CLARENCE.

Oh, that beautiful rain!

Miss Rosey Wilson, of Snow Shoe, spent Sunday with her friend, Mrs. Olander Veihdorfer.

Mitch Heaton has just returned from a week's visit with friends at Williamsport.

The Clarence Cornet Band made its appearance on the streets, on Saturday last, and rendered some very fine music.

Miss Edna Crissman visited at the home of Olander Veihdorfer's, on Sunday.

Several bushels of chestnuts were in the Clarence markets on Monday morning, before 10 o'clock—all of which were picked that morning.

Herman Lucas had the misfortune last evening, of falling from Snow Shoe to Clarence, but received no serious injuries, more than a scratched face.

As the scribe was sitting on the porch the other evening he overheard a debate between two young ladies, of Snow Shoe, as to which was the most destructive, worms or sparrows. One said, "she didn't know, as she never had the sparrows."

John Glenn and wife spent Sunday at the home of his father, Samuel Glenn.

The Pennsylvania Legislature is only what the people have made it. What will it be? It is up to the voters.

HOWARD.

Dr. Kurtz and John Weber left last Sunday evening for a good look at Philadelphia's "Founder's Week."

Announcement is made of the marriage of Katherine Myrtle Confer and Harry Oscar Randall, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Confer, next Wednesday, at 5:30 in the afternoon.

Mrs. Alfred Mann, of Mill Hill, and Sadie Snyder, of Paxoness county, Kansas, were last week visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Schenck.

John Gallaher is suffering from a poisoned foot.

"Bob" R. Vorhis, who has been one of the strong men in the base ball team during the season, left for his home on the Hudson, last Friday.

Willard McDowell has not yet been able to derive any release from his severe rheumatic troubles, and is still confined to his bed.

As several members of the school board expected to be absent from town during the week, regular meeting which should have been held Monday night, was called for Friday evening last, and routine business all disposed of.

William Quay, mail carrier on Route No. 2, is pushing his new house as rapidly as may be, and is experimenting with steam as a road power in place of trains. One of his sons owns a threshing outfit, and is running his engine a round trip each day between the old home farm on Marsh Creek, and the saw mill in town, bringing logs to be sawed into lumber for his new house.

Three heavy log wagons are coupled up behind the engine and when running into town with the big loads piled high, it makes quite an imposing train. Mr. Quay reports steam cheaper than horse power.

Isaac Underwood, long a well known dealer in agricultural implements, was a visitor in our town last week.

Mrs. W. G. Comerford visited her sister, Mrs. Burnside, in Bellefonte, last week.

Capt. S. H. Bennisson served his country as a juror last week, and is now pushing the work of fitting up the new banking house, on Walnut street.

Mail carrier Isaac Williams has been on the sick list for several days.

A. D. Gladhill, one of the tower operators stationed here, is quite a gardener, and has now on exhibition in the window of Charles Lucas' restaurant, a sunflower, that measured something more than fourteen inches across the face.

Isaac Packer, who works in Pittsburg, is visiting his mother in Mt. Eagle.

George D. Johnson, who has been living in the Nelson Riddle house near the railroad, since his coming to town last spring, moved last week into his own property, on North Walnut street, purchased recently of the Abram Holter estate.

Wm. Schenck moved into his cozy new brick house last week.

John Holmes visited his brother James, at State College on Tuesday and Wednesday, and reports his brother seriously ill.

Archie Allison was a business visitor one day last week.

Recent heavy white frosts caught more than the usual amount of corn unripened, and much of the fall seeding of grain not yet up.

Calvin Meyers, of State College, spent a day last week with Capt. Bennisson and family.

Several additional cases of scarlet fever have been heard of during the past week.

Miss Lucas has opened up at her well known establishment, a fine stock of new and seasonable goods. No Howard woman need do without a new fall hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bowes are rejoicing over the recent visit of the stork, which left with them a fine little baby girl.

The corner stone of the First Reformed church of Howard, was laid last Sabbath afternoon with appropriate ceremonies, by Rev. H. I. Crow, the pastor in charge. He was assisted by Rev. S. H. Stein, of the Lock Haven charge, Rev. Patterson, of Eagleville, Rev. Rollin S. Taylor, of the Methodist church, and Rev. W. W. Rhoades, of the Evangelical church of this place, all of whom made addresses. In the corner stone were placed a copy of the Bible, and of the constitution of the Reformed church, lists of the membership of the church, the building committee and the consistory. Also one copy each of last week's Centre Democrat and Howard Hustler.

A few of our wakeful observers enjoyed gorgeously brilliant exhibitions of the Aurora Borealis last week.

Our cannery is at present running full time on pumpkins and hustling about for supplies of the raw material which seems rather behind the demand. Within the past few days orders for prompt shipment of more than fifteen thousand gallons of this favorite pie fruit have been received.

The venerable David McCloskey, of Romola, who has passed his ninetieth birthday, was in town Monday last, shaking hands and chatting with his many friends, and giving promise, in his hale appearance, and fine physical and mental activity, to round out a full century of life.

Miss Susan V. Pletcher, teacher of the intermediate grade of our high school, was too ill to teach on Monday, and was compelled to dismiss her class.

Among the successful tomato growers in this neighborhood is Joseph Herr, who from 900 plants, delivered to the cannery four thousand eight hundred pounds of first class fruit, an average of over forty five pounds per plant. Another was Mrs. Wm. Johnson, who is scoring quite a success as a market gardener. She planted about one acre and three quarters, and from that has delivered to the cannery sixteen thousand and one hundred and seventy pounds, has retained three thousand and five hundred pounds in Bellefonte and Howard, has made thirty-eight gallons of catsup, twenty gallons of chow chow, eight gallons of chili sauce, given away a lot, supplied her own tables with the utmost prodigality, and has many green ones and several ones cut off by the frost.

Some of the finest Concord grapes seen this season were grown by Mrs. Thomas Longee, who trims the vines with her own hands, after the manner taught her by her late husband.

The Board of Health organized last Monday evening by electing Dr. O. W. McIntyre, president, and Thomas A. Pletcher, secretary. Good selections.

We insist that when two men can show as good a record as Messrs. John Dunlap and Weaver have made in the Commissioner's office, they merit the endorsement of the public.

UNIONVILLE.

Mrs. W. H. Comley, of Tyrone, is visiting friends here.

Mrs. Lloyd Underwood, of Pitscairn, is visiting at the home of her father-in-law, Jason Underwood.

Boyd Stere accidentally cut a deep gash in his leg above the knee with his pocket knife and now has to "locomote" on crutches.

A sweet little girl baby arrived at the home of Perry Hall.

Found—a nice string of beads on Main street. The owner can have same by calling on J. H. Cadwallar and paying for this notice.

Miss Margaret Burnett, a pretty and charming lass of Bellefonte was the guest of Miss Bess Brown at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. Sarah Brown, on Sunday.

Grant Hoover, of Williamsport, came up from that village recently, and bagged 12 squirrels. Grant's a sure shot. He said all he had to do was to point his gun at them and they'd scamper right down off the tree and run up to him, all he had to do was to pick them up and put them in the bag.

Miss Edna Weight, the bright and charming young daughter of W. E. Weight, of Marion township, brought reports to my office the other day and compelled him to disgorge a lot of tax money he pulled from the taxpayers of his township.

The other day, as I was standing in the diamond with a lot of other gentlemen, we saw still another gentleman coming down from the direction of Julian driving a fine team of bays. "Oh Gee!" said Joe Gill, "there comes Roosevelt." "Now" said Pete Stere, "I'll bet it's Taft, the fellow that will never be President." "I believe it's Billy Kunkle," said Sam Holt; "Gwan" said George Morrison, "You don't know nawthin' that man's W. Harrison Walker if the court knows herself." "Nit, you're all off" said Gene Hall, "It's Billy Bryan sure's I'm a live. Gee! don't he look much like George Washington?" Not until he came within ten feet of the crowd, did they discover that all were mistaken. It was none other than Doc. Irwin driving his spic span new team of 2.49s which he recently purchased as a "make shift" till his automobile arrives.

A. B. Cowher, of Bellefonte, gave a very interesting and entertaining moving picture show in the Presbyterian church on Thursday evening. It was highly spoken of by all who were present.

Wanted—A cheap boy to pick the loose stones and pebbles off the pavements; also a skilled workman to manufacture stilts for use in wet weather. Good wages will be paid to the right parties.

A very nice home wedding took place at the home of Miss Nannie Fisher, on Tuesday morning, at 10 o'clock a. m. when that lady was happily united in wedlock to Abednego Williams, of Martha. The ceremony was performed by the contracting parties according to the rites of the society of friends. Shortly after the ceremony was over they left on the 10.23 train, on their honeymoon trip to Buffalo and Niagara Falls. About 40 invited guests were present. The report that Johnnie Stere has ordered a carload of tin horns, cow bells, horse fiddles, etc., with which to give them a boisterous welcome when they return, was slightly exaggerated. May their union be a happy one.

SPRING MILLS.

Our schools finished their first month and are progressing.

A children's service was held on Sunday evening in the Reformed church below town.

Mrs. Wm. Graden, who has been sick since last April is sinking fast and recovery is very doubtful.

Anna Cummings and Mary Ulrich, two of our jolly young girls, spent over last Sunday at Coburn and Millheim. Wonder what the attraction was there?

Ethel Hettinger was very sick over last Sunday but is on the mend.

Mrs. W. C. Gramley is suffering with an attack of tonsillitis.

It is still very dry; the rain last week was not sufficient for the needs.

As this is such a dry season on account of it not raining I will tell the method the Indians took in our country to get rain to fall. A knot of the wisest medicine men would collect in a hut where they would hold their session with closed doors, burning aromatic herbs and going through with an unknown series of incantations. Some tyro was then sent up to take his stand on the roof in sight of the people and spend the day in invocations for a shower. If the sky continued clear he retired in disgrace, as one who need not hope ever to arrive at the dignity of a medicine man. Day after day the performance continued until a cloud overspread the skies, when the young Indian on the lodge discharged an arrow toward it to let out the rain.

While on the subject of Indians a sketch of their bear hunting might be interesting, at this time of the year, when the hunting season is so near at hand; to kill bears in winter they searched about until they found a tree that had been scratched by the bear in climbing and discovered if the hole was large enough to admit him. Then when it was possible, they would fell a sapling in such a way that it would fall against or near the opening, when one of them would climb up and drive bruin from his retreat. If the saplings or trees near at hand leaned the wrong way, they gathered some rotten wood and tied it in bunches with bark; then making a wooden hook and taking a long pole, one of them would ascend a neighboring tree, draw up the pole by means of a hook, which he reached from limb to limb, as he climbed and igniting his punk wood, placed it into the cavity. Presently the bear would come forth and be shot by the one below.

PORT MATILDA.

M. G. Mains is all smiles over the arrival of a baby boy, at his home, on Sunday.

Game has proven very scarce in this community, so far.

James Weston and wife of Gallitzin, are visiting his mother, Mrs. Lucinda Weston.

M. B. Williams and wife, visited friends in Tyrone, on Sunday.

G. O. Shires has accepted the position of clerk in Gardner's confectionery at Tyrone; we wish him success.

Willards tent show is with us again.

C. R. Richards is telegraphing at East Tyrone tower.

Jacob Bigelow visited his daughter, Mrs. David Reese, at Bald Eagle on Sunday.

Instead of making cider every Tuesday and Thursday, as heretofore, Bennett and Williams will make cider every day in the week, owing to the plenty of apples.

Economy—

well—buying all the building material of every kind you need for any job, at this one place, is economy itself.

It isn't necessary to go into figures in this advertisement to get you to talk, is it? Take a look at the "left-overs" laying round any completed job to see how much extra THAT man had to pay—no use looking for any such at a place where we sent the material all, it will not be there, if the job is done.

Would you know economy if you'd meet it on the road? Let's get acquainted.
