

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Mrs. James A. Beaver left Thursday for a visit with friends at Millintown.

Mrs. Lucy Buck, of Harrisburg, is visiting Mrs. Margaret Hutchinson of Howard street.

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Tressler returned Friday evening from a very pleasant visit to Indiana.

Miss Ione Donachy departed Friday for Reading to visit her sister, Mrs. Frank Derstine.

Gen. James A. Beaver has been holding court in Philadelphia and will be absent several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Kennedy Johnson spent Sunday in Mt. Eagle as the guests of Mr. Johnson's parents.

Had sharp frosts mornings of 1st to 5th, not having harmed anything—corn being well matured.

Frances Confer, one of Yarnell's pleasant and handsome young ladies, illumined our sanctum a few days ago.

Clement Dale, Esq., left Thursday for Newport, Perry county, where he spent several days transacting legal business.

William Overton a nephew of Rev. Overton, delivered a very interesting address on "Wisdom," at Coleville, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Miles P. Heaton and daughter, Lucetta, of Yarnell, spent Sunday in Bellefonte as the guest of her father, James H. Stine.

Captain and Mrs. Heather, of the Salvation Army, moved from their former home on Spring street to the Hayes dwelling on Decatur street.

Rev. J. Allison Platts, pastor of the Bellefonte Presbyterian church, left Monday for Alexandria, Huntingdon county, where he attended the Huntingdon Presbytery.

Mrs. Agnes Moore, who has been in Bellefonte for some time selling the household goods stored here since their moving from the town, left for her home in Philadelphia, Thursday.

Kreider Stover, of Coburn, now lumbering in West Virginia, accompanied by his friend J. Scott Bell, of Erie and president of the Bell Oil Co., favored the Democrat with a call.

Rev. J. F. Hower preached a very interesting and instructive sermon on the life of Jonah at the Evangelical church Sunday evening, taking as his text Jonah 1:3, "He paid the fare."

S. S. Blair, of Tyrone, former superintendent of the Tyrone division of the Pennsylvania railroad, was in Bellefonte Saturday morning on his way home from a hunting trip in the vicinity of Coburn.

Saturday evening the Coleville band played in front of the Scenic, which was one of the pleasing features of the opening. They gave a delightful concert which was listened to by several hundred people.

Thomas Howley has purchased the stock and fixtures of the Marion Supply Company. Mr. Howley has had a great deal of experience in the grocery business and he will doubtless make a success in his new venture.

W. B. Rankin, Harry T. Hutchinson, William Waddle, Mrs. H. W. Tate, Milton and Curt Johnston, and Gregg Curtin were among the Bellefonters who are attending Founders week in Philadelphia this week.

The Daughters of the Bellefonte Chapter of the American Revolution, were entertained Thursday evening by Miss Mira Humes and Miss Helen Overton, at the residence of Mrs. Louisa V. Harris, on Allegheny street.

D. I. Willard this week opened his gents furnishing store, in the room formerly occupied by James Harris, the tailor. In connection with his gents furnishings he will take in a small stock of drygoods and take orders for clothing.

Street Commissioner Samuel Showers is repairing South Spring street in a manner that will be durable. The foundation is being made with tough clay and stone from the lime kilns on the top of which there will be a couple layers of crushed lime stone.

A large audience was present at the Methodist church Friday evening to hear the illustrated talk on China by Rev. James E. Dunning, of Osceola. Rev. Dunning is very clear and forceful speaker and his address was listened to with great interest from beginning to end.

Robert Somerville, of Winburn, but formerly of Bellefonte, who has been over in Scotland the past month or six weeks, sailed for home last Saturday, and the probable excuse for his trip abroad is contained in the announcement of his engagement to Miss Jennie Philip, of Dundee. The date for the wedding has not yet been made public.

Your sweetheart would like to see "A Good Fellow." Why don't you be a good fellow and take her? This is just a pointer, you'll be sorry if you don't accept it. You'll laugh till you forget your troubles. Trouble and "A Good Fellow" can't live in the same town. There is not a dull line in it and the situations are full of comedy. It comes to Garman's opera house this evening.

If you want to meet "a good fellow" who will drive away the blues, go to Garman's opera house this evening, and see the latest comedy by Mark E. Swan—who also wrote "The Top of the World" which made such a hit in New York and Chicago recently. If you're happy it will make you happier, if you have troubles it will make you forget them—it you love to laugh "A Good Fellow" will give you your heart's desire. Laughter, laughter, laughter, contagious innocent and hearty! That is the whole tale of "A Good Fellow."

With sprightly step and soldierly bearing, Company B, of Bellefonte, marched down High street from their armory to the Pennsylvania passenger station at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning and left on the train for Philadelphia, where they participated in the parade on Monday. The soldier boys looked their best in the new dress uniforms of dark blue coats, light blue trousers and a light blue cord, with tassel, across the breast, while the caps are fashioned after those worn by the regular army. It is clearly evident that the National Guard of Pennsylvania made a creditable showing in the Quaker City. One of the special attractions connected with the local company was the bugle corps which is composed of expert musicians, and attracts special attention wherever they go.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dorman, of Penn street, are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy.

The Bellefonte curb market is about over for the season, as the usual supply of garden truck and fruit is gone.

Mrs. C. L. Arnold, of Quincy, Mass., gave our sanctum a pleasant call, and says Bryan is having bright chances up there.

Milton Johnston, of Bellefonte, has been given the contract for laying the concrete pavement around the Orphanage, on Pine street.

Hon. James Schofield went to New York City the other day to attend the funeral of his brother, Frank Schofield, who died quite suddenly.

The Misses McDermott, the dress-makers, have leased one of the rooms in the brick building over the law office of W. Harrison Walker, on High street.

Miss Madelon Schiff, of New York, a school mate of Miss Nellie Conley, who had been a guest at the Conley home, left Saturday afternoon for Philadelphia.

Miss E. May Bryan returned home on Thursday afternoon from an extended visit with friends in Tyrone, Altoona and other places. She is the daughter of John Bryan.

Thursday evening the first meeting, this season, of the local D. A. R. was held at the home of Mrs. Louise Harris, the hostess being Miss Myra Humes and Miss Helen Overton.

Mrs. Sarah Satterfield, of Bellefonte, has decided to quit housekeeping, and her home on Bishop street, and will spend the winter in two rooms in the Benner residence on High street.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Hayes have closed their residence for the winter and departed on Thursday for Atlantic City where they will remain for a month prior to going south for the winter season.

Paul Fishburn, son of J. H. Fishburn, of near Bellefonte, has entered as a student of law in the office of J. A. B. Miller, Esq. He is a studious young man, and his friends hope to hear of his success.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Valentine celebrated the twenty-fourth anniversary of their marriage on Wednesday evening of last week by entertaining a few of their friends at their home on Curtin street.

As a matter of economy Albert E. Schad has installed a steam heating plant in the Y. M. C. A. In the same furnace will be heated the water for the baths. The idea is a good one and will be the saving of considerable money for the Association.

Joseph J. Rhoads, of Philadelphia, one of the inspection party now making their annual trip over the Pennsylvania railroad, was in Bellefonte for a few hours on Friday visiting his mother, Mrs. Daniel Rhoads, and family.

The Scenic theatre continues to play capacity houses every evening. The reason is that the public appreciates courteous treatment, clean and up-to-date films, good treatment, clean films, good ventilation, good music and all around excellent treatment. Congratulations, Brother Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. John Guisewhite have moved to Cherrytree, Indiana county, where Mr. Guisewhite has been employed for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Will Houser have also gone to that place though they will not move their household goods there at present, but will board with the Guisewhites.

J. N. Sherer, superintendent of the Bellefonte Furnace company, has been walking to and from the furnace for several days because the company horse ran off one day and injured itself so that he has not been in shape to drive since. Fortunately no person was injured.

Dr. John Sebring, of Bellefonte, is rushing the sale of Franklin automobiles. He has four machines on hand which he expects to work off his hands within the next few days. This will be putting the horseless wagon into Bellefonte at a pretty fast rate. The Doctor says he isn't in the business for his health either.

The young friends of Edward Lyon, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lyon, who is now a student at State College, will be interested in learning that he stands a very good chance of making the "Varsity" football team this fall. His playing at right tackle has so far been very acceptable to the coaches in charge of the team.

At the annual conference of the Free Methodist church, of the Oil City district, held at Oil City, to which the Bellefonte appointment belongs, J. J. Zahniser was appointed district elder. The appointments are the following: Bellefonte, J. L. Collins; Fleming, E. L. Kiffer; Philipsburg and Gearhartville, F. W. Parks.

Last week Mrs. Morris Fury was in Pittsburgh as the guest of her brothers and sons. Of course, she was greatly delighted with the sequel-entennial. Miss Margaret Furey has returned home from an extended visit through Clearfield county. Miss Furey was away from home for the purpose of regaining her health and her many friends here will be glad to know she was much benefited.

A. A. Dale spent Saturday and Sunday in Bellefonte. He reports things prospering at the Dale and Bennett lumber operation at Glenn Harris. Instead of hauling the logs from the mountain by hand they now have a dinky which is doing the work faster and better. In addition to this they have begun laying about one additional mile of railroad up through the ravine which will permit them to get the timber a section of the tract that has not been touched yet.

Those who really desire to see the next President and Vice President of the United States should take a peep at the next transparency hanging in front of Crider's Exchange. It bears excellent portraits of William Jennings Bryan and John W. Kern, who are the working-man's candidates. Go up to these rooms and hear Billy Bryan talk through the phonograph. These speakers are clear and distinct, and filled with brilliant phraseology and soundness of argument. They are making many converts to the cause of honest government that hereafter will be run by the people and for the people and not by the trusts for the trusts. These rooms are open day and night for those who desire to spend a portion of their time there.

Dr. William Lauris is again quite ill at his home on Spring street.

Don't fail to read "That $72,000 story," on the front page of this issue.

Charles F. Gillen departed on Friday for Seattle, Washington, where he has a fine position.

M. H. Snyder announces her fall millinery opening on October 9 and 10. Exclusive models will be ready; also the famous Phipps' hats.

James McClain, who had been in Philadelphia purchasing the equipment for the new hospital at Spangler, Pa., stopped off in Bellefonte on Saturday.

Robert Cole and G. W. Reese transacted business in Lock Haven on Friday. Mr. Cole is interested in a number of building houses going up in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shaughnessy, of East Howard street, announces the engagement of their daughter Agnes T. to Raymond M. Acheson, of Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Mrs. Vince Bauer, of Bellefonte, is seriously ill at her home on Bishop street. Some time ago she had an operation performed from which she never entirely recovered.

John Garthoff, one of the carriers of the Bellefonte post office, has built an addition to his residence on Willowbank street. He will have a very neat and cozy home when completed.

Joe McSulley is the man who designed and painted the sign at "The Scenic." It is something new, neat and pretty. It will be much more admired when the finishing touches are put on it by bronzing the raised letters.

During the past few weeks W. Harrison Walker, Esq., has been spending most of his time canvassing in other counties in this congressional district. Centre countians should look after his interest at home since he is making such a splendid fight.

Mrs. S. Cameron Burnside is now occupying the Graham residence on North Allegheny street, which has been occupied by Mrs. James B. Lane. Mrs. Lane will be with Mrs. Louisa Harris until she leaves for Philadelphia, which will be about the middle of October.

On Monday C. M. Parrish and Harry Fenlon received a telegram that their old home, Ebensburg, was threatened with total destruction by fire. Two hotels and six residences were destroyed before the flames were gotten under control, which was done by using dynamite. The loss will reach $75,000.

At the State Convention of the W. C. T. U. which met in Sharon this week Mrs. Evelyn R. Huston, of Clintonado, was placed at the head of the organization of "The Temperance Light Bearers." Mrs. Huston is a sister of Mrs. James P. Coburn, of Bellefonte, and for years has been devoting much of her life to the cause of temperance.

James Waddle, of Lock Haven, transacted business in Bellefonte on Saturday. He is one of the men who is on the pension roll of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. and doesn't need to care whether school keeps up or not. For a few years he was a faithful freight conductor on the Bald Eagle Valley Railroad, and is well known among the business men of Bellefonte.

John G. Bandis, the merry-go-round man, while located at Fort Matilda, was very much pleased with the treatment he received from the people of that community, and if he is living he will be back there again next season. He is on the fair ground this week making lots of money. He is a good fellow and that is the reason why he is well patronized by the people.

When business booms again the Bellefonte shirt factory will be a hummer. Mr. Ray has just received a trial order from a large jobbing house in New York City, which means if the work proves satisfactory he will receive large orders. There is no doubt but that Mr. Ray is able to prove that he can put out some of the best work of the kind to be found anywhere.

The Bellefonte Academy eleven overwhelmingly defeated the Altoona High School team at the athletic field Saturday afternoon by the score of 43 to 0. The first ten minutes of the game indicated a close contest but the Academy boys soon demonstrated their superiority over Altoona in every point of the game. The high school boys were outclassed in every respect.

One of the important days of the Jewish calendar is the Day of Atonement, or Yom Kippur. It is observed as a fast day for twenty-four hours, from evening till evening on the tenth of Tishri, which began at six o'clock Sunday evening and continued until six o'clock Monday evening. In consequence of this the Jewish stores in Bellefonte closed on Monday.

David McCloskey and wife, of Wingate, are getting ready to leave this part of the country for Illinois where they expect to spend the winter with a son whom they have not seen for twenty years. It is altogether probable Mr. McCloskey, before returning home, will visit a brother in Oklahoma. Mr. McCloskey is too much of a democrat to have been elected. So they will not depart until about the 1st of December.

Robert Taylor, the 7 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Taylor, of Bellefonte, has been seriously ill this week with diphtheria, the result of which Mr. Taylor has been quarantined in his home on Spring street. With careful treatment, however, the boy is gradually convalescent, which is cheering news to the friends of the family. If nothing unforeseen takes place it will only be a short time until the quarantine will be taken down.

There seems to be a report afloat that Ralph Mallory, the photographer, has about decided to leave Bellefonte and locate in Philadelphia. Mr. Mallory knows nothing about such arrangements, and as long as he can make an honest living here he will not run the risk of going to a large city to be housed up where he is shut off from pure air, pure water and the beauties of nature, which are to be found in this community. No, he is not going.

On Saturday evening fifteen hundred people attended the opening of "The Scenic" under the management of T. Clayton Brown. Everything passed off very satisfactorily to the people in general. Mr. Brown's idea is to get nothing but the best pictures in the market, so that the reputation of the house will be kept up to the standard. The electrical illumination at the entrance of the hall is the most brilliant witnessed in Bellefonte and besides lighting up the place of amusement it is a comfort and benefit to pedestrians on the street.

J. Elmer Royer, of Old Fort, was a caller; he advertises a good horse for sale.

Men have taken the place of the young lady bookkeepers and stenographers in the office of the Potter-Hoy Hardware Co. in Bellefonte.

Next Sunday morning James H. Potter, W. B. Rankin, James K. Hughes and M. L. Altenderfer, the newly elected elders of the Bellefonte Presbyterian church, will be installed with appropriate ceremony.

On Monday Mrs. W. H. Boone, son James and daughter, Ruth, returned to her home in Clinton, Kt. Mrs. Boone had been a visitor here for a couple of months at the residence of her mother, Mrs. Wash Irvin, on Reynolds Ave.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday, of next week the fall Y. M. C. A. conference of the fourth district of Pennsylvania will be held in Bellefonte. Of the program, for the occasion, are found the names of some of the most distinguished speakers in the state. We will give a more extended notice next week.

Herbert McCoy, of Jersey Shore, with his two bright sons, Richard and Bernard, are in Bellefonte the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McCoy. Herbert has become an expert musician and his services are always in demand. Wednesday and today he played with the Coleville band at the fair ground.

The reception held Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Shoemaker proved a large and enjoyable affair. Harry Fenlon was at the front door to escort the ladies in the parlor where they were heartily welcomed by Mrs. Shoemaker. The gentlemen he showed into the library, where they were warmly received by Mr. Shoemaker. The entire evening was taken up in a way that was most pleasing to the guests. During the evening elegant refreshments were served. The amount of money received from the little pokes deposited for the benefit of the St. John's Catholic church was large, and the generosity of those present was appreciated by the hosts.

Sunday Rev. Newton S. Bailey filled his appointments in his new circuit. At each place he was greeted with very appreciative congregations, and the indications are that he will be able to do a good work in the several communities in which his lot has been cast. He has not definitely decided where he will make his headquarters but the probabilities are they will be in Bellefonte. He says if his people will provide him a parsonage he knows where he can get a nice Presbyterian young lady to preside over the household. Of course the young lady would have to change her religious proclivities a little bit but if it gets Newton a good wife those of the Blue Stocking faith ought not to offer any objections.

Sometime during Tuesday night thieves entered the Manufacturer's Outlet Clothing Store located in the South West corner of the Bush Arcade. They were evidently only after new suits for themselves, as the clothing was scattered about in the counters and over the floor which was an evidence that they were trying to secure a respectable fit. In their hurry to get the suits they left untouched the cash register which contained considerable money. The loss therefore was not very large, although at the time of our writing it could not be definitely ascertained. The entrance to the store was gained by taking out part of the panel of the large door on the West side of the building.

Elmer E. Davis and John C. Rowe are now making preparations for the building and equipping of a plant whereby the new brick company will manufacture brick from furnace slag, mixed with cement. Arrangement has been completed for the erecting of the buildings on a plot of ground at the foot of the mountain of slag at the Bellefonte Furnace. It will not be long until they will be turning brick out by the thousand, at a cheaper price than clay brick can be manufactured. The brick made by this process have been thoroughly tested, and in every possible way, the projectors of the new enterprise have every reason to believe that their venture will be a money-maker, several samples of the brick can be seen in the show window of Montgomery & Co's. store.

Lutheran Missionary Convention.

The twenty-ninth convention of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Central Penn. Synod, was held at Reedsville, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, of last week. Those participating actively from this county, and formerly from here, were the President Mrs. W. H. Shoch, nee Musser, whose home was near Bellefonte previous to her marriage but now of New Berlin; response to the address of welcome had been assigned to Mrs. B. F. Bieber, of Cretzball, but the lady was not able to be present, and the response was given by the President Mrs. Schoch; prayer by Mrs. Julia Deininger of Millheim praise service was conducted by Mrs. Crawford of Bellefonte; Mrs. W. M. Kearick, second vice president, read a paper.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Carlin, of Rebersburg, drove over to attend the convention. Mr. Carlin resided there in the long ago and attended school in the old school house on the hill near Reedsville station.

The Central Pennsylvania Synod of the Lutheran church met at Newport, Perry county, last week. The sessions are being attended by Rev. B. F. Bieber and George H. Emerick, Centrehall; Rev. J. R. Stonecypher, Boalsburg; Rev. H. C. Bizler, Kebersburg; George Wolfort, Aora (Store); Rev. B. R. M. Sheeder, Warrsburg, and Jonathan Harter, Millheim; Rev. Barry and Clement Dale, of Bellefonte Rev. J. M. Rearick of Salona and Adam Heckman of Lamar, Pa., were to Newport to attend the sessions of Central Pennsylvania Synod.

Reunion of the 110 Regiment.

The arrangements for the holding of the re-union of the 110th Pa. Volunteer Infantry at Tyrone on Friday, Oct. 16th, have about been completed. James Krep, of Bellefonte, is the only surviving member of this regiment living in Centre county, and he has the distinction of being its president this year. A most enjoyable gathering is anticipated and Mr. Krep is doing all in his power to make this re-union a grand success.

FAIRVIEW.

Mrs. A. J. and J. B. Lucas spent Friday at James Watkins.

Thomas Lucas and family, of Mt. Eagle, spent Sunday at James Lucas's.

Raymond bussey visited his grandparents, Lewis Miller's of Pleasantvalley, on Sunday.

WEDDINGS

KNOX-SHIVERY.

The many friends of Miss Margaret Shivery, of Bellefonte, will be interested in the announcement of her marriage on Thursday, September 10th, to Dr. Samuel Knox, of Alliance, Ohio. The wedding was solemnized in Pittsburg on the above date, but the announcement has just been made. Dr. Knox is a prosperous professional man of Alliance, and the recently married couple will make their future home in that city. The bride is the daughter of the late A. J. Shivery, and with her sister, Miss Sallie, made her home on North Allegheny street.
