

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

H. C. Poorman and wife, of Nittany, were pleasant callers.

To-day, October 1st, the hunting season opens in this state for most kinds of game.

Sharp frost Wednesday morning—mercury down to 32, which closed out the dry September.

Wes Whitman, of Centre Hall, favored our sanetum with a call, serving this week as a juror.

William Steele, Jr., and wife left Friday for Pine Glenn, where they spent Sunday with Mrs. Steele's parents.

Hon. J. W. Kepler accompanied by Mr. Goss, of Pine Grove Mills, were pleasant callers on Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Lillie Resides, who lives at the foot of Muncy mountain, near Valleyview, was a caller at this office on Saturday.

Mrs. Fred Blair and two children, of Seattle, are visiting in Bellefonte at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Blair, on Spring street.

If you want to see something real good in the line of a fresh, pretty love story go and see the "Indiana Folks" at the opera house this evening.

James Harshberger, who for several years was an assistant in Krumrine's drug store, is now at State College taking a thorough course in forestry.

Miss Nell V. Price, of Altoona, arrived in Bellefonte on Friday to visit her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Spang, at the Brockerhoff house.

Newton Hess, who has the reputation for building the best public roads in Centre county, up in Ferguson township, is attending court this week.

The other day W. H. Musser, of Bellefonte, visited the Inquirer office in Philadelphia where they took his picture and gave him quite a complimentary write-up.

Sunday morning at 9.30 o'clock Company B will leave Bellefonte for Philadelphia where the boys will take part in the big parade on Monday. They will return on Tuesday.

Among the young ladies who have left for school elsewhere are as follows: Virginia Dale, Staunton, Virginia; Madeline Rowe, Cresson; Ann Lyon, Letitz; Sarah Hastings, Briaciff, on the Hudson.

It is worthy of note that all the springs, for several miles outside of Bellefonte, have kept up their normal flow, during all the late dry spell. The number of these springs is something near half a hundred.

The concrete walk along the front and sides of the court house lawn is completed, and is a long needed improvement well done. The old sort of a walk was an eyesore, and not at all thing creditable to the town.

W. I. Secrist, Justice of Peace and agent of the American Express company at Johnstown, Elk county, was in Bellefonte Saturday on his way from Millheim, where he had been called by the serious illness of his father.

Blaine Fiedler, son of James A. Fiedler, of Williamsport, who had been visiting in Bellefonte at the home of his uncle T. Clayton Brown, became suddenly ill on Tuesday night and on Wednesday morning left for his home. It was his intention to remain here until after the fair.

George Emerick and Harry Harper, of Centre Hall, gave a call. Mr. Harper had employment at the steel works near Lewistown for a few years and the panic put him, and hundreds of others at that point, out of a job. Harry informs us the situation over there at the steel works is a serious one and no outlook for improvement.

After spending several days in Bellefonte with his parents, Harris B. Heylman left for his home in Homestead, where he is cashier of the Savings Bank and Trust Co. of that place. He has gained so much in avardpouls that, had we not known his strong proclivities toward the temperance cause, we would have been inclined to think he was taking an eye opener once in awhile.

Boyd Cowher, of Bellefonte, has struck a good thing, and if he works it up it will be all right. He has purchased a moving picture machine with which he will travel all through the smaller towns of this and adjoining counties. He has a splendid equipment and his shows thus far have proved very satisfactory. This will give the people living in the country an opportunity to see a moving picture show equal to those in the larger towns and cities.

On Saturday afternoon a large audience assembled on Meadow Brook Park to witness the game of football between Punxsutawney and the Academy team. This year the Academy boys are on their dignity, and it seems they are no respecter of persons, so the visitors were compelled to return home minus a scalp, the score being 11 to 6 in favor of the Academy. The order on the grounds was all that could be desired. The crowd kept away from the field thus everybody had a chance to see each play which always makes a game of this kind interesting.

On Sunday morning Rev. John Hewitt preached a plain and practical sermon on loyalty to the church. His discourse was filled with brilliant thoughts and illustrations of the subject he was trying to instill into the minds of his hearers. The fact that a man has his name on the church roll is no guarantee that he will be saved from fire and brimstone, or whatever punishment there may be in the hereafter for those who neglect to live consistently with the vows and obligations he made when he professed religion. Rev. Hewitt's sermon had the right tingle.

Friday afternoon Samuel Shaffer, who has charge of the stone quarry of the Bellefonte Furnace Co., had his right leg broken in two places above the ankle. He attempted to jump on one of the small cars in the quarry when he slipped and fell. His leg was caught between the flanges of the wheels and the ties so that the flesh was slightly bruised. When Mr. Shaffer discovered the extent of his injury he took hold of his foot and pulled the leg until the pieces of bones came together. He was taken to his home on Curtin street where the bones were reset, and he is getting along as well as can be expected. This is the second or third time Mr. Shaffer has been called upon to suffer an affliction of the same character.

The candidates are on deck this week in attendance at court.

Men's $3 felt boots $2 15. Fair week only. At Yeagers.

B. F. Burd, an acquaintance of half a century, of Aaronsburg, gave us a call while serving as a juror.

James McClure has improved his property twenty-five per cent by moving a flag stone pavement laid on South Spring street.

Rally day in the Methodist church on Sunday proved a great success. Rev. Stein, the pastor, was much pleased with the outcome.

Lilly G. Reeder, wife of the late Col. W. F. Reeder, is representing the Bellefonte Chapter of D. A. R. at the State conference which is held this week at York.

Dr. George Fairlamb, one of Bellefonte's oldest residents, has been seriously ill in his room at the Bush House. His condition is growing gradually worse instead of better.

W. S. Mallalieu, Joseph Barnes and Charles Donachy left Monday morning for Harrisburg where they will attend a banquet given to the employees of the Bell Telephone Company.

The Bellefonte hospital needs all the help they can get, and one of the agencies towards its prosperity is the Ladies Auxiliary which will hold a rummage sale in Petrikin Hall during the first week in October.

The reason our friend H. S. Ray, proprietor of the Brockerhoff House, is feeling in excellent spirits is over the recent arrival of that little daughter which came to help Sarah and Phil make things lively about the house.

This evening Mrs. Thomas A. Shoemaker will give a reception from 7.30 to 10 o'clock at her home on the corner of Allegheny and S. Curtin street. An offering of gold, silver or paper will be lifted for the benefit of the St. John's Catholic church.

Rev. Armstrong of Warriorsmark, was present at the regular meeting of the Centre lodge I. O. O. F. Thursday evening and made a very appropriate address to the members and those who received the initiatory degree during the evening.

By close of last week Col. Reynolds finished the harvesting of his peach crop, and reports the yield as being 14,000 bushels which were readily disposed of with demand for more. One party has applied for his entire next year's crop. His peach pickers were paid three cents per bushel.

On Thursday Joseph Diehl, of Howard, who had the disposition of the large peach crop on Col. W. F. Reynolds' farm, shipped the last car load. The total crop was almost twelve thousand bushels. The gathering and assorting them was a big job, and gave work to a large number of men at good wages.

Capt. W. H. Fry, of Pine Grove Mills, was in Bellefonte Friday and was accompanied by his son, Hugh L., who left for Philadelphia, where he is attending the University of Pennsylvania, being a student in the veterinary department. This is Hugh's third year at school and he has just been appointed house surgeon at the University.

Thursday Christ Beizer, William Waddle, Hugh Crider, L. H. Spang and DeLaun, Stewart took in the Lewistown fair. The crowd was the largest ever witnessed inside the enclosure. The boys all came home with their heads up and just as much money in their pockets as when they left, except what it cost for legitimate expenses, which was good.

On Wednesday evening of last week while the Buffalo Run passenger train was on its way to Bellefonte it ran into a drove of cows about two miles west of Coleville. Two of the animals were killed, the carcass of one rolling under the engine which was thrown off the track. No damage was done, but the train was a little delayed on account of the accident.

This evening, at Garman's opera house, the sweet, wholesome story of country life will be told in the great pastoral play, "Indiana Folks." It is another "Old Homestead" play which has been approved of by the press, public and the pulpit. As a picture of Lullian life the play is remarkable for its realism, which, at times, brings forth applause and laughter while at other times the eyes of those in the audience are bathed in tears. Throughout the clever chain of events runs the golden thread of a unique love story.

Though you may have seen the Hadley pictures before, do not fail to see the wonderful new collection to be presented here. Mr. Hadley's pictures are selected with rare and careful discrimination and every effort is extended to gratify the various tastes of his patrons. The program abounds in comedy, wholesome fun with all semblance of vulgarity eliminated, magic pictures, beautiful and interesting travel views, interspersed with novelties and sensations. This program is guaranteed to please the most fastidious of the Garman opera house Saturday, October 3rd.

Monday morning Miss Sarah Bayard left for Williamsport to enter the large department store of C. N. Goldenberg as a saleslady. She expects to be there for awhile, and if everything is satisfactory, she will remain. Miss Bayard is a careful, prudent young lady, highly honored and respected by a large circle of friends. For a number of years she was a saleslady in the Racket store here, and in that capacity, through her genial and courteous manners, proved a valuable help toward building up a large patronage. It is to be hoped that her lot may be cast in a pleasant place where her efforts to please will be appreciated.

Ivan V. Walker, the third son of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Walker, of Bellefonte, has decided to be a lawyer and he will tackle blackstone in the law office of N. B. Spangler, Esq., under whose tutelage the young man ought to develop into a Daniel Webster. Ivan graduated with high honors from the High School last June, which shows he has the snap that is required for a young man who desires to enter the profession of law. He has an excellent opportunity to become a noted barrister, and all he needs to do now is to keep his mind off the pretty girls and on his books, until he becomes master of the situation and he'll be O. K.

Jack Dale, son of Mrs. Florence Dale, left this week for the Stanton Military School in Virginia.

P. A. Hendershot has opened a general blacksmith and repair shop in a building opposite the water works.

Those who desire to be well entertained should attend the Electric Theatre every night in the week. The pictures are great.

Mrs. Jennie Hastings, wife of the late Hon. H. W. Hastings, will spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Ross Hickok, at Harrisburg.

William Miller, formerly agent here for the American Express Co., has accepted a position with a firm in Chicago and is working for them this week in Snow Shoe.

Rev. Fred Barry is attending the Lutheran synod, which is in session at Newport, Pa., accompanied by Clement Dale, Esq., as delegate from the Bellefonte Lutheran church.

John I. Olewine left Tuesday for Lewisburg and returned Wednesday afternoon. While there he inspected the journal office and was much pleased with what he saw there. The new way of setting type is what took his eye.

Miss Madelon Schiff, of New York City, a school mate of Miss Nellie Conley, at Birmingham school, has been visiting the latter since last Thursday. She is a very attractive young lady and is making a host of friends during her stay here.

On Monday morning Dr. and Mrs. Ambrose Schmidt, their son William, and Mrs. Schmidt's mother, Mrs. Stauffer, left Bellefonte for Atlantic City where they will spend two weeks. During the pastor's absence there will be no services in the Reformed church.

Mrs. Albert E. Schadd returned Saturday from a visit with relatives in Punxsutawney. She was accompanied home by her father, B. F. Leitzel, who remained here over Sunday and returned to his home Monday. He was accompanied home by Miss Eva Dawson who will spend the winter there.

Next Monday night, if you want to see "The Devil" go to Garman's opera house. This is a clever play full of amusing situations which are bound to please the large number of patrons of the play house. It is staged by an excellent company of distinguished actors headed by George Lawrence and Miss Florence Langden. If you desire a good, hearty laugh don't miss seeing this show.

One of the sights of interest in Bellefonte on Tuesday afternoon was Frank Eckenroth swinging around the top of the Presbyterian steeple, about 125 feet in the air. He seemed perfectly at ease in his perilous position while several hundred people, in the streets, watched his manœuvres with fear and trembling. Mr. Eckenroth has taken the contract for replacing shingles, where needed, and painting the steeple.

When Archibald Allison, the Bellefonte plumber, came to town forty years ago, more or less, he drove a beautiful black mare which was the admiration of all who saw her. After she had gotten up in years the animal was sent over to Pennsylvania where it ended its days on the Allison farm. The hair was of such a soft texture that the hide was sent away where it was converted into a handsome laprobe which will be warm and will last for years.

The Rev. James E. Dunning, a few years since a resident of Bellefonte and member of the High school faculty, on Friday night of this week in the Methodist church, under the auspices of the Eporth League, will present a stereopticon, "An Evening in China," an illustrated version of the "Awakening of the sleeping Giant of the Orient" and the present missionary movement and conditions of that interesting field. No admission charge. Silver offering at the door to defray expenses. That's all.

Wednesday evening closed the lease of Howard Ruyter for the Theatorium and T. Clayton Brown will hereafter be in charge. Mr. Brown has secured the best moving picture machine on the market, which will be operated as usual by Rex Barlett. Mr. Brown will also continue the illustrated songs. The name of the place will be changed from "Theatorium" to the "Scenic," which is rather a pretty name. The house will be closed on Thursday and Friday evenings in order to install the new machine and make other necessary changes. Saturday night will be Mr. Brown's opening.

There are entirely too many young boys in Bellefonte, under the age of sixteen years, who are smoking cigarettes. It is a notable fact in our schools that the boy who smokes cigarettes is the boy who stands at the foot of the class. The little coffin nails so befuddle his brain that he soon becomes unfit for study or anything else that is useful. This being true, there are parties in Bellefonte who are interesting themselves in these boys to the extent of trying to find out who is violating the law. The offenders are liable to a fine of $300 and imprisonment which is pretty stiff. It is a nuisance and a detriment to both the home and school and it should be stopped.

At the last meeting of the United Brethren conference Rev. Newton S. Bailey, formerly of Bellefonte, was appointed to the circuit in Centre county composed of the churches at Houserville, Valleyview, Waddle and Julian. Ever since he received a commission to preach he had been located in the coal mining districts of Cambria and adjoining counties where he did a good work. There are about 180 communicants on his new charge which will keep him busy making pastoral calls and getting up sermons. He has one advantage with reference to preparing sermons, and that is he can just turn the barrel upside down. Rev. Bailey reached Bellefonte Monday and on Tuesday started out to get acquainted with his new parishioners.

Monday evening Orie Laird, son of the late R. A. Laird, arrived in Bellefonte, being absent twenty-three years. When he left here he was a mere boy, working for John D. Sourbeck who, at that time, had his store in the Brockerhoff House block, now occupied by H. S. Ray as a writing room. Since leaving here he has become identified with a large electrical firm, with headquarters in Minneapolis, Minn., where he has a wife and a family and a beautiful home. Thus his lot has been cast in a pleasant place, surrounded by all the comforts of life. We mention this to show what an energetic young man can do who is cast out on the cold and indifferent world to scratch for himself. Any young man of his snap and get-up deserves credit. Mr. Laird spent a couple of days among his friends in Bellefonte.

Men's $3 heavy shoes $1.98. Fair week only. At Yeagers.

Rev. Bixler, pastor of the Rebersburg Lutheran charge, was a pleasant caller—serving as juror.

The wedding of James A. McClain, of Spangler, and Miss Emma Holiday, of Bellefonte will take place in November.

George Bayard, of Bellefonte, has secured a position as clerk at The LeRoy Hotel, at Altoona, the proprietor being Walter Glenn.

Will Keichline now has his new garage on Water street completed and it is one of the best garages for its size in this part of the State. Though it does not look it from the outside, it is roomy enough to house about twenty machines. It is equipped with a turntable just inside the entrance and this enables him to turn every inch of space to the best advantage possible. The garage is connected with his machine shop by a large door so that automobiles can be run from the shop to the garage, or vice versa.

Hayes, of Clintondale, also survive.

MISS MARTHA FARNER—died suddenly near her home, at Colyer, Sunday 20th. The lady lived alone, and about that time took a coughing spell. Realizing that the consequences might be serious she started for the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Showers. On the way she had a hemorrhage of the lungs, and died before help came. Her age was sixty-four years, eight months and seventeen days. She is survived by two brothers, namely: Wm. C. Farnor, of Colyer; and John Thomas Farnor, of Hydetown, Crawford county.

MRS. BESSIE HEATON—wife of William Heaton of Houserville, died at the Bellefonte hospital Tuesday evening from septicemia. She was brought to the hospital on September ninth and underwent a serious operation. Following the operation she rallied and there were hopes of her recovery. Later she took worse and her death ensued at the time mentioned. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Huey and was born at Fillmore, being aged only 23 years, 5 months and 5 days. Surviving her husband, father and mother and a number of brothers and sister. The remains were taken to the home of her parents where the funeral was held Thursday afternoon. Interment was made at the Meyers cemetery.

MRS. GEORGE ISHLER—Died Friday morning at her home in Tusseyville. She had been ill for several years but was not confined to her bed until two weeks prior to her demise. The immediate cause of her death was dropsy. Her age was 84 years, 6 months and 24 days. Her maiden name was Miss Arndt, and she was well and favorably known in the community where she spent most of her life. She was a member of the Reformed church. Her husband died about forty-two years ago, and was a man of prominence in the community. She was an aunt of W. A. Ishler, of Bellefonte, and is survived by two sons, John and George, both of whom reside at Tusseyville. The funeral took place Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment at Tusseyville.

REV. JAMES WELSH BOAL, D. D.—died at Centre Hall on Sunday, was a native of Harris township and was aged 70 years, 2 months and 15 days. He graduated from Lafayette College in 1868, with the A. B. degree later receiving the degree of A. M. The degree of D. D. was from the Princeton Theological seminary, class of '71. He was licensed October 6, 1870, and ordained in October, 1871, by the Presbytery of Huntingdon. During his ministry Rev. Boal served the following churches: Saxton and Yellow Creek, Pa., 1871-75; Washington church, 1875-87; Lycoming church, Williamsport, 1887-93. His health breaking down in the spring of 1893 he returned to Centre Hall to recuperate, and filled the Presbyterian pulpit during a vacancy. In 1894 he accepted a call to Port Carbon and served the church there until 1904 when he again returned to Centre Hall, and frequently filled different pulpits in the county including Bellefonte. During the ministry he served as chairman of the probationers committee on theology and foreign missions, moderator of Presbytery and delegate to general assemblies five times. Pure of heart, noble in words and deeds—the noblest work of God. Dr. Boal was married twice, his first wife being Elizabeth Simmington, of Milton, to whom he had one daughter, Anna Elizabeth, who died in 1902. In 1877 he married Miss Elizabeth Baum, of Shippensburg, Pa., who survives him with one son, Rev. James H. Boal, of Jasper, Minn. In the death of Dr. Boal the church has lost one of its able ministers, devout and always zealous in the Lord's work, and beloved in the charges he served. BROOKS—WILLIAMS.

Mr. William J. Brooks and Miss Velta Williams, both of Curtis, were married last Wednesday, the 23rd, at the residence of Rev. W. C. Robbins in the city of Williamsport, Lycoming Co. It had been the intention of the bride to have the wedding ceremony take place at her home, and invite a considerable number of their numerous relatives and special friends. The protracted illness of her mother and brother however precluded this possibility. Mrs. Robbins being a relative of the bride, it was decided to have the wedding festivities take place at her home. It was a delightful occasion marked only by a single feature, that the impossibility of the presence of the family. The wedding was a quiet one, only a few being present. The bride was handsomely robed and carried a beautiful bouquet of roses. The impressive rite ceremony was performed, and after refreshments the party took the train for a week's trip to Buffalo Niagara Falls and Canada. Mr. Brooks is well known in Curtis where he has served for several years as station agent for the P. R. R. Co. He is a young man of high christian character and excellent business qualifications, and popular in the best circles of that community. The bride is also well known, having a host of friends in Curtis, Bellefonte, Lock Haven and other contiguous places. For several years her brother has been a hopeless invalid, and for the past two years her mother has thus been confined almost continuously to her room. With loving devotion she had spent her whole time in ministering to them. An aunt takes the place in her brief absence.
