from Macedonia, to come over to help them, the General accepted and will do all in his power to increase the interest in every department of the school.

-Horse sale at the Haag House, on Saturday.
-Mrs. James Coburn left Wednesday to visit friends in Akron, Ohio.
-W. H. Yarnell has moved his family from State College to Bellefonte.
-Mrs. Mary E. Fisher and daughter Mary, of Wingate, were callers in our sanctum.
-Miss Sadie Caldwell returned to Bellefonte, on Wednesday, after a pleasant visit with her sister Mrs. Phil. McGinley, of Baltimore, Md.
-Last week a carload of Humelstown brown stone trimmings came to Bellefonte to be used in the exterior repairing of the St. John Episcopal church.
-Let us have a contribution from every active Democrat. It will be forwarded to the National Democratic committee to aid Bryan in his campaign.
-Miss Kate Hoover, of Philadelphia, is in Bellefonte for a short visit, having been called here by the serious illness of her grandmother, Mrs. Catharine Humes.
-Miss Adaline Holmes, of Wilkinsburg, who has been for the past month with Mrs. James Harris, left for her home Thursday, expecting to return to Bellefonte later in the fall.
-Since yesterday the cloud of smoke is not so dense as during the last ten days, when the sky was obscured; a clear firmament is again visible, but no signs for rain, with an increase in the temperature.
-Last Friday the atmosphere had many charred particles floating in it, some being of considerable size. Close examination showed that it was the ashes of burnt leaves from the forest fires. They crumbled into powder upon being touched.
-Mrs. Finnegan, widow of the late Stephen B. Finnegan, has decided to make Philadelphia her future home. On next Saturday she will dispose of some of her household goods at public sale. Soon after that she will leave for the Quaker City.
-Thursday Anna McCoy and Kate Shugart arrived in New York City from Europe, where they had been making a six weeks' tour. Miss McCoy came directly home while Miss Shugart went to Bryn Mawr, where she took up her work as a teacher in the Bryn Mawr Seminary.
-Mrs. S. E. Seymour and daughters, Ruth and Louise, who have been spending the summer at the Brant house, returned to their home in New York City. Their stay in Bellefonte was a pleasant one, and while here they made many friends who regretted to see them take their departure.
-Those who want extra fine grapes will find them in the back yard of Charles Heisler's home, in Bush Addition. They are almost the size of a plum with a sweet and delicious flavor. Don't visit the place after midnight to look at this fruit for you might become a patient for the hospital, or a subject for the undertaker.
-Wm. P. Humes has already made arrangements for erecting a new barn at once, on the site of the barn burned last week. He had 150 chickens in a coop that were not burned. Of these about a hundred were missing, and the rest hanging been roasted by the barn fire, but not to where they were roasted elsewhere.
-The members of Co. B, of Bellefonte, are shaking hands with themselves over the good tidings received here that the Fifth regiment has been invited to join the big parade in Philadelphia, on Monday, October 4th, during Founders' Week. They will leave here on Sunday morning, October 3rd, and return on the following Tuesday.
-Fred Smith, of Rush township, the Democratic candidate for sheriff, was in town the past week. He says he has finished up his farm work and from this on will devote more time to calling on the voters throughout the county. Fred is a good, honest fellow and would make a good sheriff. His strong support will come from the farmers.
-Miss Maud Miller has resigned her position as a stenographer in the office of the Potter Hoy Hardware Co. and has accepted a similar position in the main office of Central Railroad of Pennsylvania; she was a student of W. R. Gainforth, who speaks very highly of the proficiency of Miss Miller to fill the position to which she has been called. Miss Miller takes the place of Miss Louise Arrigo whose recent illness will prevent her taking up the work again.
-Thursday the Williamsport and Howard base ball teams came together on the diamond at Meadow Brook Park. The Howard boys are all right in the Centre-Clinton League but when they run against professional players that's something entirely different. The best that can be said is that it was a good practice game for the millionaires from Howard from whom they were able to secure some elegant pointers. The score was 17 to 6 in favor of Williamsport, but it was evident that there could have been some whitewashing going on if the team from the Lumber City had desired to enter the whitewashing business. Nevertheless, Howard played a splendid game.
-Under the direction of Dr. Kirk, chairman of the Water Committee, a light brick and concrete gutter has been laid on South Water street, in front of the big spring. This will do much to prevent the drainage water from saturating the ground around the spring, which might have a tendency to pollute the water in the spring. It is all right to take every precaution against the contamination of the beautiful fountain which for a century has served the town from the awful plagues and epidemics often found in less favored communities. The iron fence around the spring is also being repaired and straightened so as to give it a neat and attractive appearance, as an evidence to strangers that we appreciate what we have in the large basin of pure sparkling water.
-On Tuesday evening Frank Steele, son of W. L. Steele, an employe of the Central Pennsylvania Railroad, returned from a vacation of ten days among friends in New York State. He had the distinguished honor of riding on the train from Niagara Falls to Buffalo with the next President of the United States, Hon. William Jennings Bryan. All along the line, at every station, he was greeted by an immense crowd of people, anxious to get to see the Moses of modern times who will lead the people out of the wilderness, away from trusts and combines. At Towanda Mr. Bryan made a speech which pleased our young friend Steele so much that it is probable when the time comes he will help the Nebraska to get there. He has seen and heard the man and he should follow his honest convictions.

-Hadley's moving pictures at the opera house, Thursday, October 3rd.
-W. A. Lyon left for Lewisburg on Tuesday where he purchased a car load of cattle.
-This evening a euchre will be held in the Catholic Hall on Bishop street. Go and give them a lift.
-Mrs. Anderson, of Jersey City, N. J., is visiting at the home of Mrs. Isaac Thomas, on Thomas street.
-Mrs. Sarah Fulton returned on Tuesday from a pleasant visit among friends in Boalsburg and Lemont.
-H. J. Clinger, of Williamsport, was in Bellefonte Wednesday relative to the adjusting of the logs on the Wm. P. Humes Barn.
-Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cunningham, formerly of Bellefonte, but now of Beaver Falls, are rejoicing over the arrival of a little daughter.
-James Cook, superintendent of the Berwin & White mines at Horatio, Jefferson county, spent Sunday in Bellefonte as the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cook.
-Monday Mr. and Mrs. Claud Cook took their daughter, Miss Grace Cook, to Germantown where she entered the Walnut Lane Seminary. From there Mr. and Mrs. Cook took a coast trip to Baltimore, Boston and Portland, Maine. They expect to be absent about three or four weeks.
-One of the attractive features at the Theatrum this week was the story of Samson, perhaps the strongest man of whom there is any record. It was beautifully illustrated. These are the kind of pictures Kruger is continually giving his patrons. Go see them and you will be pleased.
-Major James H. Allport and Col. S. B. King, of Barnesboro, well known to many Bellefonte people, have gone to Idaho in search of rest and recreation. The objective point is Bitter Root range about 100 miles west of Yellowstone park. Major Allport had made previous visits to the Rockies.
-The Electric Theatre continues to be a popular place of amusement each evening and the large attendance is ample testimony of the peoples' appreciation. The interior of the entire opera house has been changed, making a very desirable place to go and spend an hour, each evening. It is all right.
-The first football game of the season in Bellefonte will be played on Saturday, September 26, at 2:15 sharp and not on Friday 25, as heretofore announced. The Punksatunewy high school team, which is one of the best school teams in the state, will battle with the Academy eleven, which is already known to be composed of championship stuff.
-Special labor services will be held in the Bellefonte Presbyterian church to which all the labor and civic orders of the town are cordially invited. Next Sunday is the time set for this meeting and the service will be held at 11:30 a. m. to which the public is cordially invited. Dr. J. Allison Platts, the pastor, will preach the sermon taking for his text, "Labor together with God."
-J. C. Houser, District Attorney of Mifflin county, W. F. Burlew and G. B. Wichaupt, of Lewistown, arrived in Bellefonte Tuesday morning in an automobile. They came over the Seven Mountains and found the road rather rough. In the evening quite a number of gentlemen here met the visitors at the Bush House. This was Mr. Houser's first visit here and he was surprised on seeing such a pretty and substantial town.
-On Thursday evening, October 1st, the attraction in Garman's Opera house will be "The Old Folks of Indianan." Almost every type of character that can be found in an Indiana village is introduced and there is just enough of "villainy" in the plot to furnish the essential zest to a tale that narrates the aspiration, and "ups and downs" of humanity in a little country village. There is the interesting story of the disobedient son, who has married against his parents wishes, which forms the theme of his brilliant play, "Indian Folks," combined with truth to life, ironical wit, real country scenes, and above all it has an atmosphere that will carry it for years to come before enthusiastic audiences.
-On Monday evening the students of the Bellefonte Academy started out to put a member of the Freshmen class through a course of sprouts, or in other words, initiate him. Instead of carrying out their plans, they finally lined up in front of the First National Bank steps where a jollification meeting was held over the football victory on Saturday when they downed State. The speakers were Col. Hugh S. Taylor, Col. J. Spangler and Dr. J. Allison Platts, all of whom praised the Academy for the efficient work it has been doing and commended the students for the interest they are taking in the field of sports. They also urged them to pursue their studies with the same enthusiasm and zeal as they exercise in celebrating a grand athletic victory.

Meeting of Station Agents.
On Wednesday the station agents along the Lewisburg & Tyrone railroad met at the Bush House, to receive instructions from Chief Clerk John L. Miller, representing Division Freight Agent, J. M. Gross, of Altoona, as to the use of a new filing cabinet for tariffs. Following the meeting Landlord Daggett took them in charge so that them to an elegant repast. The following agents were present: H. L. Hutchinson, Bellefonte; P. C. Bradford, Lemont; S. A. Ishler, Oak Hill; J. R. Lee, Linden Hall; W. F. Bradford, Centre Hall; W. L. Campbell, Rising Springs; G. W. Radel, Coburn; W. A. Odenkirk, Glenn Iron; A. G. Grove, Milmont; S. W. Johnson, Mifflinburg; S. A. Anderson, Vicksburg.
Even the collector draws the line at accumulating a lot of birthdays.
Duck season in Pennsylvania opened September 1.

HISTORICAL NOTES OF BRUSHVALLEY

intentions honest. She died February 16, 1871, aged 85 years, 4 months and 8 days.
The pioneers were a pious and prayerful people with a strain of the mysterious and occult in their intellectuality. This is evidenced by their belief in spirits, omens, tokens and haunted places. Notwithstanding, they were strong souls relying on their faith in God, to protect them from harm and evil.
Luther Frank has in his possession an heirloom which came down to him through his father, the late Judge Samuel Frank, and was by him received through his wife, who was a daughter of George Brungart, Sr. It consists of a letter printed in German text, similar in style to the old "Dankschein" (baptism certificate or marriage certificate). It denoted letters as if by the Almighty himself and dropped down from Heaven by an angel near Magdeburg, Germany, in 1783. Its contents are a series of exhortations to obey the Commandments and live a religious life. Those who possess it and live up to its precepts shall have their homes immune from lightning or fire. Those who ridicule it are condemned. It was sold by a peddler at $1 a piece about 80 years ago. Many framed them and posted them in their bed chambers, with firm belief in their protective influence. They called it "Der Himmel's Brief."
There is in the possession of Luther Frank, the Rebersburg Pharmacist, a copy of the memorial of the Rev. Ludwig Albrecht William Ilgen, one of the early ministers in Brush, Penns, and Sugar valleys, who died of apoplexy, August 20, 1823, at his home. It was printed in German by Amos Stroth and the language employed is an elegant specimen of pure and vigorous German. It gives a full account of the funerals and the addresses made by Revs. J. P. Schindel, of Sunbury, and Rev. J. H. Fries, of Youngmanstown. There were over 1000 persons present.
The only weeping willow in the Union cemetery at Rebersburg stands upon the grave of Elizabeth M. Magee, and has defied every effort to destroy it. It was planted there by her brother, the late Reuben M. Magee, of Philadelphia, at her request. Lizzie was an invalid for twelve years and suffered patiently her lingering illness. During the last year of her life, she went into trances during which periods she lay as one dead. When she revived she told of Celestial scenes she beheld while in that state of suspended sensations. She died August 9, 1869, aged 37 years, 5 months and 5 days. Upon her tomb is engraved a weeping willow. She composed several poems during her sickness. Below is the last one:
Composed by Elizabeth Magee on her sick bed.
Weep not for me when I am dead.
Let not one tear for me be shed.
With joy I leave this vale of weal.
And bid farewell to all below.
Weep not for me when I am gone.
To join God's angels round the throne;
To sing my Savior's dying love.
And rave in flowery plains above.
Weep not for me, for I am blessed.
From all my sorrows I'm released;
From all my woes I'll soon be free.
To praise my Lord in endless day.
Weep not for me, Oh friends so kind.
That I the Kingdom first will find.
Though parted now, we'll meet again.
On Jordan's banks to praise our King.
Weep not for me, O mother dear.
To join your daughter's voice distant hear.
Prepare to meet your child above.
And there we'll sing redeeming love.
Farewell to sorrow, toil and pain.
Add all the world calls good or gain;
In Heaven above I'll happy be.
Then, Oh, my friends, weep not for me.
Another good woman who nearly attained the century mark, was Mrs. Margaret Ruhl, relict of Henry Ruhl, who was among the pioneers of Centre county. The simple inscription on her tablet in the Ruhl plot in Union cemetery is that she died January 2, 1875, aged 95 years, 1 month. For many years before her demise she resided alone in a house near Ruhl's Mills, in Sugar valley, provided for by her son, the late Dr. John Ruhl. Mrs. William Kramer, of Millheim, who is a grand daughter, (Anna Mary Ruhl), has recently placed a cement floor over the family plot, where rest the bodies of her parents, John and Elizabeth, (nee Heckman), and her sister, Catharine Shaffer, wife of John Shaffer, and her brother Jasper, together with their grandmother.
It was announced a few days ago in the Philadelphia papers that Rev. David Ellis, the last survivor of the Monitor, which disabled the Merrimac in the battle of Hampton Roads, in the war of 1861-5—had answered the last roll call at Anville, Pa. Many people in Centre county and adjoining ones, remember him well as the book-keeper of Pardee, Cooke & Co., at their lumbering operations in Centre, Clinton and Union counties. Before he became a man of God he was known as a jovial and harmless, happy-go-lucky fellow, inclined to bibulosity. It is related that he attended camp meeting in 1866 at Rebersburg, and there all the small boys, and some of the girls, made his acquaintance, for he treated them promiscuously to peanuts, candies and water melons, and then exhorted them not to follow his example—not to drink and carouse! Many will remember John Burd's refreshment department, at which the late Henry Brungart was a clerk, on the old camp ground. Ellis was indulging in one of his usual caprices, with an army of small boys at his heels, and this annoyed the clerk who ordered him away. The only response Ellis made was: "Are you the chief bull dog here?"

CAMPAIGN SUBSCRIPTIONS. Appeal From Democratic National Chairman Norman E. Mack.

The chairman of the Democratic National committee, N. E. Mack, has requested THE CENTRE DEMOCRAT to ask for and receive popular subscriptions to the Democratic campaign fund from all those who are interested in the success of Bryan and Kern and a Democratic Congress.
THE CENTRE DEMOCRAT will, therefore, receive such subscriptions and will forward the same to C. N. Haskell, treasurer of the Democratic National committee.
Checks should be made payable to C. N. Haskell, treasurer, and they will be forwarded, together with cash payments, to the Democratic National committee.
The national committee urges this matter upon the great mass of the people, whose fight this year's campaign will be, and specially requests promptness as well as liberality consistent with individual means and convictions. If you believe in Democratic principles and want to see Bryan elected, back up your faith by "works"—do something practical, that will aid the National Committee in meeting its legitimate expenses.
Wm. Jennings Bryan is making a noble fight in behalf of the people, and against the great corporations, trusts, and special privileges that have identified themselves with the opposing party, and furnish funds for corrupting the voters.
The following is a list of contributors to this fund at the time of going to press. We hope to hear from many more before Oct. 1st as that is the time we expect to send our first remittance to aid Mr. Bryan in this campaign:
Wm. C. Heine R. Shreeve
J. B. Howe R. K. Kestelme
A. B. Kimport R. A. Beck
Geo. W. Rumberger James Schofield
James H. Gori Hammon Sechler
D. F. Fortney L. H. Gettiff
W. D. Zerby H. C. Taylor
W. G. Runkle M. A. Kirk
J. K. Johnston W. T. Speer
E. F. Nagney S. A. McQuistan
Chas. R. Kurtz P. T. Kern
M. A. Mingle J. A. Noonan
J. D. Hunter J. L. Orvis
